Assault. On October 5 at 12:10 a.m. police received a report of an assault at Amoco 24. One person was reportedly kicked at and missed and a second person, a passenger in a car, was kicked in the forehead. The passengers forehead was red and swollen. Charges are pending in the incident.

On October 2 Pennington county sheriff's office received a report of an incident that happened the previous day in Smiley township. A female victim was allegedly choked and burned with a cigarette. The female victim had bruises and marks on her. Charges of fifth degree assault are pending against Mark Alan Carriere, 35, Thief River Falls.

Violation of protection order. On October 6 at 11:35 p.m. police received a report of a disturbance. An individual was observed walking from the porch area and appeared to be intoxicated—He was pounding on a door and window to get in and was using obscene language. Rick Hopper, 23, Thief River Falls, was arrested and charged with violating a protection order.

Vandalism. On October 7 at 6:54 p.m. Jeanette Momerak, Thief River Falls reported to police that someone had broken the hatchback window of her car. Damage loss was estimated at $350.

Possession. On October 7 at 7:45 p.m. police received a call to investigators of an assault. While investigating the assault police observed a young woman carrying a beer into the apartment complex. Pammy Wittner, 18, Thief River Falls, was cited for possession under age.

Women of Today chapter in Thief River Falls presented the Thief River Falls Chemical Awareness Task Force with a check for $103 recently as half of the proceeds from its Most Beautiful Baby contest. Brenda Eckstein (right), co-chair of the project with Jean Rahn, presented the check to Charlotte Bjergaard, chairperson of the task force. The other half of the proceeds was sent to the Pregnancy and Infant Loss Center near the Twin Cities area.

Radon gets you where you live

Officials at the American Lung association of Minnesota and the Minnesota Department of Health are issuing new warnings about the threat from radon gas. Radon, a colorless, odorless, radioactive gas, is formed naturally in the soil and is the leading cause of lung cancer among nonsmokers.

"We are especially concerned about children," stated Kristyn Heegaard, an environmental specialist for the American Lung Association of Minnesota. "Kids' and infants' lungs have not yet developed their protective mechanisms and their lungs are very vulnerable."

Lung cancer is a vicious killer. It is difficult to detect in the early stages. Once it is diagnosed, the chances for survival for more than five years are low.

Even though the percentage of homes in Minnesota with elevated radon levels is high (as many as 60-70 per cent along the Iowa and Dakota borders, and over 30 per cent statewide), relatively few Minnesotans have tested their homes.

The American Lung Association of Minnesota is hoping to motivate homeowners to test. "Testing is simple—basically opening a small package and placing an inconspicuous monitor in the basement. It's not expensive: $10 - $25. And if you do have a radon problem, usually it's not too costly to fix it," claims Heegaard.

National Radon Action Week is October 13-19. One of the themes is: "What are you doing this weekend that's so important that you can't test for radon?"

Heegaard's advice is simple: "Don't put it off. Test your home for radon now." For information about radon contact the American Lung Association® of Minnesota (1-800-642-LUNG.) Accurate and reliable alpha-track radon monitors are available through the Association for $24.95, including postage and confidential result analysis.

Absentee ballots available for vote on casino

Anyone unable to vote in person Saturday, October 19, on the proposed gambling casino for Thief River Falls, may obtain an absentee ballot to register an opinion on the casino question.

To obtain an absentee ballot, write to the Citizens Advisory Vote Committee, P.O. Box 913, Thief River Falls, MN 56701. The request must state your reason for needing an absentee ballot, your name, address, ward or township in which you live, and your signature.

An absentee ballot and return envelopes along with information on voting will be returned to each applicant. One signature must be provided for each absentee ballot request. Completed ballots must be mailed as soon as possible to the Citizens Advisory Vote Committee, P.O. Box 913, Thief River Falls, MN 56701, and postmarked no later than October 17.

The ballot for absentee voting and at the polling places in Thief River Falls, St. Hilaire and Goodridge on October 19 will contain two statements from which the voter may select one. The statements read:

"I am in favor of the gambling casino proposed for Thief River Falls" and "I am opposed to the gambling casino proposed for Thief River Falls."

The advisory vote is being conducted by a volunteer citizens group which is handling the arrangements and paying for the costs. The results are non-binding and the vote is neither authorized nor supported by the Thief River Falls city council nor Pennington county board of commissioners.

Music faculty at UND will stage concert

Third annual "Discover American Music" program will be presented October 12 at 8 p.m. in the Josephine Campbell recital hall of the Hughes Fine Arts Center at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks. This will be a joint recital of faculty, advanced students and community members.

Music will include well-known and little-known masterpieces of American musical invention from show tunes to jazz and the wildest works of the American avant-garde. Admission will be $3 for adults and $1.50 for students.

Invite public to concert Tues.

Public attendance is invited for the piano concert by Jane Solose, professor of music at the University of North Dakota, Tuesday, October 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium in Thief River Falls.

There is no admission to the concert which is hosted by Digi-Key corporation of Thief River Falls. A reception allowing those attending to meet the guest artist will follow the concert.

Horticultural society has day to celebrate

by Beattie Mickelson
Publicity Chairman,
13th District
Horticultural Society

It was a day of celebrations as gardeners gathered on Saturday, September 28 in Roseau for their annual fall workshop. They celebrated the bounty of their gardens by sharing in the country store. They celebrated the 13th District Horticultural Society and the 125th anniversary of the state Horticultural Society by honoring all past 13th district presidents. They celebrated their own gardening achievements by presenting state gardening awards to ten of its members.

The Ladyslipper garden club of Roseau hosted the event with the theme "Anniversary Wishes." Following the noon luncheon and the opening of the country store, Dorothy Billberg, president of the Ladyslipper garden club, welcomed everyone and led a sing-a-long.

Dorothy Gehrke, president and Anne Granitz, vice president, recognized past presidents of the 13th District. Each one was presented with a beautiful MSHS mug and corsage made with slices of dried apples, which symbolized the beginning of the MSHS, at a state fair in the apple display where men were discussing apple varieties and what would be hardy in Minnesota. Each recipient commented on her term as president.

The Thirteenth District of the Minnesota State Horticultural Society was formed when District 9 was divided to form two districts, 11 and 13, on September 19, 1959. It was to include territory from Red Lake county north to Baudette and west to Halleck.

Past presidents of the 13th District Horticultural Society were recognized at a fall workshop conducted Saturday, September 28, in Roseau. Left to right the past presidents include, seated, Inga Geving, Thief River Falls; Minda Bertilrud, Roseau; Helen Charvestad, Oklee; Hilda Hildahl, Roseau; Gladys Krohn, Williams; Myrtle Kagg, Viking; and Olga Nelson, Thief River Falls; standing, Oline Erickson, Badger; Eunice Lund, Roseau; Lois Swanson, Goodridge; Fern Lamberson, Baudette; Beverly Carlson, Williams; Betty Mohrbacher, Warroad; and Dorothy Gehrke, Roseau. At far right in the back row is Gerald Shannon, president of the Minnesota State Horticultural Society and guest speaker for the workshop.

Mrs. Inga Geving of Thief River Falls was the first president of the Thirteenth district. The following paragraph includes thoughts she recorded of the division of District 9 into 11 and 13: "The final meeting of District 9 was held at Mahnomen on September 19, 1959. It was a challenging experience for all members present to see the 9th district divide and become two strong and active garden clubs.

District 11 was organized the same day and pictures were taken of the presidents of each district. Much planning had taken place during the year, and several meetings were held with committee and state officers to plan where to divide. Two nominating committees had to be appointed by the president to have everything ready for the fall meeting."

Past presidents were: Inga Geving, 1959-60, Thief River Falls; Minda Bertilrud, 1961-62, Roseau; Helen Chervestad, 1963-64, Oklee; Mrs. Oscar Torrin (deceased), 1965, Badger; Hilda Hildahl, 1965-67, Roseau; Gladys Krohn, 1968-69, Williams; Myrtle Kagg, 1970-71, Viking; Olga Nelson, 1972-73, Thief River Falls; Oline Erickson, 1974-75, Badger; and Eunice Lund, 1976-77, Roseau.

Also Lois Swanson, 1978-79, Goodridge; Fern Lamberson, 1980, Baudette; Eunice Lund, 1981, Roseau; Beverly Carlson, 1982-83, Williams; Jeannie Hamness (unable to be present), 1984-85, Roseau; Lew Wallace (unable to be present), 1986-87, Middle River; Betty Mohrbacher, 1988-89, Warroad; Dorothy Gehrke, 1990-91, Roseau.

Annie Granitz also presented the state gardening awards. Receiving the state gardening Award of Merit for local service and special contributions to gardening were: Joyce Lorenson of Green Thumb garden club of Roseau, Clarice Rooker of Viking town and country garden club, Louise Swenson of Argyle garden club, Arlene Thune of Moccasin garden club of Thief River Falls, and John Lamberson of North Star garden club of Baudette.

Receiving the state distinguished service award were Inga Coan and Dorothy Svanjord, both of Deer Park garden club of Goodridge. Honorary life memberships were presented to Oline Erickson of Gro-Rite garden club of Badger and Irene Wicklander of the Green Thumb garden club of Roseau. A certificate in recognition of voluntary service to gardening was presented to Dorothy Gehrke.

Olga Nelson and Arlene Thune of Moccasin garden club spoke briefly about roses and shared some rose specimens. Olga said that in growing roses it is "preserverance

Inga Geving of Thief River Falls was the first president of the 13th District Horticultural society when it was formed from a division of the Ninth District society in 1959. She was among those honored at a fall workshop of the district Saturday, September 28, in Roseau.

FAITH ENABLES US TO DISCOVER NEW LANDS AND NEW LIVES

Our world is one of constant change,
Exciting to explore,
With names of places new and strange
We hadn't known before.
We visit many foreign lands
And sail upon the sea,
But lessons that our faith commands
Compel us to agree
That God made every living thing,
Including one called man,
Whose great discoveries can bring
The proof of God's own plan.
It's more than countries, we're aware,
That we should keep in mind:
The world of happiness out there
For us to seek and find.
— Gloria Nowak

Are you using a woodburning stove?

If you're one of the thousands of people who are cutting heating costs by using a woodburning stove, this message is for you. Make sure your unit is properly installed, operated and maintained. Otherwise you could be asking for trouble. Always burn dry, well-seasoned hardwood. Clean flues and chimneys to prevent dangerous creosote buildups. Don't take chances with your life and property. Comprehensive, cardiac clinic in T.R.F. Oct. 24

Children with suspected heart problems or other medical problems may attend a clinic on October 24 at Redeemer Lutheran church in Thief River Falls.

Sponsoring the clinic are the Zehlians, member of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and Services for Children with Handicaps of the Minnesota Department of Health. For more information contact Bunny Dondelinger at 681-2445.

The clinic is for any person under 21 years of age with a heart murmur, congenital heart problem, a history of rheumatic fever, delayed physical development, coordination problems, cerebral palsy, club feet, scoliosis or other physical handicaps. Clinic sponsors recommend that, if possible, each new participant has a referral from a doctor.

Available to examine children who attend the clinic will be a physical medicine specialist, orthopedist, pediatrician and pediatric cardiologist. Parents may also consult with a public health nurse and medical social worker.

There may be a nominal charge for the clinic. Charges are based on a sliding fee schedule and no one will be turned away because of inability to pay.

that counts". They reminded everyone to attend the special rose seminar on Saturday, October 12 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the city auditorium in Thief River Falls.

Election of officers for the coming year was held with Betty Mohrbacker of Warroad Bloomers elected as president, Betty Johnson of Roseau Garden club elected as vice president, Alva Larson of Roseau as secretary, John Lamberson of Boudette as MSHS delegate to state meetings and Audrey Peterson of Greenbush as representative of individual MSHS members. Eleanor Johnson has one year remaining of her term as treasurer. Dorothy Gehrke as retiring president will serve as advisor.

Jerald Shanon of Ramsey County garden club and current president of the MSHS presented the program on "Annuals and Perennials." He is also an organizer of the Home and Garden Show in St. Paul. He likes a colorful summer yard with lots of bloom and a variety of foliage color. He showed many slides of how we can get more color in our summer yards with various ways of grouping plants and using shrubbery together with the flowering annuals and perennials.

Shannon also emphasized arranging plants in a flower bed so that there is something blooming from early spring to late fall. He reminded everyone it is illegal to grow Lythrum and we are to get rid of it from our flower beds.

The day closed with a silver tea served by the host club to honor all past presidents and new officers.

THE TIMES' Editorial Opinion

The Times
Thief River Falls, Minnesota

J.P. Mattson, publisher
Marvin Lundin, editor
David Hill, associate editor

Editorial opinion published on this page, whether locally written or re-printed from other sources is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. Opinions expressed by the editor are his own and not necessarily those of other staff members. Opinions expressed in items from other publications may be contradictory to the editor's own views but are offered for their general interest.

The Rights Of The Accused

Following commentary is taken from the National Newspaper Association publication "The Constitution—The Words We Live By," a supplement to the NNA official publication "Publishers' Auxiliary. It is published here to increase knowledge of the basic rights upon which our nation's freedoms are built. Other Amendments to the Constitution have been discussed in previous issues and further Amendments will be discussed in later issues.

The Sixth, Seventh and Eighth Amendments combined with the Fourth and Fifth Amendments form a "Bill of Rights" for accused persons. In many respects, the framers of the Constitution considered these rights the most important because experience had shown that the greatest potential for tyranny lay in the way government administered the law.

The successful struggle in England to limit the absolute authority of courts and kings had a profound impact on American thinking. the English Bill of Rights of 1689, one of the key sources for the American Bill of Rights, provided certain guarantees for trial by jury and prohibited excessive bails and fines, as well as "cruel and unusual punishment."

From the earliest settlements, American colonists had practiced trial by jury. Although the British government appointed royal judges to the colonies, their salaries were provided by local legislatures. When relations between the colonies and the crown worsened, London curtailed judicial autonomy, made colonial judges subservient to the crown, and decreed that for certain crimes colonists could be taken to Britain for trial. Such measures could mean prolonged imprisonment before trial and the denial of supporting witnesses and a proper jury.

The framers recognized the importance f the right to trial by jury by including it in the Constitution. However, many wanted the provisions of this guarantee spelled out in detail, and this was done in the Sixth Amendment.

There had been disagreement, however, over whether or not the guarantee of a trial by jury should be extended to civil cases. In a compromise, the Seventh Amendment was drafted to provide for trial by jury in civil cases in amounts over $20.

The meaning of the phrase "cruel and unusual punishment" in the Eighth Amendment has evolved over time. In the past, torture and use of the pillory were accepted, but today these punishments are outlawed. The use of physical punishment is restricted and must be appropriate to the crime.

Opponents of the death penalty and of corporal punishment have attempted to invoke the Eighth Amendment in their cause without too much success. but the amendment has been used successfully to force improvements in prisons.

The provisions against excessive bail or fines were designed to prevent judges from inflicting unwarranted damage on accused persons.

Many guarantees in the Bill of Rights have been extended to the states through the "due process" clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. In 1963 the Supreme Curt ruled in Gideon vs. Wainwright, that a state had to provide counsel for all indigents accused of a serious crime. In a subsequent decision, based on the Fifth Amendment, the Court ruled in Miranda vs. Arizona (1966) that the right to counsel extended to suspects in custody as well.

By adapting ancient principles and institutions such as the jury system to the changing circumstances of the modern world, the Constitution has secured the most fundamental and surest guarantee of our freedom: equal justice under law.

Letters To The Editor and Corrections

Letters To The Editor: The Times encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in The Times exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The Times believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will no longer withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by The Times for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, The Times encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention at 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Volunteer orientation sessions have been scheduled at Franklin middle school and each of the public elementary schools during the week of October 7-11, according to Carol Ihle, volunteer coordinator for School District 564.

All of the orientation sessions will take place in the school libraries and will last from 45 minutes to an hour. Following each orientation, elementary school librarian Jane Oberg will meet with volunteers interested in working in the libraries.

Sessions were held at Franklin middle school Monday and Washington elementary school earlier today. Remaining sessions are Wednesday, October 9, 2 p.m., at Mark Twain elementary school; Thursday, October 10, 9 a.m., at Knox elementary school; and Friday, October 11, 2 p.m., at Northrop elementary school.

For those unable to attend any of the above orientations (volunteers may feel free to attend a session at a school other than the one where they will be volunteering), an evening orientation session for all schools will be conducted Tuesday, October 8, at 7 p.m. in the Washington elementary school library.

Orientation for volunteers and their preschoolers interested in the "Preschool Volunteer Friends" program has been scheduled for Monday, October 14, at 1 p.m. in Donna Nelson's preschool room at Knox elementary school.

Blood drive coordinator says 'thanks'

Kay Nelson, blood drive coordinator for the sponsoring Eagles auxiliary in Thief River Falls, has expressed her appreciation to "all those who helped to make this job so much easier."

Her thanks went to auxiliary members for time and donating refreshments, maintenance staff for unloading and loading equipment, Northwest Medical center for use of space, United Blood services staff and the approximately 130 people who donated blood.

"You truly do give the gift of life when you donate," Nelson said. "If you have never donated before, the procedure is barely worse than an injection and you will get such a good feeling knowing you may save someone's life by giving blood."

She also thanked those who called to make appointments and encouraged those who she called to consider calling first next time. "By calling early you can be assured of the appointment time you want," she said. "United Methodist church will sponsor the drive next year and I would urge you to call as soon as you see the notice of the drive to be held. I can't emphasize enough how much easier it makes things for all concerned."

Farmers Tell Of Flooded Conditions

"After hearing a delegation from the eastern part of Pennington county, the county board at its October session Tuesday adopted a resolution calling the attention of Governor Stassen to flood conditions existing in that area, particularly in Hickory township, where the Red Lake and Clearwater rivers have overflowed to such an extent that the two streams meet."

Drive Against Speeders Under Way

"In an effort to curb an epidemic of speeding by motorists in the city, Acting Police Chief L. W. Knadle today announced that a drive is being staged against violators of local speed laws, and that those guilty of infractions will be brought into municipal court and severely dealt with. Numerous complaints, he stated, have been received of speeding on various streets, especially on highways leading into the city."

580 Duck Stamps Issued Here

"Testifying to the large number of local duck hunters in the field during the current open season, it was reported that up to the first of the week a total of 580 federal duck stamps had been sold at the Thief River Falls post office. Most hunters reported fair to good success as the season got under way."

A Fire in St. Hilaire

Fire was discovered in the rear of the second story of Hall Bros. building at 11:30. The alarm brought out a large number of people who with the fire engine and pails soon extinguished the flames. The fire caught from a stove which was being used to dry the plastering. A spark caught in a bed and but for prompt hard work the building would have burned. Very little damage was done, probably not to exceed $100 by fire and water. There was a strong east wind blowing at the time and if the building had burned it would have taken the row on the west side of the street."

From the Editorial Page

"The bursting of three sections of hose at the fire last Saturday night shows conclusively that some more must be purchased by the village as soon as possible. The council should attend to the matter at once as it is imperative that we have good fire protection."

Bankers magazine says print advertising is key to good business:

"Don't let a single copy of your local newspaper go to press without your name in it!" That's what American Bankers Magazine said. The article continued:

"No business in any community should allow a local newspaper to be printed without its business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole or half page every issue, but your name, business and message should be mentioned.

"A newcomer picking up a paper should be able to tell what businesses are represented in the community by simply looking through the pages. This is the best possible advertising for the entire community. The person who does not advertise his business does an injustice to themselves and the business community.

"The person who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own, is not a valuable addition to any community."

The Rights Of The Accused

Following commentary is taken from the National Newspaper Association publication "The Constitution—The Words We Live By," a supplement to the NNA official publication Publishers' Auxiliary. It is published here to increase knowledge of the basic rights upon which our nation's freedoms are built. Other Amendments to the Constitution have been discussed in previous issues and further Amendments will be discussed in later issues.

The Sixth, Seventh and Eighth Amendments combined with the Fourth and Fifth Amendments form a "Bill of Rights" for accused persons. In many respects, the framers of the Constitution considered these rights the most important because experience had shown that the greatest potential for tyranny lay in the way government administered the law.

The successful struggle in England to limit the absolute authority of courts and kings had a profound impact on American thinking. the English Bill of Rights of 1689, one of the key sources for the American Bill of Rights, provided certain guarantees for trial by jury and prohibited excessive bails and fines, as well as "cruel and unusual punishment."

From the earliest settlements, American colonists had practiced trial by jury. Although the British government appointed royal judges to the colonies, their salaries were provided by local legislatures. When relations between the colonies and the crown worsened, London curtailed judicial autonomy, made colonial judges subservient to the crown, and decreed that for certain crimes colonists could be taken to Britain for trial. Such measures could mean prolonged imprisonment before trial and the denial of supporting witnesses and a proper jury.

The framers recognized the importance f the right to trial by jury by including it in the Constitution. However, many wanted the provisions of this guarantee spelled out in detail, and this was done in the Sixth Amendment.

There had been disagreement, however, over whether or not the guarantee of a trial by jury should be extended to civil cases. In a compromise, the Seventh Amendment was drafted to provide for trial by jury in civil cases in amounts over $20.

The meaning of the phrase "cruel and unusual punishment" in the Eighth Amendment has evolved over time. In the past, torture and use of the pillory were accepted, but today those punishments are outlawed. The use of physical punishment is restricted and must be appropriate to the crime.

Opponents of the death penalty and of corporal punishment have attempted to invoke the Eighth Amendment in their cause without too much success. but the amendment has been used successfully to force improvements in prisons.

The provisions against excessive bail or fines were designed to prevent judges from inflicting unwarranted damage on accused persons.

Many guarantees in the Bill of Rights have been extended to the states through the "due process" clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. In 1963 the Supreme Curt ruled in Gideon vs. Wainwright, that a state had to provide counsel for all indigents accused of a serious crime. In a subsequent decision, based on the Fifth Amendment, the Court ruled in Miranda vs. Arizona (1966) that the right to counsel extended to suspects in custody as well.

By adapting ancient principles and institutions such as the jury system to the changing circumstances of the modern world, the Constitution has secured the most fundamental and surest guarantee of our freedom: equal justice under law.

Orientation set for TRF school volunteer plan

Volunteer orientation sessions have been scheduled at Franklin middle school and each of the public elementary schools during the week of October 7-11, according to Carol Ihle, volunteer coordinator for School District 564.

All of the orientation sessions will take place in the school libraries and will last from 45 minutes to an hour. Following each orientation, elementary school librarian Jane Oberg will meet with volunteers interested in working in the libraries.

Sessions were held at Franklin middle school Monday and Washington elementary school earlier today. Remaining sessions are Wednesday, October 9, 2 p.m., at Mark Twain elementary school; Thursday, October 10, 9 a.m., at Knox elementary school; and Friday, October 11, 2 p.m., at Northrop elementary school.

For those unable to attend any of the above orientations (volunteers may feel free to attend a session at a school other than the one where they will be volunteering), an evening orientation session for all schools will be conducted Tuesday, October 8, at 7 p.m. in the Washington elementary school library.

Orientation for volunteers and their preschoolers interested in the "Preschool Volunteer Friends" program has been scheduled for Monday, October 14, at 1 p.m. in Donna Nelson's preschool room at Knox elementary school.

Blood drive coordinator says 'thanks'

Kay Nelson, blood drive coordinator for the sponsoring Eagles auxiliary in Thief River Falls, has expressed her appreciation to "all those who helped to make this job so much easier."

Her thanks went to auxiliary members for time and donating refreshments, maintenance staff for unloading and loading equipment, Northwest Medical center for use of space, United Blood services staff and the approximately 130 people who donated blood.

"You truly do give the gift of life when you donate," Nelson said. "If you have never donated before, the procedure is barely worse than an injection and you will get such a good feeling knowing you may save someone's life by giving blood."

She also thanked those who called to make appointments and encouraged those who she called to consider calling first next time. "By calling early you can be assured of the appointment time you want," she said. "United Methodist church will sponsor the drive next year and I would urge you to call as soon as you see the notice of the drive to be held. I can't emphasize enough how much easier it makes things for all concerned."

Farmers Tell Of Flooded Conditions

"After hearing a delegation from the eastern part of Pennington county, the county board at its October session Tuesday adopted a resolution calling the attention of Governor Stassen to flood conditions existing in that area, particularly in Hickory township, where the Red Lake and Clearwater rivers have overflowed to such an extent that the two streams meet."

Drive Against Speeders Under Way

"In an effort to curb an epidemic of speeding by motorists in the city, Acting Police Chief L. W. Knadle today announced that a drive is being staged against violators of local speed laws, and that those guilty of infractions will be brought into municipal court and severely dealt with. Numerous complaints, he stated, have been received of speeding on various streets, especially on highways leading into the city."

580 Duck Stamps Issued Here

"Testifying to the large number of local duck hunters in the field during the current open season, it was reported that up to the first of the week a total of 580 federal duck stamps had been sold at the Thief River Falls post office. Most hunters reported fair to good success as the season got under way."

Recreation Highlights

"At 4:30 o'clock this afternoon the "Vegetable Men" will be staged in the arena puppet theatre. Everyone is invited to attend the show. The next show will be held two weeks from today. They are being produced every other week this year, rather than every week as was the case in former years. Children interested in working with puppets are urged to take part in this activity. Camilie Dostal is anxious to have new puppeteers."

From The Editorial Page

"In seasons like this it is easier to appreciate the value of livestock and poultry as a source of income. In those years when grass seeds brought fabulous returns, messing around with cows seemed to be a waste of time. Now that cream checks represent heavy folding money again it is nice to know that we are living in dairy country."

From Newspaper Files of One Hundred Years Ago

A Fire in St. Hilaire

"Fire was discovered in the rear of the second story of Hall Bros. building at 11:30. The alarm brought out a large number of people who with the fire engine and pails soon extinguished the flames. The fire caught from a stove which was being used to dry the plastering. A spark caught in a bed and but for prompt hard work the building would have burned. Very little damage was done, probably not to exceed $100 by fire and water. There was a strong east wind blowing at the time and if the building had burned it would have taken the row on the west side of the street."

From the Editorial Page

"The bursting of three sections of hose at the fire last Saturday night shows conclusively that some more must be purchased by the village as soon as possible. The council should attend to the matter at once as it is imperative that we have good fire protection."

Bankers magazine says print advertising is key to good business:

"Don't let a single copy of your local newspaper go to press without your name in it!" That's what American Bankers Magazine said. The article continued:

"No business in any community should allow a local newspaper to be printed without its business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole or half page every issue, but your name, business and message should be mentioned.

"A newcomer picking up a paper should be able to tell what businesses are represented in the community by simply looking through the pages. This is the best possible advertising for the entire community. The person who does not advertise his business does an injustice to themselves and the business community.

"The person who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own, is not a valuable addition to any community."

WHAT'S THE BEST WAY TO GET THE JOB DONE?
That's the "bottom-line" question that launched 45,000 cooperatives in the United States over the past 250-plus years.
And the answer -- cooperatives that meet people's needs for all kinds of goods and services. For example, credit unions, electric and telephone service, housing, farm marketing and farm supply, health and day care, news services, insurance and anything else people need that can be provided efficiently and economically.
Nearly half the nation's population relies on cooperatives for goods and services of one kind or another. Co-ops are locally owned and operated. And, they help their communities grow and thrive.
So check out the cooperatives in your neighborhood. No matter where you live -- city, town, suburbs, farm -- there might be a co-op for you too.

Immunization levels concern health officials

Many infants and toddlers in Minnesota are not being properly immunized against major vaccine-preventable diseases like measles and rubella—and health officials are concerned that some of these diseases may be making a comeback.

"Thanks to our school immunization law, most children in Minnesota have been immunized by the time they start kindergarten," said Marlene E. Marschall, Minnesota Commissioner of Health. "But many of our children aren't being protected during the vulnerable preschool years. They aren't being immunized when they should be, and that means they're needlessly being placed at risk."

In an effort to find out if the state's preschoolers are getting the immunizations they need, the Minnesota Department of Health (MDH) has examined the immunization records of incoming kindergarten students in a number of Minnesota school districts. In that survey, MDH officials found that many of the students had not been up-to-date on their immunizations when they were two years of age—even though they were properly immunized by the time they entered kindergarten.

Immunization levels among two-year-olds were highest in the suburbs of the Twin City metro area—but lower in greater Minnesota, and in the cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul. In those two cities, for example, almost one child in four had not been immunized against measles, mumps and rubella. That compares with roughly one child out of five in greater Minnesota—and one child out of ten in the suburbs.

Low immunization levels have led to serious measles outbreaks in a number of U.S. cities over the last few years, Commissioner Marschall noted. Minnesota experienced a major outbreak last year, centered primarily in St. Paul and other parts of the Twin City area. MDH recorded 462 confirmed and probable cases of measles in connection with the outbreak, and three infants died of the disease.

A special effort is currently underway to get children immunized against measles and other vaccine-preventable diseases, as health officials across the U.S. observe National Immunization Week (September 21-29). Public information campaigns are being conducted in a number of cities in connection with the event.

"We want to encourage everyone to have their children immunized," Commissioner Marschall said. "Many of the common vaccine-preventable diseases can be very serious, and the vaccines are safe and highly effective. There's simply no excuse for leaving our children unprotected."

The MDH kindergarten survey looked at immunization levels for seven of the diseases included in the state immunization law—measles, mumps, rubella, diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis ("whooping cough") and polio. Beginning next July, the law will also require immunization against an eighth disease—haemophilus influenzae, a respiratory illness that often affects young children.

The survey found that roughly 63% of the two-year-olds in the suburbs of the Twin Cities had been immunized against all seven diseases. That compared with about 54% in greater Minnesota, and 51% in the cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Low immunization levels for diphtheria, tetanus and pertussis (DTP) were largely responsible for the low overall immunization levels found in the survey. Statewide, only about 60% of all two-year-olds had been given all four recommended doses of the standard DTP vaccine. About 72% had been given all three recommended doses of polio vaccine, and 82% had been immunized against measles, mumps and rubella.

Children must be properly vaccinated against all of the diseases covered in the immunization law before they can enroll in school or day care. The Haemophilus influenzae requirement will only apply to children under 5 in licensed child care facilities.

Parents are encouraged to carry a copy of their children's immunization records with them. A convenient wallet-size record card is available from MDH.

Although many people think of them as harmless "childhood" illnesses, many of the vaccine-preventable diseases can have severe complications, Commissioner Marschall said. For example, measles can lead to infections of the middle ear, pneumonia and encephalitis (inflammation of the brain). Measles can even be fatal—as it proved to be during the recent St. Paul outbreak.

Parents can contact their family physician about having their children immunized, Commissioner Marschall said. Immunization clinics are also offered by local public health departments throughout Minnesota.

Patents who have questions about immunization—or want to find out where they can get a record card—can call MDH at (612) 623-5237.

Senate page applications

Applications will be accepted until December 1 by Sen. Dave Durenberger for the Senate page program in the spring and summer of 1992.

Interested high school juniors are urged to call the Senator's Minnesota office in Minneapolis (612-370-3382) or toll free at 1-800-752-4226 for details.

There are 30 positions for Senate pages during any given term. Sen. Durenberger will appoint two students for the spring semester, each serving for the equivalent of a quarter. He also will appoint two students to serve during the summer months for approximately five weeks each.

The students are paid to perform such duties as delivery of correspondence and legislative material within the Congressional complex, assisting Senators in a variety of ways, preparing the chamber for senate sessions and carrying bills and amendments to the desk.

During the school year, in addition to their duties in the Senate, pages attend early morning classes at the U.S. Senate page school where the curriculum consists of independent study and standard junior year courses required for high school graduation.

Students who apply for the program will complete an application form and submit letters of recommendation. Each also will present an essay about why he or she wishes to serve as a U.S. Senate page and what the applicant can contribute to the program. Address for the Senator's Minneapolis office is 1020 Plymouth Building, 12 South 6th Street, Minneapolis, MN 55402.

Youngest participant in the five-day basic service seminar at Arctco, Inc., in Thief River Falls this week is Stephanie Hotchkiss, two and one-half month old daughter of Mike and Sharon Hotchkiss of Cut Bank, MT. Mike and Sharon drove to Thief River Falls with Stephanie so they both could take the 40-hour service school. They are new Arctic Cat dealers and recently went into business for themselves as Mike's Golf Car Sales and Service. Another daughter, six-year-old Brittany, stayed at home with her grandmother so she could attend school. Sharon said she wanted to be familiar with the mechanical end of the business so she could handle questions and take care of the parts business better. Following completion of the course Friday they will continue on to Butternut, WI, to visit Sharon's grandmother, then make the 1,200-mile drive back to Cut Bank. Stephanie has been attending the all-day classes with her parents. At right is Greg Harris, service and warranty representative for Arctco, who is one of the course instructors.

Jobs Inc. prepares economic study

Jobs Inc. study looks at economic impact of casino

The following is a copy of a report presented to the city council Tuesday night by Jobs Incorporated.

"During the past seven weeks since the proposal by the Red Lake Band of Chippewa to establish a casino in the city became public, there has been considerable discussion about the potential economic impacts of a gaming casino in the community. A number of elected officials as well as, the news media and members of the general public, have indicated that these impacts should be quantified. What follows is an attempt to do that.

"For your information, we have attempted, to the best of our ability, to use data from sources that would be considered "objective" by most people. We have been assisted by one of our local certified public accounting firms in collecting much of this data.

Introduction

"The economic development-job creation efforts of any community are restricted and limited by many factors. To name only a few, these factors include geography, including proximity to markets, the nature and size of the available workforce, area demographics and population trends, federal and state policies, etc. Generally, the community can do little to improve its situation vis-a-vis these factors.

"Traditionally, economic development efforts by communities with populations of 5,000 persons or more have largely been directed at job creation in the primary sector of the economy, i.e., manufacturing, processing and wholesaling. As you are well aware, Thief River Falls has been most successful during the past seven or eight years having created and retained almost 1,300 full-time equivalent jobs (FTEs) in primary sector businesses.

"Traditional economic development theory places the emphasis on these primary sector jobs because these jobs, again in theory, will create demand for goods and services and, therefore, create additional employment in the commercial and service sectors of the local economy. Unfortunately, there are factors at work in our trade or service area that, even with the above-cited recovery in primary sector employment, have prevented corresponding prosperity in other sectors of the local economy.

"These detrimental factors include a substantial population loss in our retail and service trade area. Further, the demographics of the area show an aging population with fewer young people entering the workforce and many of those who are must leave the area to find adequate employment to support families. Preliminary data gathered by the Small Business Development Center as part of a study to be completed in early 1992 indicates that, not taking into consideration the loss of population in Marshall and Red Lake Counties many of whom probably shopped in Thief River Falls, the decline of 2,000 people between 1980 and 1990 in Pennington county population represents a loss of $11,484,000 of retail sales in 1987, assuming per capita retail expenditures of those people who left would have been equal to those who were present in 1987.

"Another detrimental factor at work is the strong evidence that the city's overall retail "pull factor" is weakening whereas, historically, it has been strong. "Pull Factor" is a measure of "retail vitality" expressed as a percentage of local sales per capita compared to a larger entity such as the state or the nation. The obvious comparison which needs to be made is with the power of the Grand Forks retail trade center.

"Again, referring to the SBDC's data taken from the U.S. 1987 Census of Retailing, Grand Forks' sale per capita compared to U.S. sales per capita (U.S. being 100 per cent) for all retail sales is 121 per cent. The comparable figure for Pennington county is 94 per cent.

"The point of all this, by way of background and information, is that Thief River Falls must, in our opinion, give serious positive consideration to all opportunities which present themselves and which may diversify and expand the local economy. As informed decision-makers involved in our economic development efforts, you are well aware that there are not all kinds of "good" and "lucrative factories" to be found out there!

Comparative Data — MN Counties with casinos

In an attempt to provide you with some "hard" data as to the economic impact of casinos in other parts of rural, non-metro Minnesota, we asked a local accounting firm to attempt to gather various data from Cass, Mille Lacs and Redwood counties. These counties are the sites, respectively, of the Cass Lake and Northern Lights casinos, Grand Casino Mille Lacs and Jackpot Junction.

Unfortunately, our ability to assemble meaningful comparative

Public opinion vote on casino Saturday

Voters in Thief River Falls and the remainder of Pennington county who would like to have their opinion recorded for or against the proposed gambling casino in Thief River Falls may vote Saturday in an advisory referendum from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Arrangements for polling places have been made at the Heritage Community Center in Thief River Falls and the community centers in Goodridge and St. Hilaire. The vote is being sponsored by an independent group which has adopted the name The Citizens Advisory Committee.

Two statements will be on the ballot and voters will indicate which one applies to their views on a gambling casino to be established and operated by the Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians in Thief River Falls. The two statements are: "I am in favor of the gambling casino proposed for Thief River Falls" and "I am opposed to the gambling casino proposed for Thief River Falls."

In order to vote in the election, all voters must bring with them to the voting place a driver's license or other form of personal identification and must be registered to vote in Pennington county.

Local governing bodies have emphasized that they have not authorized the vote to be taken in their behalf. They have been advised by their legal counsel that there is no provision under state law that permits them to conduct a referendum on the question of establishment of a casino.

Under state law, local governing bodies are basically restricted to conducting official votes only on questions of liquor and issuing bonds. Governing bodies may not conduct elections that they are not authorized by law to conduct.

It is recognized by the sponsors of the advisory vote—The Citizens Advisory Vote Committee—that it is non-binding on either the Thief River Falls city council or the Pennington county board of commissioners—the two local governing bodies involved in the local decision-making on the casino issue.

Because the city and county governments may not be involved in the vote, normal polling places may not be used for the advisory vote, the governing bodies have been advised. Because these places are not available, and because of the number of people required to serve as election judges at multiple polling places, the sponsoring committee has limited the polling places to the three community centers in Thief River Falls, Goodridge and St. Hilaire.

Date for the vote was also set for Saturday, a departure from the normal official elections held on Tuesday. The Saturday date was selected for two primary reasons: (1) It was the only date on which all three community centers were available; and (2) since most of the volunteer election judges are employed during the week, it was the day they had available to provide the voluntary service. About 40 people are being involved in working with the voters at the polls.

Provision has been made for absentee balloting by people who will be unable to go to the polls for the Saturday election. Absentee ballot requests may be sent to The Citizens Advisory Committee, P.O. Box 913, Thief River Falls, MN 56701. Return ballots must be postmarked no later than October 17. This would mean that Wednesday, October 16, would be the last day to apply for an absentee ballot.

Members of The Citizens Advisory Vote Committee have indicated that the results of the voting will be presented to the city council, county board, office of Gov. Arne Carlson and the news media following the election. Vote

Town and Country Fest at Goodridge

"Town and Country Day—Festival of the Pumpkin" will take place in Goodridge Saturday, October 19, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. under sponsorship of the Goodridge Area Historical Society.

Help and financial support is being provided by the Goodridge Jaycees, Goodridge Area Development Corporation, Hartz store and cafe, Goodridge Co-op Creamery, Miz Ellie's, Goodridge Lioness club, the City of Goodridge and Cenex of Goodridge and Thief River Falls.

Opening event of the day will be a pumpkin hunt starting at 11 a.m. The event is open to all ages and anyone wishing to participate is asked to meet at Tvedt park for tips on the hunt.

From 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. a free meal will be served by the Goodridge Jaycees in the Goodridge community center.

At 1:30 p.m. the gazebo in Tvedt park will be dedicated to the City of Goodridge by the Goodridge Area Bicentennial Committee. Ceremonies will be in Tvedt park if weather permits or in the Goodridge senior center in the event of bad weather.

Following the dedication a number of games and contests will be held in the downtown area. Events include a pumpkin pie-eating contest for all ages, judging of pumpkins carved in advance, and a largest pumpkin contest. All of the events are open to the general public of all ages. An art contest is also being held during the week at the Goodridge elementary school. Prizes will be awarded in all the competitive events.

The "Country Store" will be open from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and will feature the sale of pumpkins, vegetables, popcorn, carameled apples, apple sundaes and many other items. Pumpkin pie and pumpkin bars and beverage will be available for sale at the senior citizen center

Vergil Lappegaard, 68

Thief River Falls — Vergil Lappegaard, 68, died October 11 at the Northwest Medical center in Thief River Falls.

Funeral services were held October 14 at the Redeemer Lutheran church with Rev. Luther Anderson officiating. Special music was provided by Diane Klemetson, soloist, and Joyce Halbasch, organist. Honorary casketbearers were Les Cota, Donovan Erlendson and Doug Martell. Active casketbearers were Norman Blackstad, Blair Gustafson, Jerry Jensen, Derrell Johnson, Roger Meunier and Lyle Olson. Interment was in the Black River cemetery. The Green Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Vergil Lylan Lappegaard was born Apr. 29, 1923 at Rosewood, the son of Albert and Hazel (Rye) Lappegaard. He attended the Willow Dale rural school in Norden township, Pennington county. He worked on the family farm for several years. He was united in marriage to Mayme Eidelbes on Feb. 10, 1946 at Thief River Falls. He farmed in Norden township until 1950 when he began working for the city of Thief River Falls in the street department. He retired in 1988. He was a member of the Eagles aerie of Thief River Falls.

He is survived by his wife; two daughters: Mrs. John (Gloria) Erickson of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Michael (Susan) Beito of Thief River Falls; special son and daughter, Terry Bottem of Woodland, CA and Mrs. Mitch (Michelle) Beito of Thief River Falls; six grandchildren, two great-grandchildren; and one brother, Duane Lappegaard of Goodridge.

He was preceded in death by his parents; two sisters: Marcella Bottem and Ila Lull; and one granddaughter, Tami Beito.

Elmer A. Hagness, 88

Thief River Falls — Elmer A. Hagness, 88, died October 9 at the Northwest Medical center in Thief River Falls.

Memorial services were held October 12 at the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah Witness with Larry Mogen presiding.

Elmer Arthur Hagness was born July 23, 1903 in Pembina county, ND, the son of Torger and Mary (Torgerson) Hagness. He attended school and grew up there. He worked for the Soo Line railroad for many years. In 1945 he moved to Minneapolis, where he worked for Honeywell and the Minneapolis street department as foreman. On Dec. 13, 1958 he was united in marriage to Mabel Schmeicher Anagnosiou at Ortonville. The couple lived in Minneapolis until moving to Thief River Falls in 1974.

He is survived by his wife; two daughters: Mary Alice Kouba of Minneapolis and Glenda Pepper of Clifton, CO; one son, Loren of St. Paul; two stepdaughters: Theodora Beckman of Littleton, CO, and Lois Anderson of Minneapolis, five grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; two sisters: Mrs. Mel (Tillie) Carlson of Thief River Falls and Evelyn Berg of Grand Forks, ND; and one brother, Donald Hagness of North Branch.

He was preceded in death by his parents; two brothers: Carl and Bert; and three sisters: Olive, Lorna and Lyla.

Special music was provided by Vernon Iverson, soloist, and Julie Faugstad, organist. Casketbearers were Gary Grove, Arnold Haugen, Russell Heden, Ernest Mostrom, John Nelson and Jerry Sabo. Interment was in the church cemetery. The Green Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

John Oscar Bakke was born Aug. 18, 1916 in Johnson township, Polk county, the son of Ole O. and Gunhild (Audelid) Bakke. He attended school and grew up in Johnson township. They moved to Highlanding township, Pennington county, in the 1930's. He was a farmer and avid trapper. He moved into Valley Home in Thief River Falls several years ago.

He is survived by one sister, Molly Ydstie of Red Lake Falls and two nieces, Cherie Sabo and Mavis Grove.

He was preceded in death by his parents and three brothers: Ellev, Hans and Otto.

Dear Readers,

When death occurs, there are so many emotions that must be dealt with. We cannot change the fact that death has touched our lives, but we can educate ourselves to handle our grief wisely. There are a number of excellent books written about death and dying knowledge of the grief process will help reassure you that the feelings you are experiencing are normal.

Respectfully,

Belmont Funeral Home

Changes made in area SWCD office staffs

Several changes have been made in the staffs of soil and water conservation district offices in the area, according to Cheryl Sistad, secretary/manager for the Marshall-Beltrami SWCD office at Grygla.

David Dornbusch, who has been acting district conservationist for the past summer at the Grygla office, has been reassigned to the Red Lake Falls Soil Conservation Service office and began his duties there on October 7.

New acting district conservationist for the Grygla field office will be Allan Gustafson, who holds the same post in the Pennington county SWCD office in Thief River Falls. He is currently scheduled to be in Grygla Tuesdays and Thursdays but persons wishing to talk with him specifically are asked to call before coming to the office in case there is a change in schedule. He may also be contacted by Marshall-Beltrami SWCD members at the Thief River Falls office, 681-3348.

Kathy Walsh remains the technician and the Grygla office on a full-time basis and Cheryl Sistad is usually in the office Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Opinion vote on casino

tabulation will be kept by city wards and by county townships as well as the cities of St. Hilaire and Goodridge.

David Gruthe, a member of The Citizens Advisory Vote Committee, said that the committee has copies of the registered voter list for the city of Thief River Falls. Persons who are not currently registered to vote in the city or county and would like to be registered prior to the advisory vote on Saturday may preregister at the Pennington county auditor's office.

Ken Olson, county auditor, said that his office would provide voters who pre-register with a copy of the registration card to present at the polls Saturday. He also noted that Wednesday, October 16, is the last day that voters have to be pre-registered to vote in the November 5 general election. Provision is made in official elections, however, for voters to be registered at the polls.

Since the advisory vote Saturday is not an official election, there is no provision for voter registration at the polls. From a practical standpoint, however, a voter who presents a valid driver's license or similar identification Saturday would be complying with the same requirements used for issuing voter registration at an official election.

The question has been asked how the advisory vote differs from an official election. There are a number of technical differences in what is required of governing bodies in conducting official elections. The advisory vote, however, is a voluntary citizen action taken independently and may be conducted because it is not prohibited. Any group could conduct a similar vote on any question at any time.

The major difference between the Saturday vote and an official election is that the results of the Saturday vote are not binding. In an official election the results obligate the governing bodies to a course of action directed by the majority of voters.

The Citizens Advisory Vote Committee is adhering as closely as possible to the eligibility of an official election to provide the greatest amount of credibility to the results.

Enrollment in Colleges climbs

Enrollment in Minnesota's Community Colleges is at a record high for the seventh straight year, with more than 56,500 students attending classes this fall.

Fall quarter enrollment is 56,541 compared with 54,986 a year ago, or an increase of 2.8 per cent. Community college enrollment has increased 50 per cent since the fall of 1984.

Eleven community colleges reported all-time high enrollments this fall. They are Inver Hills, Minneapolis, Normandale, North Hennepin, Hibbing (both its main campus in Hibbing and its Duluth program), Fond du Lac, Rainy River, Vermilion, Austin and the Cambridge campus of Anoka-Ramsey.

Chancellor Gerald W. Christenson said the fall enrollment is up despite a 9 per cent tuition increase and the smallest number of Minnesota high school graduates in the last 28 years.

"It shows that community colleges are meeting the needs of students," he said. "And those needs are extremely varied. We are able to challenge the honor students who want to go on to the best universities and private colleges, and we are able to help those now-motivated students who did not have a good high school experience or have been out of school for several years."

Nearly half of the students in community colleges are over age 25, many of them attending part-time while they continue to hold down jobs and meet family responsibilities.

Because of tight budgets resulting from 991 legislative actions, classes were filled early at some colleges and part-time teachers were not hired to add more class sections.

Community colleges are funded by a combination of state appropriations and student tuition. Tuition was increased by 9 per cent this fall, to $35 per credit.

More than 38,000 students attend Twin Cities area community colleges, about the same number as attend the University of Minnesota. Normandale is the largest community college in the state and, with 9,343 students this fall, is larger than some state universities.

Vermilion Community College at Ely reported the largest enrollment increase, 44 per cent. The college said there is high interest in a new series of environmental programs. Itasca Community College in Grand Rapids had a 14.8 per cent decline. College officials said the number of high school graduates in the area was "significantly down."

Besides Vermillion, other double-digit increases were at Minneapolis Community College, the Fond du Lac campus in Cloquet and Rainy River Community College in International Falls.

Northland Community College in Thief River Falls recorded a 2.9 per cent increase over enrollment last year.

Catholic Daughters held October meeting

The Catholic Daughters of America, Court 2023 Our Lady of the Snows, met October 1 at the St. Bernard's Catholic church. Regent Pat Hoefer opened the meeting with the rosary with each decade led by a different member. An update was given on the Everybody's Market fund-raiser. The amount collected was $216.92. Pat Hoefer and Jeanne Altepeter gave a follow-up report on the Catholic Daughters workshop.

Lorena Lasha and Irene Rausch will continue to visit local nursing homes with cards to be ordered by Theresa Walrath. Progress was reported on the sponsorship of the St. Mary's Mission clothing drive with plans announced to have the confirmation class and other volunteers pack the clothing on October 8.

Jeanne Altepeter reported that Vivian Trudeau and Donna Kertz are going to be installed as new members. All membership dues are due October 1.

Catholic Daughters Sunday will be celebrated October 20 at 8:30 a.m. Mass. A spaghetti dinner will be held in November at St. Bernard's church with the confirmation class assisting. The Minnesota Catholic Daughters convention will be held in International Falls in April.

Following the meeting a quilt tying bee was held and lunch was served by Ione Oonsorowski and Theresa Walrath.

Viking Town/Country Garden club met Oct. 3

The Viking Town and Country garden club met October 3 at the Thief River Falls public library with Joyce Kron presiding over the meeting. The creed was said in unison. Roll call was naming a new vegetable you have tried. Joyce presented the Award of Merit from the state Horticultural society to Clarice Rooker with a corsage and congratulations.

The fall workshop was discussed. The spring workshop will be held at the Viking school. The flower show will be in Roseau. After some discussion it was decided to sponsor an award to a 4-H member in the horticulture project in both Pennington and Marshall counties again this year. Election of officers was held with all officers remaining for another year.

Joyce Erickson gave a topic on "Oriental Vegetables." Joyce Kron gave a short topic on "Candied Flowers for Gardeners with a Sweet Tooth."

Lunch was served by Clarice Rooker. Those present were Joyce Kron, Bernyce Grandstrand, Hazel Olson, Nina Halvorson, Clarice Rooker and Joyce Erickson.

The next meeting will be a potluck fall supper November 7 at 6:30 p.m. at the home of Bernyce Grandstrand.

Children and Youth Chairman Rhonda Joppru reminded the group to save Campbell Soup labels. Junior Activities Chairman Sharon Odegaard reported on the junior pep rally to be held October 12 in Argyle. Americanism Chairman Octavia Jorgenson reported that a flag had been given to Pioneer Village this summer. Legislative Chairman JoAnn Reeve reminded the group to write to representatives and senators regarding concerns for veterans and their families.

Marilyn Winters reported on the district convention held in Warren in June. Sunshine Chairman Audrey Hermanson asked the group to let her know of anyone hospitalized or ill.

The first meatball supper for the season was well attended. The next one will be October 28 at 5:30 p.m. Fall conference will be held in Waite Park October 31-November 2. Leadership workshop will be held at East Grand Forks on October 26. The 1992 district convention will be held June 12-13 in Thief River Falls. Karen Fredrickson and Annabelle Cuppett will be co-chairmen. Lunch was served following the meeting by Rhonda Joppru and Gloria Lee.

September Activities At Oakland Park

Highlighting the month of September at Oakland Park Nursing Home was a pie social held September 13 for all the residents of the home. The pies were prepared by some of the ladies of the home, along with ice cream. Providing special music for the afternoon was Linda Smerek, Miss Marshall County, accompanied by her mother, Ada Smerek, on the piano.

Celebrating birthdays in September were: Henry Bjornrud (Sept. 1); Albert Berge (Sept. 14); and Myrtle Mytin (Sept. 21).

Me Myrin celebrated her birthday with ice cream and cake served to everyone on the 20th. Family members also visited on Friday and Saturday.

A new resident during September was Norman Peterson.

Residents hosting dinners during September were Anna Loken with Valarie Torstveit and two others as guests; Anton Kotrba with Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kotrba and children as guests; and Orville Moritz with Lydia Moritz as guest.

Several residents enjoyed shopping and lunch at Kmart during the month. Visits were made by the Legion and Eagles auxiliaries.

Other activities included current events, Success therapy, card club, music time, reading group, baking group, poetry, fitness, residents council, bowling, spelling bee, and sing-alongs with Carol Waswick.

Church services and music were presented by Rev. Luther Anderson; Rev. Erickson; Rev. Michael Forsberg; Rev. Berton Hushagen; Rev. Henry Moyer; Rev. O. Josh Nelson; Rev. Daryl Rothchild; Rev. Stevenson; Floyd and Pearl Dalzell; Luella Delorme; Doris Eisbrener; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Huderle; Lorena Lasha; the Larry Myhrer family; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Novellino; and the Trochmann family.

Activities At Valley Home In September

Highlighting the month of September for Valley Home was the 16th annual Miss Nursing Home pageant on September 24 held at the Lutheran Memorial Nursing Home in Twin Valley. Seven contestants took part in the event, including Alvida Salte of Valley Home, escorted by Steve Chwialkowski. The winner was Theresa Erickson of Lutheran Memorial Home in Twin Valley.

A group of fiddlers, the Fiddlers Three, from Fergus Falls performed at Valley Home on September 1. The group included Jadde Johnson, age 12, Erin McCallum, age 13 and Sonja Larson, age 11. They also entertained at the Heritage center.

A fish fry was supplied and prepared by the VFW Cooties with Mr. and Mrs. Art Stordahl providing entertainment.

New residents welcomed in September were Cora Dahle, Gertrude Koop, Elby Engstrom, Alfred Stroberg, Irene Beniot, Valborg Hanson and Melgord San.

Celebrating birthdays in September were: Leonard Johnson (Sept. 2); Josie Johnson (Sept. 3) Frank Dobias (Sept. 3); Hilda Hangaard (Sept. 8); Alvida Salte (Sept. 10); Hattie Melin (Sept. 12); Joseph Pletchett (Sept. 18); Albert Lee Anderson (Sept. 20); Olaf Olson (Sept. 24); and Tillie Nesland (Sept. 25).

The monthly birthday party was held September 27 and those with birthdays were seated at the birthday table and each received a card and gift from Valley Home and a card from St. Bernard's Catholic Daughters. Date bars and ice cream was served.

Those serving treats on their birthdays were Leander Anderson who served cake and strawberry ice cream on September 20 and Olaf Olson who served apple turnovers and ice cream. Hilda Hangaard served ice cream and cake on September 8. Her son, Irvin Thoreson and some friends entertained with a musical program following the lunch. Alvida Salte celebrated her birthday a week early when a large group of relatives and friends came to help celebrate. Later on the group was entertained when Mildred Brekke played the piano and was accompanied by Howard Miller playing the mandolin.

Valley Home was visited by Rev. James Molstre and Our Saviour's WMS who presented a program and served muffins. Visits were also made by the Catholic Daughters who served doughnuts and a circle from the Abundant Life church who served various breads. Judith Wold led Bible study every Tuesday. A group of ladies from the New Hope church of Newfolden also gave a Bible study each Tuesday. Harvey Dyrud gave a Bible study each Friday.

A clock was presented to Valley Home by Herman and Opal Kjos.

Other activities included discussion time, basketball and bowling practice with CAP students assisting, bean bag toss; exercises; fire drill; resident council, movies and popcorn, choir and band practice, visits by a beautician, Shelva Johnson; and sing-alongs with Carol Waswick.

The shop and craft shop workers were treated to rolls. Those who worked the puzzle in the Echoes were served apple turnovers and ice cream.

Township officer short course at T.R.F. Oct. 24

Latest information on property valuation will be the focus of an upcoming University of Minnesota short course, being presented at eight locations across Minnesota in October and November, including Thief River Falls on October 24 at the Best Western Inn.

The course is designed for assessors wishing to maintain their certification, township officers serving on a board of review, and realtors wishing to obtain continuing education credit.

Topics and speakers for assessors and realtors during the morning session will be:

Appreciation of depreciation —Jim Hallstrom, Martin county assessor;

Real estate market cycles—Leigh Lenzmeier, St. Cloud appraiser/consultant;

Architectural styles and designs of homes—Rosie Court, St. Cloud city appraiser.

Dan Franklin, retired Wilkin county assessor, and John Verlennich, Pope county assessor, will conduct a session for township officers. They will discuss ratio studies, valuation, viewing of properties, notice of assessment, board of review, county board of equalization, tax court, how to keep or get a local assessor, qualifications and licensure of assessors and any concerns members may bring to a meeting.

Topics and speakers in the afternoon will be:

Communication with clients—James Connolly, University of Minnesota;

Changes in assessment laws enacted by the 1991 legislature—Al Heim or Dale Lambrecht, Minnesota Department of Revenue;

Assessing wetlands and other conservation property—Matt Smith, agricultural economist;

A visual look at assessing executive and upper valued homes—Scott Hovet, Plymouth city assessor.

Township officers will register at the course. All others need to request a brochure and preregister. For more information, contact your county assessor's office, county extension office or University of Minnesota Extension Special Programs, phone (612) 625-1214 or 1-800-367-5363.

Materials on waste-related topics offered

Waste Education Clearinghouse, located at the Minnesota Office of Waste Management in St. Paul, is a source for anyone seeking information and materials on hundreds of waste-related topics. The service is provided without charge and includes information, referral and research services.

Begun in 1988, the clearinghouse currently handles an average of 20 information requests a day. Its collection includes over 3,000 resource materials on waste management issues such as waste source reduction, recycling, composting, household hazardous waste and much more.

File information on all reports, articles, legal documents, curricula and fact sheets gathered from around the county is kept on a computer data-base and new information is continually being added to the collection. The clearinghouse also has more than 100 videotapes to lend to interested Minnesotans.

To use any of these services call 1-800-877-6300 or write or visit the Minnesota Office of Waste Management, Waste Education Clearinghouse, 1350 Energy Lane, St. Paul, MN 55108.

Thefts, accidents listed in reports to local LEC

Number of thefts and accidents were again listed among the reports to the law enforcement center in Thief River Falls over the past week.

Thefts. On September 27 at 12:23 p.m. Oscar Nerhus, route 2, Goodridge, reported that someone had stolen tools from his crane while it was parked on Goodridge township. Theft loss was estimated at $49.

On October 8 at 9:28 a.m. police received a report of the theft of two wedding rings. The theft loss was estimated at $3,700. It is under investigation.

On October 10 at 5:19 p.m. police received a report of theft from the Franklin Middle school locker room. Some youths were observed in the locker room. An undisclosed amount of money was discovered missing. The incident is under investigation.

On October 10 at 4:15 p.m. Ron Helling, route 4, Thief River Falls, reported that while his vehicle was parked in the Aretco parking lot between noon and 4 p.m. someone took his bow hunting equipment valued at $1,468. The vehicle was unlocked at the time.

On October 11 at 4:32 p.m. Carol's Cafe reported that a subject had entered the cafe more than once, ordered food and left without paying. Charges are pending against Martin Cote, 31, Red Lake Falls, for theft under $200.

On October 13 at 4:54 p.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a report of someone entering a trailer while they were gone. Some cigarettes and pop were missing along with a small amount of change. Some juveniles were identified and the incident is under investigation.

On October 12 at 3:15 p.m. Hugo's reported a shoplifter. Three subjects were identified. After being stopped, one subject bolted and ran. He was eventually caught. A police officer chased the subject on foot. Some koolaide packs were found in his pockets and balongna and hot dogs were found along the chase route. Terrance L. Daniels, 18, Chicago, faces charges of shoplifting and escape from custody.

On October 14 at 12:33 p.m. police received a report that a candy machine at the Brite Spot had been broken into. The contents, including the candy and money, were missing. Damage and theft loss amounts have not been determined.

On October 15 at 2:20 a.m. Doug Suronen, Thief River Falls, reported that his 1967 Blue OMC pickup, license plate 682 BUY had been taken from an alley parking lot in the 300 block of North Main. Theft loss was estimated at $600.

Pennington county sheriff's department has charges of issuing worthless checks pending against the following individuals: Ira Phillip Murray, 28, Thief River Falls, for writing $386.48 in checks; Marisa Ann Rasmusson, 20, Roseau, for writing $175.88 in checks; Darlene Abrahamson, 38, Thief River Falls, for writing $113.46 in checks; and John Abrahamson, 42, Thief River Falls for writing $1,263.50 in worthless checks.

Accidents. On October 8 at 7 p.m. police received a report of a bike and car accident at St. Paul. According to the report, a car driven by Brent Trudeau, route 4, Thief River Falls, age 20, was going south on St. Paul and a bike ridden by Benjamin Roggenbuck, 10, Thief River Falls, was riding east out into traffic when he struck the side of the car. Roggenbuck injured his right side and hip. There was no property damage.

On October 9 at 4:50 p.m. police received a report of an accident in the Northland Foods parking lot. According to the report, a car driven by Hans Stensgaard, Thief River Falls, pulled out of a parking spot and Stensgaard accidentally hit the gas instead of the brake. The car then struck a car owned by Elmac Lusignan, route 4, Thief River Falls, and pushed it into a car owned by Alfred Qualley, route 1, Brooks. Damages were estimated at $500 to the Stensgaard vehicle, $1,200 to the Lusignan vehicle and $1,000 to the Qualley vehicle.

On October 10 at 5:56 a.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a report of a moose and car accident on State Aid 3. According to the report, a Concrete Inc. truck driven by Walter Suronen, route 1, Thief River Falls, was going east on SA 3, about three miles west of Highway 32 when it struck one of three a moose on the roadway. Damage loss was estimated at $200.

On October 10 a 7:15 p.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a report of a pickup and deer accident. According to the report, a pickup driven by Greggory L. Johnson, Thief River Falls, was going north on Highway 59 two miles south of Thief River Falls when it hit a deer on the road. There was no damage to the vehicle.

On October 11 at 3:38 p.m. police received a report of an accident at Fourth and Horace. According to the report, a car driven by Judith Ann Jones, Goodridge, was going east on Fourth street when a car driven by Shawn Leas, Thief River Falls, was going south on Horace. Damages were estimated at $1,000 to each when the vehicles collided. Charges are pending.

On October 12 at 9:42 p.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a report of a car and deer accident. According to the report, a vehicle driven by Rebecca Stickler, St. Hilaire, was going west on SA 3 in Rocksbury township when a deer crossed in front of it. Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $1,500.

On October 14 at 12:17 p.m. police received a report of an accident near Third and Atlantic. According to the report, a car driven by Linda Arveson, Troll, was stopped in traffic facing north on Atlantic and waiting to make a left turn when it was struck by a car driven by Marvin O. Nelson, route 3, Thief River Falls. Damage to each vehicle was estimated at over $500.

Hit and run. On October 11 at 11:46 p.m. police received a report of a hit and run. James Breiland, Thief River Falls, reported that while his car was parked facing south in the 400 block of South Maple a red Trans Am rounded the corner and struck the right front of his car. The car left the scene but Breiland was able to provide a description and partial license plate number. An on-duty police officer spotted the car later. The car was owned by Neil Gillespie, Thief River Falls, but was driven at the time of the accident by Francis John Trudeau, 18, route 4, Thief River Falls. Trudeau faces charges of leaving the scene of an accident. Damage to Breiland's vehicle was estimated at $600. Damage to the vehicle driven by Trudeau was estimated at $1,000. At the time the vehicle was stopped the driver was Brian Gillespie, 18, Thief River Falls. The officer alleges that Gillespie had been drinking alcohol and was cited for consumption under age.

Vandalism. On October 13 at 10:20 a.m. Judd Alby, Thief River Falls, reported that someone had put scratches in the trunk lid of his vehicle was parked on South St. Paul. Damage loss was estimated at $75.

On October 5 at 8:46 a.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a report of damage to the football and baseball fields and an area near the pellet plant heater in Goodridge. A vehicle had torn up the grass areas causing about $50 damage.

On October 5 at 10:11 a.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a report from Camp Moe that a four-wheel vehicle had broken through the gate at the camp causing about $300 damage to the gate.

Assaults. On October 9 at 4:15 a.m. police received a report of an assault on North Duluth. A female victim alleged that she had been pushed down stairs and her head had struck a wall. Ronald Vondal, 42, Thief River Falls, faces charges of fifth degree assault.

On October 13 at 1:52 a.m. police received a report of a domestic assault. A female victim alleged she had been slugged in the face. Officers noted a scrape on her left arm. Steven Jones, 28, route 8, Thief River Falls, was cited for fifth degree assault. The male claimed that he had been scratched by the female. Officers noted scratches on the male. Katherine Baum, 28, Thief River Falls, was cited for fifth degree assault.

Public nuisance. On October 12 at 1:58 a.m. police received a report of a loud party in the 200 block of north Kneale. Jeffrey Brouse, 21, Thief River Falls, was cited for permitting public nuisance.

Consumption under age. On October 12 at 12:48 a.m. police received a report of a party on the roof of the Chaparral. A citation was issued to Marcy Klinke, 18, Fosston, for disorderly conduct and consumption under age. Stephen Doppler, Pelican Rapids, 19, was cited for drinking under age; and a 15-year-old female from Fosston was cited for consumption under age.

On October 4 at 9:27 p.m. police received a report of an absent juvenile on home detention. The boy was located and found to have been drinking alcohol. The 15-year-old boy was cited for consumption under age.

Criminal damage to property. On October 10 at 9:20 p.m. police received a report of a fire extinguisher being set off at the Chaparral apartments. After investigation, Troy Arthur Swenson, 20, route 3, Bagley, faces charges of criminal damage to property. Damage loss was estimated at $15.

Driving while intoxicated. On October 15 Ryan Kraulik, route 2, Stephen, was turned over to the law enforcement center for holding on a charge of driving while intoxicated charged out by the Minnesota state patrol.

Paulson student teaching in TRF

Bridget Paulson of Goodridge is taking part in Bemidji State university's student teaching program this fall, instructing mathematics at Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls.

Student teaching gives education majors a chance to utilize what they've learned through participation in an actual classroom setting in a participating area school.

Speaking Of . . .

. . . Who Told the Truth and Who Didn't

Last weekend was a time of vacillation. I watched the hearings on Anita Hill's charges of sexual harassment against Clarence Thomas and all of the rigmarole associated with it, and my support wobbled from one side to the other with each appearance. Even today I have no specific conclusion on which of the two is telling the truth and which of them is lying. I just flip flopped along as I watched the testimony and believed each person or group of people whenever they appeared in front of me. I wonder if I will ever be able to conclude who I believe.

I came away from watching those hearings with a raging headache, and more questions than when I started. Wasn't the original question whether or not Judge Thomas was suitable to sit on the Supreme Court? It is hard to remember. That first issue seems so long, long ago. I think that issue has been lost forever in the muddle of sexual harassment charges brought against the Judge by Ms. Hill.

Friday I heard Clarence Thomas tell me what a good guy he is and then heard Anita Hill tell me what a bad guy he is. Questions were asked by the Senators, back and forth, Republican and Democrat, for or against, until I was dizzy. By the time I went to bed Friday night, I knew someone was lying and thought it just might be Judge Thomas. If he was, what a cad of the first degree he was.

Saturday I listened to Clarence Thomas tell me just what he thought of the whole confirmation process and most of the members of the Senate who sit on it, what price he has paid for this "glory" and other things. After once again listening to another never-ending pro and con questioning session, I was siding with Clarence Thomas, thought several of the Senators were cads of the first degree, and wondered what in the world was wrong with Anita Hill. She must be lying—maybe.

Sunday afternoon I watched four witnesses appear for Ms. Hill. I believed them all, each and every one, even though they were very diverse. Professor Hill must be telling the truth—maybe.

Sunday evening I watched four female witnesses appear for Judge Thomas. I thought that two out of the four were absolutely wonderful women that I would be proud to have as friends and I was sure they were definitely telling the truth. (The other two were acting too much like "office witches" to me to be very believable.) Anita Hill must be lying—maybe.

Later that evening I watched four gentlemen appear on behalf of the Judge. I enjoyed them thoroughly and believed three of them, deciding that one was too self-important for my taste, even though very bright. Judge Thomas must be telling the truth—maybe.

When a whole tableful of women appeared to speak of their regard for the Judge, I went to bed. I couldn't take any more. My head was pounding. I went to bed that night with numerous questions, my sympathies bouncing back and forth, for and against, pro and con, my brain reeling.

Who was telling the truth? Was Anita Hill telling the truth and Clarence Thomas a perverted person who did those perverse things? Was Clarence Thomas telling the truth and Anita Hill a perverted person who made up all of those perverse things?

Which witnesses were telling the truth? Were some telling the truth and some lying? If so, who?

I wonder if anyone will ever be sure of who is lying and who is telling the truth in this case. I wonder if the Senate will be able to tell who is lying and who is telling the truth when they vote for or against Judge Thomas. I wonder if they care.

Oats production in state lowest since 1878 mark

Oats crop in Minnesota at 22.8 million bushels was down 16 per cent from the August forecast, down 53 per cent from a year ago and the lowest production since 1878, according to the Minnesota Agricultural Statistics service. Yield at 40 bushels per acre was down five bushels from the August estimate and 26 bushels below 1990.

Spring wheat production in 1991 is forecast at 64.2 million bushels, down four per cent from the September 1 forecast. Yield at 31 bushels per acre is down one bushels from the September estimate and 18 bushels below 1990.

Durum wheat yield at 32 bushels is down 12 bushels from last year and winter wheat production at 36 bushels per acre is down one bushel from the July estimate.

Bailey production of 43.8 million bushels is down 13 per cent from last year and the yield of 50 bushels per acre is down 13 bushels from 1990.

Rye production at 648,000 bushels is down 25 per cent from last year and the lowest production total since 1887. Yield at 27 bushels per acre is down four bushels from a year ago.

Sunflower forecast is for production of 504 million pounds, up 123 per cent from 1990 and the largest crop since 1982. Yield at 1,750 pounds per acre is up 112 pounds from last year.

Sugarbeet output in Minnesota is forecast at 5.97 million tons with yields forecast at 16.5 tons per acre. Both yields and production would be up 11 per cent from last year.

Alfalfa hay production at 6.84 million tons is up 15 per cent from the August forecast and up 34 per cent from 1990. Yield at 3.8 tons is up one-half ton from August and up .6 ton from last year.

Donna Sweet is contest winner

Donna Sweet of St. Hilaire won first place in the "Applemania" apple dessert contest sponsored recently at the St. Hilaire senior meal site.

Mrs. Sweet will compete Wednesday at regional competition in Thief River Falls. Winner of the regional event will advance to statewide competition at the State Capitol in St. Paul October 30.

The contest was co-sponsored by the Minnesota Project Directors association, US West communications and the Minnesota Apple Growers association among people eating at senior meals sites across Minnesota.

Second place in the St. Hilaire contest went to Pearle Drees and third place to Irene Mosbeck.

Alice Forsberg and Elaine Bergman were in Moorhead a few days, staying with Elaine's grandchildren.

Henry and Henrietta Knutson attended the funeral for Mrs. Leonard Olson at Goodridge.

Mrs. Ernest Roll of Bagley, and daughters, Sophia Fredrickson of Bagley, and Mrs. Fred (Ruth) Whitehead of Ft. Frances, Ontario, Canada, visited Tuesday afternoon with Alice Forsberg.

Ed and Ayleen Erickson from Bellevue, WA, have been houseguests of Irene Carlson in Gully, other visitors have been Petra Eck of Gonvick, Tara Churness of Clearbrook, Donna Rae Ware of Duluth and Sanna Brovold.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Norgaard spent a week in the Cities, with Vance Norgaard family in Webster, and at Robin and Tom Kelleher at Burnsville.

We had a real good turn-out for our church dinner at Lund, September 29. They came from St. Paul, Bemidji, Bagley, Clearbrook, Gonvick, Fosston, McIntosh, Oklee, Goodridge, Thief River Falls, Trail and Gully. Thank you all for coming, we enjoyed serving you.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Scott of Fosston, spent a few days with Elfie Handy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Turenno and Maja, Dr. Caroline Guerera and Sanna Torgerson of Thief River Falls, were Saturday overnight visitors and Sunday dinner guests at Elfie Handy, other dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Handy and Johnny Handy from Fosston.

Sanna and Arnold Brovold entertained Ed and Ayleen Erickson of Bellevue, WA, for Sunday dinner, after dinner they were all visitors at John and Geline Nelson and several of Ed's old neighbors and friends. His parents were former Hickory people, so he enjoyed seeing the old homestead and different places out there.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

As a former instructor of business economics it has been very interesting to listen to our community's split differences on the casino issue. It is troubling to me to see our leadership making such easy decisions into such a mountain of confusion.

If our government is indeed run by the principle "We, the people...." then certainly a community vote, regardless of the cost and time, is in order. A multi-million dollar casino issue certainly involves more people than just the governor and/or the city council. The people need to vote!

Besides, maybe the "conservatives" would be shocked to find out gambling is more acceptable than they expected. At least with a vote, our leadership would know the real heartbeat of this community and could pursue large scale business endeavors accordingly. They could perform their responsibilities with more light than heat!

As an American veteran it is important to me that the vote be allowed. As an educator, who does not believe in prohibition (regarding gambling), it is important that the vote be allowed. As a Christian desiring proper economic growth, it is important to me to be able to vote. And finally, as a pastor, I have the conviction it is part of my responsibility to encourage this vote and support the Bible principles against the casino.

We plan to vote against the casino on Saturday and, regardless of the outcome, we plan to stay in TRF, shop in TRF and serve in TRF ....because we love it here!

Respectfully Yours,
Michael L. Forsberg,
Missionary/Pastor
Precious Seed Baptist Church

To The Editor:

Recently one of the investors in the new motel being built in Thief River Falls asked me to write an open letter to the public about the possibility of building a Perkins Restaurant in your city. I have been involved with Perkins Restaurants for over 15 years. I presently hold franchises for five Perkins Restaurants in North Dakota and Montana.

I visited your city a few weeks ago and was very impressed with Thief River Falls. Generally speaking I have avoided smaller markets and concentrated my development in markets between 30,000 and 100,000 population.. Perkins success is dependent on a strong following within the community in which it is located as well as a strong transient following from people who travel to the city for shopping and entertainment.

I understand that Thief River Falls is looking at the possibility of introducing casino gaming which has become very successful in attracting people from a wide area. If this comes to pass I would be interested in seeing what effect this will have on traffic counts on major highways and occupancy rates in area motels. If there are significant increases in traffic counts and occupancy rates I would be very interested in pursuing the possibility of developing a Perkins Restaurant in Thief River Falls.

Sincerely,
Fred M. Madsen

To The Editor:

In June I moved over here to Northland Village. Since I've been here several neighbors of mine who have privately owned or rented homes have let their pets (small and large dogs) wander about the area in general.

Well, it's not an oasis out here for dogs to urinate and defecate on. We have a large, condensed population of children who have to play in the common area and we also have to walk to and from our mailboxes or our cars—which means we have to step in it!

We are not allowed to have pets because we have carpeting and convenience for families-only apartments. Since we do not own these dogs or have facilities for them, why are we subject to our neighbors' dogs who carry diseases that can affect children who are most prone out here to be exposed to the feces?

I have only met one owner, to whom I returned his dog safe and sound. I wish I could speak that well of the rest of my neighbors who own or rent privately. It's disgusting to clean up after a dog if you don't own it yourself, much less have children step in feces and not own the pet.

Sincerely,
Roberta Lee
Highway 1 East
Thief River Falls

Brooks . . . .

Wednesday afternoon guest of Mrs. Lillian Hince were Mrs. Dallas Paradis, Mrs. Yvonne Morinville and Charlene, Mrs. Dorothy Myhre, Mrs. Veronica Boucher and Mrs. Evangeline Grove.

Greenbush has program on AIDS

Amon Petersen, who was diagnosed as having the HIV virus 12 years ago and is considered the longest living person with AIDS in Minnesota, will speak at a session for adults Sunday, October 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the Greenbush high school gymnasium.

The session is sponsored by the Greenbush school community education department. In the past two years Petersen has given his presentation to more than 20,000 people and is featured on a series of five videotapes called "Living With AIDS." He taught school for 33 years, including 26 years in the Fergus Falls school system.

Petersen will be speaking on statistics for the state and nation, stages of AIDS, prevention measures, current research of the AIDS virus and vaccine and the need for our nation to "clean up its act" to prevent AIDS from spreading.

3-3:30 p.m.—"Water Quality: Effects on the Livestock Producer" by Brian Dwight, board representative, Minnesota Board of Soil and Water Resources for Northwest Minnesota;

4-4:30 p.m.—"Dead Animal Disposal—Legal and Ethical Implications for Livestock Producers" by Dr. Gemma Drees, Red Lake Falls;

5-6 p.m.—"Feeder Cattle Demonstrations with Price and Availability Commentary" by Lee Ebsen of Central Livestock/Farmers Union Marketing, West Fargo, ND; and "Profitability Commentary" by Bill Penning, area farm management specialist, Thief River Falls.

Evening program at 7 p.m. following the dinner will feature a panel discussion on "Strategies to Maintain Profitability in the Cow Herd."

Panelists and their topics are: "Ras" Rasmussen, buyer supervisor of IBP, Dakota City, NE, "Providing the Type of Beef Consumers Want: Genetics Weight and Grade;" Paul Lindholm, Fergus Falls, president-elect of the Minnesota Bankers association, "Financing the Cow-Calf Enterprise of the 90's, Economic Reality After a Period of Record Prices;" and Russ Danielson, animal scientist at North Dakota State University in Fargo, "Genetic and Management Consideration to Produce the Calves Needed in the 90's."

The meeting will adjourn at 8:30 p.m. Beef and dairy producers, their bankers, vocational agriculture instructors and county extension agents are especially encouraged to attend the beef cattlemen's institute.

Impressions . . .

by Beth Johnson

Do any of you know who Bjarni Herjulfsson was? He was a Norwegian. He lived around the mid 900's. He was a sea captain. He was a Viking.

On one of his voyages from Iceland to Greenland, he sailed off course. In so doing, he became the first known European to see the mainland of North America. This was about the year 985.

Last week, on October 9th, we celebrated Leif Erickson Day. Leif is traditionally known as the first European to set foot on the shores of North America. Leif grew up in Greenland. When Bjarni first saw North America it was to the settlers in Greenland that he told the tale of a new land. Leif heard of this new land, and like the others on Greenland did not try to find it for several years. Not until the best cropland in Greenland had been claimed did anyone take more than a passing interest in this new land that Bjarni had sighted.

So, it wasn't until about 1000 that Leif actually left Greenland in search of this new land that Bjarni had seen. If the sagas of this search are accurate Leif and his 35 men landed in three different locations on this expedition. The first place they landed they called Helluland or Flat Rock Land. The second they named Markland or Forestland, and the third location they named Vinland or Wineland. Modern-day Historians think that these locations could have been Baffin Island, Labrador and Newfoundland.

So, when Columbus sailed the ocean blue in 1492, he was not the first European to discover America. News traveled slowly in those days. The Norse discovery had not been made known to the rest of Europe, so this new continent was not even a part of the calculations which were made by Columbus before he set sail to find the shortest route to the Indies. Columbus, of course, did not find this short route to the riches of the Indies, but instead he became the means of the first links between Europe and America. With Columbus, our world was first made a bit smaller.

However, before any of these explorers discovered America, the land was inhabited by the Indian people. Historians believe that thousands of years ago, the continents of Asia and North America touched. It was at these points that the first settlers, the Indians, wandered to America. By the time of Columbus, these people were inhabiting all of the Americas.

Today, our nation is a vast melting pot of cultures and peoples. These cultures and peoples have blended together. Not everything about our nation's history is pleasant. Explorers discovered the Americas. These discoveries enticed others to come and see the new land. Newcomers did not always treat those who had been here nicely. In fact, much was done to our Native Americans which cause us to shudder in shame.

Think of the cultures of the people you know. Even in our own families we have a variety of cultures. We are not all 100% one nationality any more. We are instead, Americans.

Now that we have begun to celebrate the 500th anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus, we need to focus our attention on not only where we have all hailed from, but also what are we presently doing with the culture blends we have become.

It's not OK to only think that because wrong has been done in the past we therefore must rectify the past wrongs. They may be past hope of any practical rectification. But, instead, we need to best think of how we as a nation of many peoples can meet the needs of all of our peoples—no matter what race.

Whenever I consider the history of our nation I am amazed at how well we have been able to develop as this great nation. True, we have many problems. But, on the whole, when we compare ourselves to other modern nations, we have done quite well.

Today, if Bjarni, or Leif, or Columbus could see what we have become I tend to think that they would be proud of what we have done as a nation of many peoples. But, I would rather hope that our children and their children could look at our future nation as one in which all of its peoples and races truly were treated as equals. It's a hope that we can have a part in implementing each time we treat each other kindly and with respect. Hope in the future of our nation. We still have much to discover.

Local schools take advantage of MCI system

Thief River Falls Technical College and Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls are among the schools taking advantage of the Minnesota Career Information System (MCIS).

MCIS is now operating through a partnership between the Minnesota Department of Education and TIES (Technology and Information Educational Services). Through this arrangement, MCIS can continue to effectively serve the career information needs of Minnesotans by using the resources of both organizations.

Under the new partnership, the Department of Education will provide support staff for MCIS through employee interchange agreements, and TIES will provide professional staff.

"This is a prime example of how diminishing resources were creatively used to continue meeting the career development needs of Minnesota youth and adults," said Commissioner of Education Gene Mammenga.

Young people and adults use MCIS to provide them with current and accurate information that will help them explorer, plan and ultimately decide about their future employment. Information about occupations, postsecondary training programs, entrepreneurship, financial aid, scholarships, job search, and other career-related topics is available via computer an publications.

The system is available, on a subscription basis, at Minnesota schools; technical, community, and four-year colleges; libraries, vocational rehabilitation centers; community agencies; correctional institutions; and employment and training agencies. MCIS will move its offices in mid-October from the Department of Education to the TIES training facility in Roseville.

"TIES provides assistance and training in computer technology with educational applications. It also performs data-processing tasks for districts and schools, provides research services, and offers technical support for computer software systems. Fifty-one school districts are members.

MCIS began operation in 1975. It is supported by nearly 300 subscribers throughout Minnesota.

Persons interested in using MCIS should contact their local high school, postsecondary institution, or community agency, or they may call or write MCIS at 612-296-3653, 5th floor, Capitol Square Building, St. Paul, MN 55101.

DOT installs three scales

Minnesota Department of Transportation has recently installed three weigh-in-motion scales on area roads to provide traffic and truck weight data for a national highway research program.

The scales were installed two miles west of Marcoux on highway 2, two miles east of Deer River on highway 2 and two miles north of Bemidji on highway 71.

"Better traffic data was needed at all three locations," stated Graig Gilbertson, materials engineer for the Minnesota Department of Transportation (MnDOT) in Bemidji.

Gilbertson said that the scales are part of the Strategic Highway Research Program which was initiated five years ago by the National Academy of Sciences to test different pavement designs and surface treatments on highways.

Test sections are located on roads near the scales and are marked with small blue signs. The sections are identical to test sections in different parts of the country and the data from the weigh-in-motion scales allows comparisons of these sections based on the actual traffic at each location.

Gilbertson said that results from these tests will show which road repair materials and techniques are the most economical and effective.

Marriage and family series at Free church

Marriage and family seminar will be presented by Dr. Charles Sell, professor of Christian education at Trinity Evangelical Divinity school, Friday and Saturday, October 18 and 19, at the Evangelical Free church in Thief River Falls. Public participation is invited.

Dr. Sell has experience as a pastor, chaplain, missionary and Christian education director and has written six books addressing various issues of marriage and the family.

Friday night's session at 7 p.m. deals with helping adult children resolve their past, according to Rev. Curtis D. Anderson, pastor of the church.

"Countless numbers of growing, maturing adults carry within them nagging reminders of a childhood where one or both parents was an alcoholic," he said. "Others suffered injury from physical or sexual abuse and still others were stripped of self-esteem by parents who were mentally cruel. Often these hurts go unaddressed and unresolved.

"The results of past abuses, however, all too frequently hinder present day relationships and cast a long shadow over personal happiness and fulfillment," he added. "Dr. Sell's seminar seeks to assist adults in understanding their painful pasts. Those who desire to help hurting adults will benefit from the seminar as well. His knowledge of Scripture brings a dimension to his workshop which is greatly lacking in secular approaches."

On Saturday an all-day seminar beginning at 8:30 a.m. is designed for couples of all ages centering on achieving an intimate marriage. Couples in all levels of relationship are invited to hear Dr. Sell offer practical, Biblical advice to promote healthier, happier marriages. The format will be to incorporate interaction between spouses.

There is a fee of $10 per couple for the Saturday session only and includes snacks and a noon lunch. This may be paid during registration from 8:30 to 9 a.m. Sunday. Provision can be made to cover this cost if necessary.

At 8:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday Dr. Sell will preach at the morning worship services on "What Holds a Family Together!"

Persons with questions are invited to call the church office at 681-3855.

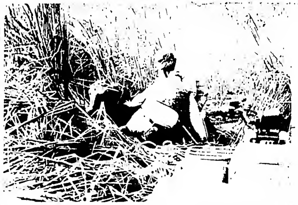
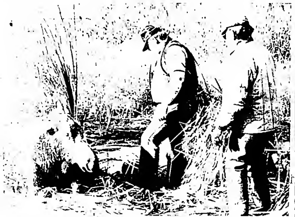
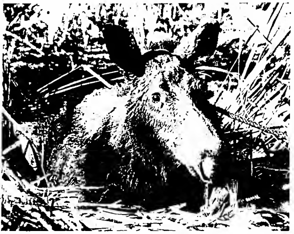
Mired deep in the marsh and unable to free itself this young cow moose was discovered near Thief River Falls last week. Gordon Forester, area wildlife manager for the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, is shown surveying the situation to determine the best way to attempt an effort to free the animal from the deep mud.



With a four-wheel ATV at hand to provide pulling power, Forester and Garner Erickson of the DNR support staff at Thief Lake Wildlife Management Area attempt to work a rope around the body of the exhausted moose. Erickson is actually astride the mired moose, trying to create enough of an opening on the far side to allow the rope to pass through.



After several attempts with the ATV and some muddy pushing and pulling, the moose had been partially freed. It had apparently been mired for some time and had lost much of the use of its legs as well as being in a generally weakened condition.



Final pull with the ATV dragged the exhausted moose out of the mud and onto the mat of cattails next to the muddy marsh pool. It was unable to rise and was left for a time to see if it could recover on its own. Later it was provided with food and water—drinking from a bucket held for it. At last word it was still surviving but its recovery was uncertain.

Prowlers come from behind to upset Otters 20-17

Three weeks of roller-coaster emotions hit another peak Friday when Thief River Falls came from behind to upset Fergus Falls 20-17 in Section 8A high school football.

The win all but assured the Prowlers of a home field site for the opening round Section 8A playoff quarterfinals Tuesday, Oct. 22. Thief River Falls will take a 4-3 record into the 1991 regular season finale Wednesday at East Grand Forks. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

Fergus Falls lost for just the second time this fall, and may have surrendered the No. 1 post-season berth to Detroit Lakes in the process. Park Rapids figures to join the Lakers, Otters and Prowlers as the top four home field seeds. Seeding positions will be determined at a coaches meeting Thursday.

The string of late-season nerve-testing finishes for Thief River Falls started with a 29-28 overtime win at Crookston. That same score popped up a week later, but with the Prowlers dropping the one-point affair to Morris. Friday, Thief River Falls trailed 17-7 heading into the fourth quarter before staging a rally that produced the Prowlers' first win at Fergus Falls since 1973 – when the current series was inaugurated.

Including a first-round playoff victory last year, Fergus Falls owned a string of 11 straight wins over the Prowlers. After back-to-back wins over the Otters in 1973 and 1974 to start the series, Thief River Falls won just once in the next 17 meetings – a 21-6 home field decision in 1980.

Thief River Falls' earlier win over Crookston put an end to a similar scenario as the Prowlers beat the Pirates for just the second time in the past 15 years and for the first time since 1976.

"This was a real big win for us," confirmed Thief River Falls head coach Jeff Mumm. "We beat a very good football team."

A 14-yard Fergus Falls touchdown run by Scott DeBrito was matched by an 11-yard Thief River Falls touchdown run by Jason Svir as the two teams played to a 7-7 first quarter tie.

But a 2-yard touchdown run by quarterback Kevin Pearson and a 27-yard field goal by Jeremy Nelson supplied the Otters with a 17-7 halftime lead.

It stayed that way until Svir hooked up with Marc Haugen on a 10-yard touchdown pass near the midway mark of the fourth quarter. Moments later a fumble recovery by Derek Howard at the 40-yard line set up a game-winning touchdown drive that was capped by a fourth-down score from the 1-yard line by Matt Kaushagen with three minutes left.

Kaushagen finished with 118 yards on 26 carries, giving him 709 yards for the year and – based upon figures that are currently available – what the coaching staff reports as a school career record 1,683 yards.

Svir also broke the 100-yard barrier for the game with 111 yards on 14 carries as the Prowlers netted 298 yards on the ground against a much bigger Fergus Falls team.

"They had us out-manned in the line by 100 pounds per man in some positions," pointed out Mumm, whose team had early season trouble with similar-sized teams. "Their size gave us a lot of trouble up front, especially on offense, in the first half. We got on the offensive line a little bit a halftime and told them they had to come off the ball quicker. And they did. They gave our backs some room to run in the second half."

The second half also produced a defensive turnaround for the Prowlers, who gave up the 17 points and 143 yards worth of offense in the first half, but shut out the Otters and limited them to just 62 yards in the second half.

"Defensively we played really well in the second half," said Mumm. "Our entire defensive unit should be commended for a strong team effort. They gave us the opportunity to win the ball game."

John Wallberg, a 6-3, 215-pound senior who was fighting illness much of the day, came up with an outstanding effort on both offense and defense to lead the Prowlers' line play, said Mumm.

East Grand Forks is 3-4 for the year, including a 14-12 win over Belcourt Friday.

Down 17-0, Pioneers bounce back to win 32-31...

NCC rally tops UMC

There was a 1:30 p.m. kickoff Saturday as Northland Community College visited the University of Minnesota-Crookston for a Minnesota Community College Conference football game. The Pioneers showed up about 1:45 – after spotting the Trojans a 17-0 head start – but made up for lost time with an unlikely 32-31 win over the rival Trojans.

It was the first win of the year for the Pioneers, and just like that, it put them in the thick of the Northwest Division race heading into the final two weeks of the 1991 regular season schedule. Northland finishes with games at Brainerd Saturday afternoon and at home against Fergus Falls the following Friday night. Wins over the Raiders and Spartans would give the Pioneers a Northwest Division title and an MCCC state playoff berth – despite their current 1-5 record.

"We would have liked to have won a game sooner than this, of course," offered Northland coach Rick Nelson, "but if you're going to pick a time to get your first win, it couldn't have come at a better time than in a division game against your arch-rival."

Northland regrouped after the rocky start behind a big-time offensive show that netted 503 yards, including an eye-opening 317-yard performance by Kevin White. The 6-0, 185-pound freshman started the year as a defensive back, but he became the main man in the offensive backfield after the Pioneers' top two backs were felled by injuries – fullback Sylvester Davis, who suffered a broken leg in the season opener and halfback Kevin Massiah, who has struggled with a leg injury much of the season that finally kept him out of the line-up Saturday.

White responded with a 32-carry afternoon that included runs of 54, 59 and 51 yards. The 54 and 51-yard breakaways went for touchdowns. In the process, he shattered the previous school single-game rushing record – a 205-pound effort by Anthony Wilson vs. Fergus Falls in 1977.

But White had some help, too. The offensive line gave him room to break into the secondary, where he out-ran the UMC defenders; quarterback Reggie Drummond, himself hobbled by leg problems, ran the option-pitch to near-perfection; runningback Shawn Campbell carried 21 times for 126 yards; and wide receiver Dennis Carpenter turned the Pioneers' only pass completions into 38 and 27-yard touchdown plays.

"In a game like this, there are a lot of big plays," mentioned Nelson. "The kids really gutted it out. They showed a lot of class and a lot of heart coming back like that from 17-0."

There was nothing at the start of the game to indicate it would turn into a one-point shoot-out. UMC scored on its first three offensive possessions and got a touchdown out of its defense to dominate play early.

It started with a 6-play, 43-yard touchdown drive that resulted in a 15-yard Chad Simons touchdown pass to a wide-open Garrick Graham over the middle.

Moments later a Northland punt was blocked, and the ball was recovered in the end zone by Jason Selzer for a 14-0 lead with 6:45 elapsed.

UMC came back with a 9-play, 62-yard drive that reached the Northland 14 before Shane Koski came on to kick a 31-yard field goal.

But even though the field goal made it 17-0, Nelson felt that might have been a turning point of the game.

"That was a real key – when we held them to a field goal instead of giving up a third touchdown right there," Nelson said. "I had confidence in the kids. I knew if the defense could hold them we'd be okay."

Two plays later White kicked off his big day with the 54-yard touchdown run on an option to the left.

UMC still had the upper hand, though, when the Trojans' third offensive possession covered 62 yards in nine plays and produced a 3-yard touchdown run on a straight-ahead dive by fullback Paul Kezar, a Thief River Falls product. Koski's kick made it 24-6 with 12:26 left in the first half.

But the Northland defense then stopped the next five UMC possessions, and the Pioneers cut the difference to 24-12 by halftime when Drummond floated a pass to Carpenter, who was behind the Trojans' secondary on the right side, for a 38-yard touchdown with just 18 seconds left.

Northland then made it a full-scale comeback by scoring twice in the first 7:56 of the second half. The Pioneers covered 73 yards in just six plays to make it 24-19 on another Drummond/Carpenter hook-up along the sidelines – this one good for 27 yards. And they went ahead for the first time when linebacker Alvin Pratt recovered a fumble at the Northland 39 that was later converted into a touchdown run by Campbell, who turned a simple dive play into a 33-yard scoring jaunt through the middle of the UMC defense.

The Northland momentum was short-circuited when a defensive breakdown – the Pioneers had just ten men on the field – gave up a 42-yard Simons to Chad Priewe touchdown pass over the middle. Koski's kick put the Trojans on top 31-26 with 1:20 to go in the third quarter.

When Drummond was intercepted three plays later at the Northland 34, the Pioneers' comeback appeared ready to collapse, especially when a first down run netted tailback Preston Poole 14 yards to the Pioneers' 30. But the Northland defense dug in, and four plays later the Trojans gave up the ball on downs at the 25.

The defensive stand was followed by a 51-yard game-winning touchdown run by White, who took the option pitch to the left, then cut it back to the right when he got into the UMC secondary to make it 32-31 with 9:43 remaining.

UMC threatened to regain the lead by marching downfield to set up a first down at the Northland 23. The Trojans stalled at the 15, but Koski was set up with a field goal attempt from the 22. However, defensive back Dan Boushee blocked the kick, preserving the Northland lead with 3:51 showing on the clock.

Poole led UMC with 105 yards on 19 carries. Kezar netted 85 on 20 tries.

Simons was 8-for-21 passing for 152 yards, with Priewe catching four for 81 yards.

Breaking into the open, Northland Community College runningback Kevin White headed toward the end zone on a 54-yard first quarter touchdown run against the University of Minnesota-Crookston Saturday. The Trojans' Brian Wiener (57) and Dean Stulz (50) gave chase as the Pioneers' Jon Sigarud (9) looked on. White rushed for a school-record 317 yards as Northland won the Northwest Division game 32-31.

Otters hold off TRF swimmers

Underdog Thief River Falls challenged Fergus Falls Saturday before surrendering a 98-87 girls high school swim dual meet decision in the Franklin Middle School pool.

"We had them worried," smiled Thief River Falls coach Ryan Lokken, whose team led 70-69 following a pool-record 1:49.0 effort by Amy Adams, Theresa Giauque, Linnea Dimich and Lisa Ulrich in the 200 freestyle relay.

But Fergus Falls went 1-2 in both the 100 backstroke and 100 breaststroke to take an insurmountable 92-79 lead before the Prowlers closed it out with a win by Adams, Linnea Dimich, Ingrid Morken and Giauque in the 400 freestyle relay.

Thief River Falls also won the meet-opening 200 freestyle relay with Mandy Johnson, Jane Bentson, Sanna Torgerson and Ulrich, and picked up individuals wins from Adams in both the 200 freestyle and 100 butterfly, Giauque in the 100 freestyle and Ulrich in the 500 freestyle.

A dual today (Tuesday) against Detroit Lakes at 5 p.m. in the Franklin pool will close out Thief River Falls' 1991 home schedule. That will be the only outing of the MEA-shortened week for the Prowlers, who are 2-4 in dual meet competition.

Middle School

A busy schedule for the Franklin Middle School seventh and eighth grade volleyball teams included title-winning efforts for both teams Saturday at the Bemidji Invitational.

But Marshall County Central was a double winner during a Friday visit to Thief River Falls, beating the Franklin eighth graders 15-11, 14-16, 15-9 and stopping the Franklin seventh graders 15-11, 9-15, 15-12.

Saturday's round-robin tournament format at Bemidji included a 3-0 finish for the Franklin eighth graders and a 2-1 showing by the Franklin seventh graders – both first place performances.

The Amy Roche-coached eighth graders won their Bemidji title with wins over Grand Rapids 15-9, 15-4, Bemidji 15-12, 15-14 and Bagley 15-4, 15-11.

Michelle Erickson-coached seventh graders shared first place with Grand Rapids Saturday, but the tie-breaker – a Franklin win over Grand Rapids in head-to-head competition – gave the Prowlers the title.

The seventh graders beat Bagley 15-9, 15-8 in Round 1. Bemidji knocked off Franklin 15-13, 5-15, 15-9 in Round 2, but the Prowlers came from behind to beat Grand Rapids 11-15, 15-8, 15-11 in Round 3.

Franklin eighth graders also picked up a 15-0, 15-1, 15-6, 15-5 win at Crookston Monday.

The two Franklin teams were scheduled to host East Grand Forks today (Tuesday) at 4 p.m. They will be at Fertile-Beltrami Monday for another 4 p.m. outing.

Nordics win Warroad title

Marshall County Central claimed championship honors Saturday at the Warroad Invitational high school volleyball tournament.

The Nordics beat Littlefork-Big Falls 15-9, 17-15, Warroad Gold 15-5, 17-15 and Indus 15-5, 10-15, 15-12 in the round-robin pool play, then stopped Warroad Black 15-8, 1-15, 15-5 in the title match.

Warroad, whose Black team was the Warriors' varsity and the Gold team was the junior varsity, beat Marshall County Central 3-2 two days earlier in a regular season contest.

"We needed that," said Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson, whose injury-riddle squad was struggling through a 7-7 season before picking up the four tournament wins. "This should be a big boost for us at this time of the year. Our first two matches were kind of slow, but we had a real good match against Indus, and we were able to turn the tables on Warroad in the finals."

It was a solid team effort, said Jorgenson, who did hand out special recognition to Karen Ness for her efforts as setter in the absence of injured Jill Foshlom.

Marshall County Central was scheduled to visit Roseau tonight (Tuesday) in the Nordics' lone outing this week. They will be at Warren Monday.

Football JV beaten

Crookston beat Thief River Falls for the second time this season in junior varsity high school football Monday, this time by a 36-8 margin at Prowler Field.

It was 20-0 at halftime. Lone Thief River Falls touchdown was a 14-yard quarterback sneak by Jeff Twomey on the first play of the fourth quarter. Twomey also added the two-point conversion.

The loss dropped the Tracey Wensloff/Gary Laidley-coached Thief River Falls JV to 2-7 for the year.

Thief River Falls Amateur Hockey Association general membership meeting will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the basement meeting room of the city auditorium.

Middle River-Marshall County Central football...

Mistakes cost Rebels, 19-6

Middle River-Marshall County Central will complete its 1991 regular season high school football schedule Wednesday when the Rebels take on Hawley in a Valley Plains Conference game at Middle River.

The Rebels fell to 2-5 for the year Friday with a 19-6 loss at Fosston.

Four errant snaps on punting situations did in the Rebels. The first one cost them field position in the first quarter, while the next three all led to Fosston touchdowns.

"It was a nightmare," said Middle River-Marshall County Central coach Eldon Sparby. "We were as good a team as they were. Throw out those four plays and I think we would have won 6-0. It's the first time this year we really self-destructed."

The second punt snap sailed over the head of the kicker and was recovered in the end zone by Pat Slough as the Greyhounds took a 7-0 second quarter lead.

Final two poor snaps set up a pair of fourth quarter touchdown passes – a 7-yard Kevin Reitmeier toss to Brian Dunrud and a 15-yard halfback option throw from Slough to Dunrud near the end of the game after the Rebels had cut into a 13-0 lead.

Middle River-Marshall County Central got on the scoreboard when John Sparby and Tal Elseth hooked up on a 5-yard touchdown pass.

John Sparby was 7-for-20 in the air for 120 yards. The Rebels netted just 85 yards on the ground, 49 coming from David Blazek.

Scoring

MR-MCC - Tal Elseth, 5 yard pass from John Sparby, run failed

Fosston - Dunrud, 15 yard pass from Slough, kick blocked

Mustangs sweep match from Flyers

It wasn't easy, but Red Lake County Central still came out a 3-0 high school volleyball winner at Fisher Monday.

The Mustangs improved their record to 14-7 with a 15-9, 15-10, 15-9 sweep. They will wait until Tuesday to play again – at Clearbrook-Gonvick.

"We struggled a bit, but we played well enough to win," reported Red Lake County Central coach Brad Borene. "Our passing wasn't real sharp."

Jenny Walter had 21 kills and 30 last-touch points for the Mustangs, while Dawn Bachand was credited with 11 kills and 8 last-touch points.

A solid serving effort included a 21-for-21 showing by Jill Radniecki and a 12-for-12 performance by Bachand. Radniecki also contributed 5 kills and 13 last-touch points, while Cheryl Greenwald chipped in with 14 set assists.

Skating starts Thursday at Old Arena

Thursday will mark the first day of the 1991-92 skating season at the Thief River Falls arenas.

In conjunction with the MEA-week break for the school-age skaters, the Old Arena will be open beginning Thursday for open hockey, figure skating sessions, public skating and rentals.

Arena schedules will appear regularly in The Times and Northern Watch.

RLCC defense nets 8-6 win over Red Lake

A strong defensive effort, which included what proved to be a game-deciding safety, led Red Lake County Central to an 8-6 North Tri-County Conference nine-man high school football win over Red Lake Friday at Plummer.

The 3-4 Mustangs close out their 1991 regular season schedule tonight (Tuesday) with a 7 p.m. game against Win-E-Mac in Oklee. Red Lake County Central will then await the draw for the post-season Section 8C playoffs, where eight of the ten teams will be involved in the first round quarterfinals next week.

"Defensively, I thought we did an excellent job all night," said Red Lake County Central coach Gary Brandt, whose team had given up a bundle of points the two previous weeks in a 56-52 win over Clearbrook-Gonvick and a 36-22 loss to Norman County West. "We controlled the line of scrimmage and stopped their running game."

Offense wasn't a Red Lake County Central strong suit, either, with the Mustangs netting just 172 yards – 162 on 46 rushing attempts and 10 yards on 1-for-9 passing.

But individually the Mustangs had a bright spot in Eric Kolstoe, a 178-pound senior who carried the ball 25 times for 101 yards and scored the lone Red Lake County Central touchdown – a 3-yard run to cap a third quarter drive.

"Offensively we didn't run the ball as well as we had hoped to," acknowledged Brand.

The scoring started on defense when the Mustangs' Ryan Bjerklie tackled the Red Lake quarterback in the end zone for a second quarter safety.

Only other first half scoring came with just four seconds remaining when the Warriors' Gary Cobenais caught a 36-yard touchdown pass from Mack Kingbird.

Both sides had a tough time putting together a sustained drive during the game, but the Mustangs did march the ball downfield for Kolstoe's run for the win, and Red Lake County Central let the clock run out at the end while sitting just outside the Red Lake end zone.

A strong team effort on defense drew post-game recognition from Brand for a number of Mustangs, including Jamie Hruby, Adam Lundeen and Bernie DeHate, who were in on eight tackles apiece, Kolstoe with seven tackles; Brian Walter with five stops; Bjerklie with five tackles, a fumble recovery, plus the sack and safety; Darin Hofstad with five tackles, including two key stops during one-on-one situations that could have turned into big-yardage plays for the Warriors, and Jacob Melby with five tackles, a fumble recovery and an interception at the Red Lake County Central 3-yard line that was returned to the 30.

Brandt also cited the punting by Jay Malwitz, whose 35-yard average on six kicks kept Red Lake pinned back in their own territory much of the night.

Wolverines fall to Bears, Rams in 3-0 matches

A tough season for the struggling Grygla-Goodridge cooperative high school volleyball program continued with back-to-back 3-0 losses to Lake of the Woods Thursday and Roseau Monday.

The Wolverines lost a 15-2, 15-0, 15-5 match to Lake of the Woods at Grygla, and fell to the Rams 15-2, 15-3, 15-2 at Roseau.

Lake of the Woods turned in a sharp performance, noted Grygla-Goodridge coach Tim Mostrom, who said his team helped Roseau with a poor serving and serve reception.

Grygla-Goodridge, 1-14 for the year, will be idle until Wednesday, Oct. 23, when the Wolverines will play a 4 p.m. varsity-only match at Newfolden.

Middle River drops 3-1 contest against Lake of the Woods

Inconsistent volleyball cost Middle River Monday as the Skippers dropped a 3-1 North Border Conference match to Lake of the Woods.

The Bears won 15-2, 5-15, 15-1, 15-12.

"Our serving was pretty inconsistent," acknowledged Middle River coach Debbie Johnson, "and our bumps weren't that good, either – our setters had a hard time getting to the ball after the bumps."

The 2-11 Skippers will be idle until Monday when they visit Kittson County North.

Northland Community College runningback Shawn Campbell tried to make a cut before being brought down by the University of Minnesota-Crookston defense during the second half of Saturday's Northwest Division football game at Crookston.

Bemidji girls top Prowlers in swim dual

Bemidji out-pointed visiting Thief River Falls 108-80 Thursday in girls high school swimming.

The score was almost identical to a 106-80 Bemidji victory when the Lumberjacks visited Thief River Falls a month earlier.

Despite the setback, Thief River Falls matched Bemidji with six first place finishes, including double-event wins for junior Amy Adams (100 freestyle, 100 backstroke) and freshman Therese Giauque (200 I.M., 100 butterfly).

The Prowlers also won the 200 freestyle relay with Adams, senior Linnea Dimich, junior Ingrid Morken and sophomore Lisa Ulrich, along with the 400 freestyle relay featuring Adams, Morken, Dimich and Giauque.

Thief River Falls coach Ryan Lokken gave special recognition to the Prowlers' trio of varsity divers, who have all qualified for the Section 8 meet next month – seniors Gimse Wedul and Lisa Dicken, plus eighth grader Jennifer Olin.

DNR News

Records show that fewer than one in 100 hunters will bag a "trophy" buck in Minnesota this year during the firearms deer hunting season that opens Nov. 9. One party already has its trophy buck and five other deer, however, according to charges filed in Benton and Mille Lacs counties Oct. 7.

Five St. Cloud area adults have been charged with 26 counts ranging from illegal taking of game by artificial light to illegal possession of deer. Department of Natural Resources (DNR) conservation officers have seized three vehicles, three rifles, spotlights, a whole deer and parts of five others, including two 10-point bucks.

Charged Monday were Trent A. Anderson of Oak Park, Kevin L. Hirdler of Foley, Edward J. Lafore, Jr. of Waite Park, Chad N. Montog of Foley and Brian J. Pozorski of Foley. Additional charges are pending against six juveniles on up to 20 more counts.

The charges resulted from an investigation by DNR Conservation Officers Scott Fildes of Princeton, Dave Rodahl of St. Cloud and Dale Ebel of Monticello into reports of deer shining and poaching in the Gillman area of Benton County.

"This is one of the worst cases of poaching we have seen in this area," Fildes said. "Fortunately the behavior alleged in these charges is not typical, but every instance is an affront to honest hunters."

If found guilty, those charged face the loss of hunting privileges, loss of seized items, jail time and fines. They could also be required to pay restitution values of up to $500 per deer and $1,000 for the trophy buck under a new system that can require violators to pay established values for illegally taken animals.

DNR Enforcement Director Leo Haseman said the public can play a role in curbing poaching by contacting their local conservation officer or by calling the Turn in Poachers (TIP) hotline at 1-800-652-9093. "Citizens are partners with peace officers," Haseman said.

DNR issues reminder on duck season

With a split duck season and shooting hours returning to one-half hour before sunrise, Minnesota waterfowl hunters are reminded by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) to observe legal hunting hours and days this fall.

Of particular concern are waterfowl hunting hours, according to DNR Enforcement Director Leo Haseman.

Hunting hours for ducks and geese for the remainder of this fall are:

- Now through Oct. 18, one-half hour before sunrise to 4 p.m.
- Oct. 19 to close of season, one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Split duck hunting season this fall is:

- Oct. 5-13
- Oct. 17-Nov. 3
- Nov. 8-10

For complete information on waterfowl hunting hours and other regulations, Haseman advises hunters to consult the Minnesota 1990 Waterfowl Hunting Regulations, available where licenses are sold.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THE PROPOSED CASINO

Although Thief River Falls Jobs Incorporated subscribes to the combined legal opinion of the County and City Attorneys that a decision on the Proposed Casino should appropriately be made by our elected representatives and that neither the County Board or City Council should be involved in an advisory vote, we believe that, if you decide to participate in the advisory vote on October 19, you should be aware of the following potential beneficial impacts of this new business in our Community:

CREATION OF 481 TO 560 NEW JOBS!

$8.2 TO $8.6 MILLION OF NEW PAYROLL IN THE LOCAL ECONOMY!

200,000 SQUARE FEET OF COMMERCIAL CONSTRUCTION WITH A VALUE OF $12.2 MILLISON!

3 TO 4 NEW BUSINESSES AND EXPANSION OF 2 TO 3 EXISTING BUSINESSES PAYING $255,000 IN NEW REAL ESTATE TAXES!

RETAIL AND SERVICE SECTOR SALES OF $7 MILLION FROM VISITORS COMING FROM OUTSIDE OUR TRADE AREA!

$16.4 TO $17.2 MILLION OF NEW ACTIVITY IN THE LOCAL ECONOMY!

We hope that you will agree that this Community and our elected representatives, the County Board of Commissioners and the City Council, CAN NOT AFFORD TO TURN AWAY ANY BUSINESS WITH THESE POTENTIAL IMPACTS!

School District #441 Proceedings

Oct. 15, 1991
SCHOOL BOARD MINUTES
AUGUST 20, 1991

The Board of Education of Ind. School District No. 441 met in special session on August 8, 1991, in the high school library in Newfolden, MN. Members present: Doreen Amundson, Eldon Augustine, David Bakke, Mark Carlson, Donna Fosholm, Doyle Harstad, Supt. Gene Busch, Principals Ron Peggen and Jim Hodny. Absent: Roger Anderson. Visitors present: Jenny Maurstad, Ron and Linda Usland, George Liapis, Doug Haven, Ardalis Anderson, Melanie Nelson, Lova Hodny, Mary Anderson.

The agenda was presented with David Bakke presiding.

Minutes of the previous meeting of August 8, 1991 were read and duly carried by a motion by Donna Fosholm seconded by Eldon Augustine.

Motion by Doreen Amundson seconded by Donna Fosholm to pay current bills. Motion carried.

Supt. Busch reviewed the two major changes in school lunch program for the 1991-92 school year. He also gave a Center School report.

Ron Usland reviewed the MEEP (Minnesota Educational Effectiveness Program) Conference held at Grand Rapids, MN, August 12-16. Eleven staff members attended this conference.

Motion by Doyle Harstad seconded by Donna Fosholm to award the milk bid to Bridgemans of Thief River Falls which was the only bid. The bread bid was given to Metz Bakery with a bid of $.82 for bread. Other bid was from Holsum Bakery which was $.83. Motion carried.

DIRECTOR OF NURSING
LONG TERM CARE

Roseau Area Hospital District is a 45-bed acute care facility with 64 beds of Long Term Care. We currently have eight active physicians on staff with another one scheduled to arrive in August of 1992. We service 15,000 people in Northwestern Minnesota and Southern Canada, with 2,000 of these people being over the age of 65. We are seeking a Director of Nursing who wishes to accept the challenge of providing quality long term care services to our golden citizens.

A 44-bed replacement facility is scheduled to begin construction in the spring of 1992. This facility will have 40 single bedrooms with the balance in semi-private. This will be attached to a present 20-bed skilled care facility. This will create an opportunity to provide resident centered quality care.

We are seeking an individual who is an R.N. with two to five years of supervisory experience in a Long Term Care setting with increasing responsible track record. This person will be responsible for long term care nursing, activities and social services. We provide a very competitive salary and above average benefits.

Jobs Inc. prepares study

"William Hallett, economic development director for the Red Lake Band of Chippewa, has provided us with their preliminary employment and payroll estimates for the proposed casino in Thief River Falls. They estimate that they will require two 7 hour shifts with 175 to 200 people on each shift. The average hourly wage at their Warroad facility is $7.87 per hour and they project it would be similar in the proposed casino. The projects would result in an annual payroll of slightly over $8 million. To put this into perspective, the total payroll for the Northern Pride Inc. turkey processing plant in 1990 data from these counties was frustrated by the fact that the casinos have been open for such a short time. Northern Lights and Jackpot Junction were not opened until late in 1989, Mille Lacs in April of 1991. Therefore, the data is either inconclusive or is not available.

> There were a total of 1,562 individuals in the three counties seeking employment.

Employment:

"Unemployment, under-employment and the seasonal nature of many of the available jobs remains a pervasive problem in our trade area. The following information on unemployment was taken from the March 1991 "Minnesota Labor Market Review" published by the Research and Statistics Office of the Minnesota department of Jobs and Training: The 1990 average annual unemployment rate for Pennington county was 8.3 per cent, Red Lake county, 16.3 per cent, and Marshall county 13 per cent; The 1990 average annual number unemployed was 603 in Pennington county, 286 in Red Lake, and 683 in Marshall.

"Figures from the September 1991 "Review" for July, 1991, a month when our seasonal employers are in production indicate the following: unemployment — 6.7 per cent in Pennington county, 12.5 per cent in Red Lake, and 9.4 per cent in Marshall; number unemployed — 487 in Pennington, 228 in Red Lake and 531 in Marshall.

"Thus, during 1990, on the average, there were a total of 1,562 individuals in the three counties seeking employment and during July of this year, with seasonal employers nearing peak production, there were 1,246 persons looking for work was $2 million and Country Lake Foods (Bridgeman) was $3.1 million.

"Mr. Hallett also projects that at least 70 per cent of the employee hired would be local and area residents. The total payroll remaining in our immediate area, based on this percentage, would be $5.6 million. These figures and projects do not include any estimate for the tips earned by dealers and waitresses which we understand from outer such operations can be an additional $2,000 to $4,000 annually for each dealer and waitress.

> The total payroll remaining in our immediate area, based on this percentage, would be $5.6 million.

"Further, we believe it is reasonable to anticipate that, as a direct result of this increased employment and the demand for additional goods and services, existing businesses will expand employment. We are somewhat hesitant to interject the 'multiplier effect' at this point. People often refer to 6x or 7x "multiplier" or "rollover" of each dollar spent in the economy. In recent years, statisticians have disputed these numbers and indicate, depending on the locality and economic factors at play locally, the actual "multiplier" that can reasonably be applied is between 1.7 and 2.5. Conservatively, then, a payroll of $5.6 million would be worth approximately $10 million to the local economy.

> Conservatively, then, a payroll of $5.6 million would be worth approximately $10 million to the local economy.

Tourism Impacts:

"Historically, tourism has not been a major factor in the local economy. During the past few years, however, the immediate area has witnessed a substantial increase in tourist traffic, particularly from Manitoba, Canada. The extremely high occupancy rates of our local motels and the city-owned tourist park, even before the recent influx of pipeliners, are evidence of this. Local retail and service businesses have directly benefited from this increased traffic.

"Laws in Canada regarding gambling are apparently much more restrictive than in many of the States adjacent to the border. Many Canadians, as well as U.S. citizens, choose to gamble as a form of recreation. Communities south of the border such as Grand Forks and Fargo, ND, and Plentywood, MT, generate considerable Canadian traffic attracted to businesses offering gaming opportunities.

"What is the value of tourism and the additional visitors to a community" The U.S. Travel Data Center's "The 1987-87 Economic Review of Travel in America", March, 1987, is the source of the information which follows. The amounts are adjusted for the Regional Consumer Price Index through 1990.

Direct impact of 100 additional visitors a day on the average U.S. community — $1,524,000 in retail service industry sale to visitors, $299,000 in wages and salaries, 28 new travel industry jobs providing additional income for 26 households with 70 residents, $122,000 in state and local tax revenue, enough to support 31 school children, two more retail or service establishments, and a $147,000 increase in bank deposits.

"The Red Lake Band's preliminary calculations, based on information from other similar operations in the state, indicate that they would expect to average between 2,700 to 4,000 patrons per week. Over 50 per cent of these patrons would be visitors from outside the local trade area. A survey of visitors conducted by the University of Minnesota Extension Service in Redwood county indicates that 50 per cent of the patrons at Jackpot Junction will spend more than four hours in the community. There is no reason to believe that a similar pattern would not be the case at the proposed casino in Thief River Falls.

"If the average number of patrons projected to visit the proposed casino turned out to be 3,000 per week, then based on these numbers over 1,500 of them would be from outside the immediate area and

> If adequate accommodations were available, it is not unreasonable to project that 200 to 300 would stay overnight during each week.

1,500 visitors would spend more than 4 hours in the community. If adequate accommodations were available, it is not unreasonable to project that 200 to 300 would stay overnight during each week.

"An additional 1,500 visitors per week, over 200 per day on the average, represent an opportunity for Thief River Falls to increase our retail sales by at least $3 million and our service revenue by $4 million, strictly as a result of the additional visitors. This could help us attract four or more new retail and service businesses.

Potential "induced" tax base and employment impacts:

"The ability of a community and local businesses to provide full time employment at decent wage rates directly and beneficially impacts the local tax base. A strong, stable tax base provides the dollars to local units of government, the school district, county and city, to fund public services which local taxpayers expect ..., education, police and fire protection, garbage pickup and disposal, reliable utilities and other infrastructure, parks and recreation opportunities, etc.

"Pennington county's real estate market value has gone up only 0.09 per cent for the years 1988 through 1991. Information provided by the respective county assessors for the same period indicates that Cass County's market values have increased by 14.14 per cent, Mille Lacs by 10.4 per cent, and Redwood by 21.9 per cent. Indexed for inflation, real property values in Pennington county have declined.

"An expanding local economy and stable tax base benefit all local citizens. . .; the elderly person whose home may represent much of their personal wealth and who hopes that in the future there may be a potential buyer for that home; and, to families who want adequate employment and the best possible education for their children.

"In the past weeks, there have been many references made to new businesses that could result, in part, if the Red Lake Band were to open a casino in the community, i.e., 'induced' development. We therefore requested the accounting firm to make contacts with the motel and restaurant industry, large chain discount stores, and the county assessor to determine the economic impacts of the potential induced development that could result because of increased traffic in the community. Based on U.S. Travel Data Center impacts and Hallett's projections, the following businesses and expansions could become a reality in the next three years:

- A restaurant with 60 to 70 employees and a payroll of $700,000 to $800,000, paying $16,000 in real estate taxes and annual sales of $1.3 million
- 50 unit addition to an existing motel hiring 10 to 15 employees with a payroll of $100,000 to $150,000, paying $30,000 in real estate taxes and annual sales of about $1 million.
- 100 unit full service motel with 50 to 75 employees and a payroll of $500,000 to $600,000, paying $60,000 in real estate taxes and annual sales of $2 to $2.5 million.
- A discount store addition hiring 15 go 20 employees, with an approximate payroll of $150,000 to $200,000, real estate taxes of $47,000.
- A new discount store hiring 100 employees, with an approximate payroll of $1.1 million to $1.2 million paying $102,000 in real estate taxes.

As a result, there would be a total of about 235 to 280 employees, with an approximate payroll of $2.6 to $3 million, and real estate taxes of $255,000.

"We should also note that this induced development represents almost 200,000 square feet of construction. Time constraints have not allowed us to attach a dollar value to this, but it is obvious that it would be substantial.

Summary:

"To summarize the beneficial economic impacts based on the data presented above, we believe that the Red Lake Band of Chippewa's proposal to operate a casino in the former Red Owl building could directly and indirectly, through induced development, result in the following:

- Reduction of unemployment in our area by the creation of 481 to 560 jobs.
- Increase in local payroll of $8.2 to $8.6 million annually.
- Additional real estate taxes paid each year of $255,000.
- $7 million of increased retail and service sectors sales from visitors related to the casino.
- Added activity in the local economy of $16.4 to $17.2 million.

"We hope that the above information will be of assistance to you, our elected representatives, as you continue your deliberations on this important proposal."

Silverton plans harvest festival

Eighty-fifth anniversary and harvest festival for Silverton Lutheran church will be held Sunday, October 20, at 7:30 p.m. at the church with Rev. Floyd Dalzell, former pastor, as guest speaker.

Special music and historical notes will be presented and lunch served. A free-will offering will be received and congregational matching funds up to $450 are being applied for through Northwest Minnesota Lutheran Brotherhood Branch 8129.

Flu immunization

U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, Fargo, ND, will be offering a free flu immunization clinic for veterans in the outpatient lobby Friday, October 18, and Monday, October 21, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. No appointment is necessary. If you are 65 years or older and have a history of lung disease, heart disease, diabetes or any other serious medical condition, your VA physician strongly recommends you receive the flu shot. Other eligibility requirements must be met also. If you have questions you may call the VA at 701-232-3241, extension 3136.

Bemidji schools cited with lunch program award

Bemidji public schools, along with Audubon, Rosemount-Apple Valley-Eagan and Rushford-Peterson districts, has been recognized for having outstanding school lunch and breakfast programs by the Minnesota Department of Education.

The Minnesota Child Nutrition Programs of Excellence awards will be presented Wednesday, October 16, in ceremonies at the department of education offices in St. Paul as part of the National School Lunch Week observance in Minnesota.

Commissioner of Education Gene Mammenga, who will present the awards, pointed out the vital role of school food service programs in making sure children have a nutritious breakfast and lunch so they are ready to learn.

"Students who are well nourished can study better, play harder and are ill less often. It is important that we recognize those who make school lunch a quality product," he said.

Awards selection was made by a department committee based on voluntary district self-evaluations of their school food service programs. Onsite visits by the committee verified these self-evaluations. The measurable criteria used for evaluation included federal and state compliance; organizational, financial and personnel management, procurement; quality meal service, sanitation and safety; nutrition education, and communications with students and the community.

"The districts selected for the awards greatly exceeded program requirements," added Margaret Drey, director of child nutrition for the department. "They are to be commended for offering excellent school food service programs to their students."

Sept. students of the month

Ten students in sixth through eighth grades at Franklin middle school have been named students of the month for September. They include the following:

Grade 6 – Trevor Lee, son of Larry Lee, Jami Philipp, daughter of Roger Philipp, Nikolas Kotz, son of James Kotz, and Jamie Kalsnes, son of Kenneth Kalsnes.

Grade 7 – Nathan Ptacek, son of Dennis Ptacek, Charlie Follett, son of Glen Follett, Megan Browning, daughter of Diane Browning, and Jessica Pream, daughter of Lyndon Pream.

Grade 8—Matt Lawrence, son of Thomas Lawrence and Miranda Johnson, daughter of John Johnson.

Williamson is named

Dr. Daryl P. Williamson of Bloomington has been named a fellow of the American College of Radiology during ceremonies at the ACR annual meeting last week in Minneapolis.

Dr. Williamson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Williamson of Thief River Falls, a graduate of Lincoln high school, St. Olaf college and the University of Minnesota medical school prior to taking four years of training in radiology.

Selected for his outstanding contributions to the field of radiology, Dr. Williamson was named as one of 129 new fellows by the college's board of chancellors.

Fellowships are awarded to members for significant scientific or clinical research in the field of radiology, or significant contributions to its literature. Criteria for selection also includes performance of outstanding service as a teacher of radiology, service to organized medicine and an outstanding reputation among colleagues and the local community as a result of long-term superior service.

Annual Pumpkin Fest in TRF

Annual Pumpkin Fest in Thief River Falls gets underway this week. Beginning Thursday a number of events have been planned.

Main activities for the weekend include the Great Pumpkin contest, pumpkin bake sale, Little Miss Pumpkin and Peter Pumpkin contest, Miss Cinderella and Prince Charming contests and pumpkin decorating classes. A number of Thief River Falls stores will also be offering special sales for the three days of the festival.

Judging of the Great Pumpkin contest begins 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the city auditorium. The Little Miss Pumpkin and Peter Pumpkin contest for children ages 1-5 begins at 2 p.m. at the city auditorium. The Miss Cinderella and Prince Charming contest for children ages 6-10 follows. Anyone interested in competing in the contests should register by Wednesday with the Chamber of Commerce office.

Staff members of facilities for the handicapped provided assistance during the Special Olympics bowling tournament Thursday at Family Bowl in Thief River Falls. All persons interested in participating were provided with an opportunity to take part in the event.

Rodahls named farmer for '91

Rodahl Farms, Inc., owned and operated by David and Barbara Rodahl of rural Thief River Falls, has been named "Conservation Farmer of the Year" by the Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation district.

Rodahl Farms includes more than 2,000 acres in Agdar township of Marshall county and the surrounding area. Main crops include wheat, barley and some sunflowers as well as a commercial hay operation.

Main conservation practice is a good crop rotation system, according to Cheryl Sistad, secretary/manager for the SWCD. Five erosion control structures have been installed, two with cost-share assistance through the Marshall-Beltrami SWCD. A farmstead windbreak was initiated in 1974 and additional tree rows planted in 1981.

David and Barbara have been farming for 18 years. During that time land has been cleared and more than four miles of field drainage installed and now maintained. A new house has been built on the farm and additional grain storage bins constructed.

The Rodahls have two children, Amanda 13 and Michael 10. They are active in Gideons International, Our Saviour's Lutheran church and Our Saviour's Christian Academy in Thief River Falls.

David was selected as Pennington County King Agassiz in 1987, the same year he and Barbara received the Valley Farmer and Homemaker award for Marshall county. They both enjoy outdoor activities, including caring for their neat, well-kept farmstead.

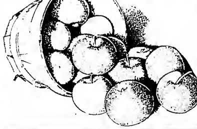
"Applemania" tops for fall desserts



Apple desserts of all kinds tempted judges at the Applemania bake off in Thief River Falls last week.

Senior Dining is in its 19th year of offering older adults hot, nutritious meals. In Minnesota alone, over 450 locations serve about 3.7 million meals to over 90,000 seniors per year. Senior Dining Week, October 28 through November 1, celebrates the volunteers, the guests and the supporters of the program.

In conjunction with Senior Dining Week, the Minnesota Project Directors Association, US West Communications and the Minnesota Apple Growers Association sponsored a search for the best apple dessert in Minnesota. Recently senior diners have competed by entering apple pies, cakes, cobblers, bars and other creative recipes at the Northwest Regional Development Center Area Agency on Aging. First place went to Joanne Dahlin of Ada with her apple cream tart. Second place went to Eleanor Holmgren of Warroad with her apple pudding. Third place went to JoAnne Rude of Shelly.

Joanne Dahlen will be advancing to Region 1 competition in Thief River Falls on October 9. The regional winner will travel to St. Paul on October 30 to participate in statewide competition at the State Capitol. Entrants and guests are invited to visit the Capitol and enjoy a tasty apple dessert and refreshments. Festivities start at 2 p.m.

Senior Dining is administered in Region 1 of Minnesota by Lutheran Social Service of Minnesota under a grant from the Northwest Regional Development Commission Area Agency on Aging and is funded in part by the Older Americans Act and the State of Minnesota.

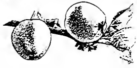
The second place recipe of Eleanor Holmgren for Apple Pudding is as follows: Cream 1/2 cup margarine, 2 cups white sugar. Add 2 eggs — beat well. Sift together and add to above 2 cups of flour, 1 tsp nutmeg, 1 tsp salt, 2 tsp cinnamon. Fold in 4 cups sliced apples and nuts. Bake at 350. Cool. Serve square with scoop of ice cream and warmed butterscotch ice cream topping or make a hot sauce. Hot sauce: 1/2 cup margarine, 1 cup white sugar, 1 cup brown sugar, and 1 cup sweet cream. Cook until just blended.

Third place Apple Delight recipe from JoAnne Rude of Shelly is as follows: Ingredients include: 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 2 cups sugar, 2 eggs well beaten, 2 cups flour, 2 tsp soda, 1/2 tsp salt, 1/2 tsp cinnamon, 1/2 tsp nutmeg, 4-5 apples peeled and chopped fine. Directions: Cream butter and sugar well. Add remaining ingredients. Beat well. Dough is thick until apples are added. Bake at 350 for 30 minutes in a jelly roll pan. Serve with caramel sauce. Caramel sauce: 1 cup butter, 1 cup thick cream, 2 cups brown sugar, 2 tsp vanilla. Cook in double boiler until thick and syrupy. Serve Apple Delight with warm sauce over whipped cream or ice cream.

Apple Cream Tart

Crust: 1 1/2 cups flour
3 tbs sugar
1/4 tsp salt
6 tbsp butter or margarine
Filling: 4 or 5 peeled, sliced apples
1/2 to 3/4 cup sugar
1 tsp cinnamon
1/4 tsp nutmeg
Topping: 2 egg yolks
1 cup heavy cream

Combine flour, sugar, salt and butter until mixture is like cornmeal. Press into the bottom and up the sides of a 9 inch spring form pan. Fill the curst with apples and mix together the sugar and spices and sprinkle over the apples. Bake in a 400 degree oven for 15 minutes. Combine the egg yolks and cream and pour over the apples. Bake 30 minutes more or until apples are tender. Cool on rack. Serves 10.



Judging an apple bake-off called Applemania is no easy task but someone had to do it — and there were plenty of volunteers. The bake off was held last week at Northwest Regional Development Center Area Agency on Aging. There were 17 entries from seven counties of Region 1. The overall winner was Joanne Dahlin of Ada with her recipe for Apple Cream Tart.

Smoke detectors help prevent home tragedies

Recent mobile home fire in Chaska that took the life of a six-month old baby hears out a sad fact—in Minnesota, children are the largest age group represented in fire deaths. Coming to grips with this isn't easy, particularly when working smoke detectors could have prevented many of these tragedies.

There have been 48 deaths due to fire so far in 1991; 12 were children under the age of 19. In all of 1990, there were only 39 fire deaths. In these 87 deaths over the last 18 months, mobile homes took a particularly harsh toll. Nine deaths were in mobile homes, seven of those were children under the age of 19 and this year alone, five were to children under the age of 13. These fire deaths may have been preventable because six mobile homes had no smoke detectors and three had smoke detectors but no batteries.

This year there is a dramatic increase in the number of youngsters who became fatalities from playing with fire, seven fire deaths already in 1991. In the prior three years combined, only five children died in fires caused by their play with matches or lighters.

These statistics all have a common thread: in Minnesota, 76 per cent of all fire deaths occur in living environments, the majority of which have no smoke detectors or no batteries working in an existing detector. And the figures may get scarier and more personal yet because the Minnesota Department of Public Safety's State Fire Marshal's Division says that one in five people will have a fire and need to call their local fire department at some time in their lives.

This is the time of year when fires in the home increase, due to the start of the heating season. This week is Fire Prevention Week, October 6-12, and all fire officials in Minnesota would like people to take a personal look at their own fire emergency situation.

There are things that can be done to help survive fires that may occur in your home:

- Install a smoke detector on every level of the house;
- Place the smoke detector outside of sleeping areas.
- Interconnect the detectors if possible.
- Create and practice an escape plan before a fire occurs.

Smoke detectors have been required to be placed in all new homes and rental property since 1980, however, there are no such requirements for existing family homes. It is up to parents or another adult to be responsible for children and to realize that fire deaths can be prevented by installing smoke detectors in existing homes.

FAITH REMINDS US OF OUR DUTY TO BECOME GOOD CITIZENS

We all live in or near a community of some kind, be it a metropolitan area or a small village that just barely made it on the maps, and even if we only work or shop there, we should take an interest in it. Every municipality has its governing body made up of men and women whose job is to improve the local quality of life. However, every town also has its problems, and we can help those officials solve them by attending city council or town hall meetings and speaking up about the issues that concern us. At your House of Worship you will always receive the courage to do the right thing, and if that includes alerting your elected officials to specific problems, you will thereby improve not only your own life, but also the lives of all the other residents of the area.

The first step in solving a problem is to tell someone about it.

6:30 p.m., fire departments in Minnesota are sponsoring a statewide fire drill to urge people to practice what they and their families will do in case of fire in their homes. Your local fire department can help you plan your escape routes and give you material that can help you and your children work together and be prepared to survive a fire.

While the loss of life is certainly the primary and most overwhelming consequence, the financial loss is staggering as well. The State Fire Marshal's Division estimates that in Minnesota alone in 1990, 92 million dollars were lost due to fires and in 1989, the numbers were worse, 143 million dollars of property burned.

All of these cost pale to the horror of lost lives, so during this upcoming Fire Prevention Week take the time to install smoke detectors and make certain they are working properly. While fires may not always be preventable, you and your children almost always can be saved if you have a working detection system and have planned your escape routes.

Golden K and Kiwanis clubs hold installation

Installation banquet for new officers of the Thief River Falls Kiwanis club and Golden K club was held recently at the Best Western Inn with both clubs well represented at the event. Officers of the Lincoln high school Key club were also in attendance.

Projects completed during the year were reviewed by the presidents completing their terms.

President Howard Seim of the Kiwanis club reported that as well continuing sponsorship of the Key club, Scout Exposition, bike rodeo, Lincoln high school scholarships and other ongoing projects, two new projects had been added during the year. Last spring members volunteered their time to repair, paint and set up Safety Town to be used in training two to five-year-olds in the Early Childhood Family Education program in street safety techniques. The club also adopted two miles of highway 32 south for clean-up under the state's Adopt-a-Highway program.

Golden K president Ray Bren said his club was continuing is project to provide transportation for people who need to Grand Forks or Fargo clinics or hospitals but have no other way to get there. The Golden K also joined in the Adopt-a-Highway program.

New presidents for 1991-92 are Don Jorstad for the Kiwanis club and Jim Solsten for the Golden K club. Kiwanis club member Hal Waale was presented with a perfect attendance award by secretary-treasurer Dave Odette.

Kiwanis International offers six different types of clubs: Builders club, Key club and Circle K club are for students in junior high school through college age. Kiwanis, Golden K and Kiwanianne clubs are for adults. The service clubs are located in more than 80 countries and provide thousands of hours of volunteer service work for their communities.

If You Are A Dissatisfied Buyer, Complain

In spite of efforts made by industry to work toward quality control and produce good products, it is estimated that buyers are dissatisfied with 75 million purchases every year in the United States. Almost everyone has had at least one disappointment with a fairly major purchase.

"There is no reason to settle for the aggravation and unhappiness that result from a faulty product or a service that does not meet your expectations," reminds the Minnesota Attorney General's office.

The reminder is issued in advance of National Consumers Week October 20-26. It is a good idea for all consumers to be aware of what remedies are available when a product or service results in disappointment. A individual can be his or her own best advocate in such matters.

"It is your right to complain whenever you feel misled, pressured or exploited" the Attorney General's office states. "If you aren't happy with the quality of a product, the length of delivery time or the condition in which your purchase arrives, you owe it to yourself to complain. If you think the terms and conditions of your contract or warranty have not been met, complain!"

When the AG's office recommends complaint, however, it doesn't mean complaint to your spouse, your neighbor or the guys or gals at the office. Legitimate complaint must be properly directed to achieve satisfactory results. The Attorney General's office suggests the following three points as very important to a successful complaint.

(1) Clearly identify the problem with the product or service. The better your understand the problem, the easier it will be for you to explain it to others.

(2) Decide exactly what you think the merchant or company should do to correct the problem. For example, would you like a refund or do you think the product should be replaced or repaired? Try to be as realistic and objective as possible when you are deciding what should be done to correct the problem.

(3) Collect all relevant evidence you can find. Ideally this will include canceled checks, bills, sales receipts and warranties or contracts. If you still have the product and its packaging, save these too. Keep any advertising or the catalog from which you ordered the product. Write down the details of verbal agreements or promises made at the time of the purchase (and next time get these promises in writing).

"Remember," the AG's office suggests, "the clearer you are about the problem and how it should be fixed, the easier it will be for others to respond to your complaint."

The office also recommends deciding on a course of action. Start with the salesperson who sold the product. In a small company, talk to the owner. If the company is large, it will most likely have a public relations office or a consumer service department and these people are trained to deal with consumer complaints. If this is ineffective, contact the manufacturer.

It generally is best to put the complaint in writing so that you have a record of what you have done. But if you decide to pursue your complaint in person or by telephone, write down all the important information from each conversation or meeting. Always explain the problem clearly and without hesitation and be firm but courteous.

Carefully consider any offer to settle your complaint. If your demands are not fully met, you may want to propose a fair partial settlement. Sometimes a compromise solution is better than no solution at all.

If you are unable to solve your problem alone, file a written complaint with the Attorney General's Consumer Services Division. The mediator who handles your case will contact the business for you and try to work out a solution to the problem.

While many times this is sufficient to begin constructive dialogue between consumer and company, problems are not always resolved to the customer's satisfaction. Indeed, if all these efforts do not lead to a satisfactory resolution of your problem, you may wish to file your complaint in conciliation court. You do not need an attorney and you can request the complaint papers and get general information from the court administrator. Maximum claim that can currently be sought through conciliation court is $4,000.

Responsible businesses welcome legitimate and open complaints about their products and are very willing to satisfy the complainant in a fair and equitable manner. Complaint makes them aware of problems they may not have known exist and gives them an opportunity to demonstrate their concern for their customers. They would much rather achieve customer satisfaction than have a dissatisfied customer complain to other customers and potential customers about their product or service.

The Attorney General's office has brochures available called "Constructive Complaining" and "Conciliation Court" that could be of assistance to those who have a complaint. They may be obtained by writing to Attorney General's Consumer Services Unit, Ford Building, Room 124, 117 University Avenue, St. Paul, MN 55155.

Letters To The Editor and Corrections

Letters To The Editor: The Times encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in The Times exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

This is a letter about a fallacy, a fallacy that Thief River Falls is turning financially bankrupt. I hear a lot of talk around town that "all the businesses are going under." This is wrong; untrue.

It's true that a few businesses have closed their doors; some of them longstanding in Thief River Falls. It's always a little upsetting to see a business close. But has anyone stopped to look at all the business (and activity) going on in Thief River Falls? If not, I have compiled a short list of a few businesses that have either opened, re-opened or opened under new ownership and/or name:

Budget Electronics, Kezar Music, Danny's Pizza, Pizza Mill, Subway, UBC Building Center, Universal Screen Printing, Ken's Hartz Foods, The Jewel Box, Northern Lights Bookstore, The Bullpen, Amoco 24, Nyflot Car Wash, The C'mon Inn, Styles by Amy, Hugo's, Super 8 Motel, Anderson Bros. Auto Sales, Speedy Delivery, Price World, Fashion Mart, Jacklyn's and The Main Line.

Businesses that have been running for three to seven years include Lon's Hallmark, Domino's Pizza, T-59 Video, Video Vault, Marty's Gym, Variety Sales, Hartwood Motel and Mane Attraction. There are undoubtedly others that don't come to mind, plus our many long-standing businesses.

Thief River Falls can boast that it has four large employing industries: Arctco, Digi-Key, Hydra-Mac and Bridgemon's. All four have done exceedingly well in the past two or three years.

Furthermore, Thief River Falls will soon have an 18-hole golf course; there are nine fast food restaurants in Thief River Falls, seven hotel and motels, Kmart and Pamido, a proposed casino, an active sports curriculum at Lincoln high school and Northland Community college, constant activity in the NCC theatre and and ever growing interest in community theatre.

In this writer's opinion, Thief River Falls' only business and activity problem is convincing people there is no problem.

Sincerely,
Rob Burkel

Bike Ordinance To Be Enforced

"Receiving an increasing number of complaints as to reckless operation of bicycles by local children, L. W. Knadle, acting chief of police, announced today that the city ordinance governing the operation and licensing of bicycles will henceforth by strictly enforced in an effort to avert serious accidents. All bicycles must carry licenses, obtainable at Mr. W. K. Knight's office on payment of a 25-cent fee."

Former Air-Raid Warden To Speak

"'My Experience in Europe' is the timely subject of Rev. Janis Laupmanis at a lecture to be given at the Community church on Wednesday evening, October 22, at 8 o'clock. No admission charge will be made but a free-will offering will be taken.

"Rev. Laupmanis is a native of Latvia, and is an ex-Communist. His family was banished to Siberia and he was imprisoned in Russia. Escaping from the prison, he made his way to England where he has served as an air-raid warden. He has only been in the United States seven months."

ST. HILAIRE SPECTATOR

St. Hilaire, Polk County, Minnesota October 21, 1891

From Newspaper Files Of One Hundred Years Ago

Railroad Business

"We learn that the citizens of Red Lake Falls are considerably excited over the fact that the branch of the Great Northern from here will not run through their town. They telegraphed President Hill last week asking if he would receive a delegation of citizens, and he replied that it would do them no good to come down as the road would not be built through the town. Meanwhile all work has been stopped and they will try to get the road as far as the river this fall. The country is in very bad shape and unless we have several weeks of good weather the work cannot be finished this year. A prominent official informs us that the property owners of Red Lake Falls wanted $27,000 for the right of way through the town. It is certain that the greediness of the property owners has been a great detriment to the town. It is estimated that it would cost in the neighborhood of $150,000 to run the road through the town, and it is now more than probable that they will seek an easier place to cross."

Correction

"The SPECTATOR announced last week that an oyster supper would be served at the M.E. church social Friday evening and when the time came, Rev. Chapman announced that the editor must have been dreaming when such an announcement was made, as it was not the intention to provide oysters. We must have been misinformed but as the church was filled full and the steps and sidewalk crowded, it conclusively proves that the people here like oysters and that the SPECTATOR is an excellent advertising medium. Rates made known upon application."

YOUR VOTE WILL BE HEARD

The American way of solving major conflicts of public interest is to conduct a public vote. The vote of the people on a controversial issue is a generally accepted principle that settles that issue.

Our local government officials by law may not conduct a referendum on a question outside their authority. As a result, the Citizens Advisory Vote Committee has been formed as a volunteer effort to conduct an advisory vote on the proposed gambling casino. The purpose of the committee is to organize as open and impartial a vote of the people as possible. The policies of the committee and procedures followed to this end have been open to all and well-publicized. The committee is encouraging every registered voter in Pennington County to get out and vote.

The advisory vote that will be cast by residents of Pennington County on the proposed gambling casino, Saturday, October 19, 1991, regardless of the outcome, will be presented to the County Commissioners, to the City Council, to the office of Governor Carlson and to the news media by the Citizens Advisory Vote Committee, along with documentation verifying the openness of this election to all registered voters in Pennington County and the method in which it was conducted.

Why submit advisory vote results to the office of the Governor?

The Governor's office, along with the Attorney General makes the final decision on whether or not there will be a gambling casino in Thief River Falls. The Governor's office is already aware that a vote will be conducted on October 19 and is interested in its results.

How many compacts for reservation gambling has the Governor's Office approved in Minnesota to date?

According to the MN Bureau of Indian Affairs, 11 compacts, one for each Indian tribe, have been approved, more than in any other state. These include a $10 million casino under construction 60 miles to the south and another smaller casino in operation 80 miles to the northeast.

What is the present position of Governor Carlson on gambling in Minnesota?

Statements made by the Governor on Saturday, Sept. 28, 1991, were reported in the Sept. 29, 1991, Star and Tribune as follows:

"Gov. Arne Carlson promised Saturday to oppose any expansion of gambling next year because, in his opinion, gambling in Minnesota already is pervasive and ripe for a criminal scandal. The Governor also indicated that the state 'better start putting some things on the ballot that possibly would repeal some of the things that we've already done. I think most people deeply regret the pervasiveness...of gambling. The whole responsibility (for) gambling is so frightfully fragmented now it...is ripe for scandal,' Carlson said.

"Attorney General Hubert Humphrey...has also expressed concerns that gambling, from the lottery to wagering on Indian reservations, is growing so fast that law enforcement officials and regulators will be unable to properly monitor the industry. Humphrey recently called for a moratorium on new forms of wagering. Carlson, however, said he is talking about "an absolute halt.'"

Of What Value Is An Advisory Vote?

It stands evident in a nation of government of the people, that the results of a large voter turnout, whether for or against the proposed casino, could significantly influence the County Commissioners and the City Council, as well as the Governor himself.

THE DOORS WILL BE OPEN SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1991 FROM 8 A.M. TO 7 P.M. AT THE COMMUNITY CENTERS IN THIEF RIVER FALLS, GOODRIDGE AND ST. HILAIRE

YOUR VOTE WILL BE HEARD

Voters against casino in TRF

Are the results a victory for everyone?

by David Hill
Associate Editor

More than 1,200 people turned out to vote at the advisory vote on the casino Saturday in Thief River Falls.

David Grothe, member of the Citizens Advisory Vote Committee, said he was personally pleased with the turnout. "It had four things going against it," Grothe said. "First, it was a single issue; second, there were only three polling sites; third, it is a non-binding vote, and fourth, there was a advertising campaign encouraging people not to vote."

In spite of what it had going against it, 1,208 votes were cast on Saturday. Eighty-four per cent, 1,017, were opposed to a casino in Thief River Falls. Sixteen per cent or 191 were in favor of a casino in Thief River Falls.

Ron Nelson, a member of the Citizen Committee for a Better Tomorrow, which encouraged voters not to vote and discriminate, was also optimistic about the results of the vote. Nelson said based on the number of voters who did not vote, a majority of people are in favor of "tourism."

Saturday, in a non-binding vote, the issue of a casino in Thief River Falls was defeated in every township and ward. The closest results were recorded in Highlanding township, which recorded 14 votes in favor and 19 votes opposed. The lowest turnout was in Black River and Bray townships where only four voters voted. The highest turnout occurred in Rocksbury township which recorded 106 votes. In the city, the highest turnout occurred in the fifth ward where 162 votes were cast. The lowest turnout occurred in the first ward where 112 votes were cast.

(In November of 1990 during a county election, 5,132 voters cast their ballots. During the election of 1988, which coincided with a national election, there were 6,260 votes cast.)

Grothe is scheduled to present the results of the vote to the city council and county commissioners on Tuesday (today). Asked what he would do if the council or county approved the compact with the Red Lake Band of Chippewa for the casino, Grothe said he isn't sure what his next step would be. He said he has adopted a wait and see attitude. Final approval has to come from the Governor, he said, and they are interested in the results of the vote.

Grothe said it was hard to say whether the advertising campaign encouraging people not to vote had an affect on the turnout. Grothe said they were anticipating that about 1,500 people would turn out for the vote before the advertising campaign began. Obviously, several people ignored the advice.

The Citizens Committee for a Better Tomorrow took out several advertisements in the media encourging people not to vote and not to discriminate.

Grothe said he still considered the turnout and results a victory for those against the casino.

Learning what it takes to prepare a vote was a learning experience, Grothe said. It was also a learning experience for the 40 or so volunteers at the polling places. Three polling places were set up, signs painted directing people, voting booths constructed, voting lists obtained, and rules established. Overcoming those obstacles may have been a struggle, but a high point for Grothe was getting over 1,000 people to vote.

Dr. David Brown of Goodridge makes an acceptance speech following the dedication of a gazebo to the city of Goodridge Saturday. The gazebo was constructed by Lynn Hanson, Edgar Miller, LeRoy Johnson, George Pittman and Scott Currie. It was donated by the Goodridge Area Bicentennial Committee, the Goodridge Area Development Association and Lutheran Brotherhood. The event signified the culmination and dissolution of the Goodridge Area Bicentennial Committee. The community was among a small number of cities in the state named as a Bicentennial community. It was a four year proposition marked by many celebrations and projects. The dedication took place during the Town and Country Festival.

Goodridge dedicates gazebo

The Goodridge Bicentennial Committee dissolved in September, but its final act included a donation for a Gazebo in Tvedt park in Goodridge.

In 1986 the community was notified after its application that it was designated as one of the few communities in the state as a Bicentennial of the Constitution Community. One of the requirements of the application was that the committee conduct four years of events and complete some projects. (It took four years to complete the constitution) During the four years, the Goodridge Bicentennial Committee, held a quilting contest, a Fourth of July celebration, plays on the constitution, a fashion show, distributed pocket sized editions of the Constitution to students, wrote a Bicentennial Cookbook which contains recipes from First ladies, and conducted a number of educational promotions.

On September 9, the committee dissolved and turned the balance of its funds over to the Goodridge Area Historical Society. One of its final projects was the Gazebo in Tvedt park. Dedication of the Gazebo was held Saturday.

The gazebo was constructed during the summer by Lynn Hanson, Edgar Miller, LeRoy Johnson, George Pittman and Scott Currie. Funds for the construction were donated by the Goodridge Bicentennial of the Constitution Committee, the Goodridge Area Development Commission, and Lutheran Brotherhood.

Norma Hanson, a member of the Bicentennial committee, explained the progress of the committee Saturday. Hanson also explained that the committee had received a letter asking them to compile a list of the activities and events for the archives. Dr. David Brown accepted a plaque for the gazebo during the dedication.

Members of the Bicentennial of the Constitution Committee in Goodridge included the following: Marcella Hanson, Rodney Wayne, Dawn Hanson, secretary treasurer, Carolyn Pittman, Avis Marquis, Jesse Anderson, Jodi and Paul Mutnansky, Tim Prestebak, Dr. David Brown and Norma Hanson.

Schwinn family has experience in Africa living

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

Raising chickens in Zambia was rather difficult for Karl and Katie Schwinn. One night a wildcat killed their rooster right next to the house and another day the gardener killed a cobra that was looking for a chicken dinner.

Although Katie (the daughter of Dr. Leo and Claudine Herber of Thief River Falls) says she never saw any snakes around the yard, her sons Konrad, 13 and Kristopher, 9, said they had seen several snakes in the area. Their first pet in Africa was a baby dik dik (antelope) which a worker on their construction project brought to them.

Katie attended the Seventh-day Adventist elementary school in Thief River Falls, then attended Maplewood Academy where she graduated in 1972. She received her Registered Nurse degree from Southern College in Chattanooga, TN, in 1974 and worked part of a year at Northwestern Hospital (now Northwest Medical Center) in Thief River Falls before working in Michigan.

It was while she was working in Michigan in 1975 that she met and married Karl Schwinn, who at that time was a business administration management major at Andrews University in Michigan. In addition to attending college, Schwinn was operating a construction company out of his dormitory room since he already held a Class A contractor's license. And he didn't have a lot of time for courting or much interest in dates that didn't meet his expectations of a wife.

"From as far back as I can remember I wanted to be a flying missionary," Schwinn said. "I had decided any girl I would consider marrying had to be a nurse or teach-

TRF assessment hearing held Tues.

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Total assessments to be recovered from the 1991 street and sidewalk improvement project have been estimated at $375,088.76. Tuesday night, Ron Lindberg of the city engineering and technical services department, presented the proposed assessments at the assessment hearing.

The 1991 street and sidewalk improvement project cost $762,000, including the frontage road add on. The figure, however, does not include the $40,2000 cost for the right-of-way relative to North Atlantic avenue.

The project included bituminous street resurfacing on Riverdale drive, First and Second street west of Brooks avenue, Calumet avenue, Barzen avenue, the Frontage road adjacent to Lorens Auto Sales, Country Side trailer court cul-de-sacs, Cottonwood avenue, St. Paul, Markley, Kendall and Tindolph avenues from First to Taft street. Some of the streets also had minor or major curb and gutter replacement along with edge milling and bituminous repairs. The benefit rates were $5 per front foot for the bituminous resurfacing and $5.40 per front foot for major curb replacement. The $5.40 per front foot rate represents 50 per cent of the actual per foot project cost. There were also some driveway aprons replaced between the curb and sidewalk. The benefit rate was established at $29 per square yard.

Eight blocks of alley paving in the downtown business district was also improved. The entire cost of the project was assessed to property owners.

Merriam avenue from First street to Third street was completely reconstructed. The assessment rate was set at $20 per foot.

Construction of Atlantic avenue from 11th street to 13th street was accomplished using city street department crews for excavation

TRF Utility rate increases loom

Residents of Thief River Falls should expect increases in their utilities bill next year. At a meeting of the Thief River Falls city council Tuesday the council learned during a review of department budgets that as many as four utilities may need rate increases during 1992.

Although no specific rate increases were discussed, there is a distinct possibility that rate increases will be requested by the waste water department, electric utilities department, water department and the sanitation department. A profit and loss summary of those department funds indicated that if a rate increase is not approved they will finish the year with a deficit.

Predictions of rate increases are merely observations at this time. Any rate increase must first meet with the approval of department committees and receive final approval of the city council.

If budget projections are correct, however, the sanitation utility fund will finish 1992 with a deficit of $22,686. Currently, the sanitation collection fee is $10. If the rate is increased to $11 per month, it

Vivian Brekke gets Rehab. Quality of Life volunteer award

The Rehabilitation Quality of Life award was given to Vivian Brekke of Thief River Falls recently by the Pennington county unit of the American Cancer society. The award recognizes volunteer achievement at the unit level for rehabilitation of cancer patients in at least one of the following areas: Reach to Recovery, CanSurmount, I CAN COPE, Laryngectomy, Ostomy, Childhood cancer, self help and support groups.

Brekke has been a Pennington unit Reach to Recovery volunteer for 15 years. During that time she has provided vital information and much needed support to countless women, women who are in crisis and who need help desperately. Perhaps the best description of her work comes from a letter written by the chairman of the department of surgery at Northwest Medical center in Thief River Falls.

He says: "Vivian Brekke has been an important part of our breast surgery recovery team for many years. Mrs. Brekke has been very faithful at responding to each call and working very closely with the medical team in integrating the Reach to Recovery program into the total medical care of the patient. Her personal experiences have made her exceptionally sensitive and credible to each patient. The information she has given them gives them a comfort level which helps them to recover more quickly and regain self-assurance necessary to continue their normal productive lives."

Olai Langies to have golden anniversary

An open house will be held Saturday, November 2 from 2 to 5 p.m. to honor Olai and Esther Langie on their 50th wedding anniversary. The event will take place at the Ebenezer Lutheran church, rural Oklee and will be hosted by the couple's children. All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Gladys Stallmo to have 90th birthday

An open house celebration will be held Sunday, October 27 from 1 to 4 p.m. to honor Gladys D. Stallmo on her 90th birthday. The event will take place at the Skylite apartments community room in Thief River Falls. The event will be hosted by her daughters, Merna Hill and Blanche Barrett. All friends and relatives are invited to attend. No gifts, please.

THANK YOU

We wish to extend our most sincere thank you to all who called, comforted, brought food, cards, and memorial money to honor our son and brother. Many thanks to all our friends and relatives who provided us with comfort and consolation. Thank you to Pastor Raymond for his prayerful support and wonderful message. Also thanks to Rev. Larson for his comforting words. The music by Van Swanson and Ida Nordvall was beautiful and greatly appreciated. Also thank you to the women of the church who served lunch. This has been a very difficult and trying time for us. God Bless All Of You.

THE TIMES' WEDDING POLICY

The Times policy on wedding write ups is as follows:

◆ If the wedding took place within one month from date of receipt at The Times office, a detailed write up will be published from information provided, along with a picture if submitted.

◆ If the wedding took place from one to three months before receipt at The Times office, there will be brief write up, including names of participants but no description of decor, gowns, flowers, etc.

◆ For a wedding that took place from three to six months before submission to The Times, we will run a brief social announcement or a picture with a short caption stating names of the bride and groom, names and addresses of parents, date and place of the wedding, and where the couple is residing.

◆ There will be no publication of weddings after six months have elapsed.

◆ Every effort will be made to publish the wedding write-up within two issues of receipt.

◆ Forms are available free of charge at The Times office to help in organizing information about the wedding for publication. Nearly all information can be filled in on the forms prior to the wedding. To request forms by mail send a self addressed stamped envelope to The Times, P.O. Box 100, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

◆ Photographs may be picked up at The Times office after the wedding write up has been published. Photographs will only be returned by mail if accompanied by a self addressed stamped envelope.

Speaking Of . . .

The Names were Chosen with Respect, Not Ridicule

I'm not much of a sports fan, but I've been watching the World Series these past few evenings and enjoying it immensely. I'm one of those "fair weather fans," you see. I only watch the games when they are something special.

Anyway, I was very surprised to hear that the Native Americans are angry about the "tomahawk chop" and the Braves' name, as well as some other things, and were picketing outside the ball parks. At first I thought the Indians were just making a mountain of a molehill, but as I read more and more, the reasons for the way they feel began to make sense.

In a recent article, Tom Giago, publisher of the Rapid City, SD, Lakota Times, explained why the Indians feel the way they do. He said that he sees the waving of tomahawks, smoking "peace pipes," beating tomtoms, wearing feathers, dancing, whooping and face painting of the Braves' fans as not merely a racist thing to do, but that such antics are "Direct attacks upon the spirituality (religion) of the Indian people."

Mr. Giago went on to say that most of those Indian items that the fans are using and waving around have spiritual connotations to the Indians, many of them being used in religious ceremonies. He stated that eagle feathers played an important role in the spirituality of Native Americans, faces are painted in a spiritual way, and peace pipes are Sacred Pipes and were the Bible to most tribes of the Great Plains Indians.

A member of the American Indian Movement said that the "tomahawk chop" demeans the Indians and that Indian nicknames in sports "lead to symbols and acts by fans that misrepresent and dehumanize Indian culture." Another representative of the American Indian Movement stated that the way the Braves' fans are acting is not something done in fun, but ridiculous and racist.

Well, after reading some of those things, I guess I can understand why the Indians feel the way they do, and, given the way they feel, I think it would be a good idea for people in charge of some of those teams to start looking for new names. It seems to me that the fuss and bother isn't worth it. Might as well just change the names and be done with it.

There could be contests to come up with new names for all those baseball, basketball, hockey and football teams who use Native American names. I'm sure there are some very imaginative fans out there who can come up with brave, strong, proud names for the teams.

Speaking of brave, strong and proud, don't those words have an interesting sound? Well, well, do you think that could possibly have been the reason for the Indian names in the first place? Think about it —Braves, Warriors, Chiefs, Sioux, Blackhawks, Redskins. Why pick names like that for sporting teams? Could it possibly be because they make a person think of the nobility, power and courage of the Indians? Could it possibly be that Indian names were used for sporting teams because they made one think good things, positive things about Native Americans?

Yes, I'm afraid the names will have to go, but I hope we don't lose something else when they go. I hope we don't lose sight of the bravery, strength and pride of some of those Native Americans when we no longer use their names.

Nellie Swenson, 86

Funeral services were held October 21 at Our Saviour's Lutheran church in Thief River Falls with Rev. Del Palmer officiating. Casketbearers were Lowell Hanson, Gene Hendrickson, Robert Newland, Robert Olson, Myron Sorter and Darrel Swenson. Interment was in the Greenwood cemetery. The Green Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Nellie Wing was born Aug. 16, 1905 at Middle River, the daughter of Alexander and Adelle (Martin) Wing. She graduated from Middle River high school, then attended and graduated from the Valley City teachers college. On June 5, 1929 she was united in marriage to Albert Swenson at Middle River. They made their home in the Ringbo community, Marshall county. She taught at the Ringbo school as well as several other area schools. In 1949 they moved to Greenbush and in 1951 they moved to Thief River Falls. She was a member of Immanuel Free Lutheran church of Ringbo and, more recently, a member of Our Saviour's Free Lutheran church in Thief River Falls.

She is survived by her husband, two sons: Gene Swenson of Redmond, WA, and Ronald Swenson of Thief River Falls; six grandchildren; 12 great-grandchildren; and four sisters: Jenny Curtiss of Elmore, Mary Norlinger of Alexandria, Mrs. Herman (Ruth) Sollie of Bellingham, WA and Grace Bruzek of Alexandria.

She was preceded in death by her parents; four sisters: Anna, Mable, Olive and Bess; and two brothers: Martin and one in infancy.

Winton R. Knutson, 78

Thief River Falls — Winton R. Knutson, 78, died October 15 at his home in Numedal township, Pennington county.

Funeral services were held October 20 at Oak Ridge Lutheran church, rural Thief River Falls, with Rev. Mike Herschberger officiating. Special music was provided by Robin Asp, soloist, and Louise Solseng, organist. Casketbearers were Lewis Carpenter, Peter Erickson, Kermit Finstad, Roger Hible, Marlow Johnson, Harold Kalsnes, Elmer Nelson, Rolland Sande and Harvey Skyberg. Interment will be at the Greenwood cemetery. The Green Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Winton Reynold Knutson was born Feb. 12, 1913 in Numedal township, Pennington county, the son of Soren and Marie (Larson) Knutson. He attended Prairie View elementary school, graduated from the Crookston agricultural college in 1929 and from Aaker's Business school in Grand Forks, ND. On Jan. 1, 1942 he was united in marriage to Florence Waller at Viking. He farmed in Numedal township for many years, was the Numedal township assessor for 20 years and chairman of the ASCS committee for 17 years.

He is survived by his wife; one brother, Leo Knutson of Thief River Falls and one sister, Mrs. Reed (Alice) Lamberson of Pittsburg, CA.

He was preceded in death by his parents; one brother, LeRoy; and one niece, Kirsten Amir.

Roy "Club" Langevin, 85

Thief River Falls — Roy "Club" Langevin, 85, retired fire chief of Thief River Falls, died October 21 at his home in Thief River Falls.

Funeral services will be held October 25 at 2 p.m. at the St. Bernard's Catholic church with Rev. Joe DeCrans officiating. Interment will be in the church cemetery. The Green Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Visitation will be held Thursday from 1 to 9 p.m. at the Green Funeral Home with a prayer vigil at 8 p.m. and on Friday for one hour prior to the service at the church.

A complete obituary will be printed in a later edition of the Times.

Dear Readers,
There are many factors that should be considered before purchasing cemetery property. What type of monument can be placed on the gravesite? Does the price you pay include perpetual care and maintenance. Are there a sufficient number of spaces available to provide burial for the entire family?
Respectfully,

Teleconference at TC Nov. 6

A teleconference, "In Living Color — Painting Challenges for the '90s" will cover waste reduction assessment and technology transfer for facilities where manufactured items are painted. The workshop will be held on November 6 from 9:45 to 3 p.m. at the Thief River Falls Technical College. The attendance cost is $20, which includes noon lunch.

The conference will cover painting and coating methods that will help reduce painting waste at the point of generation. In many cases a company can minimize its status as a hazardous waste generator by making cost-effective changes to equipment or finding alternative materials and processes. Highlights of the teleconference include: pretreatment and surface preparation, paint transfer efficiency, high solid, low VOC paints, introduction to powder coating systems, and electrostatic application with waterborne paint.

Pre-registration is requested by November 4. To register or for more information contact the Small Business Development Center at the Thief River Falls Technical College, 1301 Highway One East, Thief River Falls, MN 56701-2599. Call (218) 681-5424 or 1-800-222-2884.

Small Business Development Center is a local sponsor of the event. This teleconference is a cooperative effort sponsored by the University of Tennessee Center for Industrial Services with the Tennessee department of environment and conservation, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the Tennessee Valley Authority, and the National Roundtable of Pollution Prevention Programs.

Conference on land use

Land use rights, responsibilities and practices in the Red River Basin will be the focus of the ninth annual summit conference to be held November 13-15 in Grand Forks, ND.

The conference provides a place for building a basin-wide consensus regarding the wise use of land and water resources. It will examine effects of land use practices in Manitoba, Minnesota, North Dakota and Saskatchewan.

Terry C. Jacobson, chairman of Northern Plains Sustainable Agriculture, will speak on an environmental approach to sustainable development. Thomas Clifford, president of the University of North Dakota, will address land use from an institutional point of view.

Other issues to be presented include, but are not limited to, wetlands, tax structures and conservation lands, rural abandoned mines, chemical usage, urban and rural abandoned wells, urbanization, municipal incinerator ash disposal, pesticide container recycling, public vs. private land use, abandoned railroad right-of-ways, the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) and shoreland management.

Registration fee is $65 and includes a continental breakfast, two lunches, a banquet, coffee breaks and all session materials. For more information contact The International Coalition at 119 south Fifth Street in Moorhead or call 233-0292.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

This is addressed to the people of Thief River Falls.

I dove into town this morning to see about 20 men working hard at the new motel coming up. Down the road, men were working at the new bank lot. Others were working at the new convenience store site by the First Street bridge. I went uptown to see people working at the old Bostwick's store. Also down the street more new stores have started up.

I would like to say "thank-you" to all the people who had anything to do with all the jobs and giving our town a great new uplift. Our small town is coming to life again!

Sincerely,
Mrs. Bob Davidson

Aid needed for Eastern Bloc

by Russ Schwandt

We need to quit dragging our heels and become more aggressive in helping all of the Eastern Bloc countries now. The help we give these struggling new independent governments will, over time, pay large dividends to the U.S. as well as avert possible bloodshed. When we refer to the U.S.S.R., we are looking at a vastly different country than it was even a few months ago. All of the new independent countries emerging within the Soviet Union have struggling new governments that need assistance now. They need credits, technological help, as well as humanitarian aid. We are capable of rendering the kind of help that they need. Over the long-haul, these countries will remember who helped them in their hour of need.

As I have said many times, the people of the Eastern Bloc countries are our kind of people and from a logical standpoint, they represent a huge market for Midwest agriculture. When these countries send their ships into the Great Lakes, the economies in the Upper Midwest booms.

Expanded trade is absolutely essential to the economic well being of the U.S., and particularly agriculture. Right there in the Eastern Bloc of countries is perhaps our greatest opportunity for the trade expansion that has a direct impact on Minnesota agriculture. To delay giving export credits and other forms of aid would be a tragic mistake. Let's go in on the ground floor and make it plain that we are ready to help. Let's work to eliminate trade barriers and extend most favored trading status to these new governments.

The time to act is now. We have the surplus production. Prices for U.S. grains are at depression levels. Piling up and storing grain is ridiculous when the opportunity to move it is there.

Kay Kainz accepts position

Kay Kainz is currently the National Board of Directors' Liaison for the National Association of College and University Residence Halls (NACHRH) conference.

The NACHRH '92 conference will be hosted at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks, ND, May 28-31, 1992. More than 2,000 student leaders from the United States and a number of foreign countries will be in attendance.

Kainz, daughter of Dennis and Cathy Kainz of Goodridge, is active in the residence hall system. She is the Association of Residence Halls vice president and National Communications Coordinator. A senior majoring in elementary and early childhood education, Kainz is a member of the National Residence Hall Honorary (NRHH) and was a past chair of the Hall Orientation Team. She received one of the two NRHH Scholarships for the 1991-92 school year.

Dorothy Rood

On Tuesday the community [illegible] the sad news that Nora Sturkus of International Falls, had passed away. We extend our sincere sympathy to her family and relatives in this area.

Jim Sorenson spent the weekend with his grandma, Dorothy Rood, and Dorothy was a Sunday overnight visitor with Dee, Jami and Matthew.

The Community Garden club met on Tuesday, October 8th, at the home of Julia Johnson near Newfolden. Debbie, president, opened the business meeting by having everyone read the Garden Creed in unison. Roll call was Halloween. Cloe showed us her witch, wore a skeleton and earrings and also read a Halloween song. Debbie gave everyone small pumpkins. Grace had a small pumpkin along, Alma, a small pumpkin and a reading, Jack O'Lantern. Amelia wore pumpkin earrings. Tyyne showed fall pictures from a magazine, Julie had a handmade table pumpkin and Dorothy, a pumpkin candle and a reading, Slow Down October. Dorothy had a topic on cut flowers. There was no old or new business. Next meeting is November 5th at either Dolly's or Alma's. Roll call is Thanksgiving and Julie will have the topic. Amelia won the corn candy contest and Dorothy the door prize. Julia served a very delicious lunch and everyone enjoyed an afternoon of visiting. Members present were Cleo Henning, Debby Ornquist, Dorothy Rood, Grace Malero, Alma Berg, Amelia Lien and Tyyne Sorter. Selmer Sorter was a lunch guest also.

Last Wednesday Earl and Jan Hanson left for Billings, MT., and spent a few days visiting at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Laurie and Dale Miller and children.

On Saturday afternoon Myron and Gladys Sorter visited with Selmer and Tyyne Sorter.

On Tuesday the members of the Naomi circle helped Gertrude Nyvat celebrate her 75th birthday at their regular meeting.

Concert Series Review
by Vi Barr

Even before the curtain opened the melodic noises from behind that curtain had your toes tapping and your interest piqued. Then, when that curtain did open, we were definitely not disappointed!

How reassuring it is to see a family group of this size: Mom, Dad, and seven kids working together, finely tuned to one another and definitely enjoying what they were doing. On top of that, they pulled the audience into their circle and the audience was enchanted!

The skill of each person on every instrument on stage was exciting to see. Expertise on the banjo, the string bass, the mandolin, the guitar and the singing and the dancing left the viewer astounded!

The variety of the program from Blue Grass to a string quartet to the Canon in D (with all members playing a stringed instrument), to musical story-telling, to duets—both vocal and instrumental—was excellent and almost unbelievable!

The musicianship, as well as the technical ability was far above average. The string quartet gave one the impression that older symphony musicians must be performing instead of these young people.

There was only one question that had to be answered before I left: "How do you get seven kids from one family to practice and perform without a minor war?" The oldest daughter's reply—"We are a normal family!" I guess that was the quality that showed through and endeared this group to the audience: the down-to-earth, 'at home' feeling they projected, all having their own turn at the mike, either speaking or performing, and the little hi-jinks of stealing the spotlight from one another and the "tall tale-ing" to Mom and Dad when they succeeded. It was fun!

Needless to say, they got a standing ovation when the kids came center stage, one at a time to form a line, each holding his or her own violin but 'bowing' the violin of the sibling on the immediate left; playing all the while and not slowly.

Thanks, Concert Series programmers, for a very enjoyable evening. Keep up the good work.

Gustafson earns CCE designation

Robert Gustafson, president of the Grand Forks, ND, chamber of commerce and formerly a chamber executive in Thief River Falls, was awarded the Certified Chamber Executive designation Monday by the American Chamber of Commerce Executives at the association's annual management conference in Phoenix, AZ.

The CCE designtion is the highest professional designation that can be awarded to a chamber of commerce executive.

Artifacts found along pipeline to be revealed

Artifacts found in the area during an archaeological survey over the past few years will be discussed at a meeting to be held Monday, October 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the Newfolden community center.

The meeting is open to the public free of charge and sponsored by the Newfolden Women's club, a member of the General Federation of Women's Clubs (GFWC).

For the past few years the Institute for Minnesota Archaeology (IMA) has been conducting an archaeological survey through Marshall and Pennington counties for the Great Lakes Gas Transmission company pipeline. This work was done prior to the pipeline construction work done this summer and completed this fall.

At the Monday meeting in Newfolden, a lecture and slide presentation will be made by archaeologist Gabrielle Bourgerie on the results of the survey. Persons who have found Native American stone tools and fragments of ancient pottery in fields and along streams in northwestern and central Minnesota are encouraged to bring them to the meeting for Bourgerie to explain, date or identify.

IMA administrative assistant Lorand McLeete, who assisted in setting up the evening program, told Newfolden Women's club officials that "We've found a lot of interesting artifacts while digging in the Thief River Falls area. We are happy to have the opportunity to share this information with people who are interested."

The Institute for Minnesota Archaeology is a private, non-profit organization dedicated to "Saving the Future of Our Past."

Local VFW members greeted national dignitaries from the VFW at the regional airport in Thief River Falls Friday afternoon. The dignitaries were in Thief River Falls for the Membership Fly-In. The annual event was intended to pickup the majority of the Minnesota VFW departments 1992 membership transmittals from all posts throughout the state. Pictured from left is Lloyd M Bergum, senior vice president of the Coolies; Lauretta Radcliff, department auxiliary senior vice president; Rich Simmons, senior vice president in district 9; John Ellison, commander local VFW post; John Carney, senior vice commander-in-chief; and Dan Bartholomew, department senior vice president.

Woodcrafters to hold Oct. meet Monday

Northland Woodcrafters will meet Monday, October 28, at 7 p.m. at the Occupational Development center in Thief River Falls for the second meeting of the current season.

Membership for 1992 and the remainder of 1991 will be on sale at $10 for individuals and $15 for families. All persons interested in making items from wood are encouraged to attend and become a participant in club activities.

Patterns will be available at the meeting for items which can be made in the Woodcrafters' Christmas toy project. Members of the club who choose to participate will make a toy to be donated to the Violence Intervention Program for Christmas giving. The toys are to be built prior to November 25 and brought to the meeting of the club that night.

A video on woodworking will also be shown at the meeting.

Adoption group sets Halloween party Sunday

Northwest Minnesota Families Through Adoption will conduct its annual Halloween party Sunday, October 27, from 2 to 5 p.m. at the regional corrections center community room in Crookston.

Everyone is invited to wear a costume and join in the fun. Indoor activities are planned and each family is asked to bring a plate of goodies to share and a bag of candy for treats. Beverages will be provided.

Freshmen from area enrolled at NDSU, Fargo

Several area students are among the 1,431 incoming freshmen enrolled in the fall quarter at North Dakota State University in Fargo.

Included are Dana Patenaude of Red Lake Falls, Carol Waterworth, Deon Wawrzyniak, John Lokstad and Nancy Tunheim, all of Newfolden.

Impressions . . .

by Beth Johnson

Recently I have been busy with bits and pieces of our lives. I have been one to keep scrapbooks of the important events in our lives. I have a scrapbook depicting the pre-wedding days of both my husband and myself. I also have scrapbooks of our life together. Each of my boys rates a scrapbook or two as well.

The bits and pieces which make up each of these scrapbooks are not just pieces of paper, they are the mementoes of our lives.

Only in the scrapbooks can we find those precious-only-to-parents handmade cards and gifts. Only in the scrapbooks do we find a record of the many school plays and programs we parents sat through with pride. Only in the scrapbooks do we find a record of the accomplishments of our lives, whether the accomplishments are great or small.

In the scrapbooks are smiles and tears. In the scrapbooks are fears and joys. In the scrapbooks are triumphs and failures. In the scrapbooks are pieces of our lives.

I don't do the scrapbooks daily—or even yearly—but I do keep them rather current as time allows. Perhaps if I added to them daily, as in a journal, they would contain even more of our lives. But I rather enjoy simply storing those important bits of paper, and then in a concentrated period of time, adding them to the other items already in the scrapbook.

In adding items to the scrapbook I can allow myself to become nostalgic. I get to remember the olden days—which really were just a couple of years or months ago. In the remembering, I can reflect on our lives.

I can wonder the "What ifs" when I assemble those scrapbooks. What if we weren't born into the families we were born to? Would we have been wealthy and perhaps famous—or maybe we would have been struggling for even a mite to eat. What if my husband and I hadn't gone to the same school for college and seminary? Who would we have fallen in love with? What would those imaginary children be like? What if our boys had been girls? Could we have stood all of the little girl chatter? What if our children were not healthy? Could we have been able to provide the needed care for them?

The "what ifs" of a scrapbook's nostalgia lead me also to the "I hopes". I hope that the one I love and I will lead a life of contentment and love until death parts us. I hope that the children we have borne and raised will be content in their lives. I hope we have not goofed too awfully as parents. I hope that the standards we have tried to set for our children will positively affect them. I hope that the myraid of times we proudly listened to our children's accomplishments will result in secure children because of our interest in them. I hope that the decisions we make throughout life will not too adversely affect any of my loved ones.

Nostalgia and hope do belong together. When I am nostalgic, I allow myself to see that despite the choices in life, despite the fates of life, despite the mistakes of life, life still goes on for all of us. We can simply take what we have, and decide that with the bits and pieces of our lives we will be blessings in this world. When we see how far our lives have led us, we can truly hope in the future. The blessings of the future are just waiting to surprise us.

Bits and pieces of a scrapbook give me feelings of contentment and awe. I'm content in knowing that as I have been blessed in the past, so I can expect blessings for the future. I'm in awe of how my life and the lives of those I love have been guided in the past. With this contentment and awe, I can confidently hope that our futures will be bits and pieces of lives worth living.

Eva Rumple sees goals to career at Northland

by David Hill
Associate Editor

After several operations when she was young Eva Rumple, now a student at Northland Community College, can see enough to navigate through the halls and ride a bike. She cannot see well enough to drive and needs large print books, computers and enlargers to enlarge print.

Options, a non-profit resource provider for handicapped, is promoting awareness of the handicapped in the community during National Disability Employment Awareness Month. Eva Rumple is also a member of the local board of directors for Options.

Rumple has not only received assistance from her involvement with Options, but is emphatic in her praise of Northland Community College. Rumple said the administration and faculty at Northland have been very accommodating.

Rumple began attending Northland Community College last winter. She plans to complete her Associate of Arts degree and then work towards counseling people with disabilities and individuals from broken families.

Because of her disability, Rumple is taking advantage of a program called DEEDs at Northland. Rumple explained that the progam is set up for people who enter the community college system with disabilities. The program responds by acquiring or modifying equipment or devices needed by the disabled individual.

Rumple explained that she was a premature baby and the oxygen she received at the time caused her blindness. By the time she was two she had had six operations. Even after those operations she was considered totally blind for three to four years.

Three children and years later, she decided to go to college. She's not the typical college student.

As a handicapped individual she has experienced discrimination first hand. During a job interview once, the employer said he would not hire her because of her disability. Of course that was before the big push to educate people about the abilities of the handicapped, she said.

Rumple has worked at other jobs where she didn't experience discrimination. She said she had worked at two coffee shops where the employers were also visually impaired.

In the work place, Rumple said the biggest hurtle is getting people to believe she can do the job. So it is very difficult to get a decent job and that's why she decided to attend college. She now wishes she had reached that realization years ago.

The college has been very accommodating, she said. They have purchased an enlarger so she can read books, papers or take tests, and they recently purchased a computer called a Big Ed so that she can read word processing. Teachers have also been accommodating, by among other things, providing large type handouts.

While her experience at Northland Community College has been a good one, Rumple still believes the public needs to be aware of the abilities of the disabled.

Eva Rumple has a visual impairment. Specialized equipment that enlarges reading material helps her in her studies at Northland Community College. Rumple wants an Associate Arts degree and to go bakc to work. Rumple praises Northland Community College staff for helping her with her special needs.

RRVWS selects new manager

Red River Valley Winter Shows board of managers ratified the selection of Ed Ross as the new manager, now known as executive director of the Red River Valley Winter Shows (RRVWS). Ross is not new to the area and is well known partly because of his daily Farm Show on KROX, Crookston, and his active role in community and rural agriculture. Ed has been a farmer for over 30 years, raising registered and certified seed, sugarbeets, soybeans and sunflowers. He is also vice-president of Ross Seed Company, a company he started 13 years ago and is now managed by his son Steve in Fisher.

Dr. George Marx, president of the RRVWS board indicated that the board of managers was very pleased with the selection of Edwin Ross and says 'his special talents of leadership, creativity, maturity and experience will be a real asset to our organization. He knows a lot of people, has many agricultural contacts and is a good communicator."

Ross is active in many agricultural circles, has traveled extensively both nationally and internationally. As an agricultural consultant for the St. Lawrence Seaway Team and the U.S. Wheat Associates he visited 13 European and Asian countries.

Erickson enrolled in Divinity program

Richard G. Erickson of Thief River Falls is currently enrolled in the Master of Divinity degree program at Luther Northwestern Theological seminary in St. Paul.

A graduate of Seattle Pacific college, Erickson was the executive director of the Lutheran Evangelism Movement and a missionary in Ecuador, South America.

Luther Northwestern is the largest Lutheran seminary in the Western Hemisphere and the largest of eight seminaries of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA). Total enrollment is 775 students.

The Master of Divinity degree program prepares students for ordination and service as parish pastors.

Northwest and XATA announce agreement

Arve E. Moser, president of Northwest Acquisitions Inc., (Northwest) and William Flies, president of XATA Corporation (XATA), have announced the execution of a definitive agreement for the merger of XATA into Northwest, subject approval of Northwest shareholders. The shares of Northwest common stock to be issued to the XATA shareholders will be restricted securities and will represent approximately 59 per cent of the 7,500,000 shares to be outstanding immediately following the merger. Management of the merged companies will includes Flies as Chief Executive Officer and Moser as Chief Operating Officer. Among other matters, the agreement calls for Northwest to change its name to XATA Corporation.

XATA Corporation is a Burnsville based, privately financed company currently engaged in the design, manufacture and distribution of information systems for the fleet distribution industry. XATA's information system integrates a proprietary onboard computer and expert software to provide driver and management information, such as driver logs, state fuel tax reports, dispatch, maintenance data and fuel economy management.

Northwest Acquisitions Inc., a blind investment pool whose shares are publicly traded, brings approximately $1,500,000 in cash, which will allow XATA to accelerate the production and sale of its information systems.

Home fire drill practice slated

Minnesotans are urged to take part in a home fire drill at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, October 26, to help plan ahead to survive a fire in their home.

"The Great Minnesota Home Fire Drill" is sponsored by the Minnesota Fire Safety Project.

At the chosen 6:30 p.m. time, communities and homes across the state will simultaneously participate in the fire drill. Families and organizations are urged to sound their smoke detectors and practice staying low under smoke to exit a burning home or building.

The Fire Safety Project is also urging people to determine a family meeting place outside the home and to remember to talk to family members about the importance of dialing 911 to report a fire. Most deaths caused by fire are preventable with smoke detectors and family escape plans essential to a family's safety.

To date in 1991 more than 50 Minnesotans have already died in fires—before the high risk season has begun. In 1990, $93 million in property burned in Minnesota, of which 47 per cent was in residential dwellings.

The Minnesota Fire Safety Project is a coalition working to reduce the loss of life and property from fire through an expansive statewide education network and program. The group works in cooperation with the division of the State Fire Marshal in the Minnesota Department of Public Safety and the Governor's Council on Fire Prevention and Control.

Schwinn family has African experience

er, know how to cook from scratch, be able to sew and be willing to go to the mission field. It didn't take more than a date or two to find out that information, and usually there was no point in continuing a relationship."

If Katie was looking for a life of residential stability in marriage she wouldn't expect to find it with Karl. They find their rewards in what they are able to do for other people and their shared work and interests keep the family bond strong. Konrad has had only two years of formal education in six years of schooling and Kristopher (Kit) has never attended a formal school. Katie handles the home teaching and one of her problems has been getting the books she needs.

From age 11 to 16 Karl lived with his family on a Navajo reservation in Arizona where his father was a self-supporting missionary. He followed his dad to work and watched what was being done, thereby picking up much of his basic construction knowledge by observation.

After he and Katie were married they returned to Oklahoma which was home territory for Karl. He received a Master Plumber's license in 1975, a Master Electrician's license in the late 1970s and a Master Mechanical license in the early 1980s—one of few if not the only person in Oklahoma to hold all three licenses.

Between his freshman and sophomore years in college he had gone to Peru and had learned Spanish while living with families there. He also practiced what he refers to as "baling wire and inner tube mechanical technology," or learning how to make things work with what materials are at hand.

Karl and Katie became involved with a group called Maranatha, a Greek word meaning "Christ is coming," and Volunteers International of Sacramento, CA. The group organizes volunteers who donate their labor and pay for their own transportation and food to travel to various areas and work on needed projects.

They went to Mexico for projects twice, once building 40 houses in three months following an earthquake in 1985 and once building a youth camp. In Haiti they were involved with construction of a 100x120 vocational technical school.

In Chipata, Zambia, near the Malawi border, they worked for most of the past year on building a new pediatrics ward, installing a water system and constructing staff housing for a hospitol compound first started in 1927 by a U.S. doctor who went there to work with lepers.

The compound involves about 200 families and includes the hospital eye clinic, leper department, pediatrics, gynecology, medical ward, outpatient department, school and nursing school. Funding for the project came from the U.S. Agency for International Development (AID) but getting the needed materials was a major problem in the area.

Karl was supervisor of the project and found he could buy many of the things he needed in neighboring Malawi, although it was a tightly operated dictatorship. Shops would shut down by governmental order whenever there was to be a cavalcade of the governing officers so that everyone could be in the streets in a "show of support." Often the cavalcade did not arrive at the appointed time—or even the same day—but the shops remained closed.

Zambia was formerly Northern Rhodesia and an economic power in the area due to its copper mines. When the British pulled out in the 1960s the infrastructure began to deteriorate. Roads are now in a state of total disrepair, Schwinn said, and are being allowed to continue to deteriorate. The hospital had a 40-party telephone line which usually was not functional anyway.

Working with native labor which is accustomed to its own pace often requires special tactics, Schwinn said, but challenges to achieve and providing incentives for doing good work can accomplish wonders.

"Smiles on the recipients' faces is worth every penny and every hour you put into a project," Schwinn said. "They see you as a miracle. They couldn't imagine a school appearing in their midst in two weeks, yet we get it done with only 10 to 15 per cent of the workers being professional construction people.

"And when we leave be have usually taught some of the brighter native people who have worked with us that they do have the ability to get things done that they didn't realize they could do before we arrived."

Within a week or two the Schwinns will be leaving for Honduras for what is expected to be an eight-month project in constructing a receiving center for an International Children's Care orphanage. It will involve construction of 15,000 square feet of building to provide for 64 children, 30 babies and the orphanage staff.

Katie is ready to take on the new challenge in a new country, including more home schooling for the boys. And there may even be fewer hazards in trying to raise chickens.

Utility rate increases anticipated

would raise about $39,000. Roger DeLap, city finance officer, who presented the summary, noted that the budget has not been finalized and there are several items pending concerning recycling, composting, Future Fuel rates and other items.

Construction at the water treatment plant is already underway. What those changes mean in terms of cost increases is unknown. Don Barron, city alderman, said an increase will be needed in the rates, but no one knows how much will be needed at this time.

Currently a $105,615 budget deficit is anticipated in that department.

The electric utility department has been projecting a rate increase for some time. So, a rate increase in the spring of 1992 should not come as a surprise. Fund estimates indicate it will finish the year with a deficit of $171,289 if a rate increase is not approved. This would be the fourth planned rate increase in the electric department.

While the waste water utility fund is expected to finish the year (1992) with a $17,958 balance, new state requirements may go into affect. Arlo Rude of the Utilities department explained that the state is encouraging cities to start sinking funds for future costs needed to pay for improvements and additional equipment needed to handle changes in standards and requirements. As a result, the wastewater utility fund is also anticipating a rate increase. Additional demand may also impact expenses of the utility fund.

The council did not take any action on the budgets or proposed rate increases. The information provided to the council was merely for information purposes.

Fisher's Landing travel center to close Oct. 31

Fisher's Landing Travel Information Center operated by the Minnesota Office of Tourism will close for the season October 31 and reopen May 1, 1992. The rest area operated by the Minnesota Department of Transportation will remain open 24 hours a day, seven days a week, year around.

While the center is open during the remainder of this month it will continue to distribute information on planning a Minnesota vacation for this winter or next summer. Travel guides will be on hand to assist the public with travel plans.

The Minnesota Traveler mini-tour book will be available as well as fall and winter posters. Copies of the Winter Explorer are also available as well as travel planning packets for each of the four Minnesota regions.

and aggregate backfill purposes and Northern Paving for curb and gutter and bituminous installation. Combined construction costs totaled for the 1070 lineal feet of the nine-ton designed roadway was $115,600. In line with past policy, the council set the assessment benefit rate at $20 per foot, which is the same as that in the residential areas even though Atlantic avenue is designed to carry nine-ton loads and is 40 feet in width. The driveway apron benefit rate was assessed at the rate of $29 per square yard.

A section of Highway 59 southeast frontage road was added to the project at the request of property owners. The city paid for 20 per cent of the cost.

Sidewalk replacement included residential areas along North Markley, Kendall and Merriam avenues in ward 5, Atlantic avenue in ward 1, and along Duluth and Knight avenues in wards 2 and 3 along with connecting side streets. The replacement construction was conducted by Knish Construction. Property owners were assessed for 80 per cent of the frontage, or equivalent frontage rate and the city paid for 20 per cent of the frontage costs plus 100 per cent of the side street costs.

Sidewalks adjacent to Franklin Middle school and east of Lincoln high school were also replaced by Knish Construction. The school district was assessed for 100 per cent of the project cost.

Some of the residents who attended the meeting were concerned about cleanup on the sidewalk project. Lindberg said that was in line with what he has experienced in the past. Lindberg noted that a list of clean-up items had been given to the contractor before the final payment is made to the company. Lindberg also pointed out the benefit to property owners. Project costs were lower than expected and had property owners had to hire a contractor to do the work it would have cost them significantly more. Hopefully, he said the city will have sidewalks that last.

Lindberg said he would respond to any of the questions residents may have about the project.

City Clerk Jerry Wigness explained how property owners can pay the assessments. Property owners have up to 30 days from the date of the adoption of the assessment roll to pay the entire assessment or any part of the assessment, without interest. Property owners can also have the assessment put on their taxes. The interest on the 12-year pay back period is 7.5 per cent on the unpaid balance.

For more information about the assessments or project contact the city clerk's office or city's technical and engineering services department.

Kurdish children gather around an American officer to receive water and nourishment they need to survive at refugee camps in Turkey. A1C Christopher Blankenfeld, son of Billie and Beth Blankenfeld of Thief River Falls, is serving with the U.S. Air Force in Turkey and working with Operation Provide Comfort II. BATMAN AIR BASE, Turkey—Air Force Airman 1st Class Christopher Joe Blankenfeld says he's worried the American people back home might have forgotten him as he helps to restore hope among Saddam Hussein's latest victims.

Blankenfeld, 25, is the son of Billie and Beth Blankenfeld, 311 North Merriam Ave., Thief River Falls. He's just one of more than 2,300 U.S. men and women, according to published military reports, still supporting the multi-national humanitarian relief effort Operation Provide Comfort II.

Following the defeat of President Hussein's Republican Guard by allied forces earlier this year, Iraqi Kurds from the northern part of the country failed in an attempt to overthrow their leader. Thousands of Kurds were reportedly killed and millions more fled into the mountains of Iraq to escape Saddam's wrath.

In April, President Bush announced the start of Operation Provide Comfort, as scores of Kurdish refugees were dying of starvation and disease daily in makeshift camps.

From Germany, Blankenfeld and his unit, the 52nd Civil Engineering Squadron, was dispatched to this arid piece of real estate. Daytime temperatures hover around the 110 degree mark and the landscape surrounding Incirlik is home to poisonous snakes, scorpions and spiders.

Blankenfeld is a refrigeration and air conditioning specialist. "My unit is responsible for setting up and maintaining suitable living conditions, including tents, showers, toilets, complete lighting and air conditioning for about 700 people assigned here at Batman Air Base," said Blankenfeld, a 1985 graduate of Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls.

By August the Iraqi threat declined and the project was renamed Operation Provide Comfort II. Military leaders scaled back the contingent from more than 21,000 military people representing 13 nations to its present strength of nearly 4,000 troops. Other nations still involved in the effort include France, Italy, Turkey, Netherlands and England.

A1C Christopher Blankenfeld

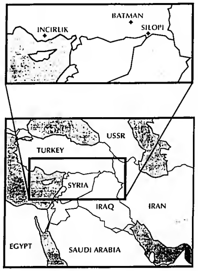
Blankenfeld said the things he misses the most today are, "seeing my friends and family, a nice bed and a shower."

One thing that sticks out in Blankenfeld's mind about serving in this area of the world is comparing the Turkish enlisted military's salary to his own. "They make anywhere from 10 cents to 25 cents a month," he said.

Safety advised for Halloween trick or treat

Halloween safety recommendations have been issued again this year by associations representing chocolate manufacturers and confectioners. The recommendations follow:

- Wear light-colored clothing short enough to prevent tripping and add reflectors or reflectorized material.
- Make sure your children can see well through face masks.
- Accompany young children on their trick or treat rounds.
- Go out during daylight and carry a flashlight in case of delay.
- Stay within the neighborhood and only visit homes you know.
- Watch for traffic.
- Give or accept only wrapped or packaged candy.
- Examine candy before allowing children to eat it.



Provided by the Air Force News Service, this map shows the Turkey-based locations where multi-national forces, including members of the U.S. Army, Navy and Air Force, are serving in support of Operation Provide Comfort II. A1C Christopher Blankenfeld of Thief River Falls is one of those serving in the area.

Research looks at how much fat is too much

We've all heard that too much fat is not good for us. But how much is too much? Trying to answer that question is behind much of the research reported on by Dr. Ernst Wynder of the American Health Foundation recently at the 1991 Research Conference, held in Washington, D.C., by the American Institute for Cancer Research.

While most health organizations, including the American Heart Association and the American Institute for Cancer Research, now recommend limiting dietary fat to 30 per cent or less of daily calories, Dr. Wynder's research suggests that even a lower limit may be necessary to provide health benefits.

Dr. Wynder currently recommends limiting fat to 25 per cent of calories, but he and Dr. Johanna Dwyer of the New England Medical Center at Tufts University, reported on ongoing studies which are looking at the effects of diets which limit fat to 20 per cent and even 15 per cent of calories. These studies are intended to see if such diets can help reduce cancer rates, especially for colorectal, prostate and breast cancers, the cancers most closely linked to high fat diets.

The current recommendation of the American Institute for Cancer Research to limit fat to 30 per cent or less of calories means a person eating 1800 calories each day could have up to 60 grams of fat each day (each gram of fat contains about 9 calories). Under Dr. Wynder's recommendation that person would be limited to 50 grams of fat each day. Dr. Wynder also recommends increasing fiber consumption to at least 25 grams per day. Americans currently eat an average of only 12 grams of fiber each day.

The American Institute for Cancer Research's research conference brought together almost two hundred scientists from around the world. The conference focused on not only fat and cancer, but also research into the relationship between cancer and subjects such as calories and exercise.

Shelly Swenson, Thief River Falls, accepts the Grand Champion senior performance trophy at the Northern Riders Saddle Club banquet held in Warroad recently.

Jim Taggart of Newfolden won the Grand Champion trophy in junior halter at the Northern Riders Saddle Club year end awards banquet held in Warroad. Taggart also won the 1991 yearling futurity award.

Northern Riders hold annual high point banquet

Northern Riders Saddle Club held its annual year end high point awards banquet at The Patch in Warroad on October 5.

Horse show entrants work throughout the show season to accumulate points toward the year end high point trophies. NRSC President Richard Ellerbusch of Warroad served as master of ceremonies and [illegible] were guest speakers. They gave an entertaining and informative account of the Twin Cities to Itasca State Park wagon train trek they traveled last summer.

The Highlight of the evening's program was the presentation of the year end high point trophies. The NRSC would like to thank all the 1991 trophy sponsors, members who worked hard to make the show season successful and The Patch for a very successful banquet.

The following award presentations were made at the banquet: grand champion halter pony to Kristi O'Donnell of Warroad; grand champion junior halter horse to Jim Taggert of Newfolden; reserve champion junior halter horse to Rod Holte of Gatzke; grand champion senior halter horse to David Ellerbusch of Warroad; reserve champion senior halter horse to Kristin Johnson of Middle River; grand champion pleasure pony to Kristi O'Donnell of Warroad, grand champion pee wee performance to Sarah Ellerbusch of Warroad; reserve champion pee wee performance to Tina Holte of Gatzke; grand champion junior performance to David Ellerbusch of Warroad; reserve champion junior performance to Kate Johnson of Roosevelt; Grand champion senior performance to Shelly Swanson of Thief River Falls; reserve champion senior performance to Sandra Johnson of Warroad; grand champion pee wee game to Tina Holte of Gatzke; reserve champion pee wee game to Kristi O'Donnell of Warroad; grand champion junior game to Rod Holte of Gatzke, reserve champion junior game to Kate Johnson of Roosevelt; grand champion senior game to Becky Buegler of Baudette; reserve champion senior game to Sandra Johnson of Warroad.

Senior Citizens Meet

Plummer Senior Citizens met on Wednesday at the Center with members A-L providing the meal. Birthdays noted were Helen LaFayette, Helen Hruggi, Wallace Champagne, Loren LaFayette, Harold Hanson, John Mattu, Inga Linder, Clara Hanson, Robert Marty. Due to the unusually nice weather only Inga was present of the honored folks. The business meeting began with singing the national anthem and giving the flag pledge. Effie Vigstol conducted the meeting, which included the regular reports. Hazel Olie reporting for the Board of Aging, who is offering a contest of posters on the use of the Tri-Valley bus in an effort to get more riders, and Ernie Pederson speaking for the meals program. Plummer Center is more than carrying its load and the meals are not a charity give away, however more participation is needed if we are to remain in the program. Several ladies came in costume with Avis Froland receiving first prize for her Halloween costume. Inga Linder got the second prize as a pirate and Hazel Olie as a gypsy. Esther Walter as Mother Goose and Effie Vigstol as Betsy Ross all received smaller prizes. This was in lieu of the regular door prizes. Karen Schmick introduced a new assistant for blood pressure taking, who will be coming to serve us in the future. The meeting adjourned and we dispersed to take advantage of the lovely day.

Carl and Eunice Koskela returned on Wednesday afternoon from Bismarck, where they had visited for a few days with daughter Kathy and Darryl Brasgalla. Granddaughter Lisa was also at home for the weekend from Fargo, where she is a student.

Wednesday dinner guests at the Martin Eskelr home were Clarence Kruse of Orange CA, and Ray Nenonen.

Buford Lawson is in the VA Hospital in Fargo, and no doubt would appreciate cards and visits from friends.

Myrtle Patnode returned home on Monday after a few weeks in Northwestern Medical Center. Good to have you home, Myrtle!

Sincere condolences go out to Mary Beth Westlake and Rodney Burns and their families in the death of their mother, Fern Burns of Minot. Her funeral was held on Saturday in Minot. She was a former resident of rural Plummer.

Gus and Lorette Croft of Fargo, were weekend visitors here and spent time with Pat Larson and Myrtle Patnode.

Clarence and Dianne Gagnel, Edna and Roger Hyde were Saturday evening guests at the Al Fisher home. Shannon Fisher was home from school and showed pictures of his trip to Africa.

Section 8A high school football playoffs start tonight...

Prowlers host Cardinals

Thief River Falls will play host to its first post-season high school football game tonight (Tuesday) when the Prowlers take on Staples in the opening round quarterfinals of the 1991 Section 8A playoffs. Kickoff is scheduled for 7 p.m. at Prowler Field. Both teams are 5-3.

Other first round games tonight included Little Falls (2-6) at Detroit Lakes (7-1), Park Rapids (5-3) at Crookston (4-4) and East Grand Forks (3-5) at Fergus Falls (6-2).

Semifinals will be played Saturday and the championship game will take place Friday or Saturday, Nov. 1 or 2, with the winner moving on to the Class A state quarterfinals.

Although the Prowlers will be making their first Section 8A post-season appearance at home, tonight will actually be the second scheduled Thief River Falls home field playoff game. Minnesota State High School League state football playoffs didn't start until 1972, but the MSHSL did allow teams the opportunity to participate in conference playoffs in 1971, when the 9-0 Northwest Conference champion Prowlers where to host Heart O' Lakes Conference champion Dilworth.

But with both teams completing their pre-game warm-ups in blizzard-like conditions on a frozen, snow-covered field, officials decided to call off the game. It was not rescheduled.

A top four-seed produced the home field edge in today's opening round Section 8A games for No. 1 Detroit Lakes, No. 2 Fergus Falls, No. 3 Thief River Falls and No. 4 Crookston.

Rest of the seeded slots included No. 5 Park Rapids, No. 6 Staples, No. 7 East Grand Forks and No. 8 Little Falls. Section 8A members Little Falls and Wadena-Deer Creek were not included in the playoffs.

Thief River Falls and Staples met here back on Sept. 13 when the Prowlers beat the Cardinals 26-6.

Other regular season results for first round foes included a 20-0 Crookston win over Park Rapids on Sept. 6 and a 28-6 Fergus Falls victory over East Grand Forks on Sept. 27.

Thief River Falls will be looking for its first-ever Section 8A playoff win. The Prowlers are 0-4 in post-season play. They were 3-4 during the 1984 season, then lost a 28-7 playoff game at East Grand Forks 28-7. They went 2-6 in 1986, and lost a playoff start at Staples 24-9. Thief River Falls finished 2-6 again in 1987 and lost a playoff game at Detroit Lakes 33-7. The Prowlers wound up 3-5 a year ago before losing a 27-0 Section 8A quarterfinal game at Fergus Falls.

Thief River Falls missed the Section 8A playoffs 1985, 1988 and 1989 – which included winless seasons in '85 and '86 and a 1-7 showing in '89.

Detroit Lakes is the defending Section 8A champion. Staples (then Staples-Motley) won in 1988 and 1989, while Fergus Falls had back-to-back championship finishes in 1986 and 1987.

The Lakers were seeded No. 4 a year ago, but knocked off Little Falls 38-21, Staples-Motley 31-12 and No. 1 seeded Fergus Falls 10-8 in the finals. Detroit Lakes lost to Section 4A champion Delano 28-10 in the Class A state quarterfinals.

Detroit Lakes started the 1991 season with a 14-10 loss to Fergus Falls, but the Lakers then rattled off wins over Thief River Falls 24-14, Crookston 13-12, Staples 35-7, Crosby-Ironton 41-2, Wadena-Deer Creek 49-15, Aitkin 41-8 and Park Rapids 38-0.

Saturday's semifinals, which will be played at the site of the higher-seeded teams will find the Thief River Falls vs. Staples winner playing the Fergus Falls vs. East Grand Forks winner, while the Detroit Lakes vs. Little Falls winner takes on the Crookston vs. Park Rapids winner.

Admission prices, set by the regional committee, are $4 for adults and $2 for students. Regular season passes will not be honored for post-season games.

The Section 8A winner will visit the site of the Section 4A champion to kick off the Class A state playoff quarterfinals the weekend of Nov. 8-9. The Section 4A members include Chaska, Delano, Glencoe, Hutchinson, Monticello, Mound-Westonka, Sibley East, Shakopee and Waconia.

Semifinals in all MSHSL classes will be played Nov. 14-15 at the Metrodome, and the Prep Bowl championship games will be played Nov. 23 at the Metrodome.

The ball got by Thief River Falls blocker Jamie Martell as Fosston's Wendy Groondahl pushed the shot over the net during last week's volleyball match in the Lincoln High School gym. Fosston won 3-0. The Prowlers host Crookston Friday in their final regular season match of the 1991 season.

Nine-Man football is underway

Area Nine-Man high school football playoffs got underway Monday in Section 6 when No. 5-seeded Bigfork beat No. 4 Norman County West 34-8 at Halstad. The loss ended the Norman County West season at 6-3. The win will send Bigfork into the semifinals with a 5-4 mark.

Another first-round game in the six-team Section 6 playoffs is scheduled tonight (Tuesday) when No. 6-seeded Red Lake (3-5) meets No. 3 Littlefork-Big Falls (5-1) at Littlefork.

Weekend semifinals will find No. 1-seeded Fisher-Climax (7-1) playing Bigfork at Climax Friday, while No. 2-seeded Win-E-Mac takes on Red Lake or Littlefork-Big Falls Saturday in McIntosh.

Championship game will be played Friday, Nov. 1.

All Section 6 games have 7 p.m. starting times.

Meanwhile, the four-team Section 8 Nine-Man playoff match-ups will be officially announced at a coaches seeded meeting Wednesday. Semifinal games are scheduled Saturday and the championship game will be played Saturday, Nov. 2.

Stephen, Grygla-Goodridge and Kittson County North are guaranteed playoff spots, with East Grand Forks Sacred Heart the likely No. 4 seed.

Regular season Top of the State Conference schedule will be completed today, highlighted by a 7 p.m. match-up in Stephen featuring the undefeated Tigers against once-beaten Grygla-Goodridge. Kittson County North, another team showing just one loss, played Valley North this afternoon in Lancaster, while Sacred Heart hosts Tri-County and Halleck-Kennedy takes on Argyle tonight.

A Stephen win tonight means a conference title and No. 1 post-season seed for the Tigers. But wins by Grygla-Goodridge and Kittson County North would create a three-way first place tie.

Shorthanded Pioneers lose to Raiders 22-8...

NCC offense bottled up

Minus its starting quarterback and top runningback, the Northland Community College football team had a predictably tough time moving the ball Saturday, spoiling a strong defensive effort by the Pioneers in a 22-8 Northwest Division loss at Brainerd.

The setback dropped Northland to 1-6 overall and 1-5 in the Northwest Division, where a come-from-behind 32-31 win over the University of Minnesota-Crookston the previous week had given the Pioneers a short-lived shot at a post-season Minnesota Community College Conference playoff berth.

Instead, a regular season-ending UMC game at Brainerd Saturday will advance its winner into the MCCC semifinals. The Trojans bounced back from the loss to Northland with a 9-6 victory over Fergus Falls.

Northland will finish a disappointing 1991 season by hosting Fergus Falls Friday in a 7 p.m. game at Prowler Field. The game was switched from an original Saturday afternoon contest to avoid any conflict with area high school football playoffs.

Injuries kept quarterback Reggie Drummond and runningback Kevin Massiah out of the Northland lineup Saturday, and the result was a 14-0 halftime deficit and a struggling offense that turned the ball over on four of five possessions.

Northland turnovers made things easy for Brainerd. The Raiders turned a Northland fumble into an 8-yard touchdown run by Tony Deeb and went up 14-0 when Scott Dillenburg stopped the Pioneers' only first half drive with a pass interception that he returned 70 yards for a touchdown.

A shanked Northland punt hit the ground just beyond the line and scrimmage and wound up bouncing backwards eight yards to set up a 3-yard Jim Carlson touchdown run as the Raiders made it 22-0 in the third quarter.

Northland got on the scoreboard on a 5-yard Dan Boushee touchdown pass to Dennis Carpenter in the final period.

"We just didn't click on offense," acknowledged Northland head coach Rick Nelson. "Defensively we played one of our best games of the year, but offensively we never really got going until the end, and then it was a case of too little, too late."

Dan Boushee, a starter in the defensive secondary, wound up as the Pioneers' quarterback in the second half – a position to shared at the start of the 1990 season before Drummond took over full time. Boushee was 3-for-6 passing for 42 yards and carried the ball 18 times for 44 yards.

Dan Van Norman started at quarterback in place of Drummond, but was just 1-for-4 passing with three first half interceptions.

Kevin White, who set a Northland school record by rushing for 317 yards against UMC to fill the void left by Massiah, was held to just 19 yards on 15 carries at Brainerd. Shawn Campbell, who netted 126 yards against the Raiders, netted 69 on 10 carries against the Raiders. Van Norman wound up with 38 yards on six carries.

Carlson, the Brainerd quarterback, finished with 101 yards on 15 carries and was 4-for-6 passing for 31 yards.

In Northeast Division play last Thursday, Hibbing clinched a pennant and a playoff spot with a 54-27 romp over Vermilion in a match-up of unbeaten teams, while Mesabi downed Itasca 23-14. This week the Northeast Division Thursday night match-ups include Hibbing at Itasca and Mesabi at Vermilion.

MCCC semifinals Nov. 2 will find the Northwest Division champion – either Brainerd or UMC – at Central Division winner Normandale, while Hibbing plays at the site of the South Division champion.

State championship game will be played Nov. 9 at St. Cloud State University.

Pioneers eyeing state volleyball tournament

A week's worth of Northwest Division matches will close out the 1991 regular season Northland Community College volleyball schedule, but the Pioneers are hoping to extend the season into post-season play.

Northland, 10-11 overall following a 15-5, 15-2, 15-3 loss to the Moorhead State University junior varsity Tuesday in Moorhead, shares the Northwest Division lead with Fergus Falls at 2-1. Brainerd and the University of Minnesota-Crookston are both 1-2. Top two regular season finishers qualify for the Minnesota Community College Conference state tournament next month.

The Pioneers' first swing through the home-and-home Northwest Division schedule produced a 3-1 win over Brainerd and a 3-0 victory over Fergus Falls, but also included a 3-0 loss to UMC.

Second round of Northwest Division matches will begin Wednesday with Northland at Brainerd and UMC vs. Fergus Falls. Friday, the Pioneers visit Fergus Falls and Brainerd meets UMC. It wraps up Wednesday, Oct. 30, with UMC at Northland and Brainerd vs. Fergus Falls.

Northland coach Deb Jacobson likes the Pioneers' chances. "If we play like we're capable of playing, we should be all right," she said. "We can't depend on other people to do it for us; we have to go out and win it on our own."

NCC basketball begins winter sports schedule

Thief River Falls' winter sports season officially began Monday with the start of preseason practice drills for the Northland Community College basketball team under coach Chet Engelman.

Northland women's basketball team, coached by Sue Barnd, will begin preseason work Nov. 1.

At the high school level, Nov. 18 is the Minnesota State High School League-approved opening date girls basketball, boys swimming and hockey, while Nov. 25 marks the start of drills for boys basketball and wrestling.

Sally Wiltse and Scott Brekke will be first-year head coaches for the Thief River Falls girls and boys basketball programs, respectively. The rest of the Prowlers' winter sports head coaches return, including Glenn Chiodo, hockey; Ryan Lokken, swimming; and John Anderson, wrestling.

Northland basketball teams will open their 1991-92 schedules with Dec. 3 doubleheader at Rainy River.

A swim meet at Fosston Dec. 5 will kick off Thief River Falls' 1991-92 high school winter sports schedule. The wrestlers will start with a Dec. 6 match at Larimore, ND, while Dec. 7 openers include hockey vs. Bemidji, boys basketball at Halleck-Kennedy and girls basketball at Roseau.

MCC volleyball team drops 3-1 Monday match

Marshall County Central lost a 3-1 high school volleyball decision at Warren Monday, dropping the Nordics to 11-9 for the year.

The Ponies won 15-8, 15-6, 11-15, 15-10.

"We just weren't in sync," reported Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson. "Our serving was probably the poorest its been all year."

Marshall County Central hosts Grygla-Goodridge Wednesday in a rescheduled 4 p.m. varsity-only match and will close out the 1991 regular season schedule Tuesday at home against Stephen.

Section 8AA boys, girls cross country meet set Thursday

Thief River Falls runners will compete in the 1991 Section 8AA high school cross country meet Thursday in Little Falls.

The meet starts at 4 p.m.

Team and individual qualifiers will advance to the state meet Saturday, Nov. 2, at the University of Minnesota Golf Course in St. Paul.

Middle School

Franklin Middle School seventh and eighth grade volleyball teams close out their 1991 season Friday with an appearance at the Marshall County Central Invitational in Newfolden.

The Franklin eighth graders beat Fertile-Beltrami 15-9, 15-8, 6-15, 15-0 Monday in Fertile.

Section 8C to begin playoff games tonight

First round quarterfinals were scheduled for 6 p.m. starts tonight (Tuesday) in the Section 8C high school football playoffs.

The draws include No. 8-seeded Middle River-Marshall County Central (2-6) at No. 1 Warren (6-1), No. 5-seeded Red Lake Falls (3-5) vs. No. 4 Indus-Lake of the Woods (3-5) at Baudette, No. 7-seeded Fosston (2-6) at No. 2 Fertile-Beltrami (5-3) and No. 6-seeded Red Lake County Central (3-5) at No. 3 Blackduck (3-5).

Semifinals will be played Saturday at the site of the higher seeded quarterfinal winners: Middle

Open house is planned

A basement remodeling project at the Old Arena will be on display during an 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. open house Saturday.

The project, which includes four new lockerrooms, bathroom, shower, utility/furnace room, lights, plumbing and furnace, plus rubber matting in all the rooms and stairways, was financed through a joint venture by the Thief River Falls Amateur Hockey Association and the City of Thief River Falls. Volunteer construction labor was organized by the Old-Timers hockey team.

Free doughnuts, coffee and pop will be served during the open house session, hosted by the Park & Recreation Department, TRFAHA and the Old-Timers hockey team.

The public is invited to stop by and check out the arena improvement project.

In conjunction with the open house activities, the final day of the week-long Prowler Hockey Clinic will feature scrimmage games for TRFAHA Squirts, Pee-Wees and Bantams. Squirts Group 1 will be on the ice from 8-9 a.m., Squirts Group 2 from 9:15-10:15 a.m., Pee-Wees Group 1 from 10:30-11:30 a.m., Pee-Wees Group 2 from 11:45 a.m.-12:45 p.m. and Bantams from 1-2:15 p.m.

Sports Boosters meet

Janet Aarness, representing the Northland Community College theater, will be the guest speaker Thursday at the weekly 12-noon Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Club in the Rex Cafe.

Deer Hunters meet

Thief River Falls Chapter of the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association will hold its monthly meeting Thursday at 7 p.m. in the basement meeting room of the Eagles Club.

Win streak ends

A season-opening winning streak ended at six matches for the Thief River Falls freshmen Monday as they lost a 2-1 volleyball decision to Valley Junior High of Grand Forks.

Valley won 15-8, 5-15, 15-10.

Thief River Falls freshmen will be at East Grand Forks Thursday for a 6:15 p.m. match and will host Crookston Friday at 5 p.m.

Section tournaments

Post-season play is already underway for high school teams, and for the first time, all Minnesota State High School League tournament competition is being conducted on a sectional level.

There are no longer district or region tournaments. Post-season tournaments in all activities will be done on a sub-section or section basis. Thus, the Region 8AA cross country meet becomes the Section 8AA meet and the District 31A volleyball tournament turns into Sub-Section 8A, etc.

A Fosston defender failed to come up with a block on Thief River Falls hitter Jamie Martell on this play at the net during last week's high school volleyball match. The Prowlers close out their 1991 regular season schedule with a Thursday match at East Grand Forks and a Friday match at home against Crookston.

Section 8C games

Hunters Against Hunger

On September 20, at Giants Ridge, Biwabik, the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association (MDHA) Executive Committee unanimously approved the concept of entering into a Hunters Against Hunger Program. It will be a cooperative effort with MDHA Chapters and local Salvation Army groups in many communities throughout the state. In areas where the Salvation Army is not established, there is the possibility that other organizations or church groups concerned about the hungry and needy could become involved in the program with the MDHA.

Guidelines for the program were reviewed and approved, and a promotion poster was adopted by MDHA and Salvation Army. The Hunters Against Hunger Program is expected to be on line prior to the opening of the 1991 firearms deer season.

Quite simply, the Hunters Against Hunger Program would proceed as follows: Local licensed meat processing lockers would be contacted and informed of the program. They would be asked to display Hunters Against Hunger Posters, so their customers would be asked to donate a package or two of their processed meat to the Hunters Against Hunger Program. The locker would provide storage for the donated meat for weekly pickup by the Salvation Army. Only meat processed at participating lockers would be accepted.

Through a cooperative effort such as this, between two organizations that recognize the need to help the hungry and less fortunate, we can make an impact on one of todays' most serious problems - To Feed The Hungry.

For more information, contact MDHA State Office, 1-800-450-DEER, or Tony Bauer, Special Projects Chairman, MDHA, 120 Wilson Way, Mankato, MN 56001, telephone (507) 388-2266.

DNR News

Trapping Tags

People intending to take fisher, pine marten or otter this fall are reminded by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) that they must apply for possession tags by Friday, Oct. 25, or they cannot legally trap these species. All people, regardless of age, are required to have the tags to trap these species.

Otter trappers are encouraged by the DNR that they must apply for possession tags by Friday, Oct. 25, or they cannot legally trap these species. All people, regardless of age, are required to have the tags to trap these species.

Otter trappers are encouraged by the DNR to apply soon to ensure receipt of tags by the season opener. The otter season, which is open only north of Highway 10, begins Oct. 26 in the North Zone and Nov. 2 in the South Zone. It runs through Jan. 5 in both zones. The fisher and pine marten seasons open Nov. 30 and run through Dec. 15.

Possession tag applications are available from county auditors, license agents, or by mail or in person from the DNR License Bureau, 500 Lafayette Road, St. Paul, MN 55155-4026.

For more information, contact the DNR Information Center by calling toll free in Minnesota 1-800-652-9747 (ask for the DNR).

Burning Permits

Open burning in Minnesota's forested areas still requires a permit from the Department of Natural Resources (DNR), acording to Fire Program Coordinator George Meadows.

Meadows said that changes in the open burning rule announced recently by the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency do not affect this long-standing requirement in areas of the state where the DNR is responsible for wildfire suppression.

DNR permits are issued only for burning vegetative materials during snow-free seasons. Permits are usually good for three days and must be obtained in person from state fire wardens or DNR forestry offices. Area foresters determine when their locales are "snow free" and may impose burning restrictions depending on local conditions. DNR officials recommend composting or other alternatives to burning vegetative materials. Fires for cooking, ceremonial or recreational purposes do not require a DNR permit.

MWA prints used as fund-raiser

Nothing could be more fitting for Minnesota Waterfowl Association's (MWA) 25th Anniversary than to have the honor to again utilize the talents of Minnesota's own David Maass. Twenty-five years ago, Maass designed a dynamic mallard trio for the exclusive use of the Southern Minnesota Waterfowl Association...five years later to become known as the Minnesota Waterfowl Association.

To recognize the Waterfowl Association's role in the initiation and passage of Minnesota's State Duck Stamp bill, MWA's logo painted by Maass was chosen to be Minnesota's First State Duck Stamp in 1977.

Twenty-five years have passed, and the artist and organization have teamed up again, in an effort which should provide one of the most collectible art pieces ever offered to wildlife enthusiasts.

MWA's 25th Anniversary Sponsor print, "Prairie Marsh - Mallards" details one of Maass' greatest talents as an artist; the ability to realistically portray flying waterfowl. Forty-one airborne mallards fill the sky on a typical Minnesota marsh. Two drakes and hen near the center of the painting comprise the MWA logo and 1977 First of State Stamp image.

To add to its collectibility and value, MWA will include with the first 500 Sponsor prints purchased, a mint First of State 1977 Minnesota Duck Stamp and MWA commemorative bronze medallion. These First of State stamps are only available through secondary markets and are no longer available through the state of Minnesota. The commemorative medallion, stamp, and print will only be offered through the MWA and are in very limited quantities.

Minnesota's 1978 Waterfowl Stamp competition provided the state with its first stamp art contest winner, Les Kouba. That image, a Kouba classic design, depicts 13 bluebills winging across a northern Minnesota roughwater diver lake.

Often referred to as the grandfather of wildlife art, his scaup paintings are easily recognized by his ability to put on canvas that "jet" like quality of black and whites locked up in formation, targeting a set of blocks.

MWA's 25th Anniversary Contributing Membership print "Bills In The Blocks" will give every hunter a tinge of "dejavu". This Kouba watercolor captures a moment, seconds before a chilled waterfowler and his black lab complete a successful day on the lake. Thirteen feathered jets are honed in on their decoy spread. They both seem to be shivering in anticipation of the experience.

Kouba over the years, also has heavily supported conservation with his brush and canvas.

Minnesota Waterfowl Association is pleased to offer this very collectible art package. Sponsor memberships are $145 and include Maass' "Prairie Marsh - Mallards" complete with stamp and medallion. The edition is limited to 1500 signed and numbered prints; image size is 16 1/2 x 25 inches. Contributin memberships are $40 and include "Bills In The Blocks" by Kouba. Edition is limited to 1750 signed and numbered prints; image size is 12 x 18 inches.

These membership prints may be purchased individually or, as a Bonus, you may take advantage of a special matching numbers offer by sending $185 to receive both prints bearing the same number. All memberships include MWA's quarterly magazine, The Minnesota Waterfowler, membership card, MWA decal, and Operation Canvasback decal.

Your donations will be put to work by the MWA, a private, non-profit organization dedicated to the preservation, restoration and creation of waterfowl and wildlife habit at in Minnesota. Through proceeds from memberships, fundraisers and donations, MWA and its members have championed the cause of waterfowl and their habitat on the legislative, educational, and environmental battlefront for 25 years.

To order the prints, and help MWA celebrate its 25th Anniversary, send check or money order to the Minnesota Waterfowl Association, 5701 Normandale Road, Minneapolis, MN 55424. Visa and Mastercard welcome. For more information, call 612-922-2832.

Lake Bronson plans altered

Mother Nature has redirected plans for the rehabilitation of gamefish in Lake Bronson. Originally, a drawdown of the reservoir behind the Lake Bronson Dam was supposed to shrink the main lake basin inside Lake Bronson State Park to approximately 50 acres. Fisheries personnel with the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) had proposed a rotenone treatment for late October to remove undesirable species. After that, game fish were to be restocked in Lake Bronson next spring.

Mother Nature stepped in this fall in a big way when rainfall, in amounts nearly double the seasonal averages for September and October, began refilling Lake Bronson at a rate faster than the reservoir could be drained.

A partial drawdown had been planned and carried out, by opening up the spillway at the top of the 55-year-old dam, to facilitate repairing a leak that was first discovered two years ago. When the leaks were discovered, experts in the DNR Divisions of Waters, Parks & Recreation, and Fish & Wildlife, along with the DNR Bureau of Engineering, began work on a joint plan to repair the leaks and rehabilitate the fish community in Lake Bronson at the same time.

The drawdown was started in mid-August this year, and DNR officials announced a period of unlimited fishing in the lake that was to have lasted through October 14. Unlimited fishing in Lake Bronson has now been extended through Sunday, November 10.

The decision to cancel the fall rotenone treatment was made after several weeks of intensive monitoring of stream flows in the watershed and consultation with the state climatologist. Elevated flows in the Two Rivers system made it nearly impossible to draw down the lake and made the potential for a successful rotenone treatment much more difficult if not impossible.

The dam repairs delayed by the same heavy precipitation were completed in early October. While the dam was being repaired, contractors made a fortunate discovery—The outlet control near the base of the dam, which engineers had originally thought to be only one-foot in diameter, was actually a concrete structure about two-feet-square, fitted with smaller control valves on either end. If the ends could be modified, it was determined that the outlet could provide a five-fold increase in outflow capacity—from the current 12 cubic feet per second (CFS) to approximately 60 CFS.

"The discovery of that outlet valve and what could be done with it, offered us an alternative plan," said Henry Drewes, DNR Fisheries Project Coordinator at Bemidji.

"Even if we have more rain this fall," continued Drewes, "Freeze-up will eventually reduce the natural inflow from upstream. The increased capacity of the modified outlet valve will permit us to lower the water level—perhaps even as low as the 50-acre size we had originally hoped for."

The DNR is hoping that severe winter conditions combined with reduced water levels will provide conditions sufficient to cause winterkill in Lake Bronson. A thick sheet of lake ice and/or heavy snow cover will reduce the amount of sunlight reaching aquatic plants, thus reducing or stopping photosynthesis and oxygen production. When combined with a decreased inflow of fresh water, and substantially reduced water levels—the fish themselves—along with the natural oxidation (decay) of dying plant matter—will deplete oxygen supplies below what is required to keep fish alive.

Wildlife Stamp Art

Top art entries in the Minnesota Migratory Waterfowl, Pheasant, and Trout/Salmon stamp contests will be on display from Oct. 26, 1991, through Jan. 26, 1992, at the Bell Museum of Natural History, 17th Street and University Avenue S.E., on the University of Minnesota campus in Minneapolis.

Contests were held in August and September to select designs for the 1992 stamps. The top works from among 194 total entries were selected for the special show at the Bell Museum.

Contest winners this year were Bob Hautman of Plymouth in the Migratory Waterfowl Stamp Contest with a painting of Barrow's goldeneyes in flight; Stephen Hamrick of Savage in the Trout/Salmon Stamp Contest with a painting of a brown trout; and David Chapman of Hopkins in the Pheasant Habitat Stamp Contest.

The stamp art contests, which are only open to Minnesota artists, offer no prizes. The winning artists retain reproduction rights to their designs, however, and they usually issue limited edition prints.

Most Waterfowl and pheasant hunters, and trout or salmon anglers are required to purchase the appropriate stamps. Revenues from the sale of waterfowl, pheasant and trout/salmon stamps are dedicated to the development, restoration, maintenance and preservation of the species and their habitats.

Precinct No. 4: (Ward 4) Knox Elem. School, 701 Hughes St.
Precinct No. 5: (Ward 5) Redeemer Church, 1300 Nora St.
Precinct No. 6: St. Hilaire Library, St. Hilaire, MN
Precinct No. 7: Northrop Elem. School, 614 N. LaBree Ave.

4. Pursuant to Minnesota Statutes, Section 205A.09, the polling places will remain open for voting for the school district elections between the hours of 7:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m.

5. The clerk is directed to prepare a map illustrating the boundaries of each combined precinct, to post the map of the combined precincts in the administrative offices of the school district and to file a copy of the map with the county auditors of each of the counties in which the school district is located in whole or in part. The clerk shall also file a copy of this resolution with each said county auditor.

Motion carried unanimously.

A motion was made by C. Clark and seconded by D. Twomey approving the following relating to the election of school board members and calling the school district general election.

BE IT RESOLVED by the School Board of Independent School District #564 as follows:

1. It is necessary for the school district to hold its general election for the purpose of electing two school board members for terms of three years each.

The following individuals have filed affidavits of candidacy for said election during the period established for filing such affidavits:

Larry Belmont
Hank Hallstrom

2. The general election is hereby called and directed to be held on Tuesday, the 5th day of November, 1991, between the hours of 7:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m.

3. Pursuant to Minnesota Statutes, Section 205.11, the combined school district voting precincts and polling place with those precincts established and designated by school board resolution dated September 23, 1991, for school elections not held on the day of a statewide election, are hereby designated for said general election.

4. The clerk is hereby authorized and directed to cause written notice of said election to be provided by the county auditor of each county in which the school district is located, in whole or in part, at least thirty (30) days before the date of said election. The notice shall include the date of said election and the office or offices to be voted on at said election.

The clerk is hereby authorized and directed to cause notice of said election to be posted at the administrative office of the school district and at each polling place at least ten (10) days before the date of said election.

The clerk is hereby authorized and directed to cause a sample ballot to be posted at the administrative office of the school district at least four (4) days before the date of said election and to cause a sample ballot to be posted in each polling place on election day. The sample ballot shall not be printed on the same color paper as the official ballot.

The clerk is hereby authorized and directed to cause notice of said general election to be published in the official newspaper of the district for two (2) consecutive weeks with the last publication being at least one (1) week before the date of said election.

The notice of election so posted and published shall state the offices to be filled set forth in the form of ballot below, and shall include information concerning each established precinct and polling place.

5. The clerk is authorized and directed to secure buff colored ballot boxes for the deposit of ballots at each polling place and to acquire and distribute such election materials as may be necessary for the proper conduct of this election.

6. The clerk is further authorized and directed to cause buff colored printed ballots to be prepared for use at said election in substantially the following form:

☐ Write In Candidate
☐ Write In Candidate

On the back of all ballots shall be printed "OFFICIAL BALLOT", the date of the election, and lines for the initials of two judges. The printing shall be so placed as to be visible when the ballot is properly folded for deposit.

7. The name of each candidate for office at this election shall be rotated with the name of the other candidates for the same office so that the name of each candidate appears substantially an equal number of times at the top, at the bottom and at each intermediate place in the group of candidates for that office.

8. The clerk is hereby authorized and directed to prepare instructions to printer for layout of the ballots in groups of 50. Before a contract is awarded for printing ballots the printer shall furnish, in accordance with Minnesota Statutes, Section 204D.04, a sufficient bond, letter of credit, or certified check acceptable to the clerk in an amount not less than $1,000. The clerk shall set the amount of the bond, letter of credit, or certified check in an amount no greater than the value of the purchase.

9. Any and all general election judges appropriately and duly sworn by the County/City/School District officials are hereby appointed as judges of said election.

The election judges shall act as clerks of election, count the ballots cast and submit them to the school board for canvass in the manner provided for other school district elections.

Motion carried unanimously.

The proposed Alcohol and Drug-Free Workplace Policy and the issue of student representation on the Board were discussed and will be brought back for further discussion and action at future meetings.

A motion was made by H. Sjulson and seconded by D. Twomey to approve payment to Dr. Robert Duncan, Superintendent of Schools, for 5 unused vacation days for the 1990-91 contract year due to circumstances which prohibited him from being able to use them. A roll call vote was taken which resulted in the following: M. Anderson - yes; L. Belmont - yes; C. Clark - yes; H. Hallstrom - yes; D. Kiesow - yes; H. Sjulson - yes; and D. Twomey - no. Motion carried.

Workers' compensation forum scheduled in TRF November 7

In an effort to raise the visibility of Minnesota's "number one business issue," the Minnesota Workers' Compensation coalition will join with the Thief River Falls chamber of commerce to host a special workers' compensation forum Thursday, November 7, at 7 p.m. in the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls.

The 90-minute forum will feature Larry Koll, "a recognized expert on Minnesota's complicated and costly workers' compensation system," according to forum sponsors.

A prominent St. Paul attorney and longtime workers' compensation practitioner, Koll will outline for those attending the forum the items that make Minnesota's present law so costly. He will also detail the changes being sought by the coalition in the 1992 legislative session to gain "real reform" that will result in lower premium costs for Minnesota's employers.

"We want businesses of the Thief River Falls area to realize that three per cent of the people presently using the Minnesota workers' comp system account for 73 per cent of all the costs," Koll said. "We also want them to realize that unless we get some changes in the long term disability provisions of the workers' comp law, we simply will not have real reform of the system."

The Thief River Falls workers' compensation forum is open to all area business people at no charge. In addition, forum organizers have extended a special invitation to area members of the Minnesota state legislature to participate in the event.

"It's important that lawmakers hear some of the horror stories from our local employers on how workers' compensation rates are crippling their efforts to create new jobs in this state," added Bob Bergan, manager of the Thief River Falls chamber of commerce.

The Minnesota Workers' Compensation Coalition is a statewide organization of business organizations committed to seeking passage of meaningful reform of the state's workers' comp system during the 1992 session of the legislature. The Workers' Compensation forum in Thief River Falls is one of 15 similar forums being held in communities throughout Minnesota in October and November.

Members of the coalition are the Minnesota Agri-Growth council; Minnesota Retail Merchants association; Minnesota Business Partnership; Minnesota Automobile Dealers association; Minnesota Chamber of Commerce and Industry; National Federation of Independent Business; Minnesota Trucking association; Minnesota Hospital association; Employers Association, Inc.; Insurance Federation of Minnesota; and the Printing Industry of Minnesota.

Also the Minnesota Turkey Growers association; Minnesota Grocers association; Minnesota Motel association; Minnesota Dakota Retail Hardware association; Minnesota Electrical association; Northwestern Lumbermen's association; Independent Business Association of Minnesota; Northwest Agri-Dealers association; Minnesota Plant Food and Chemicals association; Farm Equipment association; Farmers Elevator association; and Mid-West Food Processors association.

WIC & EPS Hold November Clinics

Women, infants and children supplemental nutritional educational program (WIC) is being held during the month of November.

Infants and children up to the age of five and women who are pregnant or breastfeeding may be eligible for the program. Prenatal nutrition is a vital part of producing a healthy baby. It is considered important to apply for WIC early in pregnancy; no proof of pregnancy is needed.

All potential clients must write to the EPS-WIC service and complete an application.

The schedule for WIC and EPS clinics for November includes November 4, 11, 15 and 21, all at the Redeemer Lutheran church in Thief River Falls.

Immunizations will be given November 15 from 9 to 9:30 a.m. only, at $3 per immunization.

For further information concerning the WIC and EPS programs, call or write: WIC/EPS, Quin County, Park Place Mall, Red Lake Falls, MN 56750 or telephone (218) 253-2125 or 1-800-223-1591 (toll free).

The WIC program must treat everyone the same. You can not be treated unfairly because of your race, color, national origin, age, sex or handicap. If you think you have been treated unfairly, you should write to: Administrator, Food and Nutrition Services, U.S. Department of Agriculture, 3101 Park Center Drive, Alexandria, VA 22302.

The Second Section

Scott Slocum of Garrison, ND, moved to Thief River Falls last year so that he could attend the Technical College and take computer assisted drafting drafting courses. Slocum, a quadriplegic, is able to operate a computer with a special head set. He does have some use of his right arm. The fork in the equipment in his hand is a very useful tool.

Quadriplegic looks only for cooperation

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Scott Slocum became a quadriplegic on August 4, 1981. He was swinging off a six foot cliff over an island beach in North Dakota when the waterski tow rope he was swinging from broke. From about 15 feet in the air he landed on his shoulders breaking his neck at the fourth and fifth vertebrae. It took hours getting him from the island beach to the hospital.

Slocum was 19 at the time of the accident — an age when most young men are just getting started in an occupation. Slocum spent years receiving medical attention and rehabilitation. Now he's attempting to start a new chapter in his life from a wheelchair. Slocum entered the Technical College in Thief River Falls and began taking computer assisted design and architectural drafting classes.

Slocum, who lived in Garrison, ND, before moving to Thief River Falls last year with his wife, said he heard of the CAD program in Thief River Falls while taking a class at Bismarck State Community College.

Like many handicapped individuals, Slocum has faced many hurdles and obstacles most of the population never face. One of the first obstacles he faced when he learned of the program in Thief River Falls was finding an apartment. Slocum had to wait about two years to get a handicapped accessible apartment in Thief River Falls.

Danica Robson, a representative of Options, a non-profit resource agency for the handicapped, explained that there is only one handicapped apartment in all of Thief River Falls. Robson said nursing homes and some HUD housing are handicapped accessible, but a nursing home really isn't appropriate for someone Scott's age.

Slocum said he hasn't faced educational barriers at the college. The college administration and faculty have been very accommodating, he said. When his van broke down last year and he couldn't get to school a tutor came to his apartment and brought a computer to him.

Also, the computer assisted drafting program he has entered was designed to assist handicapped individuals even before Slocum arrived at school. Aside from normal educational barriers, such as tests, physical barriers still pose the greatest obstacle.

Slocum has an automated wheelchair and a van with a lift, but those tools don't always help. Some cooperation is required if Slocum wants to go to the county courthouse, city auditorium or post office. Those buildings are not handicapped accessible.

This month the plight of handicapped is being promoted by what is called National Disability Employment Awareness Month. New laws go into affect this summer and employers should be aware of the changes. These laws are designed to give handicapped individuals an opportunity to participate in the workplace.

For someone who has come so far, Slocum said he is looking for a little understanding and for people to meet him at least half way.

Human relations course taught by interactive TV

"Human Relations in the Work Place" is the title of an interactive television course to be taught from 6 to 9 p.m. Wednesdays, November 6, 13 and 20, at four locations in the northwestern Minnesota area.

Sessions may be taken at the Thief River Falls and East Grand Forks technical colleges, University of Minnesota—Crookston and Badger high school. Mary Fontes will be the instructor.

Session topics include conflict management November 6, harassment in the workplace November 13 and balancing work and family November 20. Fee will be $18.

Assessors office tells how to appeal assessments

from the International Association of Assessing Officers

Taxpayers are justifiably concerned about rising property taxes. But how can anger at higher taxes be turned into effective protest and a successful appeal of assessed value? Act according to three important principles and you may halt rising taxes and file a successful appeal. Even if you can't change anything, you will understand more about what really needs to be changed.

1. Separate the issue of higher taxes from the issue of the accuracy of the assessed value of your property. Elected officials, school boards, and other special taxing authorities establish your tax bill. Assessors estimate the market value of your property. An increase in value doesn't mean your taxes will go up.

2. Understand how the assessor arrived at the value of your property. If you do file an appeal, this information will help you construct your case. Find several properties similar to yours (called comparables), preferably in the same neighborhood. Find out what their assessed values are or the prices at which they sold, if they have sold recently.

3. Establish a cooperative, not an adversarial, relationship with the assessor's office. The office can and will provide you with the information you need to evaluate your assessment, find similar properties, and file your appeal. Be sure to follow instructions carefully. A missed deadline or incorrect filing can cause an appeal to be dismissed.

Tax Rates vs. Assessed Values. The assessor unfairly bears the brunt of anger about rising taxes. But yelling at the assessor about your tax bill is as effective as yelling at your mail carrier because the price of postage stamps has gone up. The assessor's job is narrower than most taxpayers believe. Assessors don't decide how much tax is to be paid and they don't establish tax rates. Their task is to estimate, as accurately as possible, the market value of your property.

The tax rate is a relationship between the amount of taxes to be raised and the tax base. The tax rate is calculated by dividing the tax base the total assessed value of all taxable property in the jurisdiction) into the amount of tax that must be raised.

If officials claim they are not raising taxes because the tax rate remains the same, the taxpayer should be wary. The question to ask officials is how much total assessed value has changed. If total assessed value has risen, then a tax increase has been "enacted," even though the tax rate remains the same.

The next question to ask public officials is whether increased services or the increased costs of services justify increased taxes.

What determines value. Assessors estimate the fair market value of a property, that is, the price most people would pay for it in its condition as of the assessment date. The best indicator of fair market value is market activity. Buyers and sellers create market value by their transactions. In an appeal, the best evidence of market value is sale price — the sale price of the subject property or of similar properties called comparables.

However, sale price is not necessarily the same as market value. The assessor examines all sales, qualifies the sales, and adjusts them for special circumstances that might decrease or inflate prices. An owner in a hurry to sell might sell for less, for example. Comparable sales, however, are recognized by courts as the best evidence of market value.

Many taxpayers are angered at increases in assessed values because the property has not changed. But physical change is not the only reason for a change in property value. The market is. If a town's major industry leaves, property values collapse. Conversely, as decaying neighborhoods with good housing stock are discovered by young home-buyers, prices gradually rise and then soar as the neighborhood becomes fashionable. Inflation also increases property value.

How Assessors value property. The first step in valuation is data collection. It collects sales data, data on social, economic and environmental factors affecting property value, for example, employment, population and income patterns, interest rates, construction costs, regional location factors, zoning and rent control. In short, the assessor's office has an abundance of data relevant to the value of your

NCC theatre to perform "The Good Doctor"

Northland Community College's fall play, "The Good Doctor" by Neil Simon, will be presented this week at the Northland Community College Theatre. Performances run Thursday through Saturday, October 24-26 at 8 p.m. and Sunday, October 27 at 2 p.m.

The play is a departure from Simon's usual modern day cast of characters. The play is based on the humorous short stories of Anton Chekhov and set in turn-of-the-century Russia. Five actors perform 23 different characters in the hilarious series of short sketches that make up the play.

Cast members include: Peter Olson, Pelican Rapids; Shaun Engelsrud, Detroit Lakes; Denise Gajeski, Argyle; Mark Thornton, Thief River Falls; and Linda Smerek, Grygla. The show is directed by Janet Haak Aarness, instructor of Speech and Drama at Northland Community College.

Crews working on the show include: Kari Anderson, Kelly Engelman, Cheryl Erickson, Corey Jorgenson, Dean Loerzel, Sharan Noreen, Dena Prestebak, Carter River Valley....

Many families from the area had their pictures taken Sunday with the Atlas Title Company County plat book to be published soon. Afterwards Helen Chervestad stopped over to visit Barb and Gary Anderson and family.

Elaine Wiseth (Mrs. Lloyd) is staying with her daughter, Sandy in Fargo, seeking medical attention.

Selmer Holsted is at the Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls and not feeling too well.

GOD ENABLED PEOPLE TO WRITE THE BOOKS THAT WE ENJOY

Have you ever thought about how empty our lives would be if it weren't for books? We have them in our homes and yet seldom appreciate the wealth of learning and enjoyment they have brought to us. They are relatively inexpensive, particularly the paperbacks, compared to what they offer us, and they may be borrowed free of charge from our local library. Books cover virtually every subject in the world; including science, history, astronomy, adventure, romance, westerns, mysteries, children's stories, advice on everything from cooking to gardening to home repair, etc., and religion, which includes the greatest book of all, the Bible. At your House of Worship, thank God for the ability He has granted to the authors of all those books, which have done so much to enrich our lives.

Without books, history is silent, literature dumb, science crippled, ...and speculation at a standstill.
— Barbara W. Tuchman

"I suppose that .. the world itself could not contain the books that should be written."

Assessor tells how to appeal assessments

To apply this information to valuing property, the assessor constructs a model — a simplified representation of how market factors affect value. Most residential property is valued with a cost model or a sales comparison model.

Assessors use more than one comparable, usually three to five. Also, they use more complex models that incorporate many more factors. And rather than considering properties one-at-a-time, assessors use computer software to appraise at one time many properties of the same general type, for example, townhouses or raised ranches.

The appeals process. Every jurisdiction has an appeals process mandated by law. The first step is usually an informal meeting with someone in the assessor's office. During or before this informal meeting, you should review the property record form on your property to be sure all the information is correct. Know the lot size, number of stories, square footage, and condition of your property. If you have an accurate survey of your property, be sure to bring it with you to the meeting.

Your aims at this informal review — which is not yet an appeal — should be (1) to verify the information on your property record form, or correct it, (2) to make sure you understand how your value was arrived at, (3) to discover if the value is fair compared with the values of similar properties in your neighborhood, (4) to find out if you qualify for any exemptions, and (5) to be sure you understand how to file a formal appeal and how the office can help you, if you still want to appeal.

The decision about a value change, if any, may have to be made by someone else and communicated to you in writing. If this is so, find out when you may expect to hear from the office.

The first level of formal appeal is usually to a local board. Your appeal is more likely to be successful if you present evidence that comparable properties in the same neighborhood are assessed for less than yours. Copies of property record forms on your comparables, with records of their assessed values or sale prices are your best defense. Note any differences between your property and the comparables and point out these differences. The appeal board will be interested only in the fairness and accuracy of the value placed on your property, not in whether you can afford to pay your taxes or whether taxes are too high.

If you disagree with the local board's decision, the next, and highest, level of administrative review is a state tax tribunal. After that, unresolved legal issues may be taken to the state supreme court. Residential appeals are usually settled at the local level.

Always remember to view the assessor's office as an ally, not an adversary.

by David Hill
Times Associate Editor

Education was an important issue in the media just before the Thomas hearings — you remember that far back don't you? It seems everyone was in an uproar over dismal SAT scores, which surely means education needs an overhaul, right? Well I'm not so convinced it does but The Times recently received the following opinion pieces which The Times offers as food for thought. The first piece by Gene Mammenga, Minnesota Commissioner of Education, encourages citizens to attend hearings on a proposed graduation rule. One has been scheduled for Thief River Falls on October 30 at Northland Community College. The public meetings will be held from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Working together to raise academic achievement levels

by Gene Mammenga
MN Commissioner of Education

One of the major issues confronting our public schools and our society is raising academic achievement levels for all our students.

While we can take pride in the fact that Minnesota students score high in most subject areas compared to student nationwide, the sobering facts are that national test scores have been dropping for most of the past 20 years, that U.S. students as a whole rank near the bottom in math and science compared to students in other industrialized countries, and that our students show serious deficits in higher-level thinking skills, reading comprehension and cultural literacy.

To do well nationally is no longer enough. Our Minnesota students and schools must perform at world-class levels. Indeed, for the first time in its history, the United States has adopted a national education agenda in order to restore us to a position of global competitiveness.

The issues that confront us are serious. They involve not only maintaining our standard of living and our way of life but ensuring that our children and their children after them have well-paying, satisfying jobs and a sense of hope and confidence in the future.

The reasons for the slip in our performance are many — a relaxing of educational standards that began in the late sixties, the broad inclusiveness of our system and the increasing heterogeneity of our student population, growing poverty and other problems that put more and more of our students at risk, changes in society and families that have eroded discipline and standards, more students working in order to buy the things they want, inordinately high rates of TV viewing and a decline in reading, a complacency and laziness in the culture as whole, and a general shift in values that has tended to put learning and education at the bottom of the heap. There is more than enough blame to go around.

The question is, How do we remedy the situation? We cannot look to the schools alone for the solution. They are part of it, to be sure, but our response to the decline in academic achievement has to be community-wide. Schools, parents, businesses, community groups and agencies — everybody must pull together at the local level to create a climate of high expectations and provide the means to ensure that every student achieves those standards.

That is why Governor Arne Carlson has launched Minnesota 2000, a campaign to build grassroots support for education change in every community in Minnesota.

At the state level, we have mapped out an action agenda for the 1990s designed to ensure success for all learners. It spells out goals and strategies at the state and local levels in the areas of school readiness, education restructuring, early prevention and risk reduction, the school years, and lifelong learning.

In the near future, Minnesota 2000 and action strategies will be discussed. In the meantime, there is something you can do. A series of public meetings are being held statewide this fall to get input on a proposed graduation rule.

That rule is designed to get local districts to set high expectations and put into place the mechanisms to ensure that every Minnesota high school student, upon graduation, can demonstrate possession of the knowledge, skills, and attitudes necessary for success in life. If adopted, this will be the first statewide rule in the country to base graduation on demonstrated achievement rather than on completion of courses or credits.

The State Board of Education is seeking suggestions from the public to ensure that the new rule is clear, effective, and written in a way that will enlist broad support and will truly benefit learners. The meeting in your area will be held between 7 and 9 p.m. October 30 in the Northland Community College theatre. You can obtain a copy of the proposed rule by writing Joyce Thompson, Instructional Design, Minn. Dept. of Education, 660 Capitol Square Bldg., St. Paul, MN 55101. I hope that you will come to your local meeting.

Pros and Cons of SATs

by Philip C. Clarke

(As American high school students headed back to class this year, they were confronted by last year's dismal SAT results. Verbal scores hit an all-time low of 443 out of a possible 800, and math scores declined to 474 after four years of no change.)

The College Board's Scholastic Aptitude Tests or SATs certainly are not the be-all and end -all of high school education. But some educators are trying to hide behind its imperfections. They want to shoot the messenger, so to speak.

There are several sides to this question. For example, the pool of test-takers varies widely from one state to another. Last year, the five top-scoring states had only five to 10 per cent of their students taking the test — the cream of the crop — while the five bottom states tested around 60 per cent of their students. Critics correctly point out that such a wide disparity makes comparisons between states nearly meaningless.

Less convincing is the argument that more minorities taking the test are bringing down the overall average score. Emily Feistritzer, director of the National Center for Education Information, says: "We argue that it is a content issue, that kids just are not learning." She notes that since 1985, the white male verbal and math scores have dropped several points, while test averages of black women have increased by about 25 points in the last decade.

Still, some activists contend that the SAT is biased against minority cultures. On such critic, researcher James Loewen of Catholic University, formulated an alternative SAT example questions that would be more comprehensible to inner-city blacks than, for example, a question about Shakespearean sonnets. Loewen's multiple choice problem read: "Saturday Ajax got an LD," and the answers were" a) He had smoked too much grass, b) He tripped out on drugs. c) He showed it off to his fox. d) He became wised up." This extreme example makes its point, but to what avail, wonders Dinesh D'Souza, author of Illiberal Education: The Politics of Race and Sex on Campus. "Why a familiarity with this vocabulary is a good preparation for college, Loewen does not say," writes D'Souza. D'Souza goes on to make the point that charges of cultural bias make no sense at all in relation to the math section of the SAT, where average scores for racial groups "persist in equal or greater measure."

"Indeed, the gaps in mean tests scores tell us that there are serious problems to address," D'Souza writes. "Unfortunately, instead of addressing the root problems and taking up hard questions such as illiteracy, lack of motivation and social pathologies. . . critics and activists have decided to fault the test. But the test only serves as a kind of academic thermometer. When a thermometer registers a temperature of 102, the patient has a fever." Concludes "D'Souza: "It is no remedy to stomp on the instrument and call for a new devise that would register a more congenial temperature."

Ironically, the SAT was introduced in 1926 to help fight against discrimination by providing a level-playing field. While that field, like any other, has its dips and bumps, it is the same field for all the players. It's up to the schools to give each one of them the right equipment to play the game.

As a measure of how far we have to go in reaching goals set by President Bush and the nation's governors for the year 2000, the National Education Goals Panel this fall reported that fewer than 1 in 5 of fourth, eighth, and 12th graders today is "competent" in basic mathematics. Education Secretary Lamar Alexander says the gap between what we know and what we need to know is "almost shocking."

LETTERS

To the editor,

I'm a 21-year-old resident of Thief River Falls. I just don't understand why people have to be racist. Who cares what skin color you are or nationality you are. I don't know about you but I don't think I'm the only person in Minnesota who's getting sick and tired of this racism. . . !

I mean so what if your white, black or Indian. What's the big deal? I read in the Radio Gram that some leaders of the band of Red Lake Indians are upset at the Atlanta Braves fans for doing the Tomahawk Chop and Indian chanting. Big Deal! If I were Indian I'd be proud to have a pro baseball team named the Atlanta "Braves". I'd like to know who's being racist here, the Indians or the fans. In respect to the proposed casino, I think there is some racism towards the indians and this doesn't make me very proud to be a white American. We — all nationalities — need to grow up and quit fighting like children. After all this isn't the 1800s and early 1900s, it's almost the year 2000. We should be done with this feud between all and all nationalities live in peace.

Sincerely,
Kurt Dupree

"We certainly have considerable of a kick coming from the Great Northern for the train they are sending up here at present. Polling places for the general election on Tuesday, November 5, open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. Locations of the polling places are identified above. First ward is located at the Heritage Community Center. Second ward is at Zion Lutheran church. Third ward is at the Skylite apartments. Fourth ward is located at Knox school. Fifth ward is located at Redeemer Lutheran church. Seven of eight positions on the council are on the ballot this year. Two positions on the school board are on the ballot.

Seven of eight council positions on ballot

by David Hill
Associate Editor

All candidates are encouraging residents to get out and vote on November 5th. On that Tuesday, residents will have an opportunity to make an impact on city government in Thief River Falls.

This year, residents of Thief River Falls will be asked to elect seven of eight representatives to the city council.

Seven of the eight positions on the council are on the election ballot this year by coincidence, so voters have a real opportunity to give some direction to the council. Candidates who have filed for the election include the following:

Mayor — Robert Reeve and Paul Olson.

Alderman at large (2 year term) — J.J. Womack and John T. Anderson.

Alderman at large (4 year term) — Jean Heinrichs and Arden "Bud" Comstock.

First Ward — Milt Burstad and Milan Borsheim.

Second Ward — David Carlson and Bill Hogan.

Third Ward — Dale Wennberg.

Fifth Ward — Don Goodrich and Frank Hamerlinck.

In this issue of The Times, as is the tradition at The Times before an election, candidates were asked to provide readers with a brief history of their background and discuss any issues. Of course, there was no charge to the candidates. The Times believes the articles are a valuable public service.

Paul Olson
Candidate for Mayor

Paul Olson, candidate for Mayor, believes that it's time for Thief River Falls to experience political renovation. I believe that change may exist, if the voting public becomes responsible as a community whole. Paul Olson attended North Dakota State University, studying undergraduate school in political science, graduate school, studying guidance and counseling. Currently seeking a long waited political future.

For nearly two years I have worked as a counselor in Thief River Falls. It is my goal, within the next six months, to open an office of my own in Thief River Falls to serve the people. I have heard of many complaints directed towards our city council and some of their decisions. We all must remember that poor decisions are

Robert Reeve
Candidate for Mayor

For the past five years it has been my privilege to represent the residents of the fifth ward by serving as alderman. In addition, I was selected by the members of the city council to serve as vice mayor for the past four years.

My interest in seeking the office of mayor began almost four years ago when the incumbent indicated that this was to be his last term and that he would not seek re-election. Since that time, many individuals from throughout the community have urged me to become a candidate for the office of mayor.

Thief River Falls has been home to my family, which consists of my wife JoAnn, daughter Linda, and son David, since the summer of 1963. Linda is married and lives with her family in Bismarck, ND, and is employed as a medical tech-

John T. Anderson (2 year)
Alderman at Large Candidate

I am John T. Anderson, candidate for alderman-at-large, the two year term. I appreciate the Thief River Falls Times giving me this opportunity to speak to you.

A little about myself. My wife Janette and I have lived in Thief River Falls for 20 years. We have four children. I have an honorable discharge from the U.S. Army, having served in Korea. Besides being active in the V.F.W., I belong to the American Legion, Eagles Club and the Lions. I am active in the Min-

J.J. Womack (2 year)
Alderman at Large Candidate

Thank you "The Times" for giving me the opportunity of telling your readers about my background and involvement in the community.

A native of the State of Minnesota, I received a BBA from the University of Minnesota. I served in the U.S. Army from 1941 until 1946 and as a result, am a member of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Our family moved to Thief River Falls in 1958 where I was associated with the former Union State Bank

Arden "Bud" Comstock
Alderman at Large Candidate

My name is Arden "Bud" Comstock, candidate for Alderman at Large 4-year-term.

I was born in Thief River Falls and have been a lifelong resident of this community.

I enlisted in the United States Navy in 1971 and spent three years as a jet engine mechanic. I also worked on an aircraft refueling team and as a ground support equipment operator. My three year term of duty took me to Whidby Island Washington, Midway Island

Milan Borsheim
First Ward Candidate

Hi! I'm your neighbor. Through the encouragement of numerous residents of the First Ward, I now seek the position of Alderman of the First Ward and would like to share with you the following:

Having moved to Thief River Falls in 1942, I have lived in the first Ward at six different locations for my entire life, meeting new neighbors and friends.

I entered Northrop school, and living on Red Lake Boulevard had to cross the Soo Line tracks to get to

Milt Burstad
First Ward Candidate

I am Milt Burstad, 57 years old, married to Della and reside at 1210 Centennial Dr. which is in Ward I and located directly across T.H. 1 from Northland Community College. I was born and raised on a farm and went to school in Thief River Falls. Before the Rustad Addition was annexed by the city I built my home on Centennial Dr. 30 years ago.

I presently serve as the alderman of ward I having been elected to that office in the fall of 1987 to a

David Carlson
Second Ward Candidate

Thief River Falls is still a great place to live. We have survived economic downturns, population shifts and an occasional controversy. A positive attitude is a major key to success.

With that in mind, I would like to introduce myself as a candidate for Second Ward Alderman. My name is David Carlson. I am 35 year of age and I was born and raised in Thief River Falls. I am a lifetime residents of the second ward. My

Stacey Vagle and Gary Stratton wed Sept. 21

Stacey Vagle and Gary Stratton were united in marriage September 21 at the Zion Lutheran church in Thief River Falls. Rev. Dennis Raymond officiated at the 4 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Marshall and Jennifer Vagle of Thief River Falls. Parents of the groom are Sonny and Kathy Stratton of Grygla.

Special music was provided by Lyndon Johnson and Laurel Johnson, cousins of the bride, who sang "This is the Day," "On Eagles Wings," "In Love" and "Household of Faith." Thor Smerek and Brian Byklum, friends of the groom, played trumpets. Phyllis Dalager served as organist, playing "Homecoming" and the "Wedding March."

The church was decorated with coral flower arrangements with coral flowers at the altar, white lights at the front of the church, candelabra and coral and white church pews.

The bride chose a mirror taffeta gown with venise lace and schiffli embroidery, jewel neckline, broad-shouldered fitted bodice trimmed with hand-beaded venise lace and embroidered medallions, basque waist, long fitted lace trimmed sleeves and V-shaped peplum over a slim sheath skirt, extending to a chapel train. The bride complemented her gown with a pearled V-shaped headpiece with pearl sprays and sequins with short layered veil. The bride carried a bouquet of coral tiger lilies, peach mums, white roses with eucalyptus, pearl sprays and irridescent babies' breath.

Jackie Forsberg of Thief River Falls, friend of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Angie Kiesow of Goodridge, sister of the groom, Nicki Woodmen of Grand Forks, friend of the bride, Karla Byklum of Grygla, friend of the bride, and Jill Sandahl of Thief River Falls, cousin of the bride. They wore black velvet double breasted short jackets with peplums and straight coral taffeta full length skirts and carried heart-shaped bouquets with coral tiger lilies, peach mums and white roses with ribbons, pearl sprays and irridescent babies' breath.

The miniature bride was Caslie Homstad of Lancaster, cousin of the bride. She wore a white satin dress with pearls and sequins with train and V-shaped headpiece with pearl sprays and sequins and carried a bouquet matching the bride's.

Flower girl was Cassie Homstad of Lancaster, cousin of the bride. She wore a coral taffeta dress with lace collar with coral roses around the neckline and a lace underskirt. She also wore a white hat with coral ribbons hanging down and white shoes with coral roses on them. She carried a basket of coral, peach and white flowers with pearl sprays, irridescent babies' breath and ribbons.

Connie Homstad, aunt of the bride, served as the bride's personal attendant.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with tails with white bow tie and cummerbund. His boutonniere was a rose with irridescent babies' breath and coral irridescent ribbons.

Bruce Kiesow of Goodridge, brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Rick Mosher of Grygla, friend of the groom, Brent Pederson of Viking, friend of the groom, Jeff Loken of Roseau, uncle of the groom, and Matt Vagle of Thief River Falls, brother of the bride. They wore black tuxedos with tails and white pinstripes and coral bow ties and cummerbunds. Their boutonnieres were roses with irridescent babies' breath and coral irridescent ribbon.

Miniature groom was Jesse Stratton of Grygla, brother of the groom. He wore a white tuxedo with tails and white cummerbund and bow tie. His boutonniere was a rose with irridescent babies' breath and coral irridescent ribbon.

Ring bearer was Tony Nordby of Grygla, cousin of the groom. He wore a short black jacket and shorts with a coral tie. His boutonniere was a rose with irridescent babies' breath and coral irridescent ribbon.

Ushering the guests were Brian Sandahl, cousin of the bride, David Sunsdahl, cousin of the groom, and Brandi Stratton and Keri Stratton, sisters of the groom. They wore black tuxedos with tails and white pinstripes and coral cummerbunds and ties. Their boutonnieres were roses with irridescent babies' breath and coral irridescent ribbon.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a cream linen two-piece suit with lace collar. The groom's mother wore a black two-piece dress with jacket and straight skirt with a ruffle at the hem. Each wore a corsage of white roses, coral tiger lilies with pearl sprays, irridescent babies' breath and coral ribbons. The fathers of the couple wore black tuxedos with white pinstripes and black cummerbunds and bow ties. Their boutonnieres were roses with irridescent babies' breath and coral irridescent ribbon.

A reception was held for the couple following the ceremony. Host couples were Greg and Marcia Sandahl, uncle and aunt of the bride, and Wally and Pauline Sistad, uncle and aunt of the bride. Tami Morey, friend of the couple, presided over the guest book.

Highlighting the serving table was a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with coral roses and hearts featuring a fountain with five hearst surrounded with greenery and babies' breath. The cake was topped with a blown glass heart. The cake was cut by Judy Inglis and Kim Stormo, both aunts of the bride. Coffee was served by Cindy Cedergren, aunt of the bride, and Laurie Pederson, aunt of the groom. Rayette Benke, friend of the couple, and Casanda Bakken, cousin of the groom, served punch.

Flower hostesses were Deanna Hanson, aunt of the bride, and Maureen Nordby and Jean Warne, both aunts of the groom. At the gift table were Kyle Cedergren, Jacob Homstad, Brad Inglis and Mandy Inglis, all cousins of the bride. Waiters and waitresses were Kevin Warne, Kristi Warne, Penny Loken, and Tara Loken, all cousins of the groom, and Kathryn Stanley, friend of the couple. The wedding was videotaped by Betty Sletten, friend of the groom. Photographs were taken by Les Hanson, uncle of the bride. Wedding kisses were handed out by Lindsey Cedergren, cousin of the bride. Wedding ribbons were handed out by Gavin Nordby, cousin of the groom.

The couple is at home in Thief River Falls. The groom is a graduate of Grygla high school and the Thief River Falls technical college and is employed by Zavoral & Sons Construction of Grand Forks. The bride is a graduate of Lincoln high school and is employed by the Falls Clinic.

Peggy Lawerson and Jeff Sund united in marriage Sept. 12

Peggy Lawerson and Jeff Sund were married September 12 in Rockford, IL. The bride is the daughter is Clarence and Shirley Lawerson of Jamesville, WI. Parents of the groom are Orvin and Pat Sund of Thief River Falls.

Jane Erickson and Mark Schaumburg wed

Jane Beth Erickson and Mark Steven Schaumburg were united in marriage August 24 at the Trinity Lutheran church in Crookston. Rev. Gary Mikkelson officiated at the 10 a.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Milton and Beverly Erickson of Newfolden. Parents of the groom are John and Dorothy Schaumburg of Mahnomen.

Cindy Scott of Crookstan, friend of the couple, served as matron of honor. Best man was Ray Scott of Crookston, friend of the couple.

Honored guests at the ceremony were Matthew, son of the bride, Amanda, daughter of the groom, and Tylor, son of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for the couple at the Newfolden community center. Hosts were Jason Erickson, brother of the bride, and Dean Anderson, uncle of the bride, and hostess was Mary Anderson, aunt of the bride.

The wedding cake was cut by Ruby Erickson, aunt and godmother of the bride, and Jeanette Kasprowicz, aunt of the bride. Coffee was served by Elaine Schaumburg, sister-in-law of the groom, and Debbre Brault, friend of the couple. Kara Anderson, Leah Anderson and Debbie Kasprowicz, all cousins of the bride, served punch.

Flower hostess was Karla Borreson, cousin of the bride. Waitresses were Amand and Shayla Erickson, nieces of the bride, Jill Anderson, Kasey Moose and Tera Davidson, all cousins of the bride. Assisting in the kitchen were Kelly Magner and Judy Magner, Mary Anderson and Jeanette Kasprowicz. The wedding was videotaped by Kim [illegible], cousin of the bride, and Jeff Erickson, brother of the bride. Photographer was Linda Otteson.

Following a wedding trip to Duluth, the couple is at home in Crookston. The groom is a graduate of Mahnomen high school, attended the Staples technical college and is employed by Vigen Construction, Inc. of East Grand Forks. The bride is a graduate of Marshall County Central high school and the Thief River Falls technical college. She is employed by the USDA, Farmers Home administration of Crookston.

RR retirees' address needed

Persons receiving annuities from the Railroad Retirement Board by direct deposit are reminded that a current mailing address is necessary to assure delivery of important notices, such as the benefit information forms issued by the board each January for federal income tax purposes.

While direct deposit payments are electranically transferred to the beneficiary's checking or savings account, any letters or notices from the board are sent to the mailing address. The board will need a correct address on file by December 5.

Beneficiaries not on direct deposit, who may have recently changed their address, must promptly notify the board of a new address to assure delivery of their benefit payments as well as notices from the board.

To inform the board of a change of address, write to the Railroad Retirement Board at P.O. Box 383, Fargo, ND, or call 701-239-5117 between 9 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Use your railroad retirement claim number.

SBA financial assistance to Vets

Small Business Administration offers a variety of financial and management assistance services to military veterans who would like to start a small business or expand their existing business operation.

SBA can guaranty up to 90 per cent of business loans to a maximum dollar amount of $155,000 or 85 per cent of loans over that amount to a maximum of $750,000. Interest rates are competitive and are based on the New York prime rate. Application should be made to the bank of the veteran's choice.

Congress has authorized a special fund to enable SBA to make direct loans to Vietnam era and disabled veterans. To be eligible, a veteran must have served on active duty for more than 180 days, any part of which was duty between August 5, 1964 and May 7, 1975, or have a VA-rated disability of at least 30 per cent or have been discharged due to disability.

Veteran who apply for direct loans under the Special Vietnam era and Disabled Veterans Program must meet the lending criteria for regular business loans. The ceiling is $150,000 and no direct loan can be made if a guaranteed loan or other credit is available. An ability to repay the loan, adequate collateral, and equity involvement are required of the veteran applicant.

SBA offers going into business workshops and special management training seminars through its statewide network of small business development centers and Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE) chapters. These resources are also available to assist veterans with specific business management problems through one-on-one counseling offered at no charge.

To receive a Veteran's Handbook which outlines these and other SBA programs, call (612) 370-2324 or write SBA, 610-C Butler Square, 100 North Sixth Street, Minneapolis, MN 55403.

Speaking Of . . .

. . . Trick, . . or Treat

I was going to write a column about Halloween this week. I had it all planned out in my head. As usual, I got a little late with my writing and didn't get it done over the weekend, so I was planning to write it Monday night after work. Well, this column is being written Monday night, but it is not about Halloween, because today has been one of the worst days I have ever had. Talk about Halloween tricks or treats, this day has been no treat. It has been one big trick, from start to finish. Let me tell you a little about it.

First of all, I went to work on Monday morning like I almost always do. There was a lot of work to do, an overwhelming amount, to be exact, even for a Monday. I and my co-worker waded in and soon we were typing our little fingers to the bone, elbow deep in dictation. The FAX machine was peeping and squeaking and the telephone stayed lit up like a Christmas tree, either with calls going out or calls coming in, and sometimes with both. But one of the calls was for me.

I told you about expecting a grandchild a few weeks ago. Well, I bet you guessed that the call for me was "THE CALL." It was! My son said he was at the hospital in Sioux Falls and soon-to-be Momma was just fine, resting, and the baby would probably make an appearance some time today. He promised to keep me apprised of the situation by phone.

My Monday immediately became even more nerve racking. I became a nervous wreck, and I reacted just the same way many other grandmothers-to-be have reacted before me. My brain went to pot.

Not only did I start to make mistakes in my typing, but I found I could not talk right when I answered the telephone. Bad enough that, but I also could not write names and numbers correctly. I would write down a number and forget the name of the person who called, or I would write down the person's name and forget his or her number. Not good. (Good news, however, my boss did not fire me for it!)

I muddled through the day, losing things, making mistakes, forgetting names and numbers, typing gibberish, talking funny (sometimes typing funny and talking gibberish, too) and bumping into things. Every so often I would jump up from my desk and go somewhere only to forget why I went there in the first place by the time I got wherever it was that I was going, if I got there at all. It was the longest day of my life.

By late afternoon I had had enough. I became frantic. I had no telephone call, no apprisal of the situation going on in Sioux Falls, no news about a new grandchild, and I was at the end of my rope.

I decided to call the hospital. I knew the name, but not the number. I called Sioux Falls information—busy. Called again, and again, and again—busy.

What was going on? I finally called the local operator—she said there was a problem on the lines, said there was something wrong with the cables, blamed it on the weather in North Dakota and the World Series (?). But she said, so cheerfully, "Just keep right on trying, you should get through sooner or later." She gave me several more numbers to try. I tried them. They were all busy. I tried the first numbers I had tried before. They were still busy, too.

Then came the end of the day and, what else, I had to work late. The boss needed something done today and what to do but do it. Wouldn't you know it? I worked as fast as I could and kept trying the numbers. Busy.

On my way home I heard on the radio that what the operator told me was true. That cables were out all over northern Minnesota and we couldn't call out farther than Grand Forks or, maybe, if we were lucky, Detroit Lakes. Well, I didn't want to call Grand Forks or Detroit Lakes! I wanted to call Sioux Falls! I needed to know how my daughter-in-law was!

Why did it have to happen today? Why did the cable have to break today? It just isn't fair! I don't know if I am a new grandmother or not, or whether I have a granddaughter or a grandson. It just isn't fair! It isn't fair that the only time I have ever even heard of the telephones being out all over northern Minnesota is the day I am waiting to hear if I am a new grandmother. What kind of trick is this?

• • • • • • • • • •

At 3:30 A.M. I got through to the hospital and found out I have a new granddaughter. She was born almost exactly 12 hours ago, right about the time I started to get frantic. But that's all right, because now I know everything is fine and this is quite a treat, after all.

Funeral services will be held October 31 at 3 p.m. at the Eidsvold Lutheran church in Halma with Rev. Gary Halverson officiating. Interment will be in the Eidsvold cemetery. The Collins Funeral Home of Karlstad is in charge of arrangements.

Visitation will be held Wednesday after 9 a.m. at the Collins Funeral Home in Karlstad and on Thursday for one hour before the service at the church.

A complete obituary will be printed in a later edition of the Times.

Dear Readers,

A widow remarks, "If it weren't for volunteer activities, I'd have gone out of my mind after my husband died." The time-honored American tradition of volunteering enriches the quality of our lives. Countless schools, libraries, museums, hospitals and nursing homes could not operate without that most valuable gift - the gift of self - the volunteer.

Respectfully,

Belmont Funeral Home

Highlanding

The Highlanding 4-H club meeting was called to order by president Martin Dahlen. Flag pledges were said and roll call was taken. Ben Hanson gave the secretary's report for the August meeting.

The 4-H awards banquet will be held on November 1. A ham dinner will be served with the program to follow. Buy your tickets for 50 cents each before October 18. For the banquet Beattie will bring one quart pickles, Dawn Hanson will bring two dozen bars and Gerri Nelson will bring one dozen buns.

Congratulations to our state fair trip winners, Martin Dahlen and Ben Hanson. Also a congratulations to all those who completed your records—Adam Kassa, Valerie Horachek, Jason and Amy Langseth, Ben and Clifton Hanson.

Our club has three banners hanging up at the public library. They look very nice. Swimming and bowling parties were discussed but no date has been set. Meeting was adjourned.

Project talks were given by Ben Hanson on small grains that he exhibited at the state fair and Martin Dahlen on the entomology project that he showed at the state fair. A program was given by Gary Lane from the SCS office to show his different traps and how to set them. Lunch was served by Dawn Hanson.

Our next meeting will have the election of officers.

Ben Hanson, reporter

Sanders 4-H Club

Sanders 4-H club held its monthly meeting October 7 at the Sanders town hall. The meeting was called to order by Brendon Engen. Flag pledges were said and roll call was taken. A reminder was given to pick up records and state fair exhibits.

Tawnya Morkrid and Robin Asp are setting up a booth at Washington elementary school for 4-H promotion. Open house at Washington for 4-H is October 8.

We will be selling Christmas wreaths from now until November 11 and they will be delivered December 1. Our club will be cleaning ditches on October 17 at 1 p.m. A thank-you letter was read by Deb Engen from the state for a $100 donation to Operation Lift.

The awards banquet will be held November 1. A horse project meeting has been set for October 26 at 10 a.m. at the Sherry Page home. A Cloverbud meeting is scheduled for October 24 from 6:30 to 7:30 pm at the library.

Allison Page and Crissy Wegner will be giving a food project demonstration and we will have installation of officers next month.

Our next meeting will be held November 11 at the Sanders hall.

Impressions . . .

Well, it's that time of year again. The time for miniature ghosts and princesses and tramps and farmers and soldiers and cinderellas and pumpkins to invade our streets and homes. It's Halloween again.

Do you remember the Halloweens of your youth. I do. I never was much for costumes. Usually, I was either a princess or a tramp. It was hard to be a princess dressed in delicate finery when the north wind was blowing and snow was threatening. It was much easier being a tramp. All one needed was a few old and too big clothes and a bit of charcoal for dirtying a face to be a tramp. When the north wind blew, another layer of too big, old clothing could always be added to the costume.

Before we were old enough to go by ourselves to homes in the neighborhood, we were taken by our parents to a few select homes of friends. These friends always seemed to have a hard time determining who we were. Our costumes must have been quite concealing!!!

When we became old enough to leave the security of our parents accompanying us, we children always went together to trick or treat. We knew the boundaries of the few streets we could travel. We know the people in each of the homes at whose door we asked for treats. We knew that at a particular house we would be treated to homemade goodies. We knew that at another house we would be given large size candy bars. In our innocence, we did not know any terror could reign in our simple fun.

There became a time when we no longer desired to be those imagined characters of Halloween. We made fun of our slightly older or younger friends who still thought that trick or treating was a fun thing to do. We had matured! We no longer had any pleasure in pretending to be something we weren't for even one night. But, mature as we might have been, we missed the treats that we acquired as a trick or treater.

There were a few years that I had little to do with Halloween. It was a holiday for little children. The candy around the house was good, and we always made sure there was a morsel or two left for those of us who gave out the candy, but to worry about costumes or where to go or how much candy we acquired we left to others younger than ourselves.

Then came parenthood and once again I was involved in the celebrating of Halloween. As a parent I worried. I did not see this as a holiday for little children, but instead I saw it as a holiday in which I as a parent had to be especially concerned for my children.

My children saw the holiday much as I had in my youth. They enjoyed the costumes and the candy. One was usually a cowboy. The other usually had some sort of elaborate costume he would plan and create during the entire year preceding Halloween. The cowboy costume was easy. The other "creation" was hard to adjust to fit the weather each year—paperbag creations lost some of their specialness when they had to be placed over heavy winter clothing!

Now another Halloween is fast approaching. Wouldn't it be nice to be innocent like the children and simply enjoy the costumes and candy? Instead, however, we parents need to be concerned for our children. We need to be certain that they can see and will be seen by drivers. We need to be certain that they go only to homes of people we know. We need to be certain that all of their candy is checked at home before they eat any of it. We need to be certain that they stay in groups if they are older, or with us if they are younger. We need to worry for them and protect them from harm if we can.

The innocence of children needs to be protected by all adults. How peaceful our world would be if we could have maintained that childlike simple enjoyment of life that is present in most children. Their simple enjoyment of life is something we adults dare not remove from them.

State lottery backs off on Nintendo plan

Minnesota State Lottery has announced that it will drop announced plans for a limited market test of the Control Data Corporation/Nintendo system which would have allowed lottery players to play from their homes.

"The security, marketing strategy and technology aspects of the project remain sound. However, while our market research shows that many active players want such services, our commitment is to operate within a broad consensus of opinion. Legitimate issues raised by legislative policy makers call for extensive discussion before the project should proceed," stated George R. Andersen, director.

"The potential of the system for lottery and other consumer services will remain strong, even as we take time out to review what is best for Minnesota."

Control Data Corporation has been notified of the Lottery's decision and concurs.

Halloween parties set Thursday

Noon Lions club will sponsor two parties for Thief River Falls area children Thursday, October 31, at the National Guard armory in Thief River Falls, according to John Holthusen, project chairman for the club.

Children in kindergarten through fifth grade will be entertained from 4 to 5:30 p.m. with games and contests. Halloween treats will be available for all participants. A costume contest with prizes in five divisions will be judged at 5:15 p.m.

Categories for the costume contest will be witches, clowns, tramps, gypsies and personality or other characters. Prizes will be given to first and second place winners in each division.

From 7 to 10 p.m. a party for youngsters in sixth through eighth grades will be held at the armory. Music for dancing will be provided by the KSRQ Music Machine and pizza and soft drinks will be served by the sponsoring club.

Students will not be permitted to leave and re-enter once they have been admitted to the armory. Parents are encouraged to transport their children to and from the armory at the scheduled times.

Two animals at animal pound

Two more animals have been added to the number of animals being held at the animal pound in Thief River Falls. A black, tan and brown puppy was caught and impounded October 22. On October 24 a gray and white female cat was caught near Pamida and impounded.

Each animal will be kept for a minimum of five days from the date of impoundment. Animals may be claimed by proving ownership. Pound fees, license fees and any other expense incurred by the department will be assessed prior to release. Contact the police department at 681-6161 for more information.

Konickson cow tops Red Lake DHIA in Sept.

Don and Karen Konickson had the top producing cow in value of product during the month of September in the Red Lake county Dairy Herd Improvement association. Fifty-seven cows in the association were listed as having minimum production of 22,000 pounds of milk, 750 pounds of butterfat or 700 pounds of protein.

The Konicksons' top animal had a 305-day record of 28,148 pounds of milk, 925 pounds of butterfat and 900 pounds of protein.

South Ridge Dairy, which had three of the cows in the top 10, had the second place animal with production of 29,133 pounds of milk, 904 pounds of butterfat and 859 pounds of protein.

Third place cow was from the Roger Odegaard farm with 32,626 pounds of milk, 792 pounds of butterfat and 831 pounds of protein.

Other individual producers in the top 10 were from the following herds with pounds of milk, butterfat and protein listed respectively:

Johnston Farms, 28,946, 895 and 834; South Ridge Dairy, 26,686, 891 and 840 and 27,778, 795 and 887; Johnston Farms, 25,938, 895 and 846 and 26,208, 887 and 810; Gerald Visser, 24,138, 926 and 796; and Kevin and Beth Roppe, 26,257, 829 and 777.

Cows meeting the minimum production levels listed above but not included in the top 10 came from the following herds:

John and Warren Malwitz (2), South Ridge Dairy (3), Randy and Jo Gast (3), Gerald Visser (4), Leiser Brothers (2), Roger Odegaard (4), Northwest Experiment Station (4), Don and Karen Konickson (4), Wayne Nelson (3), Tom and Diane Kolstoe, Gary and Grant Gullekson (2), Johnston Farms (2), Kevin and Beth Roppe, Wawrzyniak Dairy (5), Beyer Farms (2), Donald Taus (2), Goodvue Ayr Farms (2) and Wayne L. Larson.

Jury trial for Warren man

Jury trial for a Warren man accused of criminal sexual conduct has been scheduled for November 4.

Jury trial for Donovan Loeslie of Warren has been scheduled for November 4 at 9 a.m. Loeslie has pled not guilty to charges of criminal sexual conduct involving a juvenile boy. The trial will take place in a Hennepin County District court.

Subway sponsors food shelf drive

Subway restaurant in Thief River Falls will give away a free six-inch Subway sandwich and Pepsi soft drink to every customer who brings at least one can of food to the store on Sunday, November 3, beginning at 1 p.m. and lasting 123 minutes. The canned goods will be donated to the Thief River Falls Area Food Shelf.

According to Rodger Millsop, owner of the Thief River Falls Subway shop, "This is a way to say thank you to all of our great customers, while helping to feed the needy in our community during the holidays." The store expects to receive in excess of 500 cans from the benefit promotion, which is sponsored by a local radio station.

Turn County walking maps over to Chamber

Area residents who have completed the "Walk Pennington County" health promotion are reminded to turn in their completed maps to the Chamber of Commerce Office by 5:30 p.m. Monday, November 4. The first 50 people to complete the "Walk Pennington County" promotion will be awarded a free t-shirt and certificate recognizing their achievement. A group photo of the participants will be taken at 5:30 p.m. on November 4 at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The "Walk Pennington County" health promotion was organized by the Pennington County Health Promotion Interest Group with support from Northwest Medical Center, Northland Community College and Universal Screenprint.

Members of the health promotion group include: Helen Anderson, school representative; Melba [illegible], Arctic Cat Inc.; Marie Finney, Digi-Key; Bob Bergan, chamber of commerce; Jean Heinrichs, civic leader; Gail Holland and Jim Braband, Northwest Medical Center; Anita Canfield, public health; Don Jensen, county commissioner; Deb Zak, Minnesota Extension Service and Rick Nelson, Northland Community College.

The health promotion interest group meets on a monthly basis. The goal of the group is to promote wellness among the 25-59 year old adult population.

To find out more about health promotion events in Pennington County, contact Deb Zak at 681-2116.

Strandquist . . . .

Earl and Ebba [illegible] called to say they had gotten a new great grandson on October 16th. Jared Scott Tunheim was born to Tracy and Kimmy Tunheim of South St. Paul. He weighed in at 6 pounds and 11 ounces. Congratulations!

Myrtle Holmstrom from St. Paul, LaVer Thun and Shirley [illegible] spent from Wednesday until Saturday at the Norsk Host Fest in Minot. They enjoyed seeing the Statler Brothers, Bill Cosby, Myron Floren and the 11 year old twins of the [illegible] family who were the fiddling champs in the U.S. and some of Karlstad and Strandquist residents, plus a lot of lutefisk and lefse.

Locksmiths stress security

"People should check their locks and other security measures periodically to be sure everything is working correctly," states Chuck Vigness of Kip & Chuck's Lock & Key Shop in Thief River Falls.

"Although this should ideally be done more than once a year, preparing for the fall and winter is traditionally a time when people check their homes for repairs.

"One particularly vulnerable area is the garage. Even the most security conscious homeowner sometimes overlooks the door leading from the garage to the home. Often homeowners are not as careful about securing the garage door because they assume that the locking mechanism on the overhead garage door is enough to keep intruders out."

Other suggestions made by Vigness during October as national Lock In Safety Month include the following:

- Prune shrubs regularly to eliminate potential hiding places for intruders. Anyone trying to break into doors or windows can be seen from the street.
- Check the function of all locks. Do they feel loose? Do you have to jiggle the key to make it work? Is the key hard to turn? All are symptoms of a misaligned lock.
- Replace burned out light bulbs in outdoor lighting. Thieves are often discouraged by brightly-lit areas.
- Keep locks clean. Fall often brings high winds which can blow dust and dirt into a lock.

Free home security checklists are available from Kip & Chuck's Lock & Key Shop, 615 Arnold Avenue North.

Lock In Safety Month is sponsored by the Associated Locksmiths of America as an adjunct to National Crime Prevention Month held each October.

Margo Peterson studies at UND

Margo Peterson, daughter of the Tilman Petersons and wife of Gordon Peterson of Thief River Falls, has begun studies as a freshman medical student at the University of North Dakota School of Medicine in Grand Forks, ND.

She is one of 57 entering freshmen medical students who will take their first two years of education at the UND campus in Grand Forks, third year in Bismarck or Fargo and fourth year in Bismarck, Fargo, Grand Forks or Minot. Students also take shorter training periods in smaller communities throughout the state during their third and fourth years.

Dark Wing Duck, a cartoon character, was painted on a window of Hardees by Lucas Rohlf, Nathan Jordet and Josh Pagnac. The trio won first place for their efforts in the Pumpkin Fest window painting contest. Participants included Franklin Middle School art students.

LHS choir to perform concert

Lincoln high school concert choir will make their first appearance of the 1991-92 season in the annual Fall Choral Festival to be held in the Crookston Central high school gymnasium on Monday, November 4 at 7:30 p.m. Also appearing will be choirs from Crookston, East Grand Forks, Grand Forks Central, and the combined choir from all four schools.

The Lincoln high choir will perform three solo selections in the concert, "Here's One" arranged by Mark Hayes; "Welsh Lullaby" arranged by K. Lee Scott with alto soloist Gayle Rhineberger; and "Herbstlied" by Mendelssohn. Amy Padilla will be the accompanist for the concert choir.

The combined choirs will perform "Zigeunerleben" (Gypsy Life) by Robert Schumann, "Gloria" from the 12th Mass by Mozart, and "Cantique de Jean Racine" by Faure. This years festival will be directed by Dr. Paul Brandvik, director of choral activities at Bemidji State University.

Plan now to attend this great evening of choral music. A nominal charge will be asked to help defray the costs.

Rob Jorstad was commissioned as a United States Army Warrant Officer in ceremonies at Fort Rucker, Alabama, on October 17. The following day he received his wings as an army aviator helicopter pilot. The graduation ceremonies concluded nearly 18 months of training at Fort Jackson, SC, and at Fort Rucker. Jorstad is the son of Don Jorstad and Marilyn "Tiny" Jorstad of Thief River Falls. Following graduation he spent a week in Thief River Falls and has now returned to Alabama where he will receive additional training in flying the army's Chinook helicopter. Upon completion of that track in January Jorstad will be stationed at Fort Lewis, WA. He is a 1982 graduate of Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls.

VA reminds vets to use S.S.

Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) is reminding veterans and their dependents that it needs up-to-date information from them to ensure continued payment of pension or parents' dependency and indemnity compensation. Both programs assist eligible beneficiaries in financial need, as measured by income and net worth.

Disclosure of social security numbers, mandated by the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1990, is directed at preventing overpayments to beneficiaries who may be receiving benefit payments from other agencies or who may be underreporting their annual income. A recent cross-check of VA and Internal Revenue Service (IRS) records enabled VA to identify $338 million in unearned income, apparently unreported by 116,000 beneficiaries in establishing eligibility for VA payments. Later this year, VA will begin receiving wage and pension income information from the Social Security Administration.

VA is asking beneficiaries to verify their income before action is taken to suspend benefits and recoup overpayments. An initial mailing to 12,600 recipients is under way.

Beneficiaries whose addresses have changed and do not receive the request should contact their nearest VA regional office. As electronic deposits are sent directly to financial institutions, requests are being mailed to the address of record provided by the beneficiary.

Strandquist

The Strandquist Senior Citizens met on October 17th with 23 registered. The guests were Ella Thun, Bertha Palm, Clara Nelson, Winnifred Peterson, Alyce Anderson, Melvin Kittleson and Marion Pederson all from Karlstad, and Adrienne Lefrooth. This was to be the regular business meeting day but the reports were forgotten at home so that will be for next time. The water at the center was turned off as the new water lines were not ready so Gladys Johnson came early and took care of that situation. She also read a thank you note from the Bertha Fredrickson family. The afternoon was spent working on pillows and quilt material after which they said the Pledge of Allegiance and played Table Grace and enjoyed lunch served by the hostess, Lorraine Setten. Ruth Harper won the door prize. On Monday morning about 20 Senior Citizens took off on a bus trip to Lancaster and Tolstoy in Canada, so this week's news missed some of them. We hope to have a report of their trip next week.

George Rasmussen, who is staying with Glen and Audrey Rasmussen in Walker this winter, called to say he is doing OK but is now waiting for spring, so he can be back in Karlstad to check on things. He really enjoyed the North Star News, as I am sure many do who have gone away for the winter.

Yvonne and Michelle Boen motored to Minneapolis on Thursday, where they were houseguests of Brent and Celia Boen of Robbinsdale. While there they visited Don and Helen Wysocki and Mark and Nancy Larson of Brooklyn Park. They also attended the Sandy Patti concert at the St. Paul Civic Center. On the way home on Sunday they visited with Mike and Krista Proulx of Crookston.

Sherry, Scott and Steffanie Stewart of Bloomington, and Jeremy Johnson visited with Mary and Donna Renstrom on Saturday.

Sherry, Scott and Steffanie Stewart of Bloomington, came on Thursday to visit Peter E. and Pearl Thompson over the weekend. While here they also visited at David Thompson's, LaVonne Johnson's and Danny and Becky Johnson's, before going home on Sunday. They brought special greetings to Peter and Pearl for their 56th anniversary in person. On Friday evening Sherry, Scott and Steffanie Stewart, Phaela and Karen Thompson, Becky, Michelle and Jeremy Johnson and LaVonne and Brian Johnson had potluck supper at Peter Thompson's.

On Friday Dave and Chris Lardy of Newport, and their three sons visited Earl and Ebba Sihlberg. They were on a tour looking for antiques. Ebba used to be an antique collector.

Visitors at Elsie Lefrooth's this past week have been Dean Holmstrom, Walter Thompson, Mary and Donna Renstrom, Pearl Thompson, Melanie Lefrooth and Myrtle Vagle.

Morris and Hazel Anderson and Kenrick Anderson visited Jim, Cindy and Christy Wetteland of East Grand Forks on Thursday afternoon.

Carl and Bernice Wickstrom of Minneapolis, visited with John and Ruth Harper a week ago Friday.

Isaac and Betsy Thompson stopped to see John and Gladys Simchuck at Park Rapids, John and Anne Hendrickson at Sebeka, and Nelson LaDoux in Thief River Falls on their way home from Minnetonka, after spending the weekend at the LeRoy Lundell's. For Isaac and Betsy's 40th wedding anniversary, LeRoy and Pearl Lundell had them out to dinner at "Lord Fletcher's" in the evening of the 14th. While there the waiters sang "Happy Anniversary" to them.

These part black Labrador puppies are available for adoption from the Thief River Falls pound. Animal control officer Tim Miller warns potential owners that they will likely be large dogs when they reach maturity. For information contact the Thief River Falls law enforcement center.

U.S. managers approve

Over 900 managers were interviewed by the Harris Poll and they had this to say about people with disabilities who worked for them:

- Nineteen out of 20 managers give employees with disabilities a "good" or "excellent" rating on their job performance. They say employees with disabilities work as hard or harder than their employees who do not have disabilities.
- 39 per cent of line managers rate employees with disabilities as better on attendance and punctuality than non-disabled employees, and 50 per cent rate them about the same.
- The average cost of hiring people with disabilities is the same as hiring a person without a disability, according to three-quarters of the employers surveyed.
- However, only 43 per cent of EEO officers say that their companies have hired people with disabilities.
- Three out of every four managers say that people with disabilities often encounter discrimination from employers.

Outlook on agriculture for '92 planned

What kind of year will 1992 be for agriculture? For a sneak preview, attend "Ag Outlook '92", a seminar designed to look at outlook statements which influence supplies, demands and prices for next year.

This seminar is scheduled for Friday morning, November 8, beginning at 9:30 a.m. at the Community Center in Middle River.

Major marketing changes have surfaced in recent months which effect producers and agri-industry. Prospects for wheat, feed grains, oilseeds and livestock now and into 1992 will be reviewed along with ag policy implications. The seminar, sponsored by the Minnesota Extension Service, will also center on price prospects and marketing implications and alternatives.

Program participants include: Bill Penning, Area Extension agent, Farm Mangement, Howard Person and Ray Thompson, Extension Agents, Pennington and Marshall counites.

All area producers and agri-businessmen are encouraged to attend "Ag Outlook '92". The identical program will also be conducted in Warren on Thursday, November 7, 1:30 p.m. at the First American Bank.

LETTERS

Dear Editor,

I can't believe what I've been hearing from your "Citizen's Committee for a Better Tomorrow." Gambling is not, never has been, and never will be a legitimate business. The only people who support gambling are people who want to profit from someone else's loss. It makes no difference that gamblers line up for the privilege of being fleeced. Decent people don't appeal to the worst instinct of others or help them inflict wounds upon themselves. And what kind of person would disgrace himself by arguing that it's only Canadians they're out to fleece?

Opposition to gambling has nothing to do with that poppycock about racism. If the Red Lake tribe wants my respect it can have it on the same basis as I give it to anyone else: by acting like respectable people. It certainly won't get my respect by opening casinos. I'll bet Perkins Restaurants are run by white folks, but I'll be happy to show how color-blind I am by not giving them any respect (or business), either, after their bold attempt to influence your local politics.

I suggest that your city council, before it takes any irrevocable steps, ask a few pertinent questions. The Red Lake tribe has been operating a casino in Warroad. Ask them how much money gamblers have lost so far. Ask them how many employees they have brought in, as opposed to how many they have hired locally. Then ask the Association of Minnesota Counties what they have to say about casinos. They're saying that when the casinos arrive, the county had better gear up for inevitable financial trouble.

One other things. I saw half a dozen ads in the Northern Watch by city council candidates, not one of which mentioned gambling. A person who refuses to put himself on the line only does so because he intends to do something he knows the voters wouldn't like. It's your city, but I wouldn't vote for a one of them.

Sincerely,
Dale Blanshan

Warroad, MN 56763

Dear Editor,

There is a lot of controversy in your city over the casino that has given you a good proposal and as a person who owned commercial property there from 1975 to 1987, Third and Knight originally known as "The Kat Haus" plus rental property and later converted to more rental property as we were in the words of our attorney, denied a liquor license as we were out of town money.

An Ironic twist to this is that prior to the last two owners we were called and asked if we wanted to buy the Rusty Nail!

On all of this we paid considerable taxes, interest to Norwest Bank and spent money with the local merchants, so I would like to add my opinion to the fray.

My name is Curtis Anderson but my thoughts on the subject are the opposite of the Reverend of the same name.

As a young man I had intended to stay in the Navy, but four years of wartime service in World War II left me with a bayonet wound in the right leg, 50 per cent damage to my heart, and a disease from Guadacanal that I still treat regularly that we Vet's call "The Crud" they would not let me stay in unless I signed waivers saying that all this did not count.

I left the service and after starving on a job for about six months I joined my father in the coin machine business, at that time I worked out of Fosston.

In 1947 Gov. Youngdahl ordered all gaming machines out of Minnesota, but left loopholes in the law that allowed us to use gambling machines that paid off over the counter.

At that time most all of the machines in Thief River Falls were owned by a fellow whom I shall call "Don", his main source of income on them then was the Bowling machine which was coordinated with a prize board so you received a free ticket if you got a certain score and if the number matched the one on the prize you won it.

Then about the early 1950s your city fathers got upset and requested the sheriff to do something about it. The sheriff, doing his duty, called "Don" into his office and talked to him about removing them. This "Don" did, but during the conversation he had shown and explained other machines to the sheriff as to what he could use as a source of income, some of them being bingo and horse race machines. These the sheriff thought would be okay.

"Don" sold his bowling machines and put in these other ones and the money poured in. He had to put on more help and raised the pay of the man that was working for him. He bought new pickups and cars for the business as well as spent a lot more money in Thief River Falls.

This came to an end in 1953-54 when Miles Lord was attorney general. One could not pay him off.

Now I know of no one that starved to death in that time because he spent all his money on gambling.

In 1960 I moved by business headquarters here to Bemidji and for extra income I worked different jobs to get it going, as Fosston had been too small a town for an operation headquarters.

Here I could hold a job and restart, slowly buying out my smaller competitors and for eight years I was a desk sergeant on the police department until forced to quit because of being hauled to the VA. hospital too many times. But at that time I was also the union stewart. I remember one negotiating meeting where the council said the city of Bemidji could not afford a raise for the department when we had shown comparative wages within a 100 miles of Bemidji. My answer was "where is the wall around Bemidji?"

Also, where is the wall around Thief River Falls? You took a chance when Arctic Cat came in and for some time it paid very well but in my opinion the leaders milked the money out of it and the employee's stole whatever was loose. You brought it down.

In August of this year I attended a family reunion in Willmar. I got there a day early and was lucky to get a motel room. Willmar, Redwood Falls and others were booked almost solid until December 1.

An article in the paper said that the jewelry stores in the area had almost doubled their business and the same with the clothing stores as the casino workers soon became flashy people and buy accordingly.

Since I was a day early and a buses from Jackpot Junction run through Willmar every 90 minutes to every motel/hotel or you can flag them down for a free ride to the casino, I went out there to spend the evening.

There were buses from everywhere — Chicago, Kansas City and all points between. There were white people, black people, Indians and orientals all having fun. Many of them lined up to eat in the large dining room for big meals at casino prices. There was even one church tour bus there. The pastor must have decided on taking a chance on his group doubling the collection.

Except to stop and eat at Carol's Cafe on the way to Winnipeg, I don't waste time in Thief River Falls anymore, having in 1975 invested $140,000 in a business there and spent another $100,000 over the next 12 years and then selling out for a figure less than the county tax assessor taxed me for, I do not have that good a feeling for your city.

But I will say this, if you pass up the casino — you've blown it again!

Sincerely,
Curtis Anderson

To The Editor:

To the voters of School District 441—on the referendum to be voted on November 5 where they are telling us if we do not approve it this year it is going to cost us so much more money in the future.

Either this is a scare tactic to get us to hurry up and approve it or these utility companies must have special privileges that other taxpayers do not have. As I understand the tax laws, the county assessor decides how much money they need in order to pay their obligations, and when you receive your tax notice you either pay it or your taxes become delinquent.

So why should the utility companies have the privilege to tell the county how much they will or would not pay in any given year unless they are given special privileges? I for one don't buy these scare tactics.

Sincerely,
Patrick McCullough

Pearson leads Otters past Prowlers 25-6

Kevin Pearson came through big-time down the stretch on both offense and defense Saturday to lead Fergus Falls past Thief River Falls 25-6 in the Section 8A high school football playoff semifinals.

A defensive back/quarterback, Pearson turned a 10-6 Fergus Falls lead into a 19-point win when he intercepted three passes to set up a pair of fourth quarter touchdowns, including his own 43-yard breakaway to wrap up the scoring with 7:20 remaining.

A 195-pound senior who also excels in basketball and baseball, Pearson carried the ball 16 times for 85 yards and was 8-for-16 passing for 78 yards as the Otters improved their record to 8-2 heading into the Section 8A championship game against No. 1-seeded Detroit Lakes. The Lakers beat No. 4-seeded Crookston 35-6 in the other Saturday semifinal. Thief River Falls 1991 season ended at 6-4.

"Pearson is the best around, on offense and defense," said Thief River Falls coach Jeff Mumm. "I thought we were in good shape at halftime, but they just took over in the second half. Their big-play people took charge."

The Otters started in impressive fashion, putting together a 12-play, 66-yard scoring drive the first time they touched the ball to take an early 7-0 lead. A 13-yard run by Ben Schierer and a 12-yard gain by Scott DeBrito were the only double-figure yardage plays on the steady march that ended with a 4-yard DeBrito dive through the middle. Sophomore Jeremy Nelson added the conversion kick to complete the six-minute possession.

Out to prove a 20-17 win over the Otters in a regular season match-up two weeks earlier was no fluke, the Prowlers got a 27-yard punt return from Jason Svir and put together a 9-play, 45-yard touchdown drive to pull within 7-6 four minutes into the second quarter. Fullback Matt Kaushagen carried the ball six times on the march for 35 of the 45 yards, including a 2-yard touchdown run through the middle. The Otters kept the lead, however, when they broke through the middle of the line to block the conversion kick by Barry Rhineberger.

Fergus Falls came right back with an 11-play drive that reached the Thief River Falls 10-yard line before Aaron Broten broke up Pearson's pass in the end zone intended for Jon Pontius.

However, the Prowlers punted four plays later, and the Otters used the final 56 seconds of the half to return to the Thief River Falls 9-yard line before calling on Nelson to kick a 26-yard field goal as time expired.

Fergus Falls controlled play much of the second half, allowing Thief River Falls just six third quarter snaps, including a Pearson interception that set up a game-deciding 18-play scoring drive. The Otters used up 8:49 to cover the 67 yards, and in the process overcame three fourth down situations. A finger-up reception by Pontius was good for nine yards on a four-and-two call from the Thief River Falls 26, a 3-yard gain up the middle by DeBrito converted a fourth-and one into a first and goal at the five; and a fourth down call from inside the one saw DeBrito go through the middle standing up.

A fake kick call produced a two-point conversion for the Otters when Pearson took the snap, pulled up and hit a wide-open DeBrito in the back of the end zone for an 18-6 cushion with 9:36 remaining in the game.

Three plays later Svir was again picked off over the middle by Pearson near midfield. And on first down, Pearson turned in his 43-yard touchdown run on a keeper through the middle that he broke to the outside when he got into the secondary. Nelson's kick wrapped up the scoring.

Pearson had his third interception moments later, and a final Thief River Falls drive that reached the Fergus Falls 18 ended when Schierer intercepted Jeremy Olson at the three-yard line on the final play of the game.

Fergus Falls out-gained Thief River Falls 297-144 for the night. Kaushagen netted a game-high 91 yards on 22 carries to account for most of the Prowlers' offense. DeBrito complemented Pearson's 84 rushing yards with 85 yards on 16 carries. Pontius caught five passes for 47 yards.

"We have nothing to hang our heads about," said Mumm. "I thought our kids played a good football game. "Fergus Falls is tough. They didn't make the mistakes like they did when we beat them earlier."

It was the final game for six Thief River Falls seniors – Kaushagen, Tom Upham, Thane Espe, Jason Kainz, Derek Howard and John Wallberg. "It's a special group," mentioned Mumm. "It's special because there are only six of them – six kids out of an entire senior class who wanted to stick it out, who wanted to keep working at it even when we weren't winning. They helped turn it around this year. They went out in great fashion."

Blue Devils host title game

Grygla-Goodridge and Stephen will meet for the second time in twelve days Saturday when the Top of the State Conference co-champions square off at 1:30 p.m. in Grygla in the finals of the 1991 Section 8 Nine-Man high school football playoffs.

First round semifinals were played Saturday when the No. 1-seeded Blue Devils beat No. 4 East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 43-6 at Goodridge and the No. 2-seeded Tigers stopped No. 3 Kittson County North 30-14 at Stephen.

A season-long Stephen winning streak came to an end when once-beaten Grygla-Goodridge knocked off the host Tigers 21-7 in an Oct. 22 regular season finale. That created a three-way first place Top of the State Conference tie that also involved Kittson County North and necessitated a coin flip to determine post-season seeding positions.

"It's going to be a good game," said Grygla-Goodridge coach Darwin Hagen, looking ahead to the Saturday rematch with the title on the line.

The two teams match up well, according to Hagen. Both teams move the ball on the ground, but the difference, he said, is that that the Blue Devils move at a steady, but slower pace behind the consistent 100-yard rushing efforts by Justin Lunsetter, while the Tigers look for a big play production out of star runningback David Borowicz.

"If we can keep Borowicz from breaking loose, we should be okay," said Hagen. Borowicz did net 157 yards in the earlier meeting, but was not able to come up with the game-breaking plays he so often produces.

The winner will be on the road for the first round of the state Nine-Man playoffs – playing at the site of the champion in Section 7, which includes Albrook, Babbitt-Embarrass, Cherry, Cotton-Toivola-Meadowlands, Orr, Tower-Soudan and Wrenshall-St. Paul's Academy (Cloquet).

Lunsetter carried 14 times for 103 yards in the Blue Devils' win over Sacred Heart. Grygla-Goodridge had an 8-0 first quarter lead on a 1-yard touchdown run by Mitch Bernstein and a two-point conversion by Lunsetter before erupting for 29 second quarter points.

The scoring outburst included a short touchdown runs by Lunsetter, Bernstein and Aaron Ostby, plus a 26-yard Bernstein to Rick Landsrud touchdown pass.

A 20-yard Jeremy Engelstad touchdown pass to Donovan Quam in the third quarter completed the biggest Grygla-Goodridge offensive effort of the year.

"Things went real well offensively," acknowledged Hagen as the Blue Devils netted 258 yards on 59 rushing attempts and added 90 yards on a 4-for-5 passing effort.

Defensively, tackles Brandon Blaine and Jeremy Rychlock led the way for the winners, pointed out Hagen, with Engelstad picking up a pair of interceptions.

Grygla-Goodridge is 8-1, which includes a current seven-game win streak after the shorthanded Blue Devils lost a 24-0 Week 2 decision to Kittson County North. Stephen is 9-1 overall.

Joel Davis and Leah Helgenset will represent Thief River Falls at the 1991 Minnesota state high school cross country meet Saturday in St. Paul. They qualified for the state meet with top five finishes at last week's Section 8AA meet in Little Falls.

NCC, UMC in volleyball showdown

Possible state tournament berth will be on the line Wednesday when rivals Northland Community College and the University of Minnesota-Crookston meet in a regular season-ending Minnesota Community College Conference volleyball match at 6:30 p.m. in the gym.

Northland was the Northwest Division leader after beginning October with MCCC-counting 3-1 and 3-0 home court wins over Brainerd and Fergus Falls, respectively. But the Pioneers have gone 0-3 since then with 3-0 losses at UMC and Brainerd, followed by a 3-1 defeat at Fergus Falls Friday.

"It doesn't sound good, but it wasn't as bad as the scores would indicate," said Northland coach Deb Jacobson after watching the Spartans roll to a 15-4, 12-15, 15-3, 15-5 win over the Pioneers. "We had a few breakdowns, but we actually played relatively well. We had some good rallies. Unfortunately, we didn't score many points."

Coupled with a UMC win over Brainerd that same night, the Fergus Falls victory over Northland produced a first place Northwest Division with Brainerd for the 3-2 Spartans. Northland and UMC are right behind the two leaders at 2-3, but still have plenty of incentive since the top two regular season Northwest Division finishers will qualify for the MCCC state tournament.

Brainerd and Fergus Falls will meet in Wednesday's other regular season Northwest Division finale. The winner will be the Northwest Division champion, while the loser will drop into a second place tie with the Northland-UMC winner. A complicated set of tie-breaking procedures would then be followed to determine the second divisional state meet qualifier.

"It should be a good match," said Jacobson, looking ahead to the UMC encounter. "It's a natural rivalry, it's for a state tournament spot and it's parent's night for us."

Northland is 10-13 overall.

Crookston sweeps Prowlers

A pair of streaks continued in high school volleyball Friday when Thief River Falls lost a regular season-ending 15-5, 15-10, 15-8 decision to visiting Crookston.

It was the Prowlers' tenth straight setback and their six consecutive 3-0 defeat as they fell to 5-18 for the year.

But the loss wasn't without its bright spots, according to Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson. "Even though we didn't win, I'm just so pleased with the improvement shown in different areas," she said. "Overall the girls showed a lot of improvement in serve reception and blocking. We've struggled all year in those areas, and I'm very pleased with the improvement they've shown."

Crookston led from start to finish in Game 1, opening up an early 7-1 lead that was never challenged. Thief River Falls took a 4-1 lead in Game 2 and trailed only 7-6 at the midway mark before losing ground down the stretch. A 7-0 Crookston head start put Game 3 on ice.

Sophomore Toni Chiodo led the Prowlers with seven last-touch points and six service points. She was named the Prowlers' co-player of the week, along with junior Nessa Anderson.

"Toni and Nessa both had a great night," said Anderson. "They were very aggressive."

Freshman Carie Lawrence also drew post-match praise. "She played with so much intensity and enthusiasm," said Anderson. "She was fun to watch."

Junior Ali Peterson and LuAnne Maslowski were both cited for their efforts as setters. "They have really improved," noted Anderson. "They put up some real nice sets."

Crookston won the junior varsity match 15-10, 12-15, 15-8, while Thief River Falls took the C squad match 15-6, 12-15, 15-13 and won the freshman match 16-14, 15-12. The Thief River Falls junior varsity is 4-17, the C squad is 8-12 and the freshmen squad is 7-1.

Additional player of the week honors announced by the Thief River Falls coaching staff went to Keri Holthusen, junior varsity; Jennifer Blackberg, C squad, and Michelle Haugen, freshmen.

TRF Scoring

Last touch points - Toni Chiodo 7, Kelly Skeim 4, Carie Lawrence 4, Nessa Anderson 3, Amy Eriksen 2, Kristi Lindberg 2, LuAnne Maslowski 1.

Service points - Toni Chiodo 6, Kelly Skeim 1, Carie Lawrence 1, Nessa Anderson 5, Kristi Lindberg 2, LuAnne Maslowski 2, Kathy Kvick 3, Jamie Martell 3

Swim team wraps up regular season

Thief River Falls girls will close out their 1991 regular season high school swimming schedule today (Tuesday) with a 5 p.m. meet in Grand Forks, where the Prowlers face Grand Forks Central, Grand Forks Red River and Crookston.

The 1991 Section 8 swimming and diving championships will be held at the University of North Dakota pool in Grand Forks Nov. 8-9.

Thief River Falls competed in the Fargo South Invitational Saturday, where Mandan was an easy winner with 300 points, followed by Fargo North with 198, Minot 183, West Fargo 165, Fargo South 148, Fergus Falls 147, Thief River Falls 114, Grand Forks Red River 76, Bismarck 38, Grand Forks Central 22 and Fargo Shanley 11.

Amy Adams led the Prowlers with third place finishes in both the 50 freestyle and 100 butterfly, and she was a member of the Prowlers' third place 200 freestyle and 400 freestyle relay teams, along with Theresa Giauque, Linnea Dimich and Lisa Ulrich.

Giauque set a Thief River Falls school record with a fourth place 5:45.98 in the 500 freestyle.

"We did well," said Thief River Falls coach Ryan Lokken. "We had some spectacular swims."

Davis, Helgenset heading for state

Joel Davis and Leah Helgenset will represent Thief River Falls Saturday at the 1991 state high school cross country meet on the University of Minnesota golf course in St. Paul.

Davis, a senior, will be competing in his second straight state meet race when the Class AA boys kick off the Saturday schedule at 10:30 a.m. Helgenset, an eighth grader, makes her state meet debut when the Class AA girls take off at 11:45 a.m. The event also includes races for the Class A boys at 1 p.m. and the Class A girls at 2:15 p.m.

The two Prowlers qualified for the state meet with top-five finishes at the 1991 Section 8AA races Thursday in Little Falls. Helgenset placed fourth and Davis was fifth in their respective races. Top five individuals, plus the top two teams earned state meet spots.

"We were real happy with the way both Joel and Leah ran," noted Thief River Falls coach Lynn Dyer.

Davis figured to have a solid shot at another state meet appearance this fall after a fourth place Region 8AA finish last year. And he solidified his chances with first place finishes in invitationals at Crookston and Staples, plus runner-up efforts at Roseau, Bagley and Thief River Falls. However, a late-season problem with a pinched nerve sidelined him for 10 days and after missing two meets, returned with a 30th place finish at the regular season-ending Bemidji Invitational.

"Considering the time Joel missed at the end of the year, we felt he responded real well," said Dyer. "He knew what he had to do, and he went out and did it. We figured his conditioning would be okay, but we were concerned about his legs. It was just a matter if the legs would hold out."

Without the late-season problem, Dyer figured Davis would have been with the top two or three Section 8AA finishers. As it was, he finished just 27 seconds behind the leader.

Helgenset spent much of the 1991 season competing in junior high races against runners her own age, even though she was a sixth place finisher at the 1990 Region 8AA meet, just three seconds behind the fifth place state meet qualifier.

But Dyer knew Helgenset would be a post-season varsity runner, and he figured a state meet berth would be well within her reach. And a 20-second drop in her time Saturday guaranteed it.

"Leah was phenomenal," mentioned Dyer. "She was just terrific."

Thief River Falls boys were tenth in the 13-team Section 8AA field and the Thief River Falls girls were eighth in a field of 12. Alexandria won both team titles, with the Moorhead boys and the Brainerd girls joining the Cardinals as state meet qualifiers.

"Overall, our girls ran really well," said Dyer. "Four of our seven girls ran their personal-best, or close to it."

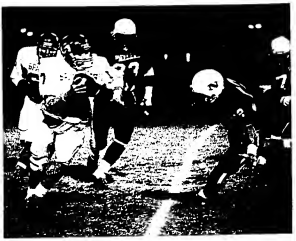
In addition to Helgenset's performance, a 20th place finish by Lisa Swanson, another eighth grader, highlighted the efforts of the Thief River Falls girls, pointed out Dyer.

Senior Stephanie Vigen was the top Thief River Falls finisher for the girls much of the year, but she missed two weeks of late-season work because of illness and wound up placing 33rd Thursday.

Thief River Falls boys fell a little short of their Section 8AA goals, admitted Dyer, although two or three personal-best performances were turned in.

Davis was 53rd at the 1990 state meet that took place in blizzard-like conditions producing five inches of snow.

"Everything gets turned up a notch at the state level," explained Dyer. "Our kids are going down there just to have fun. They made it to state – that's the big accomplishment. There's no pressure now. Joel would like to better last year's finish, and Leah is just going to try to enjoy the experience."



Fergus Falls quarterback Matt Brimhall was chased out of the pocket by a hard Northland rush, but he scrambled for a seven-yard gain on this second quarter play during Friday's community college football game at Prowler Field. Fergus Falls won 24-19 as Brimhall rushed for 144 yards and was 14-for-28 passing for 205 yards and three touchdowns.

Fergus Falls quarterback produces 24-19 win...

Pioneers end year 1-7

No one person can win or lose a football game, but Fergus Falls quarterback Matt Brimhall came awfully close to single-handedly knocking off Northland 24-19 Friday night in a 1991 season-ending Minnesota Community College Conference Northwest Division match-up at Prowler Field.

Brimhall, a 5-11, 178-pound sophomore and home town product, netted 144 yards on 16 rushing attempts and was 14-for-28 passing for 205 yards and three touchdowns as the Spartans finished a 2-5 MCCC campaign. The Pioneers wound up 1-6, 1-7 overall.

"Brimhall does a heck of a job for them," acknowledged Northland coach Rick Nelson. "He came up with the big plays when he needed them."

It was a frustrating ending to a disappointing season for the Pioneers, who fumbled away their first possession of the game at the Fergus Falls 3-yard line and had a promising drive in the final moments of the contest abruptly stopped by a fumble.

"That exemplified our entire season," noted Nelson. "All season long we've been in ball games, but we came up short because we just didn't take advantage of the opportunities. But our kids never quit. It's tough when you're 1-6 and down 11 points, but our kids hung in there. It's a real credit to their character that they battled to the very end."

It looked like Northland would get on the scoreboard first when the Pioneers moved 41 yards in 10 plays for a first down at the Fergus Falls 2-yard line on the Pioneers' first possession. Two plays later, however, quarterback Dan Boushee lost the ball trying to go through the middle and the Spartans' John Bettin recovered the fumble at the three.

Fergus Falls promptly converted the turnover into a length-of-the-field scoring drive when Brimhall took a first-snap option to the right 62 yards before he was brought down at the Northland 18. Six plays later Brimhall rolled right and found Aron Bayer in the back of the end zone for a 9-yard touchdown pass. Ryan Borstad's kick made it 7-0 with 1:20 remaining in the first quarter.

It was 14-0 on the next Fergus Falls possession – an 8-play, 71-yard drive that featured a 30-yard Brimhall pass to Bayer and a 15-yard Brimhall touchdown toss to Mark Reinhart, who was wide open at the goal line on the right side.

Northland answered, however, with a 13-play, 66-yard touchdown drive as Boushee, playing in place of injured Reggie Drummond, went to Dennis Carpenter in the end zone to turn a fourth-and-12 play into an 18-yard touchdown pass. Derek Landerville added the kick for a 14-7 game with 3:59 left in the first half.

Three plays later Northland was in the end zone again when linebacker Flint Gandrud picked off a Brimhall pass in the right flat and returned it 42 yards down the sidelines for a touchdown. But the extra-point kick was a fraction off-line, leaving it 14-13 with 2:27 showing.

But it didn't take Brimhall long to make up for that interception as he hit Chad Stelljes in full stride on a fly pattern down the left side for a 55-yard touchdown with 1:08 still to play.

Only other points out of the Fergus Falls offense came on a 23-yard field goal by Borstad one minute into the fourth quarter after a 13-play drive had bogged down at the Northland 6-yard line.

Northland sliced the 24-13 deficit to 24-19 on the Pioneers' next possession when Kevin White had runs of 13, 11 and 9 yards during a 6-play, 57-yard march that ended with Kevin Massiah darting through the middle on an 8-yard touchdown run. A two-point conversion pass fell incomplete, but the Pioneers were within a touchdown of the Spartans with 12:05 still to play.

There was 7:14 showing when Northland forced a Fergus Falls punt and took over on the Pioneers' 20-yard line. Twice Northland converted fourth down plays into first downs to move into Fergus Falls territory, but on the 12th snap of the drive Boushee lost the ball and the Spartans recovered near midfield with 1:59 left.

What little Northland hope remained of regaining possession for one last desperation shot at the end zone disappeared when Brimhall turned a third-and-13 situation at the 50 into a first down at the Northland 25 with an option run to the left.

Brimhall's scrambles and option runs racked up 178 yards, but he was sacked twice and sat down with the ball behind the line on the final two plays of the game to run out the clock. Rest of the Fergus Falls ground game netted just 29 yards.

Bayer, a sophomore from Belgrade who is listed as Brimhall's back-up on the roster, caught seven passes for 85 yards.

Boushee was 9-for-13 passing for 67 yards, with Dennis Carpenter catching four passes for 51 yards.

Northland netted only 72 yards on the ground, where White carried 13 times for 60 yards and Massiah, who missed the last two weeks and has been slowed by injuries much of the season, wound up with 53 yards on 17 attempts.

QuadRunner® 230E

Geared For Excitement.

Built for serious fun, the QuadRunner® 230E offers the best of both worlds fun and convenience. We started with a peppy 229cc 4-stroke engine and then we geared it for excitement with a broad powerband, strong throttle response and a 5-speed transmission. For convenience, we added pushbutton electric start, an automatic clutch, a reverse gear, an automatic cam chain tensioner, long travel front and rear suspensions, a tough O-ring sealed drive chain and triple hydraulic disc brakes.
The QuadRunner 230E
Gear up for excitement $2,999.00

Suzuki QuadRunner® ATVs are for riders 16 years of age or older. Suzuki highly recommends that all ATV riders take a training course. We'll even pay for it. For safety and training course information, see your dealer or call the SVIA at 1-800-852-5344. Like any powered vehicle, ATVs can be hazardous to operate. For your safety: Remember, always wear a helmet, eye protection and protective clothing. Never ride on paved surfaces or public roads. Never carry passengers or engage in stunt riding. Riding and alcohol/drugs don't mix. Avoid excessive speeds. Be extra careful on difficult terrain. Along with concerned conservationists everywhere, Suzuki urges you to "TREAD LIGHTLY" on public and private land. Preserve your future riding opportunities by showing respect for the environment, local laws, and the rights of others when you ride.

Second straight state championship trophy was added to the already-impressive collection of hardware accumulated by Jason Schroeder while competing in the football run, punt and pass competition sponsored by the Jaycees and Holiday Stores. Schroeder, a seventh grader at Goodridge, won his second straight state title Oct. 19 at Rosemount with a first place finish in the 12-year-old age group. He reached the state level with a first place finish at the regional meet earlier this month in Warren. Next step is the multi-state competition Nov. 2 in Dickinson, ND, where he placed fourth as an 11-year-old. He is the son of Bruce and Kristy Anderson.

Mustangs shut out in semifinals

Sixth-seeded Red Lake County Central upset No. 3-seeded Blackduck 8-7 in the opening round quarterfinals of the 1991 Section 8C high school football playoffs, but the Mustangs' post-season ride came to a halt Saturday with a 40-0 loss at the hands of second-seed Fertile-Beltrami.

"We had a difficult time of it," acknowledged Red Lake County Central coach Gary Brantl. "They have a very good football team, and they came out fired up. We maybe had to use up too much energy Tuesday. But that's no excuse. They're just a better team. They controlled us up front and we had a difficult time stopping their option."

Red Lake County Central surrendered two touchdowns in each of the first three quarters in finishing the year at 4-6 overall. The Mustangs were 3-5 in the Nine-Man North Tri-County Conference before switching to 11-man football for post-season play.

The tough Fertile-Beltrami front line limited Red Lake County Central to just 78 yards on the ground and 32 passing yards. Eric Kolstoe netted 34 yards on 17 carries and quarterback Scott Lorenson was 5-for-11 in the air of the visiting Mustangs.

Defensively, Adam Lundeen, Joe Lallier and Ryan Bjerklie were all in on eight tackles for the Mustangs, while Jacob Melby and Kolstoe were both credited with seven stops. Melby also had a fumble recovery. Jay Malwitz and Bernie DeHate were both in on six tackles.

No. 1-seeded Warren, after a narrow 13-0 first-round win over No. 8 Middle River-Marshall County Central earlier in the week, handled No. 5-seeded Red Lake Falls 55-16 in Saturday's other Section 8C semifinal. The Ponies host the Falcons in Friday's 7:30 p.m. championship game.

Watch Out For Swans

Minnesota waterfowl hunters are advised by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) not to shoot protected trumpeter swans during the hunting season this fall. There are now about 160 free-flying trumpeter swans in Minnesota and they could show up on wetlands nearly anywhere in the state according to Carrol Henderson, supervisor of the DNR Nongame Wildlife Program.

The big white swans are nearly five feet long in flight, and have white wings of about seven feet, Henderson said. The young swans hatched this year are a light pearly gray color and will normally be seen flying with one or both white parent birds.

"There is no excuse for accidentally shooting a trumpeter swan because of the extreme size difference from a snow goose, which is only about two feet long and has a three-foot wingspread and black wing tips," Henderson said.

The fine for killing a trumpeter swan [illegible].

Henderson said [illegible] trumpeter swans hatched in wild nests in [illegible] in the [illegible] County near St. Cloud in Stearns County, and [illegible] Detroit Lakes in Becker County.

"This has been [illegible] for the swans so far," Henderson said, "but we need to keep them alive during the fall migratory season. The swans also die from eating lead shot on the bottom of wetlands and by flying into power lines."

"Waterfowl hunters have been extremely careful during the past three seasons," Henderson said. "Accidental killing during the waterfowl season has not been a major mortality factor."

Local candidates for election give viewpoints

Seven of eight council posts up for election

The Times sincerely hopes readers will take the time to read the articles before they decide to vote. As stated above, all of the candidates are encouraging voters to get out and vote, but they have also chosen to discuss a wide range of issues.

Some of the issues candidates have chosen to write about include: promoting new business and industry in Thief River Falls, improving city, county, and school district 564 relations; finding a balance in the community for the physical and spiritual; not using electric rate funds to support the general fund; affordable housing; getting the most services for your tax dollars, and responsible government.

The candidates also wrote about projects that are issues in themselves, such as: an outdoor swimming pool for the community; handicapped accessibility to public buildings; arenas improvements; dredging the river; creating a public works department; a truck by-pass; and many other projects. Not all, but some of the candidates even discuss the casino.

School district 564 residents will also have an opportunity to vote for candidates to the school board. There are two positions on the ballot. Only the two incumbents, Hank Hallstrom and Larry Belmont, have filed for the positions. Only Larry Belmont wrote a letter to voters for The Times.

A map of the city identifying the locations of polling places appears in this issue of The Times. Polling places include the following: first ward at Heritage community center; second ward at Zion Lutheran church; third ward at Skylite apartments; fourth ward at Knox school; fifth ward at Redeemer Lutheran church. Polling places are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Voters can register at the polls. A driver's license or some other approved form of identification will be necessary.

Voters not able to vote on November 5th can vote by absentee ballot. The city clerk's office will be open November 2 from 1 to 3 p.m. especially for absentee voters. It will also be open until 7 p.m. on November 4.

Paul Olson for Mayor . . .

long remembered, and the good, sometimes forgotten. In talking with the public, I have been asked three main questions frequently:

1) How do I feel about the casino? I am comfortable with any form of new business as long as it meets all requirements. I would enjoy imposing a one per cent lodging and liquor tax, on this targeted population for a swimming pool, youth center, and other civic projects.

I cannot say that it's acceptable for our own city to own a liquor store and yet disregard American enterprise. However, I have some concerns that would be explored, with possible resolutions.

2) Some have argued that I'm too young! At age 36, a former farmer, business owner, purchasing agent for an oil company, and currently working as a counselor, I believe my well balanced experience will reflect economic growth and an increased quality of life for our community. I believe that a mayor, who represents any city needs to possess assertiveness, listening and motivating abilities.

3) What can I do for Thief River Falls if elected Mayor?

- Seek out economic growth: Thief River Falls has great potential for increased business, let's market it.
- Finish the project of the outdoor swimming pool, and appreciate those persons who involved themselves, by giving them recognition.
- To actively encourage council members to represent their people, by asking them for input.
- Fair representation to all persons, individually and to the business community, promoting equality and unity.
- I appreciate those persons who consider change, and who represent their community by voting. We must have a vision for our community. Before change, we must identify our self-awareness and our personal identity. Our faith must prevail for life. We need to offer our youth some additional choices. We need to appreciate all of our values, and learn not to make decision's on the basis of one-sided views of reality.

Let us continue to harmonize ourselvas with respect to humanity, dignity, for all. I hope and trust that your convictions will represent an increased voting turnout.

nologist at St. Alexis Hospital. David is also married and lives with his family in Papillion, NE, were he serves as a Lt. Colonel in the U.S. Air Force at Offut AFB.

From July 1963 until July 1983, I was employed by Independent School District 564 serving first as a counselor at Lincoln H.S. and from 1970 until 1983 as counselor and coordinator of student services at the AVTI.

Following retirement in 1983, after 34 years of service in various levels of education, I began campaigning throughout Minnesota for the office of Department Commander of the American Legion. Thanks to the efforts of a number of TRF Post 117 members and many others, I was elected Department (State) Commander in July 1985 and served in that office until July 1986. In November of that year, I was appointed by the city council to fill the unexpired fifth ward alderman's position. A year later, in November 1987, I was elected to a four year term as fifth ward alderman in which I am currently serving.

In addition to my extensive involvement in the American Legion, I have tried to devote considerable time to other professional, community and church activities. My wife and I are active members of the United Methodist where I am currently serving as chairman of the staff/pastor Parish Relations Committee. Community activities have included the TRF Noon Lions Club (past president); the Pennington County Cancer Society; membership in VFW Post 2793, Northern Lodge 236 AF & AM, Winslow Chapter 182 O.E.S. and 40 et 8 Voiture 737 of Thief River Falls.

It is my belief that all of the many and varied experiences with people and groups have helped to provide some of the desirable background to serve as a member of the city council and to provide effective and cooperative leadership for that body. The ability to work with people is a key ingredient for the office of mayor — whether it be to serve concerned citizens, work with council committee chairmen and other council members, department heads and other city employees or to communicate effectively with other government bodies and agencies.

During my several years as a council member, there have been a number of issues and concerns that continue to occupy our attention. Of particular importance are those items which have been mandated by State-Federal agency action or by state legislative action. The first is the continuing efforts necessary to meet the compliance requirement for the water treatment plant addition. Work on the expanded plant should be completed within the next few years providing the city with a facility in which we can take a great deal of pride. Another is the ongoing development of comparable worth plan which has and will continue to impact the city budget. The first several years of the plan's implementation have been encouraging to both the city's employees and the city council. Hopefully, a spirit of cooperation will enable future developments.

In addition to the above, other items are the efforts to provide affordable housing for students attending NCC and the TC. The continued cooperative efforts between the city, the Technical College and SD 564 concerning the development of the aviation technology complex at the regional airport. The completion of the current five year plan for city streets and sidewalks. Of paramount importance will be efforts to encourage additional business activity within our community.

Inevitably, there will be other topics of concern and interest to city residents in the years to come; but whatever they might be, I welcome the opportunity to serve Thief River Falls.

A big thank you to The Times for making this means of visiting with you possible.

nesota Municipal Utilities Association, presently serving on the Territorial and Omnibus tax bill committees. Also, I am currently president and general manager of the Northern Municipal Power Agency, an agency representing 12 area cities and towns in Northwestern Minnesota and Northeastern North Dakota, and the agency that Thief River Falls purchases 99 per cent of its electrical energy from. I was the initiator and a driving force for the formation of this agency and the $268 million purchase of Minnkota Power Corporation's 30 per cent (124,000 kilowatt) share of the Coyote Power Plant located on a coal mine field in central North Dakota. This purchase also provided for enough transmission line capacity to deliver the power to Thief River Falls and the other 11 area agency members.

Since 1949, I have worked for city electrical departments beginning for the City of Thief River Falls in 1971 as Assistant Superintendent of Utilities under Morris Owen who retired in 1973. I was then promoted to Superintendent of Utilities and remained in that position until June 30, 1988, when I retired. Most of my experience and knowledge is in the utility area, but my work for that department has given me experience that should be beneficial to the citizens of Thief River Falls if I should be elected to the Council.

When hired by the City of Thief River Falls, I was informed that the utilities were to be run like a business, a philosophy that I agree with. I also believe that, if possible, the utilities should operate "in the black" and that rates should be kept as low as possible while still providing a safe and quality service. I do not believe electric rates should be raised to pay for tax-related general fund items. I also believe that the City budget, as a whole, should be kept in line with revenues received, i.e. "operate in the black".

In 1973, the year I became Supt. of Utilities, things were changing. People wanted better utility services and the government was enforcing stricter environmental and workplace regulations. Running a utility was becoming more demanding and costly. Better-trained, higher-educated personnel would be needed. More sophisticated and costly facilities and equipment was a must. A lot of work had to be done. All this at a time when costs were going up.

I would like to submit a few of the many things that were accomplished during my tenure as Superintendent of Utilities and experience which I feel would be an asset to the City Council:

1) Over 40 per cent of the people employed by the city of Thief River Falls worked for the Superintendent of Utilities when I held that position. I have always believed that a manager is only as good as the people that work for him or her and I was blessed to have had excellent people working for me. To help these employees meet goals set by the City and themselves to become the most effective employee for the City, I wrote up criteria for orderly job advancement that required employees to achieve certain levels of education and experience, in order to advance up through the job levels in the program. Attitude and proficiency were factors used along with the time on the job. Employees then knew what was expected of them to get where they wanted to go, what the City would do to help and what wage level they could achieve. This also gave the City Council a helpful tool for their decision making process regarding personnel issues for city employees. This experience in personnel management should prove a valuable asset to the citizens of Thief River Falls should I be elected to serve on your council.

2) Budgets are a major part of the Council's responsibilities for all municipal operations. The utility department generates half of the revenue in the budget which will approximate $6.5 million for 1991 (the total budget for 1991 is approximately $13 million). Myself, along with department personnel, prepared, evaluated and presented the utility budget each year to the Council. A valuable experience that should prove an asset to serving on the council.

3) Early warning electronic devices were installed in sewer lifts to cut down on response time when a sewer line backs up.

4) The forces of Street Commissioner Blackstad were enlisted to help clean out tons of lime sludge from the water department lagoons and have it deposited on farmland in an environmentally approved manner.

5) Corrected metering installation errors that resulted in immediate and paybacks to future income of over $20,000 annually.

6) Bids were written and evaluated for equipment and materials.

- To install electronically controlled load management equipment that enabled the control of electric loads which resulted in Thief River Falls having one of the lowest electric rates in the nation and the saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars each year now and into the future.
- To lay plans for an installed underground wiring in all but a few residential areas and much of the commercial area, all paid for with current department earnings.

7) At the end of my tenure as Superintendent of Utilities, water and wastewater rates, when corrected for inflation remained about the same as when I started and with the same correction, electric rates had gone down.

8) The electric system was close to being completely rebuilt, many new street lights had been installed, equipment and materials had been purchased and paid for, there was no electric department debt and there was nearly $3 million in the reserve fund.

Over the years, I believe I have learned to make prudent, thoughtful, well analyzed, not hasty but timely decisions. Like everyone else, I have learned from failures. I have also learned from well thought out decisions regarding projects and purchases.

If you see fit to elect me as your alderman at-large, I will continue to use my past experiences in management and other areas mentioned above, to assist in making Thief River Falls the "Star" city in Minnesota in which to live and raise our families. I will work hard to promote new business and industry to our community in order to increase economic growth in Thief River Falls, thereby offering more and better job opportunities for our citizens.

I believe I hold a record that warrants a two year term of service as an alderman at-large and I would appreciate your vote on November 5th.

(now Norwest of Thief River Falls). Our three children received their education in the local schools.

The following are some of the local activities in which I have participated in our city during the past years: Junior Colleges Citizens and Technical College citizens advisory committee; membership and past president on the Hospital board; United Way Campaigns; Concert Association and Arts Council Board; membership in the Thief River Falls Planning Commission; Past President of the Chamber of Commerce, Member of Jobs Inc; membership on the Community Development Advisory Board; associated with the financing of the original "Arctic Enterprises and Hydra-Mac and board member of Forsberg's Inc; past president and former board member of the Occupational Development Center; Eucharistic minister and choir member of St. Bernard's church; member of Elks, and past president and member of the Thief River Falls Golf Club.

Everetta, my wife, and I enjoy the "good life" of Thief River Falls and are proud of our community. Having served as alderman for this city, I desire to continue serving its citizens and it is my philosophy to: accept the challenges of providing necessary and desired services of the citizens on the most economic basis, and within the parameters of sound fiscal policy; keeping city taxes as reasonable as possible; keeping open channels of communication with the school district officials, county commissioners, state officials and thus enjoying a cooperative arena in which to continue a positive atmosphere of living and progress in Thief River Falls.

Again, thank you Thief River Falls Times and if re-elected, I will listen, participate and do my best.

and the South Pacific and San Diego, CA.

After returning home I worked as a mechanic for a few years. I then met my wife to be Jessie Boyer. We were married in November of 1979 and we now have three children, Carson, age 8, Parker, age 5, and McKenzie, age 4. I now own and operate a small concrete construction business called A B C Construction.

My reasons for running for Alderman at Large are pretty simple. Being a home owner, I too am concerned about rising costs of energy, taxes and so on. I also believe that Thief River Falls has room to expand in our industrial sector education and small business in general.

Having three children coming up through our educational system, I have to be concerned not only with their education but also sports activities. I believe that it is not only important but a must to keep our children active in all kinds of sports activities.

I also believe that I can be a voice that can be heard on behalf of our voting public. I would be committed to the concerns of the people of Thief River Falls and act on those concerns in their best interests.

librarian at the public library, a manager of the Skate Aid company and as an employee at Thief River Linen.

I believe that membership in a community carries with it the responsibility of active participation in that community. I have been active in various groups and projects. I have been a board member and chairperson of Discovery Place Child Care Center, president of Band Boosters when the students went to Norway, and a representative for this city in the Blandin Foundation leadership program. I am the chairperson of the Education Committee of the chamber of commerce; coordinator of the leadership program, Community Awareness 91' and coordinator of the D.A.R.E. program for sixth graders. I am the chairperson of Little Brother/Little Sister and an Art Adventure teacher for second graders at Mark Twain. I am the president of Zehlians, an AAUW member, member of the Northland Community College Foundation Board and member of the Violence Intervention Project Advisory Board.

I feel my experience and commitment qualify me to serve on the city council. I presently serve on the finance and liquor committees and have attended the state and regional League of Cities meetings.

I have a vision of quality-of-life and business in Thief River Falls. I believe a spiritual, financial, physical and social balance can be maintained that guarantees a healthy community. I think networking and teamwork are vital to the success of any project.

As your alderman I hope to impact city government in a way that works toward realizing a vision of a well-balanced community. I am asking for your support as I seek to continue as your alderman. I am grateful to The Times for providing this format with which I can share with you both my vision of our city's future and my background and qualifications for the office that can play a very important role in shaping that future.

school. What a learning experience and exciting time to do this!! Trains carrying Army vehicles going north to the war fronts, trains going south carrying beets, coal, grain and other commodities to the processing plants that was produced by the people of the Red River Valley and beyond. One short cut was walking by the old freight depot, and you could bet I got the word "depot" right on my weekly spelling sheet. Got through Northrop okay and on to Lincoln high school where I graduated in 1951. What a great town for a young man to grow up in. Then enlisted in the U.S. Air Force so I was away from family, and neighbors of the first ward from 1953 to 1957.

While growing up in Thief River Falls, we were always close to the water, because here the Thief and mighty Red River meet. In the old days I can remember in the spring how the water smelled and having to take a bath and having a ring around the tub even before I got in. Luckily we had a neighborhood well up the street, and sometimes drove west to a flowing well to get some drinking water. What a change today, with the existing purification plant and the new addition being added we will have water that exceeds Federal and State regulations. This reminds me of a time when my stepfather Harry Schuster was a fireman and on his time off decided to climb the old water tower that was next to the fire hall and weigh scale. Anyway, having reached the top, noticed the inspection hatch was undone so decided to remedy it, but before he did, peered in and seeing dead pigeons floating on the water. When he came down all he would say "and we drink that stuff".

Presently I live and work at 422 Horace Avenue North where I own and operate Borsheim Printing, which is in walking distance of Trinity Lutheran Church to which I belong. Also, I belong to the American Legion Post 117, Voiture 737, 40 et 8, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2793, and the Elks Lodge 1308. With all these I was fortunate to be the Secretary of the Pennington County Fair Association for 10 years. During this time the Association brought the old Pennington County Fair board out of a $25,000 bankruptcy, and made it the largest function in Northwestern Minnesota. I'm proud as this is something that young and old alike look forward to attending once a year. And my hat is off to all the volunteers who continue to make it a huge success.

I'm 58 years old and have two sons, Mark who works for the City Engineering department and Amoco 24 and Wayne who is a junior at North Dakota State University and works part-time for K-Mart. Living and working at my residence gives me an advantage because the people of the first ward can stop in or call at anytime with their questions and concerns of the ward which they might have.

Thief River Falls has an outstanding school system, and we are fortunate to have had people who had the foresight to establish a college in our community, and a Vocational Technical School of which today the Aviation Department located at the airport is number one in the nation. One of the greatest assets of this community are its people. We have entrepreneurs in all facets, a few who come to mind are L.B. Hartz who established a food distribution business employing many people, and founded the Hartz Foundation. Forsberg's cleaning machines sold the world over, Steiger, skid loaders Hydra-Mac, Stordahl, distributing computer components Digi-Key Corporation, Swenson and Hetteen for starting the snowmobile business, better known as "Arctics", and I could go on an don, but we are basically a farm community with many businesses serving the farmer. What we need is more industry and more businesses to employ more people and keep our young people here. In the 80's our population was over 11,000 and at last census was 8,110. That is going backwards. We need progressive, farsighted people to promote our city, elected officials and leaders who have our best interest in mind.

Having served before on the City Council for 12 years serving on almost every committee and as Acting Mayor at one point, I wish to serve again and feel I am qualified. While serving I was instrumental in getting the leaf vacuum started, thus saving the city money and supplying the citizens a great service. Started the dam clean up which helped lead to the Riverwalk project and beautification program.

I have watched these last four years what the city departments have been doing and in my estimation they have done an impressive job. The financial position of the city has always been one of my priorities. Sure we have had rate increases, and I promise, if elected, to keep my eye on any new increases and hold them down.

In a "nutshell", I have the experience and knowledge to serve the people of the first Ward, and the city as a whole in a positive and responsible manner.

In 1974 I was asked by Mayor Bob to fill a vacancy on the city council. I wasn't appointed but this lead me to seek the position of alderman of the first ward which I did and served three consecutive terms.

My thinks to the Thief River Falls Times and its staff for allowing me to briefly visit with its readers. Make sure you vote on November 5th — it's a privilege and your duty!!

four year term. The state of Minnesota, department of transportation, was my employer for 38 and one-half years with my retirement occurring on June 19, 1990. My work history during this period involved staking an inspection of grading, concrete and asphalt roads, airports, bridges, sewers, highway design, review of state wide contract records, computation of state and city cost splits and review of contractors labor pay schedules.

I presently serve on the following city council committees: chairman of the engineering, street, sanitation and building committee; member of the utilities committee, which includes electric, water and sewer departments; member of the finance and license committee.

Some of the accomplishments of the city council during my term include:

- Establishment of a city engineering department.
- Start of the sidewalk replacement program.
- Street overlay program of secondary streets that have no curb and gutter.
- Bringing the water treatment plant remodeling from design stage to construction.
- Bank stabilization projects on the Red Lake River and weed cutting.
- Street lighting on T.H. 1 and residential streets.

I am running for re-election for the following reasons and I will vote to support the following:

- Economic growth which includes all new businesses that wish to locate in our city.
- A truck by-pass.
- A State of Minnesota office building including Highway Patrol and Maintenance headquarters.
- Dredging or treating the rivers to reduce siltation and weeds.
- Financing and construction of an outdoor public swimming pool with area wide financial involvement.
- Handicap accessibility to city offices.
- City and County cost share on street upgrades.
- The creation of a public works department consolidating the city's departments under one director.
- Changing some of the city's equipment to maximize services for dollars spent.

As an individual who has been retired for one year and four months I realize the need to limit spending and live within our income. I will make every effort to hold taxes and charges for city services to reasonable, affordable levels.

I would take this opportunity to thank my supporters for re-election and the Publisher and Editors of The Thief River Falls Times for allowing me to express my views.

wife Patty and I have been married for 12 years. I am a 1975 graduate of Lincoln high school. I attended Moorhead State University for two and one-half years with a focus on math and psychology. I have completed a business management seminar at the Thief River Falls Technical College and I have seven years of management experience at two Thief River Falls businesses. In 1984, I went to work for Pennington County as a dispatcher at the law enforcement center. I have completed a number of training courses related to my employment there. A number of these related to problem solving and dealing with people. I am currently the Chief Dispatcher at the law enforcement center.

I have made an effort to involve myself in the community. I am a past co-chairman of the arrangements committee for our local Boy Scout Exposition. I have also worked as a volunteer driver for the Falls Delivered Meals Program. I am a member of the Thief River Falls Golf Club, Thursday Night Commercial Bowling league, Masons and Elks. As a member of the Elks, I served as an officer and also as chairman of the local "Hoop Shoot" program. I was chairman of the Americanism committee for seven years and was responsible for the Elks Flag day program.

I am deeply concerned about the lack of youth on the city council and this is one of the most important reasons for my choosing to run. Without the introduction of youth and the subsequent training of new leadership, there is no certainty that the good being done in city government will continue. Equally, there is no certainty that negative patterns will ever change. There are a number of younger residents in this community and they need a voice on the council. I feel I can relate to the concerns of younger residents. Youth on the council may also encourage more younger residents to get involved in the community. It is also time that decisions made by the Council which may affect the city for 30 years are made, in part, by someone who will be around for 30 years to live with the results. When an individual is around to live with a decision for that long a time, he is likely to be more careful in making it.

I will make no empty promises. Until one serves on and works within the Council, very few definite promises can be made. To do so, would be foolish. There are things that I would like to see happen and all I can tell you is that I will try my best. I will work for better cooperation with the county commission and school board. I will work for a more vital and progressive Thief River Falls without sacrificing quality of life. I will work to see that the existing resources of the city are utilized to maximum efficiency and potential. I will try to locate problems before they reach crisis level. I will try to look down the road on all decisions in order to eliminate unplanned costs. I will always keep an eye on the future.

Thief River Falls is facing declines in state and federal aid. These monies will have to be made up somewhere. Growth and efficiency are the solutions I propose. I will work to attract new business and industry to the community and to increase promotion and tourism. This could mean an increase in revenue for the city coupled with a more favorable climate for the consumer. A greater selection of consumer items and the increase in competition that comes with business growth can mean lower prices. This could make tax increases, which may be unavoidable due to decreases in outside aid, a little easier to swallow.

Cooperation with other government bodies could eliminate duplication of services. This could possibly reduce costs to the city or slow down potential tax increases. Maximizing existing resources will also hold down costs and slow down tax increases.

With growth, quality of life must be maintained. Recreation programs, parks, community projects, and most importantly reasonable taxes, must be important concerns. I would like to see an outdoor swimming pool in Thief River Falls, but not by means of placing further strain on an already overburdened tax base.

I said earlier that I will make no empty promises. There is one definite promise I will make. I will spend this city's money cautiously and wisely. For instance, I will work to make student housing a reality in this community, but without placing the city's financial resources at risk.

Another definite promise I will make is to stay in touch with the second ward. I will listen to the concerns of its people and be mindful of them. I will not forget who put me in office. I will act in their best interest.

As I said at the onset, a positive attitude is a key to success. I see a bright future for Thief River Falls. I see a vital and progressive community meeting the future head-on. Thief River Falls has been tremendously good to me. I am ready to repay that debt with my service. All I ask is that the voters of the second ward give me the chance.

I would like to thank the Times for giving me this opportunity and hope everyone will exercise their right to vote on November 5th.

in many organizations over the years, including as Boy Scout Leader, 4-H leader, Pennington County Fair Board member, PTA council member and volunteer evaluator for the Minnesota board of Technical Colleges.

My most recent activities include serving nine years on the Northwest Medical Center Board of Directors and am serving at the present on the Northland Community College Foundation Board and the city of Thief River Falls Community Development Advisory board. I have held leadership positions in most of these organizations. I am a member of St. Bernard's church and the American Legion, V.F.W., Eagles and Elks.

Many years of employment and community service have given me experience in the supervision of business operations, including the budget process, understanding of computer printouts, financing and credit. I have the ability to work with others toward a common goal.

I have filed for the position of second ward alderman because I have a deep interest in local government and believe my education, experience and desire to serve will be beneficial to the second ward residents.

I will represent the second ward to the best of my ability, and will be available at all times to discuss any problems or questions which may arise. My time is flexible and I will not have any conflicts in attending all necessary meetings or functions. Thanks to The Times for giving me this opportunity.

Since my appointment in 1984, I have served on the utility committee, public safety committee, labor committee and Arena Improvement committee. I also serve as a director of the Alumni Foundation for School District 564.

My wife, Linda, and I are members of Trinity Lutheran church. We have two children. Paul and his wife Julie live in Rochester where he is in Internal Medicine at Mayo Clinic. Karin and her husband Randy live in Decator, IL, where she is a registered occupational therapist.

As a member of the Arena Improvement Committee I am very concerned with the improvement and additions of both arenas. The committee has been doing projects in the past through donations and at no expense to the tax payers.

As a member of the utility committee a great deal of learning had to be done and, believe me, it still is going on. I'm excited about the completion of the water treatment plant, completing our electrical underground projects, and other projects that have been on the back burner.

Because I was on the fire department and also the public safety committee, it was very rewarding to set aside money for five years and finally see the new fire truck in operation this fall.

Mayor Bob Carlson wanted to know how each candidate stood on the casino issue. After reviewing the results from the non-binding vote, which was 9 to 116 against in the third ward, I am going on record in support of the casino because of the economic impact for the city. The casino is a new business for the city. The council has never voted on whether a business can come into the city or not. Whenever we can create 300 to 500 jobs, there is no way that it can be an ill-effect on the welfare or unemployment in the city. This is not a moral issue, but an economic impact on the entire welfare of the city.

Once again I want to thank the Times for the opportunity to express my opinion, and I encourage all voters to remember Tuesday, November 5th to get out and vote.

attendance records on the council. I went to meetings that we were not required to attend because I cared about doing my job well. I have always tried to represent the people I serve and their interests as opposed to any special interest groups.

Some people will not take a stand on an issue and refuse to take a position of leadership. Possibly caring enough to speak out on 11 per cent bonds for the city has saved our citizens hundreds of thousands of dollars in electric bills. As a result of my concern, a clause was added to the bond sale for refinancing.

My caring attitude extends beyond the job of serving on the city council. Our love and concern as a family has hopefully touched the lives of 29 foster children during the past 22 years. We have always supported numerous worthwhile efforts to help make Thief River Falls a better community.

In short, I still subscribe to the statement of the Jaycee Creed that reads, "God gives meaning and purpose to human life, and that service to humanity is the best work of life." I may not have always made the best decisions in life but I try to do everything with thoughtful honesty.

I'd appreciate your vote November 5th.

R.N., and I moved to Clearbrook in 1950. In 1958 we moved to Thief River Falls when I was selected to teach eighth grade social studies. Our family of four children, Barbara, Mike, Mark and Jeff, grew up here and are graduates of Lincoln high school.

In 1959 I was appointed to an administrative position in the school district and served in that capacity until my retirement in 1989. Areas of work included junior and senior high school principalships, administrative assistant to the superintendent, business manager, curriculum director, compliance officer, personnel director and other related activities.

I have belonged to many educational and professional organizations and had leadership experience in these groups.

I have been a member and past president of the Thief River Falls Noon Lions Club, past member of the Concert Association, and active in other civic activities. My wife and I are active members of Trinity Lutheran church and are presently on the steering committee for Trinity's Centennial observance in 1993.

I feel that I am qualified to run for alderman because of my 20 years residency in the Fifth ward, 33 years in the city, and the many and varied experience I have had in dealing with people and policy decisions. I strive to maintain a positive and cooperative attitude and am willing to listen to varied opinions before making decisions.

Representative government should also be responsible government. This means we must be informed, open-minded, and willing to participate for the benefit of all people to the best of our ability. I believe I can fill this role as an alderman in Thief River Falls if elected and supported by its citizens. People working together can make things happen!

Vote on November 5th.

been privileged to not only witness, but be a part of some incredible experiences in School District 564. I last wrote an article like this three years ago and at that time I wrote of being a member of a task force that was to study the problem we were having with trying to reach students who, whether by choice or circumstance, were not completing high school. The result of that study was the formation of what is now the Area Learning Center. This incredibly successful program is offering, as its name implies, alternative ways in which a student can earn his or her diploma. The program now serves not only our district, but surrounding districts as well. The Area Learning Center also has satellites in Roseau and Warroad, both of which are also off to a good start.

We have also seen the completion of the Lincoln high school addition and remodeling project. Any of you who have visited the high school since this project was completed have to marvel at the difference. While there are still things that need to be looked at with the district's several buildings, the Lincoln project should underscore the board's determination to deal with them in a manner that considers both short term economy and long term efficiency. A group of community people are currently looking very hard at existing facilities, looking for ways in which we can make the most efficient use of what we have while at the same time examining the wisdom of future construction. This is the Facilities Task Force.

Involving the community in critical areas of school business is evident throughout the district in other areas as well. The Planning, Evaluating and Reporting (PER) committee is an extremely important and hard-working committee whose membership is made up mostly of people from the community with no other direct link to the school. They are stakeholders at every level — parents, retired people, business people, etc. Other committees which involve community members to a great extent are the Athletic Task Force, Outcome Based Education (OBE) committee, Area Learning Center committee, Site-Based Decision Making committee and others.

One of the measures of the condition of a community is the enthusiasm with which its members face their respective responsibilities. I noted this spring that the excitement and enthusiasm demonstrated by the members of the school community as the year began was as keen and as powerful as I have witnessed in my four years on the board. I think the sense exists within the staff and students of this district that they are part of a school district on the move. So much good stuff is happening right now. Outcome Based Education, Tech Prep, and the Arts Magnet Program are but a few, all designed to offer the finest educational opportunities possible to the children of this district.

Your current school board is a forward-looking group of people of which I am proud to be a part. I am asking for your strong affirmation of the direction that your schools are taking by voting to keep the School Board of District 564 intact.

Boise Cascade, MPCA agree on civil penalty

Under a stipulation agreement approved by the Minnesota Pollution Control agency (MPCA) citizens board September 24, the Boise Cascade facility in International Falls will pay a civil penalty of $535,000 for past violations of state water and air pollution laws.

The stipulation agreement—similar to an out-of court-settlement—addresses numerous violations which have occurred at the paper manufacturing plant since June of 1989. Problems noted at the plant include bypasses of the facility's wastewater treatment system that allowed untreated wastewater to flow into the Rainy river, violations of the plant's wastewater discharge permit limits; and failure to do required monitoring and reporting of the discharges.

In addition, during 1991 the company violated its permitted limit for discharge of dioxin (a suspected carcinogen) four times, and had four releases of chlorine gas from the air scrubber at its bleach plant, the MPCA said. Chlorine is used to bleach wood pulp before it is made into paper. Dioxins are formed during this bleaching process.

"Boise has corrected a number of these problems already, and is moving ahead quickly on the others," states Tim Scherkenbach, MPCA water quality manager. "We believe their management is committed to following through to correct the remaining environmental problems."

Under the stipulation agreement, the company will complete a number of actions to correct the past violations and ensure that similar problems do not happen again.

First, the company must hire an environmental consultant to evaluate components of the plant's existing wastewater treatment system, and make corrections and improvements where needed.

Second, Boise must propose recommendations to increase wastewater and pollutant recycling and reduction.

Third, the company is required to conduct an evaluation during October, November and December to determine if it can reduce the formation of dioxin, and to monitor for dioxin six times a month at various points during the paper production and wastewater treatment processes.

Finally, Boise must implement a monitoring system to better detect chlorine gas in its bleach-plant emission stacks.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Edwin Bakken wont to take this means of thanking everyone that visited and sent cards to him while he was a patient on CNC for almost five years.

Also to the staff on 1st floor CNC and Dr. Bray for staying by Edwin all this time. Also to Pastor Bahlon for his words of comfort and to Orville and Bobby Trontvet for their songs and to the ladies aide at Ekelund for serving the lovely lunch. A sincere thanks to all that did something to help at this sad time. Also to Belmont Funeral home for being so helpful in everyway.

God Bless Each One

LONG TERM CARE

Roseau Area Hospital District is a 45-bed acute care facility with 64 beds of Long Term Care. We currently have eight active physicians on staff with another one scheduled to arrive in August of 1992. We service 15,000 people in Northwestern Minnesota and Southern Canada, with 2,000 of these people being over the age of 65. We are seeking a Director of Nursing who wishes to accept the challenge of providing quality long term care services to our golden citizens.

A 44-bed replacement facility is scheduled to begin construction in the spring of 1992. This facility will have 40 single bedrooms with the balance in semi-private. This will be attached to a present 20-bed skilled care facility. This will create an opportunity to provide resident centered quality care.

We are seeking an individual who is an RN with two to five years of supervisory experience in a Long Term Care setting with increasing responsible track record. This person will be responsible for long term care nursing, activities and social services. We provide a very competitive salary and above average benefits.

PLEASE SUBMIT YOUR RESUME TO:

School District #561 Proceedings

Oct. 29, 1991

The following minutes are not official until approved by the board at the next regularly scheduled meeting.

Proceedings: Regular meeting October 15, 1991, 6:30 p.m.

Members Present: Larry Vigen, Marvin Kotrba, Alden Hyland, Norma Hanson, Joe Philipp, John Gallagher.

Members Absent: None.

Also Present: Superintendent Hollett, Principal Henrickson.

The meeting was called to order at 6:30 p.m. by Chairman Vigen. Pledge of Allegiance was given.

Hanson moved, Hyland seconded to approve the October meeting agenda as amended. Motion carried.

Gallagher moved, Hanson seconded to approve the minutes of the September 17 [illegible] regular meeting. Motion carried.

Philipp and Gallagher presented the audit of monthly bills. Gallagher moved, Philipp seconded to approve payment of the September handpayables $49,047.92, September extra payroll $1,618.58 and October computer checks $26,538.21 for a total of $77,204.71. Motion carried. (See reports #3.11-#3.13 attached to the official board minutes.)

Superintendent Hollett presented the district budget, cash flow and investment reports. The district had an investment of $106,903.66 on September 30, 1991. (See reports #3.21-#3.23 attached to the official board minutes.)

A review of the 1991 annual fiscal audit was given by Roy Lunde from Brady, Martz and Associates, P.C. Hanson moved, Kotrba seconded to accept the fiscal 1991 annual audit as prepared by Brady, Martz and Associates, P.C. Motion carried.

Hyland moved, Gallagher seconded to transfer $11,869 from the general fund to the food service fund and $19,604 from the general fund to the transportation fund to cover deficit fund balances. Motion carried.

A family's concern about bus routes was referred to the transportation director.

Student council representatives, Nicole Paulson and Jennifer Kotrba, requested the board allow pop machines to be left on during the school day. The consensus of the board was to allow this on a trial basis as long as rules are obeyed and policed by the student council. They also asked questions of the board regarding the policy requiring 7-12 students to purchase activities passes.

Parents concerned about the policy requiring students to purchase student activities passes were heard. The consensus of the board was to refer these concerns back to the parking committee. Recommendations will be brought back to the board at a later date.

Representatives from the C.E.A., Helen Davidson and Darlene Hulleen, requested that the G.E.A. meet with the board for a meet and confer session. That committee will be contacting the board with further data.

The classified staff reported that plans have been made to hold a first AID C.P.R. class through the Community Education Dept.

No instructional reports were given.

Hanson moved, Hyland seconded to amend the district detention policy #745.412 to read as follows: "Detention will be held from 3:40 p.m. - 4:40 p.m. on the first Wednesday of each month and 7:30 a.m. - 8:30 a.m. on the third Wednesday of each month, September-May." Motion carried.

Kotrba moved, Philipp seconded to have the district increase the number of mutually agreed upon allowable tax sheltered annuity companies to four. Motion carried. (See report #8.1 attached to the official board minutes.)

Gallagher moved, Kotrba seconded to accept interest money from a perpetual investment account set up by the family of Conrad Iverson to be used as a yearly scholarship. Motion carried. (See report #8.2 attached to the official board minutes.)

Hanson moved, Hyland seconded to support the Blackduck School's resolution to reinstate funding for late activities busses. Motion carried.

Gallagher moved, Kotrba seconded to approve the job description for a part time special education classroom aide as presented. Motion carried. (See report #9.1 attached to the official board minutes.)

Hanson moved, Philipp seconded to hire Linda Brandt as part time special education classroom aide effective October 16, 1991, with salary and benefits as per classified wage and benefit policies. Motion carried.

Hanson reported on a center for school change meeting. The faculty will be contacted to see if there is interest in applying for grant money.

Philipp and Hyland reported that items discussed at the school climate meeting included implementing policies on sexual harassment and violence, instructional supply orders procedures, and changing the grading scale the next time policies are reviewed.

Principal Henrickson reported that the playground committee viewed playground equipment at various sites. They will have a recommendation at a later time.

Principal Henrickson reported on the "I Care Hotline" endorsed by the Northwest ECSU.

A letter was given to the board stating that the petroleum tank release compensation board has approved the reimbursement request for the underground tank reimbursement project. (See report #11.13 attached to the official board minutes.)

Superintendent Hollett reported on a number of upcoming board workshops and conferences.

Meeting adjourned at 10:30 p.m.

MCHS elects officers at annual meet

Marshall County Historical Society's annual meeting was held on October 17 at Settler's Square in Warren. Board of Governors whose terms expired and officers were reelected. Reelected were: President Jerome Johnson, Vice-president Joyce Kron, Secretary Anna Lou Gordhamer, and Treasurer Kent Broten. Board members reelected were Casper Mattin, Kent Broten, Minnie Haugen, Emil Kuzaria, Vaugie Myhre, Marie Steffen, Art Kuhlhase, and Norman Hagen.

Other board members are Clayton Broten, Anna Lou Gordhamer, Max Campbell, Grant Satre, Lucille Tunheim, Marilyn Carlson, Dennis Hjelle, David Judovsky, Dennis Maurstad, Joyce Kron, Oliver Labine, Jerome Johnson, Delvin Potucek, Forrest Olson, Willard Johnson, and Donald Jurgenson.

Honory Board of Governors are Hazel Ramstrom, Gladys Halfman, Martha Olson, Thea Harstad, and Neil Mattson.

Plans for the 1992 season were discussed. MCHS will be open on Sundays from noon to 4 p.m. during the months of June, July, and August—besides the regular hours. Also discussed were the benefits of advertising our complex. Brochures will be distributed early in 1992. Highway signs alerting tourists to our facility was discussed and will be pursued. Also discussed was the need to shore up the sagging part of our depot unit.

Memorials received from June through October include: Neil and Marilyn Mattson in memory of Doris Truhn, Ray Fering, Wendell Westberg, Milan Sorenson, Clara Knutson, and Marcel Nova; In memory of Arthur Haugen by Ray and Elaine Olson, Ray and Lucille Tunheim, Minnie Haugen, and the Ervin Broten family; by Clarice L. Olson in memory of Hannah Anderson; by Jerome Johnson in memory of Thelmer Johnson; by the Ervin Broten Family in memory of Marcel Novak, and by Ray and Lucille Tunheim in memory of Clarence Lian.

These memorials are appreciated and are used in adding new displays to the museum.

The Marshall County Historical Society is closed for the winter months. We will be open again in May. If you need to contact the Historical Society, call Curator Elaine Olson, 478-3882.

Because of the cooperation of our county residents, we have had a very successful year. See you all next year!

SDA church recognizes gifts from Mae Howes

by Marilyn Sayler

She was a good wife and mother, keeping busy at home raising three children. She believed in minding her own business and expected other people to do the same. But one day Mrs. Mae Howes had a life-changing experience that caused her to amend her philosophy — for good.

It happened one morning in Barnum, MN, when a tramp came to her door and asked for a shirt. Mrs. Howes was busy doing the laundry and didn't appreciate the interruption. Besides, this was during the 30s and her husband had only two shirts — the one he was wearing and the one she was washing. She brusquely told the tramp to leave and shut the door. With the sound of the closing door, her heart was pierced with compassion as she thought, "I could have at least offered to wash the shirt he had on!" She instantly threw open the door and dashed out into the street, but could see no one. She ran to the neighbor's house thinking the poor man might have received a better reception there. But the neighbors hadn't seen anyone at all. "There is no way a man could completely disappear that fast," says Howes. "I knew then and there that I had refused an angel of God. And I vowed it would never happen again!"

The years that followed have found Mae true to her word. She has opened her home to literally dozens of hungry people. She recalls, "One young man was so hungry when he came to my house that he ate some cucumbers that I had on the outdoor step, skin and all, while he waited for me to fix lunch. When I invited him to come sit at our table and eat a hot meal, he asked in astonishment, 'How do you dare let me come and eat at your table?' I told him that God asks me to feed the hungry and He protects me."

But feeding the hungry is one way Mrs. Howes has kept her promise. Early in her marriage she became involved in the work of Community Services. She remembers sewing blankets in the home of a friend in Duluth. Several years later, when the family moved to International Falls, she started a Community Services Center there. "It wasn't much of a center then," she admits. "We shared a tiny room with the furnace in the basement of the church. We had no shelves, but we got a hold of lots of cardboard boxes. The main thing was that we were able to serve people." Since that humble beginning, Mrs Howes has watched with excitement the expansion of that Community Services Center into a modern and functional unit.

Some time later, the Howes family moved to Thief River Falls, and since then Mae has left her own mark on the local Adventist Community Services Center. For 19 years she has served as its director, generously volunteering over 20 hours per week in a labor of love. During busy seasons such as Christmas, that figure escalates dramatically. Mrs. Howes describes her reward thus, "The people who come here make it worthwhile. I love them all." And her actions show that she really does. She cares about more than putting clothing into the hands of the

State issues warning about loan scams

Better Business Bureau of Minnesota is warning Minnesota consumers to be alert for loan scams.

Consumers and small business owners in Minnesota must be on their guard against a national epidemic of bogus "guaranteed" loan programs preying on victims of the hard times resulting from the lingering economic recession and the credit crunch that have dried up many legitimate loan sources, the Better Business Bureau of Minnesota warned recently in issuing an urgent CBBB National Consumer Alert on advance-fee loan scams.

"This may be the fastest growing fraud that Minnesota residents are being exposed to right now," said Ron Graham, president of the Better Business Bureau of Minnesota. "Advance-fee loan schemes are particularly cruel since they take up-front money from extremely vulnerable consumers — the unemployed, people with bad credit and small business owners desperate for capital — and then deliver absolutely nothing in return."

Advance-fee loan scheme, in which phony "guaranteed" loans are promised in exchange for front-end payment of as little as $100 or as much as $100,000 or more, have triggered tens of thousands of consumer complaints and inquiries about scores of bogus and suspect advance-fee loan firms to Better Business Bureaus (BBBs) across the U.S. According to the alert being issued, bureaus are reporting that the recession-fueled surge in advance-fee loan scams now account for their largest or fastest-growing category of complaints.

"Here in Minnesota, the bureau already has received 1532 complaints and inquiries from consumers on dozens of firms," Ron Graham said. "Our goal is to make sure that consumers think twice before they part with their money,

Norsk Hostfest

Passengers boarded the two Carpenter busses Friday morning, October 18, at 7:30 from the parking lot across from Hardee's in Thief River Falls, for the "Norsk Host Fest" in Minot, ND, being sponsored by the Overland Travel Club. The passenger list included Alvin and Mildred Rendorl, Vernon and Lillian Kees, Loren and Helen Klopp, George and Audrey Broadwell, Lewis Carpenter, Norman and Lillian Berry, Ray and Maybelle Solney, Stanley and Caroline Egenes, Edward and Audrey Bolards, Myrtle Thune, Genevieve Holien, Irvin and Margie Jorshaw, Esther Solseng, Eleanor Joyce, Gote Anderson, Erland Anderson, Ernie and Pearl Holgeneet, Irwin and Pearl Johnson and Sara Kusmak, all from Thief River Falls, from Grand Rapids Dorothy Bolko, Eunice Cartwright and Morgaret Niemi, from Chisholm Mildred Olofson, from Middle River Arnie and Ione Tuura, from Mahnomen Bernord and Lucille Myers, from Red Lake Falls Vernon and Violet Knaack and Paul and Harriet Grandbois, Mary Kusmak of Goodridge, Sophia Kugler from Washington, DC, and from Minneapolis Kermit and Betty Eastman and Mabel Haugen, Robert and Lois Swanson of Viking, Alyce Sevre of St. Hilaire, from Euclid Evelyn Shimpa and Mylo and Millie Vilven, from Roseau Melvin and Bonnie Honson and Ruth Monson, from Oslo Eloise Johnson and Dorothy Howards and from Warren Leonard and Delphine Olson, Elsie Conley, George and Eva Monroe, Howard and Goldie Lomberson, Wells and Lorene Engelstad, Bernice Knutson and Kathy Sedlacek, from Stephen Irene Urbaniak, Clara Szczepanski, Violet Hallman, and Phyllis Jorgonson and from Argyle Leana Hammerbeck, Lois Dufault, George Johnson, Effie Knoll, Leonard Kuznia, Leslie and Verne Dahl and Hans Kirkolde. Randy and Jeannie Carpenter were bus driver and tour guides for those traveling on the brown bus, while Eldon and Evonne Moe were the driver and tour guide on the blue bus. When they reached Minot they all checked in at the Select Inn Motel before going out to the fairgrounds. The main feature of the evening entertainment was a program by Bill Cosby, America's top comedian, who has had nearly 30 years in the comedy business. Saturday morning the bus loads left the motel at 8 o'clock for the Host Fest, for its many different forms of interest. Reserved seats had been scheduled for the group at 4 p.m. to see the main shows, which starred Johnny Cash and June Carter. Other regulars for the Fest were Myron Floren, Forester Sisters and Bjoro Haaland. For those who did not want to stay for the whole day, they went back to the motel by shuttle bus at $2 per person. A Carpenter bus brought everyone back to the motel after the last show, while the other Carpenter bus remained to accommodate the ones who preferred to stay for the dances. Sunday morning the passengers checked out at the motel by 10 o'clock and the busses headed for home, stopping in Grand Forks for an early dinner, and were back in Thief River Falls by about 6 o'clock, from a fun weekend. The next and last trip in 1991 for the Overland Travel club to sponsor will be to the Ozarks in the Branson, MO, area, November 11-17. Anyone interested and wishing more information is asked to contact Eldon and Evonne Moe at 681-3443.

'EVIL' SHOULD BE ONLY FOR CHILDREN'S HALLOWEEN FUN

Upon this spooky night of nights
We're bound to see the strangest sights,
Of costumed figures on our streets,
Who hope that we'll provide them treats;
And having fun, are unaware
Of this tradition that they share:
An ancient custom, long decried,
Of evil deeds personified.
Now from our childhood we recall
The good old days when we were small;
And when our lives had just begun,
We thought that "evil" was for fun;
Then through our faith began to know
That goodness is the way to go;
For "evil" then had come to mean
Just children's fun on Halloween.

— Gloria Nowak

Evil is easy, and has infinite forms.

State issues warning about loan scams

because this is definitely a 'look before you leap' situation."

Graham said the Bureau is moving quickly to alert law enforcement agencies about the advance-fee loan schemes. A Minnesota operation doing business across the nation was shut down following over 500 complaints and inquiries to the bureau, Graham said, thanks to swift action by Attorney General Humphrey and the local office of the FBI. Graham said the bureau estimates that the Edina-based company, Active Financial Service, was generating a substantial daily take on the $200 to $500 advance fees being collected prior to its closing on September 20, 1991.

The following cases of bogus or suspect advance-fee loan schemes have been reported in recent months:

- A number of phony loan schemes are preying directly on consumers who are experiencing dire financial difficulties as a result of the economic downturn. One Texas man, who had lost his part-time night job and could not pay his bills with the income from his regular employment, lost a total of $400 to two advance-fee loan scams based in New York state. The man reported that he was promised loans even though he explained that he could not make ends meet and would use the money to pay current bills. "this may put us out of the apartment into the car," he told the BBB in Dallas. In another case, an advance-fee loan scheme used lists of the names of people involved in foreclosure proceedings around the U.S. and then mailed out application packages promising needed money in exchange for an up-front cost of $375.
- A Roanoke, VA, businessman was told by a Charlotte, NC, advance-fee loan "broker" that he would receive $2.75 million in credit in exchange for a $13,750 fee, which later was negotiated down to $2,500. The Virginia man intended to use the funds to finance a golf course development project. He never received the promised funds or a refund of his advance-fee before the scheme, which claimed to have access to hundreds of millions of dollars in funds from Asian sources, collapsed and shut its doors. Undisclosed to this customer and others was that a principal in the North Carolina Scam was a man who had been sentenced on felony fraud charges in April 1986 in connection with an earlier loan scheme. He had been sentenced by a Colorado court to serve eight years of probation and to provide restitution to earlier victims. This sentence was in effect even while the North Carolina scheme was offering loans to small businesses there and elsewhere in the nation.

The current national epidemic in advance-fee loan schemes is now being promoted through "Money to Lend" and other classified advertisements in local and national newspaper, magazines and tabloids. It is being fueled by mail pitches, radio spots and ads placed on local cable television channels. Toll-fee "800" numbers and "900" number resulting in charges on the customer's phone bill also are being used to spread the false promise of "Bad credit — no credit — no problem" loans for those in need.

Not all victims of advance-fee loan schemes are individuals who are out of work or otherwise down on their luck. The tight credit market has created a golden opportunity for advance-fee loan promoters who now are targeting business owners searching for new sources of credit. In addition to offering the illusion of "instant" capital, con artists also may try to reel in small businesses with talk of rock-bottom interest rates of as little as six per cent and other "easy financing" terms. Unlike the relatively small sums asked on an up-front basis of individuals, the business community victims of advance-fee loan scams may be hit for substantial sums of several thousand and even hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Graham explained, "the hard facts are that if the money or credit you desire is unavailable through normal channels, it is unlikely to be found through a classified advertisement, a telemarketing 'cold call' sales pitch, a '900' number or a late-night advertisement on a cable television channel. Ask yourself. How is it that a far-away lender would be more likely than local institutions to provide me with money?"

needy. She is interested in their souls and hearts as well. Those who know her, like her 11 grand children and 16 great grandchildren, and those who don't, know of her love. Hugging a child and encouraging a mother are as much a part of her style as assisting someone to find a coat for the winter months. With 60 years of practice, reaching out and helping people is just second nature to Mac.

"But don't give me credit," she insists. "Loving people is a gift of God. He's the One to get our praise and thanks."

Limited Government

The following commentary on the Ninth and Tenth Amendments to the U.S. Constitution come from the National Newspaper Association publication "The Constitution: The Words We Live By."

The first eight amendments in the Bill of Rights contain specific prohibitions on the manner in which the federal government may exercise its powers. The Ninth and Tenth Amendments hint that there may be limits beyond those specified.

The Ninth Amendment recognizes personal rights that may be entitled to constitutional protection from government interference. The Tenth acknowledges the political principle that all powers belong to the people. Only those powers delegated by the people may be exercised by the government, either federal or state. Thus the Bill of Rights ends on the note sounded at the Constitution's beginning, affirming the sovereign power of "We, the People."

Taken together, these Amendments are a curious compromise between the arguments of the Anti-Federalists and Federalists concerning the need for a Bill of Rights. Federalists argued that the protection of rights depended ultimately "on the general spirit of the people and of the government," and that the Constitution itself was therefore "in every rational sense, and to every useful purpose, a Bill of Rights."

Anti-Federalists, more distrustful of the federal government and concerned about the eclipse of state powers, wanted the Tenth Amendment to limit Congress to the powers "expressly delegated," the language of the Articles of Confederation. In debate, James Madison pointed out that "it is impossible to confine a government to the exercise of express powers; there must necessarily be admitted powers by implication ..."

Twice, states attempted to assert their sovereign power by declaring Acts of Congress to be exercises of undelegated power and thus unconstitutional. Although these attempts were unsuccessful, they kept alive the theory that the Constitution was a "compact," or contract, among sovereign states. This theory was the foundation of the doctrine, acted out by the Southern States in 1860, that a state could secede from the Union.

It took the cataclysm of Civil War to settle the issue of the primacy of the federal government in domestic affairs. Following the war, the federal government through Acts of Congress, executive actions and Supreme Court decisions expanded its power, authority and influence within the states. This power was manifested in the role of the federal government during Reconstruction, later in the New Deal, and more recently in civil rights enforcement.

In recent years, courts and successive administrations have sought a realignment of federal and state responsibilities, under such rubrics as "creative federalism" or "new federalism." Such initiatives demonstrate that the idea of divided powers expressed in the Tenth Amendment still influences our system of government.

Despite their profound theoretical significance for the nature of our government, no rights have been identified as rights protected by the Ninth Amendment, and so far no court has found a power claimed by the federal government that is "reserved to the States....or to the people."

Letters To The Editor and Corrections

Letters To The Editor: The Times encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in The Times exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The Times believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will no longer withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by The Times for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, The Times encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention at 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Water Service Stopped On East Side

"Water service to east side residents will be interrupted Friday morning at 7 o'clock while necessary repairs are being made to the mains, Supt. Ole Legvold of the water and light department announced today. Service may be resumed after about one hour, it was indicated."

Guard Movable Property On Hallowe'en

"Police Chief L. W. Knadle suggested today that it would be a good policy for local householders to take their garbage cans inside Friday night, which, in accordance with time-honored tradition, will be observed as Halloween by youngsters of the community. Other readily movable property should also be put under cover, he said."

Elks Set Date For Hallowe'en Dance

"The local Elks lodge is sponsoring a Hallowe'en dance for members and out-of-town guests, to be held Saturday evening, November 1, in the lodge hall, which will be appropriately decorated for the occasion, the entertainment committee announced today."

Turkey Marketing Group At Full Speed

"With local Thanksgiving turkey marketing pools opening Monday, November 3, the several plants in the city are preparing to handle a large volume of the festive birds. Turkeys to be forwarded for the Thanksgiving market will be received until Tuesday, November 11, it was announced, the Thanksgiving holiday falling this year on November 20."

From the Editorial Page

"The Twin City business men are talking of organizing a board of immigration to induce settlers to come and make use of Minnesota's vacant land. If this board of immigration, when organized, will make it a point to see the Twin City newspapers and ask them to casually state once in a while that there is a fertile land called Minnesota just east of the much boomed Dakotas, it would undoubtedly be of considerable benefit."

Railroad Business

"All work has been stopped on the railroad grade between here and Red Lake Falls. Contractor Jackson and crew came in Monday and will ship his outfit south today. He claims that it will be impossible to do any more work this fall. The work, we understand, will be commenced again next spring as soon as the ground can be worked and the road finished as rapidly as possible."

THIS IS HOW A DESPERATE DRUG ADDICT SEES YOUR CHILD.

He doesn't see the energetic, young mind that's underneath the cassette recorder. He doesn't see the much-loved-kid-on-the-block that's inside the leather jacket. All he sees is the cassette recorder and the jacket, and how to get the money for his next fix.

But the drug addict's real blindness is that he'll never see the heartbreak he will cause when he leaves your child lying on the street.

You must fight back. You can make a difference. Start now by calling 1-800-WE PREVENT and we'll send you information on successful ways to join with others to protect your children from crime in your neighborhood.

Reforming MN Workers' Comp on meet agenda

Worker's compensation will be the subject of a meeting in Thief River Falls 7:30 p.m. Thursday, November 7.

In an effort to raise the visibility of Minnesota's "number one business issue," the Minnesota Workers' Compensation Coalition will join with the Thief River Falls and Crookston Chambers of Commerce to host a special Workers' Compensation Forum on Thursday, November 7, at the Thief River Falls Best Western Inn starting at 7:30 p.m.

The 90-minute forum will feature Larry Koll, a recognized expert on Minnesota's complicated and costly workers' compensation system. Koll, prominent St. Paul attorney and long-time workers' comp practitioner, will outline for the Forum the items that make Minnesota's present law so costly. He will also detail the changes being sought by the Coalition in the 1992 legislative session to gain "real reform" that will result to lower premium costs to Minnesota's employers.

Regional SBDC office will remain

A collaborative effort between the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund and Bemidji State university assures that services of the regional Small Business Development center will remain available in Bemidji and through its satellite office in Thief River Falls.

The effort has been approved by the Small Business Development center of the Minnesota Department of Trade and Economic Development.

Since 1983, BSU has been the host institution for the SBDC in northwest Minnesota. In July of 1991, due to budget cuts, BSU announced that it could no longer maintain the sponsorship because of the significant amount of cash match required for the program.

Under the new proposal, the Initiative Fund will provide the cash match required by the Small Business Administration. BSU will remain the sponsor and oversee the program but will contract with NWMIF for implementation of SBDC services.

"This situation provided a unique opportunity to present a progressive, innovative solution to the budget crunches facing most educational institutions," stated Ruth Edevold, executive director of the NWMIF. "It recognizes that shared decision-making must be a part of shared-financial-support to truly reflect the public-private partnerships that must be established. We hope that this solution can be a model for future partnerships."

Honor club for 1990-91 in Pennington county was the Happy Acres 4-H club. Accepting the award plaque at the annual county 4-H awards night program Friday in the Lincoln high school auditorium were Paul Johnson and Carla Sorenson, president and vice president for 1990-1991.

Ribbon cutting to officially open the new Hurrah! store in the Northland Plaza on highway 59 south took place at 4 p.m. Friday, November 1. On hand were Mayor Bob Carlson to do the ribbon cutting and chamber of commerce Ambassadors Norman Wassink and Betty Schike to welcome the store management and staff to the business community. Staff members (left to right) are Tonya Perez, Marty Kaiser, Tina Hogman, manager Mary Lee Neuschwander, Jowain Prilay, Candy Tennerman, Jill Stenberg and Vonda Hogan. The store will be open Sundays from noon to 5 p.m., Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m.

Carol Walseth & Jason Gust wed Sept. 28

Carol Walseth and Jason Gust were united in marriage September 28 at Our Redeemer's Lutheran church in Badger. Rev. Don Fulton officiated at the 4 p.m. single ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Norma Wold of Goodridge. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. James Gust of Strathcona.

Special music was provided by Carol Gregorson, aunt of the groom, who sang "Wedding Prayer," "My Only Love" and "The Vows Go Unbroken." Polly Ann Parr, friend of the couple, served as organist.

The church was decorated with pink and white streamers, bells and balloons. The church pews were decorated with pink and white bows.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her brother, Rodney Wold, chose a pink gown of satin and organza featuring a rounded V neckline, dropped basque warsdine with pearls and sequins, rococo sleeves accented in hand-beaded silk floss lace and a semi-cathedral train with hand-beaded lace appliques and organza ruffles. The bride complemented her gown with a fingertip veil with a spray of flowers and beads at the side. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses with small pink flowers and beads and irridescent bead sprays.

Connie Wold of Goodridge served as her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Ramona Johnston of Roseau, sister of the groom, and Sue Frazer of Thief River Falls. Junior bridesmaid was Elizabeth Walseth, daughter of the bride. They wore tea length gowns of irridescent plum color, gathered at the shoulders with fitted bodices and diagonal hemlines and carried bouquets of pink and mauve roses and lilies with babies' breath and silver beads.

Julie Hill, friend of the bride, served as the bride's personal attendant.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with tails. His boutonniere was a pink rose and white baby rose with babies breath.

Rapheal Gust of Minneapolis, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Steve Gust of Thief River Falls, brother of the groom and Jim Gust Jr. of Strathcona, brother of the groom. They wore silver gray tuxedos with tails. Their boutonneres were pink roses with babies' breath.

Ring bearer were Travis Walseth, son of the bride. He was dressed to match the groomsmen. His boutonniere was two small pink roses.

Ushering the guests were Stuart Gust and Rick Gust, both brothers of the groom, and Roger Wold and Robert Wold, both brothers of the bride. They wore silver gray tuxedos. Their boutonnieres were pink roses with babies' breath. Programs were handed out by Lori Wold, sister of the bride, and Jeremy Gust, brother of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, the mothers of the bride wore a corsage of pink roses with netting and ribbon. The groom's father had a pink rose boutonniere.

Honored guests at the ceremony were Alice Gregerson and John and Georgeanne Gust, grandparents of the groom, and Elizabeth Gust, great grandmother of the groom.

A reception was held for the couple following the ceremony. Hosting the reception were Marlys Jaenicke and Marcella Gust, both aunts of the groom, and Jerome and Sharon Henning, uncle and aunt of the groom. Val Bruggeman and Doug Hoverson, friends of the couple, presided over the guest book.

The wedding cake was cut by Diane Dahl and Arlette Pearson, both aunts of the groom. Coffee was served by Fern Sovada and Lorraine Hines. Kelly Barry and Patti Otness, both friends of the bride, served punch.

Flower hostess was Shelli Kasprick, friend of the bride. Waitresses were Michelle Trontvedt, niece of the bride, Sarah Gregerson, cousin of the groom, and Lynn Woods, niece of the bride.

Following a wedding trip to the North Shore drive, the couple is at home in Strathcona.

Storyteller is Book Week highlight

Storyteller Holly Ristau kicks off Children's Book Week activities at the Thief River Falls public library with a program held Sunday, November 10 at 2 p.m. Children's Book Week is November 10-17 and all week children may sign up for the book drawing. Two names will be drawn and these children will be able to choose a book whose value is $5 or less.

Holly Ristau, district librarian of Mahnomen schools, will present a 45-minute program of entertaining stories for young and old alike. Families are encouraged to enjoy this special program together. The program is offered free of charge to the public. Ms. Ristau was formerly the New Ulm public librarian and has had articles published in Illinois Libraries and School Library Journal. She got started storytelling when a coworker in the Traverse des Sioux system suggested they would be a good tandem storytelling team. She has been storytelling ever since and, as she puts it, "I plan to raise my children in a secure home filled with laughter and the joy of stories."

For more information, contact the Thief River Falls public library.

THANK YOU

We would like to thank Fathers Joe & John, Pastor Bob and Intern Anne, for their concern, comforting words, beautiful prayer service, and Funeral Mass, Sister Mardelle, Audrey Rugalla, Sharon Wayne and Choir for their beautiful music; and also, a special thank you to Kristen Dahlen for singing "Chad's Song" the night of the prayer service. Thank you to St. Anne's Ladies Aid for the delicious meal and also St. Anne's Men's club for all the work of hauling tables and setting up extra chairs. Thanks also to the Green funeral home.

Thank you to the Grygla and Thief River Falls Ambulance services and emergency staff at Northwest Medical Center. Thanks to everyone who helped out in any way at the scene of the accident, especially to Rick and Tim for doing everything you could for Chad the night of the accident and to all of Chad's friends for all your love and concern.

We want to thank everyone for your prayers, visits, phone calls, cards, memorials, flowers and also for bringing food to the house.

Special thanks to Gene, Vince and Ron for helping us with chores, Robert and Adeline for opening your home to everyone the day of the prayer service, and also, for preparing a beautiful meal for everyone that evening.

MAY GOD BLESS EACH AND EVERY ONE OF YOU AND KEEP YOU SAFE.

Arthur "Bill" Lull, 80

Thief River Falls — Arthur "Bill" Lull, 80, died October 31 at his home in Thief River Falls.

Funeral services were held November 4 at the Zion Lutheran church in Thief River Falls with Rev. Roger Hanson officiating. Special music was provided by Marie Engen, soloist, and Ida Nordvall, organist. Casketbearers were Paul Halverson, Daniel Helle, Roger Hiller, Clayton Loiland and Harold Steinhauer. Interment was in the Greenwood cemetery. The Green Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Arthur Elmer Lull was born June 8, 1911 near Radium, in Comstock township, Marshall county, the son of Leonard and Ellen (Floberg) Lull. He was baptized and confirmed in the Christian faith and attended school in Radium. He worked on various farms in Marshall county as young man. On May 3, 1933 he was united in marriage to Alice Lenhart at Warren. The couple farmed near Radium for some time and moved to Thief River Falls in 1950. He farmed near Thief River Falls, worked for the Soo Line railroad and worked on road construction. His wife died on May 28, 1973. He was united in marriage to Alma Holten at Thief River Falls on Jan. 5, 1974 and they continued to make their home in Thief River Falls. He was a member of the Zion Lutheran church and a former member of the Railroad Carmen's union.

He is survived by his wife; one daughter, Myrtle Casavan of Thief River Falls; three stepdaughters: Karil Sevre of Isatt, Mrs. Mike (Sandy) Whalen and Mrs. Richard (Vonnie) Hoglo, both of Thief River Falls; one son-in-law, Norman Helle; 12 grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren; and one sister, Bonita Fulton of Thief River Falls.

He was preceded in death by his first wife, one daughter, Jeanette Helle; grandson, Terry Berggren; his parents; son-in-law, Duane Sevre; four brothers: Frank, Archie, Earl and one in infancy, and five sisters: Evelyn, Lucille, Eleanor, Hazel and Lilly.

Sophie Legg, 73

Thief River Falls — Sophie Legg, 73, died October 30 at the Lutheran Memorial Home in Twin Valley.

Funeral services were held November 3 at the St. Bernard's Catholic church in Thief River Falls with Rev. John Kleinwachter officiating. Special music was provided by the Resurrection choir with Heather Wolbeck as cantor and Kristi LaSalle as organist. Honorary casketbearer were Lisa Legg, Kae Legg, Eugenia Legg, Bruce Legg, Kimberly Maltz, Rodney Bustrak, Troy Hannon, Todd Hannon, Tron Olson, Brent Olson, Tricia Janousek, Jo-Jo Feragen, Christina Chapa, Leslie Rodahl, Shane Legg, Corey Legg and Tony Legg. The Green Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Sophie P. Lipsh was born Apr. 11, 1918 in Pisek, ND, the daughter of George and Anna (Kozel) Lipsh. She was baptized and confirmed and attended school at Pisek. On Sept. 20, 1938 she was united in marriage to Bruce Legg at Pisek. They made their home at Forest River, ND, until 1956 when they moved to Rocksbury township, Pennington county. They farmed there until 1965 when they moved into Thief River Falls. Her husband died on Oct. 11, 1981. She was a member of St. Bernard's Catholic church and was a leader of the Happy Acres 4-H club for some time. She worked as a cook at Kife's cafe, the Mint, the Best Western restaurant and at Hanson's Boarding Home and was also employed by Arctic Enterprises, all in Thief River Falls.

She is survived by two sons: James Legg of Henderson and Eugene Legg of Thief River Falls; four daughters: Mrs. Ervin (Joyce) Olson and Mrs. Wayne (Jo-Dale) Hannon of Thief River Falls, Mrs. Steve (Mary Lou) Marchison of Farmersville, TX and Rochelle Chapa of Thief River Falls; 17 grandchildren; and nine great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her husband; her parents; one brother, John Lipsch; and two sisters: Ann Lipsch and Mary Tuma.

Dear Readers,
There are many people who stay away from a visitation because they are uneasy about what is expected of them. All anyone needs to say is, "I'm sorry". Even if no words are exchanged, a simple squeeze of the hand brings more support than any rehearsed remarks you could imagine. Your presence means so much to the family. They will never forget that you were there.
Respectfully,
Belmont Funeral Home

Teresa Gunderson and David Schantzen wed

Teresa Gunderson and David Schantzen were united in marriage October 5 at the St. John Lutheran church in Thief River Falls. Rev. Daryl Rothchild officiated at the 5 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Donald and Joan Gunderson of Thief River Falls. The groom is the son of the late Lawrence and Donna Schantzen.

Special music was provided by Kimberly Koste and James and Krista Nordheim, cousins of the bride, who sang "Make Us One, Father," "God, a Woman and a Man," "He Has Chosen You For Me" and "The Wedding Song." Elaine Idso served as organist.

The church was decorated with a brass unity candle, white ribbon flower arrangements and flower basket arrangements on the altar. The orchids and roses were in memory of the groom's parents and grandparents and a special remembrance of Hilda Bach. The church pews were decorated with wine rose sprays and pink and white bows.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her father and brother, Mark A. Gunderson, chose a traditional white satin gown with pouff sleeves that tapered to a point at the wrist and were accented with pearls and sequins, a fitted bodice with V waistline adorned with pearls and irridescent sequins, and a large bow at the back. The gown featured a train with lace cutouts, three bows, beads, sequins, pearls and scalloped edges. The bride complemented her gown with a beaded headband coming to a V at the front which was accented with sprays of pearls, and a pouffed veil with flowed to the middle of her back with hand sewn pearls around the edge. The bride carried a bouquet of white lilies and wine and light wine rosebuds with greenery and sprays of pearls.

Stacy Hoffman of St. Paul, friend of the couple, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Anissia Boutain of Warroad, Melinda Amiot of Staples, Yolanda Nomeland of Thief River Falls, and Mykal Robinson of Lawton, ND, all friends of the couple. They wore gowns of wine floral chantilly lace over taffeta on the fitted bodice with a dropped waist skirt and sash and bow. The dresses had graduated hemlines, sheer lace sleeves tapering to a point at the wrist and a V back accented with scalloped lace edges. They wore white and wine open roses accented with feathers and sprays of pearls in their hair and carried arm bouquets of white lilies accented with wine and light wine rosebuds, greenery and pearl sprays. The maid of honor carried a hand bouquet of the same flowers.

Junior bridesmaid was Brenda Schantzen of Newtown, ND, niece of the groom. She wore a dress of black floral chantilly lace over win taffeta which matched the bridesmaids'. She carried a bouquet to match the bridesmaids'.

Marla Erickson, friend of the bride, served as the bride's personal attendant.

The groom was attired in a black pinstripe tuxedo with tails and black bow tie and vest with wine pocket square. His boutonniere was a wine rose with white lilies and pearls.

Mark McCraw of Thief River Falls, friend of the couple, served as best man. Groomsmen were Jay Asp of Viking, Mark Rozowski of Thief River Falls, Joe McCraw of Thief River Falls, and Neal Helle of Thief River Falls, all friends of the couple. They wore black pinstripe tuxedos with tails, wine bow ties and cummerbunds. The best man wore a wine pocket square. Their boutonnieres were wine roses with white lilies and pearls.

Junior groomsmen was Scott Gunderson of Climax, cousin of the bride. He was dressed to match the groomsmen. His boutonniere was a wine rose with white lilies and pearls.

Ushering the guests were Chris Taylor, Craig Olson, Diamond Chadwick and Glenn Morstad, all friends of the couple. They wore black pinstripe tuxedos with wine bow ties and cummerbunds. Their boutonnieres were wine roses with white lilies and pearls. Acolyte was Chad Gunderson, cousin of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a tailored two piece suit in medium gray with a black blouse accented with rhinestone jewelry. She wore a corsage of wine roses with white lilies, pearls and greenery. The father of the bride wore a black pinstripe tuxedo with tails, wine bow tie and vest. His boutonniere was a wine rose with white lilies and pearls.

Honored guest at the ceremony was Mark Gunderson, brother of the bride.

A reception was held for the couple following the ceremony. Host couples were Rodney and Audrey Erickson, godparents of the bride, and Chester and Janet Swanson, uncle and aunt of the groom. Kristie Sullivan, niece of the groom, and Michelle Lemcke, friend of the couple, presided over the guest book.

Highlighting the serving table was a four-tiered white wedding cake decorated with wine flowers and hearts. Bride and groom figurines were set between the layers and the cake was topped with a gold cross with white flower and pearl accents. The cake was decorated by Karen Fossel, friend of the bride, and cut by DeEtta Gunderson and Adeline Nordheim, both aunts of the bride, and Betty and Kathy Schantzen, both sister-in-law of the groom. Coffee was served by LeAnn Gunderson, aunt of the bride, and Dianne Pederson, aunt of the groom. Jessica Housey and Toni Dahlen, both nieces of the groom, served punch.

Flower hostess was Marleone Gunderson, aunt of the bride. Gift attendant coordinator was Janet [illegible], [illegible] of the bride. Gift attendants were Dean Gunderson, cousin of the bride, and Steven Schantzen, [illegible] of the groom. Waitress coordinator was Pam [illegible], [illegible] the groom. Waitresses were Annie Dahlen, Marie [illegible] and Christy Pederson, all nieces of the groom, and Tanya Christianson, friend of the bride. The wedding was videotaped by Orville Gunderson, uncle of the bride, and Dan Vandeventer, friend of the couple. Photographer was Ted Nordheim, uncle of the bride.

Following a wedding trip to Orlando, FL, the couple is at home in East Grand Forks. The groom is a graduate of the Thief River Falls technical college and is employed by Tony Downs Inc. in Grand Forks. The bride is a graduate of the North Dakota State College of Science in Occupational Therapy and is employed by the Developmental Center in Grafton, ND.

How is the Harvest Coming?

"The threshing machines are all hard at work, but they are having a sorry time of it. They takes them fully one half of the time to move. It is estimated by those who ought to know that there is not over forty per cent of the grain in this vicinity threshed. If it would only freeze up without any snow falling work would progress rapidly. At the best it will take several weeks of steady work to finish and if we have a heavy fall of snow a large amount of threshing must be left over until spring."

"The wheat men here have been raising the limit just a trifle the last week and some lively bidding has been indulged in. The average farmer when he sees three or four buyers around him wears a very satisfied smile and accepts the highest bid in a very contented manner. It is a snap for the farmers who can haul in their wheat but poor roads prevent many from coming in."

Speaking Of . . .

. . . New Brooms Will Sweep Clean

Today I'm going to do a little speculating about the election results you will hear tonight. This is an exciting year for Thief River Falls, with all the positions open on the city council, as well as the top job of mayor of the city. Who will win? Let me look into my crystal ball and see what I can see...

I see that the theme of this year's city election will be "A new broom sweeps clean." Watch and see, this snappy statement may very well be the theme for next year's national elections, too. People are fed up and they just aren't going to take it any more. A lot of old standbys will bite the dust in many elections around the country, and term limits will be a serious consideration next year.

Back to the city election of today. My first selection is the easiest one of all. Orlie Wennberg is running for third ward position, and will win hands down. Easy enough to pick this one, since Mr. Wennberg is unopposed.

The position of fifth ward alderman will be to Frank Hamerlinck, although Don Goodrich will give him a bit of a run for the money. Dr. Goodrich has served on the council for eight years and many people in the fifth ward will wish to see him continue, but the "new broom" will prevail and sweep him away in the long run.

In the second ward, we have no incumbent, so the "new broom" can sweep up either candidate. David Carlson has youth on his side, but also inexperience. Bill Hogan has been active in the community for a few years and knows the ropes. I predict that the conservative voters of the second ward will sweep up and elect Mr. Hogan this time around. Give Mr. Carlson a few more years and a few more younger voters in the second ward and Mr. Carlson will come up a winner in the future.

The first ward alderman race will show Milt Burstad to be the winner. I think that Mr. Burstad will sweep up a victory fram Milan Borsheim by a substantial margin, even though Mr. Borsheim has faithfully represented the citizens of Thief River Falls for a number of years. My "new broom" theory will prevail in this race, sweeping up with the "newer" candidate.

There are two alderman-at-large positions to consider this year, one two-year position and one four-year position. Incumbent J.J. Womack faces John T. Anderson for the two-year position. This may be the one spot where my "new broom" fails to sweep. Mr. Womack has served the city for many years and is well known to his constituents. Mr. Anderson, however, is also a long-time resident and known to many. I have to predict that Mr. Womack will sweep away with this alderman-at-large position in spite of my "new broom" theory.

The four-year alderman race is between Jean Heinrichs and Arden "Bud" Comstock. Even though Ms. Heinrichs has served on the council since alderman Don Liden's death, both she and Mr. Comstock are relative newcomers to Thief River Falls politics. I think that Ms. Heinrichs will sweep up on this one with the "new broom" theory holding true due to the fact that Ms. Heinrichs is a female. High time we see some women council members. The race will be close, however, and Mr. Comstock will be a formidable future candidate if he chooses to run again.

And who is going to be the new mayor? There is no doubt in my mind that Bob Reeve will come out the winner in this race. Mr. Reeve has been active in the community for many years and served as vice mayor, and Mr. Olson is relatively unknown to the residents of the city. Even though Mr. Olson may well be qualified and certainly seems to have some good ideas, I'm afraid he won't get far this year.

Thanks to Mayor Bob's last minute statement that he would be willing to serve as a write-in candidate, I can still save face and say my :"new broom" theory is holding out. I'll predict that the "new broom" will sweep out the old Mayor Bob, write-in campaign or not, and sweep in the new Mayor Bob by a landslide.

By the way, don't forget to get out and vote today and let your voice be heard.

Hanson herd is DHIA leader

Mark Hanson herd fram Thief River Falls led the Pennington County Dairy Herd Improvement association for September with a herd average of 73.3 pounds of milk and 2.45 pounds of butterfat per day.

Ninety-four per cent of the 51-cow herd was in production in September. The Hansons milk three times a day.

Mylo Carlson herd was in second place with average daily production of 61.5 pounds of milk and 2.14 pounds of butterfat. Eighty-nine per cent of the 65-cow herd was in production during September.

Lyle Swanson herd finished in third place for the month with an average daily production of 52.3 pounds of milk and 1.76 pounds of butterfat. Seventy-nine per cent of the 43-cow herd was in milk.

Other herds in the top 10 include the following with number of cows, percentage in production, average pounds of milk and average pounds of butterfat listed respectively:

Walter Bros. Farm, 95, 74%, 47.9 and 1.68; James R. Muzzy, 39, 92%, 47.8 and 1.80; Warren Hamrick & Sons, 95, 92%, 46.2 and 1.82; Tony and Sheila Salentine, 44, 95%, 45.1 and 1.59; Orlan and Joel Stolaas, 43, 88%, 45.1 and 1.49; Duane Krohn, 36, 92%, 45.0 and 1.66; and Pearson Bros., 39, 87%, 41.0 and 1.45.

Herd averages are affected by the number of dry cows in the herd since production is averaged over the entire herd to give the dairyman a record of the herd's earning power for the month. During September there were 21 official DHIA herds and four owner-sampler herds on test in the association.

Center school to operate next year

Rumors that the Northwest Vocational center for high school students will not operate next year are unfounded, according to a letter written by Bill Hahne, director of the center school in Thief River Falls.

Hahne said he had been asked by students about the rumor and that he had seen a brief statement to that effect published in one of the area's local newspapers.

"Rumors are nothing new to education," Hahne said in his letter to the newspaper which carried the statement about the school closing. "Rumors that the Northwest Vocational Cooperative Center School in Thief River Falls would not be operating the following year probably started in 1973. The school began in 1972. Rumor has it that this is the center school's last year.

"With state restructuring, Thief River Falls restructuring, technical preparation, outcome based education, the new state graduation requirements, Magnet Arts and the list goes on," he added. "It is probable that the center school's structure will indeed change during the course of the next few years.

"It is even possible that the cooperative as we know it may be gone. This does not mean the vocational/technical courses will be gone for our high school population. The future may even see new courses added like Principles of Technology (applied physics) and an Introduction to Aviation."

He said the new and long overdue mindset of the '90s is that "schools have to be structured around the needs of the students in an information age, not how the current system can better deliver services to students in an industrial era. Our school board realizes this and is striving to constantly improve our curriculum and make it relevant and meaningful to meet student needs."

The department of labor says that approximately 70 per cent of all jobs by the year 2000 will require a two year post high school degree from a community or technical college majoring in some technical area.

"The high school vocational/technical courses will only be strengthened by technical preparation and our nation's needs for skilled technicians. Don't count the center school out just yet...we'll be around next year," Hahne said.

Impressions . . .

Winter has definitely arrived in Minnesota!!! The snowstorm this past weekend left no doubt in any of our minds that winter has decided to once again visit us for a while.

I really do like snowstorms. Blizzards are particularly nice. They can be terrible if one suffers any consequences from the weather, but if you are safe at home, and your family is also safely at home, then snowstorms can be wonderful.

To be cozy at home with those you love is a blessing of snowstorms. Too often we find ourselves running hither and yon doing all of the important things with which we busy ourselves. During a blizzard, we find that the things which we busy ourselves with can actually wait. We find during a snowstorm that the little details of life are truly most meaningful.

To sit with a loved one and talk is one of the more precious details of life. Snowstorms afford us the time to remember how nice it is to simply converse with other members of our family.

To listen to our loved ones is a detail we often neglect in our daily busyness. A snowstorm provides us with the opportunity to make up for some of the times we have been too busy to listen to that child or spouse. Listening lets us learn more about the person to whom we listen. Snowstorms allow us to learn more about those we love as we take the time to listen to one another.

Snowstorms are good times to read. That book which you have been meaning to read for a few months has a chance of being read during a blizzard. Escaping into the world of a good book is a detail of life we don't often take the time to do. When we do take the time to read, we emerge from that world of our book a different person—often refreshed, many times more learned.

Snowstorms are also good times to catch up on the details of our homes. That dusting and vacuuming and scrubbing that may need doing is given an extra chance at getting done during a snowstorm. The home improvement project that has been waiting for some extra time before it can get done is afforded that time by a good snowstorm.

Baking is a detail of life that is too often neglected in these hurry up days in which we live. A snowstorm provides us with the extra time to actually take out a cookbook and try that new recipe. A cozy home and fresh baked goods leave little more for us to desire.

Snowstorms need not overwhelm us. They instead can be the providers of the blessings of life's often overlooked details. Likewise, life's storms need not overwhelm us either. In spite of the problems life can give us, blessings can occur. When we slow down and take a good look at the important details of our lives, we find that the priorities we have may be wrong. The storms of life allow us to change our lives. The storms of life can produce blessings if we take advantage of the opportunities afforded us.

This past Saturday night, after the storm was over, I looked out the window of our home and realized how calm the wind was. The wind had been so fierce earlier in the day, and now as night fell, it was calming. Once again I was reminded of life. After the storms of life, there does come calm. Perhaps a different calm than before the storm, but nevertheless calm does come.

This snowstorm was not one in which I was able to take any of the time to enjoy the details of life. During this snowstorm, life's storm was raging in my life and in that of my family. I was encouraged by the promise of calm after the storm. I am hoping that this winter will find me and my family safely at home enjoying the precious details of family life that another good snowstorm or two will afford us the time to enjoy. As I await a good blizzard, I am encouraged by the calm that has come after this past blizzard. May it come for all of our lives as well.

Woman injured during robbery

Police in Thief River Falls are investigating a robbery that occurred Monday, October 28, in a downtown parking lot.

A local woman was hit over the head, knocked down and kicked several times during a robbery October 28, according to a police report. According to a police spokesperson, a local woman who had cashed checks totaling $805 for school loans was assaulted after she left the bank. The robber, described as a man, five-foot eleven inches, about 190 pounds, and between 30 and 40 years old with dark brown hair, took the money and fled west from the Norwest Bank parking lot.

According to the police report, the victim reported the incident November 1, several days after the incident took place. The report also indicates that the victim had deep bruises and bumps from the incident.

The incident is still under investigation.

Seaman El Morgan Bernier

Seamen Bernier earns National Defense Ribbon

Seaman El Morgan L. Bernier, son of Fred and Sue Bernier of St. Hilaire and a 1991 graduate of Lincoln high school, has earned the National Defense Ribbon for having been on active duty status during Operation Desert Storm.

El Bernier was also a member of the company which graduated with honors out of 10 companies graduating from the Recruit Training Center.

He entered the navy during the summer of 1990 under the delayed entry program and during his senior year of high school was classified as being on active reserve status. On July 9, 1991 he reported to the Recruit Training command at Great Lakes, IL, for basic training.

Presently he is attending a Class "A" school for aviation electronics at Millington, TN, where he is maintaining a 95% grade average.

Senate aide here to visit

Allen Richard, rural affairs director for Sen. Paul Wellstone, will be at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls Wednesday, November 13, from 12:30 to 3 p.m. for a buffet lunch, cafe visit and scheduled appointments.

Richard will come here from morning meetings in Kittson county and move on from here to Red Lake Falls for a town meeting at the Wheat Growers building at 4 p.m., followed by scheduled appointments.

The visit is part of what Sen. Wellstone's office calls "the first of seven annual sweeps through rural Minnesota. Purpose is said to be threefold: To gain input from local officials and constituents on matters of interest; to increase public awareness of the senator's Minnesota offices; and to provide rural and small town Minnesotans with access to a United States Senate office.

Anyone who wants to meet with Richard directly should call the Willmar office at (612) 231-0001 no later than noon Friday, November 8, to schedule an appointment. Otherwise the visits will be combinations of informal cafe stops and conversations with people who want to share their thoughts and ideas on a wide range of issues.

Workshop on tourism

"Turn It Around With Tourism" is the title of a workshop and national teleconference on tourism to be held Wednesday, November 20, from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in Room 101 at the Thief River Falls technical college.

The morning workshop will assist communities in recognizing community resources, values and attractions and in developing a tourism marketing plan. The afternoon session is in the form of a national teleconference featuring noted speakers on tourism.

Cost of attending both sessions is $10 per participant, lunch not included. Coordinators of the workshop are Julie Olson, director of the Convention and Visitors Bureau of the Thief River Falls chamber of commerce; Dave Bergman, representing the North Central West region of the Minnesota Office of Tourism; Deb Zak, Pennington county extension director; and Jan Hoff, director of the Small Business Development center.

Pre-register by November 15 at the technical college, 1301 Highway 1 East, Thief River Falls, MN 56701 or call the office at 681-5424 or 1-800-222-2884.

PRAIRIE RAMBLING

by Gretchen Beito

One of the most intriguing Indian mounds recorded once existed in Marshall county. A 10-foot serpent made of black sand stretched in graceful curves along the top of a sand ridge.

The snake's head was several feet across and the body three feet or more in diameter, larger in the center and gracefully tapering to the tail. The snake was not stretched full length along the ridge, but was arched as if ready to move and grasp whatever blocked its way.

The Serpent Mound was made of a kind of black sand found in that area. The sand packed hard, resisted the action of the wind and water, and glistened in the sunlight.

People would not permit a weed or blade of grass to grow on any part of this mighty serpent. They groomed it faithfully and kept it black and shining.

Mounds were constructed by Woodland people who inhabited the area from 1000 B.C. to the time white men came in the 18th century.

The Serpent Mound guarded the sand ridge for many years. Its fame spread abroad among Indians, reaching the Cherokee people in what is now eastern Tennessee. The Cherokee are linked linguistically to the Hidatsa and Minnetaree people (Dakota) who lived here until the 18th century.

In the nineteenth century two old-time ox cart drivers on the Pembina Trail told of the serpent. Jack Guthridge and John McKenzie drove the St. Paul to Fort Garry Trails many times, and their route passed near the Serpent Mound. The sand ridge on a short bend of the Tamarack River just south of the Serpent Mound was a favorite camping ground of ox cart drivers.

The Serpent Mound was still visible in July, 1900.

The waves of a mass migration that would be the final wash of the American frontier of settlement happened about that time. Over the great natural highways of the sand ridges along the ancient beaches of Glacial Lake Agassiz creaked covered wagons. Sometime after the turn of the century, settlers plowed under the great Serpent Mound.

That was the fate of most mounds. In the 1880's people went around Minnesota and actually counted 7,773 mounds. Most of the mounds were circular or linear.

In northwestern Minnesota dozens of Linear mounds were found on the sand ridges of ancient Lake Agassiz. Unlike the Serpent Mound, these were long, low mounds underlaid by deep pits with burials and grave goods.

The Serpent Mound held no signs of burials or artifacts and was an effigy mound. A dozen effigy mounds—birds, animals, reptiles—were found in Minnesota in the 1880's. Effigy mounds also were found throughout what are now Wisconsin, Illinois, Ohio and Iowa.

Anthropologists say that both the burial and effigy mounds were built by Woodland people no more than 1,500 years ago.

The only effigy mound left in northern Minnesota is the Turtle Mound in the Chippewa National Forest. This is a giant earthen turtle, 27 feet by 14 feet and 18 inches high. The Turtle Mound is located near the historic canoe portage between the Bowstring River and Little Cut Foot Sioux Lake on the Divide between the Mississippi and Red River systems. Today the Turtle Mound can be reached by a short hike off County Road 35, one mile east of State Highway 46.

A serpent mound once existed nearby, but was destroyed by construction of a railroad grade for a lumber company line in 1910.

We know only that the Turtle Mound had religious significance and that the Ojibwe who came along later revered the turtle as a work of ancestors and took very good care of it.

Traces of other ancient people who lived here earlier than mound-building Woodland people are evident in northern Minnesota. For example, near Greenbush a skeleton 8,000 years old was unearthed. In 1991 Archaic artifacts along the path of the new Lakehead Pipeline in Marshall county were analyzed and found to be 5,000 to 6,000 years old. Near International Falls the giant Laurel Mound, 40 feet by 100 feet, was built by early Woodland people between 100 B.C. and 800 A.D.

It appears that for thousands of years the Red River Valley had inhabitants as well as being a heavily traveled crossroad linking the northern plains and boreal forest.

The Serpent Mound and Turtle Mound and their makers are shrouded in a haze of mystery and unknown. Our knowledge of moundbuilders is slight, although much has been learned from such things as measurement of existing mounds and analysis of the refuse of their lives.

We can see the mound builders as a small but admirable people in the ongoing story of human adaptation and endurance.

Eagle Scout projects help Mother Nature

Projects conducted by three Thief River Falls Eagle Scouts gave assists to Mother Nature during the past year. A fourth project, conducted by Brian Fogarty, son of Bill and Katie Fogarty, involved sponsoring a carnival at Oakland Park Nursing home which was featured in an earlier edition of The Times.

Natural resources projects were conducted by Jeffrey Cota, son of Jerome and Gail Cota; Kent Larson, son of Jon and Valerie Larson, and Christopher Tveitbakk, son of Darryl and Debbie Tveitbakk.

The four scouts, all members of Troop 57 at St. Bernard's Catholic church in Thief River Falls, received their Eagle awards Sunday, October 27, at a special court of honor at the church.

Chris Tveitbakk's project involved the placement of 20 cubic yards of rock and additional fill material to repair a severe erosion problem on the lake shore of Camp Corbett on Big Elbow Lake east of Waubun.

Working with members of the troop and several adults, Chris planned the project with the Minnesota DNR and accomplished it with about 120 person hours of work over the Memorial Day weekend last spring.

The rock was placed at the boat dock area of the camp where a combination of run-off down a steep slope and wave action from the lake had created a drop-off about three feet high. About 70 feet of shoreline was involved in the project.

Kent Larson worked with Jim Seibel, buildings and grounds supervisor at Oakland Park Nursing home, to arrange placement of the eight bird feeders, eight bluebird houses and three wood duck houses he built for placement on the grounds at the nursing home in Thief River Falls.

About 65 hours of work went into the project which not only was of benefit to wildlife in the area but to residents of the home as well. The bird feeders were attached to the building between windows so that four residents could watch each of the feeders from their own rooms.

Bluebird houses were placed throughout the grounds and wood duck houses were attached to trees along the river.

Jeff Cota's project involved construction of 12 bluebird houses which were placed in cooperation with the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources in the Higginbotham Wildlife Management area west of St. Hilaire.

Jeff worked with Gordy Forester, area wildlife manager for the DNR, other members of his troop, his father and troop leaders on the project. The houses were put up in the spring prior to the bluebird nesting season.

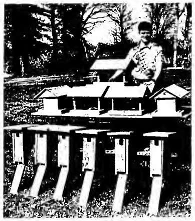
Jeff Cota and DNR wildlife manager Gordy Forester pose with one of the bluebird nesting boxes placed on the Higginbotham Wildlife Management area west of St. Hilaire. The project was conducted by Cota as his Eagle Scout project.



Eight bluebird houses, eight bird feeders and three wood duck houses were placed on the Oakland Park Nursing home grounds by Kent Larson as his Eagle scout project last spring. Larson is shown with some of the items as they were being put in place.

Jim Seibel, buildings and grounds supervisor at Oakland Park Nursing home, assists Kent Larson in the placement of eight bird feeders as part of Larson's Eagle Scout project. The feeders were placed between windows of residents' rooms to permit four residents to view each of the feeders.

Chris Tveitbakk dumps another load of rock on the shoreline of Big Elbow Lake east of Waubun as part of his Eagle Scout project. Rock and fill were placed to correct a severe erosion problem in the area.

Boy Scouts at Camp Corbett begin work on correcting the erosion problem by the boat dock area. The project was directed by Chris Tveitbakk as his Eagle scout project over the 1991 Memorial Day weekend.

Yards were hard to come by for Grygla-Goodridge runningback Justin Lunsetter (32) as a trio of Stephen tacklers closed in during the first half of Monday's Section 8 Nine-Man high school football playoff championship game in Grygla. Blue Devils quarterback Mitch Bernstein, after handing the ball off to Lunsetter, tried to help out as a blocker on the play. Grygla-Goodridge won the title with a 20-7 victory. The Blue Devils now move into the state playoff quarterfinals.

Blue Devils win Section 8 title

Defensively it was a gem. Offensively, it was a mixture of good and not-so-good. But the sum of the two parts added up to a Section 8 Nine-Man high school football title for Grygla-Goodridge Monday afternoon as the Blue Devils came up with 14 fourth quarter points to beat Stephen 20-7 for a berth in the 1991 state playoffs.

The 9-1 Blue Devils will carry an eight-game winning streak into the state Nine-Man quarterfinals Saturday against either AlBrook or Cherry. The Falcons and Tigers meet Wednesday in the Section 7 final.

Stephen ended the year at 9-1. The Tigers opened the year with eight straight wins before losing a regular season-ending 21-7 home field decision to Grygla-Goodridge that produced a three-way Top of the State Conference title tie between the Tigers, Blue Devils and Kittson Country North – a 24-0 winner over Grygla-Goodridge but a 41-19 loser at the hands of Stephen during the regular season.

Grygla-Goodridge advanced to the Section 8 finals with a 43-6 first-round win over East Grand Forks Sacred Heart, while Stephen collected a 30-14 semifinal victory over Kittson County North.

The Blue Devils and Tigers were originally scheduled to meet Saturday afternoon, but the weekend blizzard-like weather conditions pushed the game back to Monday. The 13-degree temperature at game time was less than ideal, but a large crowd was still on hand to surround the frozen but snow-free Grygla gridiron.

It was a hard-hitting affair in which the Grygla-Goodridge offense racked up 243 yards on 61 rushing attempts, but at times was its own worst enemy with five fumbles and two interceptions during an 0-for-7 afternoon passing.

However, the Grygla-Goodridge defense made sure Stephen wasn't able to convert those turnovers into points. The Tigers netted only 80 yards on the ground and added just 13 more on 2-for-9 passing that also included two interceptions.

"Defensively, we're really happy with our performance," said Grygla-Goodridge coach Darwin Hagen, whose team held the Tigers' explosive 210-pound runningback David Borowicz to just 54 yards on 20 carries. Longest gain of the day for Borowicz, whose size and speed to the outside terrorized Top of the State Conference defensive backs, was eight yards.

The turnovers meant the Blue Devils had to work a little harder, noted Hagen. "The turnovers were going against us, but the kids kept playing hard," he said. "And when you keep working hard, good things seem to happen."

Grygla-Goodridge had nearly as much trouble springing Justin Lunsetter – The Blue Devils' top runningback – until the 170-pound senior burst through a hole on the right side on a 42-yard touchdown run on the second play of the fourth quarter to erase a 7-6 Stephen lead. Quarterback Mitch Bernstein found Rick Landsrud in the back of the end zone for a two-point conversion, making it a very football-like 14-7 with 11:43 remaining. Lunsetter finished the day with 139 yards on 33 carries.

Stephen had chances to catch Grygla-Goodridge when successive Blue Devils possessions resulted in fumble recoveries for David McGlynn and Derrick Jensen at the Tigers' 39 and 33-yard lines (remember, the nine-man field is only 80 yards long – meaning those turnovers came close to midfield) with 8:54 and 5:34 remaining, respectively.

But Stephen, limited to four first downs for the day and just one in the second half, failed to move the ball on either occasion against the gang-tackling Blue Devils.

It was going to end 14-7 when the Blue Devils decided a first down at the Stephen 13 with time running down would be enough to secure the win. Three times Bernstein sat down with the ball and the coaches let the clock run down for a delay of game penalty with just eight seconds left. Bernstein was ready to go down one more time, but when tacklers fell off him as he went to the right side to eat up the final seconds, he suddenly had an open field to the goal line that turned a fourth-and-19 into a 22-yard game-ending touchdown run.

A 150-pound senior who takes advantage of cooperative programs to play football for Grygla-Goodridge and baseball for Thief River Falls while suiting up for Grygla in basketball, wound up with 99 yards on 23 carries for the day – most of them on quarterback sneaks.

The Grygla-Goodridge defense, anchored by 220-pound senior Jeremy Rychlock in the middle of the line, forced seven Stephen punts. Lunsetter and Shane Wilkens had interceptions, with Lunsetter picking off Stephen quarterback Bryce Lingen at the Tigers' 20-yard line and returning it to the six to set up his own 3-yard first quarter touchdown to open the scoring.

A pass interception also set up the Stephen touchdown as McGlynn grabbed a Bernstein pass at the Blue Devils' 36 with 9:56 left in the second quarter to instigate an 11-play drive that ended five minutes later on a 1-yard plunge by Lingen. Borowicz added the conversion kick to give the Tigers their 7-6 edge. McGlynn's interception came one play after an apparent 51-yard Bernstein-to-Donovan Quam touchdown pass was erased by a Grygla-Goodridge procedure penalty.

Stephen never did mount another serious scoring threat. Grygla-Goodridge, meanwhile, saw a 12-play drive halted by a Jensen interception at the Stephen 5-yard line with 19 seconds left in the first half, and after Wilkens' interception at the Stephen 14, the Blue Devils watched a Bernstein field goal attempt from the 10 miss by inches.

It was the second Section 8 title for the Blue Devils, who beat Argyle 12-9 in the 1989 finals.

Metrodome will host all MSHSL football games

Officials announced today that because of the weather, the entire 1991 Minnesota State High School League state football playoffs will be played at the Metrodome in Minneapolis.

Quarterfinal games in all five classes – AA, A, B, C and Nine-Man – were scheduled to be played across the state this weekend, but now the games will be played Nov. 13-16 at the Metrodome. Specific dates and times will be announced later.

Semifinals in each of the classes will be played Nov. 22-23, with the Prep Bowl finals moving from Nov. 23 to Nov. 29.

Swimmers ready for Section 8 meet

Thief River Falls girls will head to the University of North Dakota this weekend for the 1991 Section 8 high school swimming and diving championships in Grand Forks.

Brainerd, Moorhead and Bemidji are expected to be the top three teams, with Thief River Falls coach Ryan Lokken looking for the Prowlers to move up from their fifth place finish a year ago to maybe head the rest of the field.

"We should do very well," said Lokken. "Almost everybody has a chance to place (top 16). They should all have their best times of the year."

Teams are guaranteed two entrants in each event, but you can have up to four per event by meeting qualifying times during the course of the regular season. The Prowlers had as many as six swimmers matching qualifying times in some of the events this fall.

Top two finishers in each swimming event, plus the top five divers, will advance to the 1991 state meet Nov. 15-16 at the University of Minnesota Aquatic Center in Minneapolis.

Lokken figures the Prowlers have a legitimate shot at qualifying both their 200 and 400 freestyle relay teams, and he expects junior Amy Adams (50 freestyle; 100 butterfly) and freshman Theresa Giauque (200 freestyle; 100 freestyle) to be in the running for state meet spots in swimming events, while seniors Gimse Wedul and Lisa Dicken challenge for a top-five finish in diving.

Adams was a state meet qualifying in both the 50 freestyle and 100 backstroke last year, when the Prowlers also advanced their 200 freestyle relay team.

Thief River Falls' Section 8 lineup will include Giauque, senior Linnea Dimich and freshman Mandy Johnson in the 200 freestyle; junior Sanna Torgerson and freshman Sarah Harger in the 200 individual medley; Adams, junior Ingrid Morken and sophomore Lisa Ulrich in the 50 freestyle; Wedul, Dicken and eighth grader Jennifer Olin in diving; Adams and Torgerson the the 100 butterfly; Giauque and Ulrich in the 100 freestyle, Dimich and Harger in the 500 freestyle; Johnson and Morken, plus juniors Leslie Ammerman and Lisa DeLap in the 100 backstroke, sophomore Jane Bentson and eighth grader Robin Bollesen in the 100 breaststroke.

Line-ups for the three relays – 400 freestyle, 200 freestyle, 200 medley – can be altered during the course of the meet, and Lokken will name those swimmers later.

Friday prelims include diving at 2 p.m. and swimming events at 6 p.m. Saturday swimming and diving finals will get underway at 1 p.m.

North Sub-Section 8AA volleyball...

Prowlers beaten by Detroit Lakes

Host Detroit Lakes eliminated Thief River Falls 15-4, 15-6, 15-3 Monday in the opening round of the 1991 North Sub-Section 8AA high school volleyball tournament.

Seeded only third for post season play despite an impressive 23-2 regular season record, the Lakers move into Thursday's semifinals against No. 2-seeded Moorhead – a 7:30 p.m. match in the Spuds' gym. Seeded sixth in the six-team tournament field, Thief River Falls finished the year at 5-19.

Despite the loss – the 11th straight for the Prowlers, who dropped the last seven by 3-0 margins – Thief River Falls coach Helen Anderson was satisfied with the season-ending performance. "The girls played better than the score indicates," she said. "We saw a lot of improvement in many areas. We had more blocks than we've had all season. It was fun to watch."

Detroit Lakes, a 3-0 winner in a regular season visit to Thief River Falls back on Sept. 10, started the night with a 6-0 lead in Game 1 and never looked back.

The Lakers went up 4-0 at the start of Game 2, watched the Prowlers pull within 4-3 and 5-4, then rattled off six unanswered points.

Thief River Falls again found points hard to come by in Game 3 as the Prowlers fell behind 8-0 at the start.

The young Thief River Falls lineup had just two seniors in the scoring column – Kadry Kvick and Amy Eriksen. Rest of the scorers included juniors Ali Peterson, Amy Enge and Nessa Anderson; sophomore Toni Chiodo; and freshman Catie Lawrence.

"Everyone played, and it was a good team effort," noted Anderson, who said the Prowlers' customary Player of the Week honor would be a team award instead of an individual recognition.

No. 4 seeded Bemidji was scheduled to host No. 5 Fergus Falls in Monday's other first round match, with the winner heading to Alexandria to face the No. 1-seeded Cardinals in Thursday's second semifinal.

North Sub-Section 8AA championship match will be played Saturday at the site of the highest-seeded semifinal winner.

TRF Scoring

Service points - Toni Chiodo 3, Catie Lawrence 4, Amy Eriksen 2, Ali Peterson 2, Kathy Kvick 2

Last touch points - Toni Chiodo 1, Catie Lawrence 3, Ali Peterson 1, Kathy Kvick 3, Amy Enge 1, Amy Eriksen 3, Nessa Anderson 1

Sub-Section 8A volleyball...

Nordics will host semifinals, finals

Semifinals and finals in the Section 8A Sub-Section 3 high school volleyball tournament will be played Thursday and Friday at Newfolden.

First round and quarterfinals matches were played at both Newfolden and Warren Friday and Monday, with tournament officials waiting for the results to name a semifinal and final site, looking for a neutral court facility. But with both Marshall County Central and Warroad reaching the semifinals, the Nordics' gym was selected for the rest of the matches.

Thursday semifinals will find Stephen meeting Warroad at 6:30 p.m. and Roseau taking on Marshall County Central at 8.

Friday's finals include the third place match at 6:30 p.m. and championship match at 8.

In last Friday's first round play, Lake of the Woods beat Tri-County 15-5, 15-6, 15-12 and Kittson County North swept Grygla-Goodridge 15-3, 15-2, 15-11 at Newfolden, while Badger-Greenbush outlasted Argyle 14-16, 15-7, 6-15, 15-12, 17-15 and Marshall County Central ousted Middle River 15-2, 15-2, 13-15, 15-7 at Warroad.

Monday quarterfinals included Stephen over Lake of the Woods 16-14, 8-15, 16-14, 15-7 and Warroad over Kittson County North 15-10, 15-6, 15-6 at Newfolden, while Roseau stopped Badger-Greenbush 15-11, 15-8, 15-4 and Marshall County Central knocked off Hallock-Kennedy 15-12, 15-4, 15-12 at Warroad.

Sub-Section 4 winner will move on to the 1991 Section 8A tournament Nov. 15 and 16 at the University of Minnesota-Crookston, meeting the Sub-Section 1 champion in the 6:30 p.m. tournament opener.

Sub-Section 3...

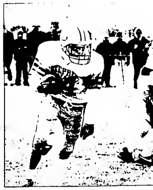
Mustangs to meet Pirates in volleyball

No. 8-seeded Red Lake Falls beat No. 9 Fisher 15-10, 15-3, 15-6 Monday in a single first round match in Section 8 Sub-Section 3 volleyball.

Thursday quarterfinals will be played at two sites. In Warren, No. 1-seeded Valley North meets Red Lake Falls at 6 p.m., followed by No. 4-seeded Red Lake County Central vs. No. 5 Crookston. At Crookston Central High School, No. 2-seeded East Grand Forks Sacred Heart plays No. 7 Warren at 6 p.m., followed by No. 3-seeded Climax vs. No. 6 East Grand Forks.

Semifinals will start at 6:30 p.m. Friday at the University of Minnesota-Crookston, with the finals planned for Saturday at UMC when the third place match kicks things of at 1 p.m.

Kicker Mitch Bernstein and holder Jeremy Engelstad watched the flight of the ball on a 20-yard Grygla-Goodridge field goal attempt during Monday's Section 8 Nine-Man high school football playoff championship game against Stephen. The attempt just missed the mark, leaving a 7-6 Stephen lead intact at the midway mark of the third quarter. However, Grygla-Goodridge scored 14 fourth quarter points to pull out a 20-7 win.



Getting to the outside, Stephen quarterback Bryce Lingen picked up seven yards on this second quarter play in Monday's Section 8 Nine-Man high school football championship game against Grygla-Goodridge. Dale Manderud of the Blue Devils (77) tried to get rid of a Stephen blocker on the play. Grygla-Goodridge won 20-7.

DNR answers deer hunting questions

With the firearms deer hunting season beginning Nov. 9, the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources Enforcement Division encourages hunters to thoroughly review the 1991 regulations.

Rick Ekstam, DNR conservation officer at New Ulm, offers the following questions and answers as examples of information hunters should understand prior to hunting.

Q: Where can I sight in my rifle or test fire my shotgun with slugs before the season?

A: You may test fire your firearms any place where it is safe and where you have permission. Going out to the local gravel pit may not be the answer unless you have asked the landowner. Further, you may not possess a firearms or ammo outdoors (deer rifle with cartridges or shotgun with slugs) beginning 10 days before and ending two days after the open firearms deer season. (There are a few exceptions listed in the 1991 Minnesota Deer Hunting Regulations.)

Q: Can I hunt deer with my .357 magnum handgun?

A: Yes, provided first that you are 18 years of age, licensed to hunt deer, and do so with a legal caliber (most common are .357, .41 and .44 magnum). Handguns are not legal in the shotgun zone.

Q: My son is in the Navy and will be on leave during the deer season. How does he go about getting a deer license to hunt this year?

A: Go to the county auditor and request a deer license. A free license will be issued to a resident of Minnesota who is in the armed forces [illegible] outside of the state and is on the [illegible] leave. The military person must have the official leave papers to show the [illegible].

Q: I am a [illegible] with [illegible] percent [illegible] disabilities. Am I entitled to a free deer license?

A: No. You are only entitled to a free deer license if you have a 100 percent service connected disability. You may obtain your license directly from the county auditor.

Q: I've heard rumors about illegal deer baiting. What does the baiting law mean?

A: The law states, "A person may not place or use bait for the purpose of taking deer." Bait is defined as grains, fruits, vegetables, nuts, hay or other food placed for the purpose of attracting or enticing deer. This does not include salt blocks, liquid

Hunter safety stressed at start of deer season

The more than 400,000 deer hunters expected to take to Minnesota's forests and farmlands this fall can have a safe hunt by following some guidelines, according to the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR). The 1991 firearms season opens Nov. 9 for most permit holders.

Common sense and common courtesy are fundamental, said Roger Grosslein, DNR Advanced Hunter Education Program coordinator. "Minnesota law and common sense tell hunters to wear blaze orange or bright red, use caution, handle firearms safely, and not hunt under the influence of alcohol," he said.

Common courtesy includes showing respect for the land, the landowners and the wildlife. "Hunters should read and know the trespass laws and always ask first before hunting on private land," Grosslein said.

Safety also means being in shape for the season, Grosslein noted. Deer hunting can mean miles of walking, and hauling deer back to camp or to a vehicle. "That can take its toll on hunters who aren't in shape," he said.

Grosslein offered other tips for safe deer hunting:

■ Never set out without telling someone your hunting site and estimated return time.

■ Wear adequate clothing for quickly-changing weather conditions, dressing in layers so clothes can be shed if necessary.

■ Always carry a small survival kit and compass in the event of getting lost or stranded in the woods. The kit could contain two plastic bags for shelter and warmth, 15 feet of nylon rope for a shelter frame, waterproof matches, lightweight food items such as beef jerky or candy, a candle to start fires, and a whistle for signaling help.

Knowledgeable hunters are safer hunters, Grosslein said. The DNR Advanced Hunter Education Program offers information valuable to even the most experienced hunters. Participants learn about big game, small game, waterfowl, wildlife management, hunting laws and ethics and much more. Contact the DNR Advanced Hunter Education Program at 612-296-0890 for information on locations of classes this winter and spring.

Detroit Lakes is 14-13 winner in Dome overtime

No. 1-seeded Detroit Lakes successfully defended its Section 8A high school football title Monday with a 14-13 overtime win in a 10 p.m. Metrodome match-up with No. 2-seeded Fergus Falls.

The two teams were scheduled to meet Friday night in Detroit Lakes, but the game was moved to the Metrodome Monday because of the weekend weather. It was just one of 22 sectional finals in five classes that sought refuge from the winter-like weather inside the dome in Minneapolis.

Other area section finals remained outdoor affairs, however, including two that were played in the midst of the Friday night blizzard-like conditions as Win-E-Mac edged Bigfork 14-8 in the final seconds of the Section 6 Nine-Man title game at Erskine and Mahnomen stopped visiting New York Mills by the same score in the Section 6C championship game.

Two weekend games postponed until Monday afternoon found host Warren beating Fertile-Beltrami 25-14 in the Section 8C finals while Grygla-Goodridge defeated Stephen 20-7 in the Section 8 Nine-Man title game at Grygla.

salt or standing corn. A rule of thumb is to hunt away from areas where there are piles of apples, corn and other grains. Common sense should prevail.

Q: How high can I hunt from my portable tree stand?

A: The restrictions on deer stands are that deer may not be taken from a man-made platform or other structure within a road right-of-way or if it's higher than 16 feet above the

Rutherford Report starts in this issue

[illegible] decade, we all know [illegible] communities has [illegible] weakness [illegible] that has [illegible] rural America [illegible] which we [illegible] schools.

[illegible] The Times has [illegible] specific [illegible] development of rural America. Unlike many [illegible], Mr. Rutherford has spent the past 20 years starting [illegible] businesses all over the nation and the world, from Los Angeles to Manila and from Saudi Arabia to Fargo, N.D. His last business, Classic Roadsters Ltd., grew to $10 million in annual sales and 150 employees by selling reproductions of classic automobiles.

Think of the benefits and growth our community would experience if a company like that decided to locate here in Thief River Falls. It is for this reason that The Times believes it important that we try and inject a fresh perspective into our community's economic development efforts.

The Rutherford Report will give readers a thorough understanding of all the elements which we must consider. It will explore and reveal how attitudes are formed which stop us from moving ahead. And, it will show lessons in economic development learned by successful communities all over the nation. The Times believes The Rutherford Report will help the community solve its economic problems.

If you are stimulated by this column The Times would be interested in hearing some of your thoughts.

A [illegible] was held on the [illegible] Thursday [illegible].

Bradley and Clifton Johnson spent Saturday at the Terry Haugen home.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Peterson visited at the Ella Mostrom and Doris Danielson homes in Gonvick on Wednesday.

Bruce Bjerklie, Bryan, Jami and Christian called at the Kenneth Peterson home on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Haugen and Mark of Moorhead visited last weekend at the Gertie Haugen and the [illegible] Christianson homes. They had a birthday lunch with Gertrude Christianson on Sunday, and Gertie Haugen also joined them. Happy Birthday, Gertrude.

LaVerne Mostrom and Jane Good visited with Gladys Hanson on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hanson has visited his mother one day during the week.

A week ago Monday Willie Good called at the Orben Good home.

Richard Barnett called at the Willie Good home last Sunday.

Jane Good visited at the Clarence Hanson home on Thursday.

Callers at the Arnold Haugen home during the week were Ardith Kloth of Thief River Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Good visited with Irvin Hanghand in Gonvick on Thursday.

David Alveson and Darrun called at the Willie Good home Thursday afternoon.

Strandquist News

The Strandquist Senior Citizens met on October 31st, with 29 registered. The guests were George and Evelyn Monroe from Badger, Kore and Florence Mykrei from Newfolden, Oscar Hegeland, Ella Thun, Clara Nelson, Winifred Peterson, Alyce Anderson and Melvin Kittleson all from Karlstad, and LaVoi Thun from Strandquist. The day was spent going through rummage Evelyn had brought, and visiting with the guests. The blood pressure clinic was set for Thursday the 7th. After they had said the Pledge of Allegiance and played Table Grace, lunch was served by the host Leonard Torkelson, with the help of LaVoi Thun. Donna Renstrom won the door prize.

Vernon and Viola Wickstrom of Grygla visited John and Ruth Halper on Monday afternoon. They had attended the funeral of Gertrude Hahn in the forenoon.

Adele Dallion from Bellevue, WA, and Ernest Lofstrom visited Elsie Lofrooth Monday afternoon.

LaVerne Rasmussen from Chicago, brought his father, George Rasmussen who was spending some time with Virgil Rasmussen in Minneapolis, to Karlstad, to tend to some business. LaVerne was a friend of Ernest and Murial Lofstrom whom he had come to visit, and then he remained to attend Murial's funeral, and left again for Chicago Monday morning, taking George with him.

Gladys Nelson and son, Daryl, of Minneapolis, spent a couple of days visiting Earl and Ebba Sihlberg. On Tuesday they enjoyed potato dumplings at Irene's Cafe, and returned to Minneapolis in time for the big snow down there. Ebba says the snow blew onto their windows so they couldn't see the traffic on the highway, and decided it was best to just cozy up for the winter, for her and Earl.

Wayne and Lori Stromgren visited Elder Engen's of Newfolden on Sunday afternoon.

Paul, Kristopher and Kenrick Anderson, Keith, Joshua, Jared and Allison Britten and Brandon Anderson were supper guests at Morris Anderson's Sunday evening.

Lois Carrico returned from the Warren hospital on Wednesday after a bout with the flu. She is managing the new Bob's Self Service store in Strandquist, which opened recently. Shirley Anderson is working there also.

Betsy and Isaac Thompson had dinner with Nelson LaDoux on Thursday afternoon in Thief River Falls.

Toni Kasprowicz and Elphie Adils had lunch with Elsie Lofrooth on Friday. On Saturday, Marlys, Greg and Melanie Lofrooth had dinner with her.

LaVoi Thun visited Waldy Larson on Wednesday evening and Ella Thun on Sunday after the funeral. On Sunday LaVoi received the news of her late husband's uncle, Alvin Nelson's sudden death, due to snow shoveling. It reminds us to take it easy when that chore comes around, and leave some of it for a later date.

LaVerne Rasmussen and his father, George Rasmussen, visited Peter E. and Pearl Thompson on Tuesday afternoon. On Sunday Becky and Michelle Johnson visited there. David Thompson helped Peter shovel snow and then got the tractor out to clear the drifts. We can only hope for a little less snow than they have gotten in other parts of the state.

Gatzke . . . .

Recent visitors at the Gene Peterson home have been Gary Peterson and Maria of Middle River, Mrs. Craig Swenson, Corey, Garrett and Sabrina of Oslo, Dwight Peterson of Warren, Mrs. Mike Bratang and Jordan of Roosevelt.

Several people viewed pictures of Bernard and Blanche Engevik of California, at the Senior Citizen Center on Tuesday afternoon.

School District #564 Proceedings

Nov. 5, 1991
REGULAR BOARD MEETING
October 14, 1991
5:00 p.m.
S.D.S.C. Conference Room

A Regular Board Meeting of Independent School District #564 was held on Monday, October 14, 1991, at 5:00 p.m. in Conference Room A of the School District Service Center.

The following Board members were present: Maryel Anderson, Larry Belmont, Carl Clark, Hank Hallstrom, Harry Sjulson and Darla Twomey. Also present was Dr. Robert Duncan, Superintendent.

Chair Maryel Anderson called the meeting to order and Clerk Larry Belmont established that a quorum was present.

A motion was made by H. Sjulson and seconded by D. Twomey to approve the agenda as presented. Motion carried unanimously.

Copies of thank you notes from Donna Poole for the retirement plaque she received from the Board and from the TRF Community Arts Council for their use of the auditorium at Lincoln were distributed along with a notice of a dividend refund from the MSBA Property Casualty Plan and information concerning a State Department meeting regarding restructuring educational delivery systems scheduled for October 15th.

TC student Bonny Stechmann was recognized for her selection as TRF TC's Outstanding Student for 1991 and former TC student Corinne Dargus for her selection as TRF TC's Outstanding Graduate. The Sports Boosters were also recognized for their donations totaling $2,825 for athletic equipment.

Roy Lunde, School District Auditor, presented the Pre-K-12 and TC audit reports for the year ending June 30, 1991.

Penny Langlund, PER Committee Chair, presented the 1990-91 PER Report which will be mailed to school district residents with the October 19 issue of the Northern Watch.

Reports were given by Harry Sjulson concerning the Northwest ECSU Board and Region I ESV Executive Board and by Darla Twomey regarding the Minnesota State High School League and TC Faculty Senate.

Business Manager Harry Nelson reported on the trip bus proposing to reject all bids and rebid.

Assistant Superintendent Orley Gunderson reported the hangar bid has not yet been awarded since there are some questions concerning the bids following specifications. Maryel Anderson reported on a meeting a number of Board members attended with the City Finance Committee concerning the student housing project. The Board was informed of a meeting scheduled for October 22 in Moorhead concerning TC districts. Dr. Gunderson also indicated a new course titled "Introduction to Flight Course" will be offered beginning Winter Quarter and the proposal to offer a Simulator Maintenance Technology Program has been submitted to the State for approval.

Robert Purdy

Robert Purdy has joined Bob Flynn, Norman Wassink and Elvera Cullen on the staff of Flynn Realty, Inc., in Thief River Falls.

Purdy is a native of Thief River Falls, a graduate of Lincoln high school and operated Purdy's Shoe Store here for about 18 years before moving from the community. He returned to this city in 1989, has been involved in real estate sales here for the past year-and-one-half and completed the Graduate Realty Institute (GRI) course in Minneapolis a year ago.

"We want the businesses of Thief River Falls and Crookston, and this area of northwestern Minnesota to realize that three per cent of the people presently using the Minnesota workers' comp system account for 73 per cent of all of the costs. We also want them to realize that unless we get some changes in the long term disability provisions of the workers' comp law, we simply will not have real reform of the system," Koll said.

The Thief River Falls and Crookston Workers' Compensation Forum is open to all area business people at no charge. In addition, forum organizers have extended a special invitation to area members of the Minnesota State Legislature to participate in this workers' comp forum.

"It's important that law makers hear some of the horror stories from our local employers on how workers' compensation rates are crippling their efforts to create new jobs in this state," said Bob Bergon, executive director of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce.

The Minnesota Workers' Compensation Coalition is a statewide organization of business organizations committed to seeking passage of meaningful reform of the state's workers' comp system during the 1992 session of the legislature. The Workers' Compensation Forum in Thief River Falls is one of 15 similar forums being held in communities throughout the state of Minnesota in October and November.

The Minnesota Workers' Compensation Coalition members include: the Minnesota Agri-Growth Council; Minnesota Retail Merchants Association; Minnesota Business Partnership; Minnesota Automobile Dealers Association; Minnesota Chamber of Commerce and Industry; National Federation of Independent Business; Minnesota Trucking Association; Minnesota Hospital Association; Employers Association, Inc.; Insurance Federation of Minnesota; Printing Industry of Minnesota; Minnesota Turkey Growers Association; Minnesota Grocers Association; Minnesota Motel Association; Minnesota Dakota Retail Hardware Association; Minnesota Electrical Association; Northwestern Lumbermen's Association; Independent Business Association of Minnesota; Northwest Agri-Dealers Association; Minnesota Plant Food and Chemicals Association; Farm Equipment Association; Farmers Elevator Association; Mid-West Food Processor's Association, plus others.

Thorsgard completes trip

From Manitoba to the Arctic Ocean (almost)

Editor's Note: The following article by [illegible] appeared in the November [illegible] issue of "Minnesota Calls" published by [illegible] Communications in St. Louis Park, MN. Eric Thorsgard is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Thorsgard of Thief River Falls.

Roughing it, to some of us, means driving a deluxe 30-foot Winnebago with a stereo, a VCR, a TV and a fully-stocked refrigerator to a campground near a convenience store that rents videos.

To Eric Thorsgard of Perham, roughing it means something quite different. This past summer, he paddled a homemade cedar canoe through more than a thousand miles of Canadian wilderness, from Manitoba across the Northwest Territories to the shores of the Arctic Ocean.

Thorsgard's journey was inspired by his 1980 canoe trip from Minnesota to the Hudson Bay. Ever since then, he told the Perham Enterprise Bulletin, he's had a real "thing" about paddling across the Northwest Territories. Plus, he explains mildly, the Hudson trip was "more of camping thing. This trip was strictly for canoeing."

If paddling was what he was looking for, Thorsgard certainly got his fill. A 32-year-old veterinarian, Thorsgard was accompanied on the journey by four adventure-loving friends: Tony Brasseau, Lance Woods, Roger Dorsey and MacKenzie, Thorsgard's 130-pound Great Pyrenees dog.

The trip started quietly enough with a long drive from Vergas to western Manitoba. On June 1, the four men shoved off the shores of Reindeer Lake and headed west to Lake Athabasca in Saskatchewan. From there, they paddled to Great Slave Lake in the Northwest Territories and down the long, rushing MacKenzie River, which they followed to their final destination—Inuvik, just down stream from the Beaufort Sea.

Men, dog and gear all floated in Thorsgard's handmade 24-foot three-seat canoe, which weighed almost 1,500 pounds once loaded. They also carried along a lightweight Kevlar canoe for whitewater. They lived on basic staples and Mother Nature, catching fish and once trying (unsuccessfully) to bag a wandering bear for dinner.

The trip was not without mishap. Just over the border of the Northwest Territories, a rock punctured a hole in Thorsgard's canoe, causing water damage and delays. It was temporarily fixed, thanks to the wonders of duct tape, and later repaired at the next riverfront town. The trio also narrowly avoided plunging over a sheer ledge in a menacing current that they later compared to a miniature Niagara Falls.

Once, after a long portage, Eric realized he had left the shotgun behind and slogged back while the others paddled on. While returning, Eric decided to take a shortcut and quickly became disoriented.

"I heard screams in the woods a few times," Lance told the Enterprise Bulletin. "But I said to myself, 'There's no way that can be Eric. He couldn't be way over there.'"

Way over there is exactly where Eric was. After almost two hours, a relieved Eric and MacKenzie finally caught up with the canoes. The dog, by the way, was eventually shipped home by air freight from a remote town along the river. Even Eric had to admit that 130 pounds of frisky MacKenzie crowded the canoe a bit.

Three months after their departure, the victorious group arrived at Inuvik, covered with mosquito bites and walking gingerly after sitting on wooden slats for three months. We're sure the modern-day voyageurs have wonderful memories of their nearly impossible journey, but in true Minnesota fashion Eric is not one to brag.

"It was about like I expected," he says. "You know. It was great."

Deer questions

ground. The height restriction doesn't apply to a portable stand that is chained, clamped or tied to a tree. So you may go as high as you can safely go if it's portable and secured to a tree.

Q: If I shoot and wound a deer and track it into a standing cornfield, could I be trespassing by entering the cornfield?

A: Yes, you could. However, a hunter, on foot, may retrieve wounded game in season from agricultural land that is not legally posted, unless the hunter has been warned orally not to enter the land. It becomes trespassing if the hunter enters land that has been posted or if the hunter has been told not to enter. The best solution is to find the landowner and explain the situation. Most landowners will then allow the hunter to retrieve the deer.

Q: Can I put my unloaded, uncased shotgun in the back of an open pickup truck and drive from the woods to the farm? I am on private property.

A: No. A person may never transport a loaded firearm, and the only time an uncased firearm may be transported in a motor vehicle is in the closed trunk. A pickup truck has no trunk, so transporting an uncased firearm in a pickup truck is illegal.

Jacalyn Gallery and Gift opens

by David Hill
Associate Editor

New starts or improvements to existing retail businesses have increased in Thief River Falls since the spring of this year. One recent addition to the downtown shopping area is Jacalyn Gallery and Gift.

Jackie Filipy recently moved her home occupation business known as Jacalyn Gallery and Gift to a downtown location. Filipy said her home just wasn't big enough. She began with 25 artists displaying art and expanded to 110 and growing. Her business had taken over her home.

Filipy has more than doubled her space and walk-in traffic by moving her business to the downtown business district. Filipy said she knew it would be better, but not this much. Since she moved to the former Videom store, she said she has also received lots of good, positive comments.

Most of the good comments have something to do with the way she is responding to the needs of the customer. Her store, for example, is divided up into six different display areas, each area representing a different section of the home. Filipy said the idea is to give customers an idea of how the art would fit into their home setting. In addition, customers have been allowed to take art home on a trial basis so they can actually see how the art fits in with their home decor.

The six "rooms" in the store include a kitchen area, living room area, dining room area, hallway gallery, seasonal hallway, and bed and bath areas. The division of her store should give the customer an idea of the variety in her store.

"We have a spectrum of decorative accessories for your home. Floral designs (on display or custom-made), original art, and a great variety of accent pieces," Filipy said.

Artists from throughout the region also display their art in the store. Artwork is as varied in media as style.

"Right now, we have a great variety of wood carvers, potters and painters in the shop. We carry primarily watercolor artists, but do have a number of artists that work in oil and pastels. In addition, there are three artists (two from St. Paul, one from Park Rapids) that create some interesting three-dimensional work. These include textural medium like fiber collage, hand-made paper designs, and a unique medium called "diorama", which is a three-dimensional picture which has within the work a wood carving, an original watercolor picture, and dimension trees or fauna.

"There are artisans in the shop that weave one-of-a kind baskets, make beeswax candles and create jewelry. The jewelry line includes those made from porcelain clay, "friendly plastic", antique buttons

Petrofund now covers financial responsibility

During the past four years, the Petrofund has helped Minnesota tank owners with leak cleanup costs and now it is also helping tank owners cover the high cost of pollution insurance.

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has approved Minnesota's request to have the Petrofund meet 100 per cent of the $1 million financial responsibility requirements for underground petroleum storage tanks.

Last year, the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (MPCA) pushed for new provisions to the Petrofund. As a result, tank owners who comply with state and federal storage tank laws became eligible to receive reimbursement for up to $1 million per leak, an increase from the previous limit of $250,000. The MPCA didn't seek that increase because tank cleanups had become more expensive, but because the federal government requires most petroleum tank owners to have at least $1 million in pollution insurance and many simply couldn't afford it.

Also as a result of last year's effort working with the EPA, Minnesota tank owners were able to cite the Petrofund as fulfillment of 90 per cent of the insurance requirement. Owners were still left with the costly task of acquiring some type of pollution-liability insurance to cover their 10 per cent of the cleanup cost. If they were able to find that insurance coverage, it was expensive.

The EPA listened to concerns voiced by the MPCA and others that the insurance requirements were coming up too quickly, and that insurance was both difficult to find and expensive. As a result, the EPA postponed the insurance deadline for small quantity tank owners until October 1991.

Now the EPA has agreed with the MPCA's request that the state's Petrofund should meet 100 per cent of the financial responsibility requirement for pollution insurance. The main reason is that the state will, in all cases, cleanup where the owner or operator is unwilling or unable to undertake cleanup action.

However, the MPCA will seek cost recovery from the responsible party for any expenses incurred if the state is forced to conduct the cleanup actions. It is also important to note that this does not change the fact that the Petrofund only covers up to 90 per cent of the actual costs of cleaning up the pollution caused by leaking tanks provided that the owner or operator has complied with state rules.

Snowmobilers urged to follow rules, drive safely

Snowmobilers are encouraged to follow the rules when traveling in and around Thief River Falls.

Police Chief Ken Froschheiser reminds snowmobilers that snowmobiles can be used only going to and from the country. Parks and city streets are not for joy riding. Young riders must also have safety certificates and registration. The speed limit for snowmobiles in Thief River Falls is 15 miles per hour. He added that snowmobilers should also avoid riding on the ice as the ice is not safe.

Thief River Falls police and Pennington county sheriff's department have access to snowmobiles and do patrol the area in and around Thief River Falls.

LET'S HONOR THOSE WHO HAVE RETURNED FROM THE BATTLE

While all throughout our history
Our heroes fought to keep us free,
Sometimes conditions will demand
The liberation of some land,
With allied nations, to defend
The rights of others who depend
On those of us who, on request,
Will always rescue the oppressed.
Our troops were recently released
From service in the Middle East:
That confrontation in the form
Of "Operation Desert Storm."
Let's thank the Lord for His concern
In granting them a safe return;
While praying for an end to war,
So peace can reign forevermore.

Filipy enjoys what she is doing. She started as an art major at the University of North Dakota but became side-tracked and graduated in communications. Nevertheless, her first love has always been art and now that she has her own store, she can't imagine doing anything else.

Filipy is planning a grand opening between November 18 and 23. She is also planning a Christmas open house on November 1 and 2. During both open house events, there will be musicians and artists present to visit and perform for customers.

OPEN UP AN OFFICE IN THIEF RIVER FALLS, ST. HILAIRE, PLUMMER, WARREN, HOLT, VIKING, RED LAKE FALLS AND EVERYWHERE ELSE YOU GO.

Thief River Falls, meet Cellular One. We're your new mobile telephone company, here to hook you up to the Minnesota Cellular One System. Which means you can now stay in touch with important business everywhere there's Cellular One coverage. And that's important. Because if you're in sales, contracting, healthcare, agribusiness, real estate, or in business for yourself, a Cellular One mobile phone can be as vital to your success as a regular phone.

To make sure Thief River Falls gets the best cellular service possible, we're investing three-million dollars into our system over the next five years. The cost to you? Affordable enough to pay for itself. In fact, if you spend just a half-hour of working time away from your office every day, a cellular phone can add as much as an extra month to your year. So if you've always believed that time is money, you can finally prove it. Just stop by our Bemidji office at 703 Paul Bunyon Drive, or call us at 759-CELL (2355).

Chervestad's cousin, Mrs. Norman (Lorraine) Bakken of Grand Forks, was hospitalized in serious condition by a hit and run driver in Grand Forks last weekend.

Helen Chervestad visited with Clifford Arveson, who has had a stroke. He has been moved to Grand Forks hospital and is doing fine. She also visited with Frank Rolsland and his wife, he was in the next bed to Clifford, and also with Selmer Holstad, who has now passed away. Our thoughts and prayers are with you constantly.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrow Lundeen motored a week ago to attend Hostfest at Minot, ND, along with many folks from Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Verner Arveson attended the Rural Electric Cooperatives meetings for several days at Bemidji.

Helen and Karydon Chervestad, Meree and Armilla Lundeen and Lowell and Lois Enerson of Oklee, attended the Century Banquet at the Best Western for Congressman Peterson. Special guest, former U.S. Agriculture President, Bob Bergland of Roseau. It was fun to have Bob back in our area. Bob lives in Washington, DC, and heads National Cooperatives of Rural Electric Power Systems.

Mrs. Clarence Howard and others spent last weekend in the Cities, visiting her son, Ron, Sharon and family. They also toured the apple orchard at Jordon, which is near by. They showed how they washed, dried and processed them by machines. They had beautiful weather, coming back here it was 2-inches of snow and slush.

Mr. and Mrs. Juell Chervestad, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Mandt, Celestia Stallmoe, Alice Stallmoe and daughters, Glaria and Shirley of Grand Forks, helped Gladys (Mrs. Nels) Stallmoe celebrate her 80th birthday Sunday at Skylite apartments in Thief River Falls, along with many other relatives and friends.

Congratulations to Dawn and Elden Neuschwander on their new daughter, Brooks Leslie, born October 24, at Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls, and is welcomed home by Dusten, Courtney, Heath and Jordon. Grandparents, Juell and Annabell Chervestad and Vernon and Lois Neuschwander of Grygla.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Selmer Holstad, whose funeral was held October 26th, at Oak Park, also to the family of John Bakke of rural Highlanding, whose funeral was held October 15th, at Nazareth church of Hickory Township.

Mr. and Mrs. Brad Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nelson, Ethel Wiseth and Gordon Pittman visited with Mrs. Lloyd (Elaine) Wiseth recently at the Fargo hospital. Elaine is not feeling too good. You are in our thoughts and prayers.

Of Lame Ducks and other strange creatures

by David Hill
Associate Editor

The thought of a conspiracy in a small town like Thief River Falls is almost laughable. Yet, the delay on deciding the casino proposal raises some interesting questions.

First of all, what would local politicians gain from waiting to make a decision on the casino until after the election? First, they would avoid any political liability at the polls. With a politician's vote on such a controversial issue clearly on their minds, voters would most likely forget everything else the candidate stood for and vote as if they were voting on the casino issue. Does four years of hard work mean nothing? I imagine the incumbents' disgust when they realized that to the voter, the only thing that matters is the vote on the casino issue and nothing else from the four previous years of hard work.

Second, by waiting to vote on the controversial issue until after the election, Mayor Bob Carlson's long awaited write-in campaign is torpedoed. It has been no secret that Mayor Carlson might run a write-in campaign. And, just because Mayor Carlson is the current mayor doesn't mean he couldn't run for another office. He lives in the first ward and could run in the first ward. He could also run for one of the two alderman at large positions. A write-in campaign threatens not just the mayor's race, but a total of four races. By running a write-in campaign he would also turn the election into a one-issue battle.

On the other side of the coin, however, those running for office see Mayor Carlson's threat to run a write-in campaign as a threat to the next four years. Why should someone who won't be in office after the first of the year have any say in the future direction of the council?

When I was in high school we used to toy with such questions as — if you knew you were going to cash in your chips in three months what would you do? Our answers were always something like — take a trip around the world, spend all our money and max out our credit cards and let someone else worry about the consequences.

What should be done about politicians in positions of power after they have declared they will not run again or have been defeated? In such positions of power, political favors have been awarded, and decisions made that don't reflect the interests of the public they were elected to serve. Mayor Carlson is in a position to throw a wrench into local politics by making decisions now and letting someone else worry about the consequences. I really doubt that he would use his influence and power in such a way. But to those who will be responsible for running local government for the next two to four years, it has to be in the back of their minds.

I have some mixed emotions about these observations. As a reporter I would rather see a good fight, and clear the air on this issue. I also have some sympathy for Mayor Carlson who is trying to do what he believes is best for the community. But as a resident of Thief River Falls I would have liked to have seen a decision on the casino made earlier.

This analyses provides readers with food for thought, but really there is no evidence of a conspiracy or that the politicians running for office have reached some of the same conclusions. In a short period of time what happened prior to the election won't matter. It'll be history.

Sexual Harrassment: What is it really?

Guest Editorial
by Donna Myhrer
Community Editor

With all the recent publicity about sexual harrassment in the workplace, many people have suddenly become concerned with what it is exactly and how one can recognize it. This is difficult, because, to paraphrase a former Supreme Court justice's comment on pornography. "I may not be able to define it, but I know it when I see it."

Unfortunately men and women seem to "see it" somewhat differently. In a recent national media survey most men indicated that being asked out by a female co-worker was a compliment. Many women considered the same situation to be harrassment. The difference seems to be whether there is a "power" issue involved.

The same behavior or comment which may be tolerated from an equal co-worker may not be as easy to accept from someone who is in a position of authority and, if asked to stop the behavior, could retaliate by making a woman's job unpleasant or even firing her. Sexual harrassment is no more romantic or complimentary to its victim than rape.

Only bullies feel they gain power from belittling others. And that is, in fact, what sexual harrassment is. You are making yourself feel better by making someone else feel worse.

Some men have been complaining that there is a fine line. How do you know if you've crossed it?

You may call me a "girl" on any birthday I have which ends in a zero. Otherwise, please don't. It doesn't make you look as cool as you think. It makes you look patronizing and insecure.

A pat on the back is fine, but not below the waist.

Remember, too, that when you use obscene language and tell off-color jokes, you remind most adults of a naughty child on the playground trying to shock his little friends. Is that how you want others to view you?

Don't display cute little signs in your office such as "I want a secretary who types fast and runs slow." It isn't likely to get you one who understands professional behavior. Or types fast. Studies of human behavior seem to show that people perform up (or down) to expectations. Do you really want a female employee to do her job like a child or a sex object? Then don't treat her like one.

One of the most irritating comments I have heard lately was made by an older fellow who stated smugly, "Well we warned you back in the 60's that this might happen." Yes, we women were warned that we might become victims. However most of us don't have many choices: we have to be employed to provide for our families.

Try thinking of it this way. You are the favorite nephew of your unmarried great aunt who says she plans to leave you a lot of money in her will. She is seeing her lawyer this afternoon. Don't tell me any jokes you wouldn't tell her.

The Rutherford Report

by Gary Rutherford

Critical Credentials

In last week's column we looked at the scope of work for the economic development director and some of the reasoning behind the high turnover rate. As you saw, it's a big job if done right. Now, by knowing the full scope of the job, we can develop the credentials of a candidate who should be able to do the job.

Even though the candidate screening process should be a thorough one, I have seen many communities fill the EDC job with well-meaning candidates who were conveniently available but were unqualified to get the job done. Through my travels around rural America it has been my experience that the best and most successful EDC directors were given an exhaustive job description and are individuals with the following credentials:

1. He or she is the Community Ambassador, a reflection of the true nature of the whole community. Remember the axiom, "what you are speaks so loudly I cannot hear your words." This is particularly true of EDC directors. If a candidate is meek or timid it will not matter what they say about your community. The prospective business person will likely view your community as meek and timid. What if the candidate is not confident, is indecisive, etc.? Remember, the character of your EDC director will be viewed, as a mirror of the community's character.

2. Professional look compatible with the target. You should look for a candidate whose look, fashion and grooming habits reflect a professional appearance regardless of the circumstances.

3. Has a marketing bias. The ability to prospect, to be persistent and to close a deal is essential but often lacking in prospective candidates. Most of the major opportunities facing an EDC director are in persuading an individual or company to take action, however, I often find very nice EDC directors who are willing to dispense all kinds of information and effort, but they cannot sit down and negotiate to a positive conclusion.

4. Has business experience. Because economic development is much like starting or running a business and because so much time should be spent talking to those in industry, it is only logical that a candidate has had business management experience. While individuals from academia and government have important roles to play in economic development, look for someone who has started or managed a successful business. If you can find a candidate with 10 years of business experience from start up, he or she has seen all phases in the development of a business and has dealt with most of the pitfalls associated with business.

5. History of productive hard work. A candidate should be relentless in developing and managing the full resources of your community. Previous work experience should have ended in accomplished goals through superior effort.

6. Positive attitude. The candidate must have an up-beat attitude and must present an air of confidence and eminent success. Regardless of current condition, positive breeds positive. And in the beginning, restoring faith and hope is needed the most.

7. History of integrity. In all past actions and deeds, candidates must be proven trustworthy.

8. Has a broad-minded approach. As economic development requires national if not global perspective, candidates who have stayed within your community for a lifetime may lack the broad mindedness needed for the job. A better choice might be a candidate who has left the community or state for a period of time.

9. Should have completed at least a bachelor's degree. Although not the most important credential, the candidate should have at least a bachelor's degree. A completed degree indicates a candidate's ability to focus and complete a worthy goal. Also college teaches problem solving and networking. Both skills help in successful economic development.

10. The ability to be an effective communicator. The candidate needs to be able to communicate and motivate effectively both as a public speaker and on paper. He or she not only needs to professionally communicate to the various business people considering a move to your community, but also to community members regarding the economic development plan and the results.

As with any search for an employee, you might not find the candidate with all of the credentials. But a successful EDC director will need to have a majority of them.

Take the time to find the candidate with the credentials listed and you will be well on your way towards success. Be prepared to pay a quality salary, a good EDC director is worth it. And above all remember, the hiring of a qualified EDC director is the most important first step your community will take toward its future economic development.

Strandquist News

The Strandquist Senior Citizens met on Thursday with 16 registered, the guests were Marian Pederson of Karlstad and LaVel Thun. After the business meeting was finished they played bingo, and Evelyn Kline won the blackout game. After the Pledge of Allegiance was said and Table Grace prayed, lunch was served by the hostess, Adeline Stannos. The group enjoyed their trip to Lancaster on Monday, where they had lunch at Susan's Cafe. From there they went to Tolstoi, Canada, and visited the fabulous Lithuanian church there. They also purchased some special bacon in Canada. A Thanksgiving dinner was planned at Irene's Cafe for next month.

Brent and Carla Boen of Robbinsdale, Mark and Nancy Larson of Brooklyn Park, Michelle Boen of Grand Forks, and Cory Boen of Moorhead, Krista Proulx of Crookston came for the funeral of Dain Bangston. Mark and Nancy Larson arrived at Philip and Yvonne Boen's on Monday and left on Wednesday.

Saturday evening supper guests at LaVel Thun's were Don and Vangie Carlson, David and Ronnie and two granddaughters, Erin and DeAnn and Pastor Spilde. They also watched the Twins game.

Marie and Bud Steffen treated Frank and Judy Kleinvachter to supper at Ken's Kitchen a week ago to celebrate their anniversary before they left for a trip to the East Coast.

Morris and Marcelyn Lindstrom, and Lloyd and Lois Lindstrom were to the Hallock Nursing Home on Saturday afternoon to the birthday party for Annie Lindgren. Morris and Marcelyn and Kenneth and Audrey Lindgren later visited Ted and Lori Johnson and Diane Hoff and boys of Bemidji, who were also there having spent the weekend at the Johnsons.

Isaac and Betsy Thompson visited Muriel Lofstom on Wednesday at United Hospital in Grand Forks, where Muriel has been for a time.

Frank and Judy Kleinvachter brought birthday cake and wishes to Brad Kasprowicz at June Kasprowicz on Sunday afternoon.

Willis and Margie Wollin and Philip and Yvonne Boen enjoyed lutefisk supper at the Thief Lake Lutheran church in rural Middle River Saturday evening.

Visitors this past week at Morris and Marcelyn Lindstrom's were Jeff Lindstrom of Akley, Diane Hoff, Danny and Bradley of Bemidji, and Lloyd and Lois Lindstrom of Karlstad.

Saturday evening June Kasprowicz and family took Frank and Judy Kleinvachter to the Eagles for supper as an anniversary treat.

Sunday forenoon Isaac Thompson spoke for the Gideons at the Evangelical Free church in Thief River Falls, and later had lunch with Nelson LaDoux. Following the Harvest Festival at the Assembly of God church of Karlstad, Issac and Betsy visited at the Elmer and Anna Holmstrom home. Carol Thompson of Red Lake Falls was also there for an early birthday for Anna.

Greg and Melanie Lefrooth had supper with their grandmother, Elsie Lefrooth and watched the Twins game.

Last week Leonard Jacobson from Stephen and Kelly Donarski and her son, Donny, visited Earl and Ebba Sihlberg. Dave and Mickey Egstad of Grand Forks visited there on Sunday.

Claudia Berggren stopped a few minutes at Frank Kleinvachter's Sunday evening to bring a picture of little Jessie to cheer their hearts. It's funny the reactions we grandparents get from pictures of the little ones.

Paul and Shirley Anderson attended the Harvest Festival at the Bethesda Lutheran church in Strandquist on Sunday afternoon.

Tuesday Isaac and Betsy Thompson had lunch at noon with Nelson LaDoux in Thief River Falls and in the evening they attended the Gideon meeting at Town and Country.

Karen Thompson, Michelle Johnson and Pearl Thompson visited with Elsie Lefrooth Sunday evening after attending the Harvest Festival at the Assembly of God church.

German students attend language camp at Bemidji

Seven students from Lincoln high school and seven from Franklin middle school attended Waldsee German Village at Bemidji October 18-20, accompanied by Paivi Young, Lincoln German instructor and Cay Donlin, Franklin German instructor.

Theme for the German weekend was "The European Economic Community." Students learned about the events taking place in Europe through simulation games and songs.

"Mission of the International Language Villages sponsored by Concordia College of Moorhead is to instill a global awareness and sensitivity in the American students and to expose them to as much language and culture as possible," Paivi Young said.

Roxanne Kaupmann and Nadja Cherubini, Amity scholars working at Lincoln high school and Franklin middle school, respectively, served as counselors at the camp and provided valuable assistance to the students in attendance.

Students attending were Jacob Jacobson, Erice Berning, Bronica Ray, Stephenie Henney, Angie Hasnedl, Anita Homm, Ben Sjoberg, Nathan Anderson, Steve Heinze, Shane Pederson, Kristin Chrzanowski, Ben Furuseth, Steven Anderson and Alicia Roadfeldt.

Consulting electrical engineer Ordean Anderson of New Prague (right) reviewed a diagram of the school building with Marshall County Central high school personnel in the Newfolden fire hall Saturday noon. Others clockwise around the table from front left are Kent Anderson, who was assisting his father in the investigation; Gene Busch, superintendent of the school; Mona Olson, bookkeeper; and Joan Lee, payroll clerk. The electrical engineer was called in by the insurance company in an effort to determine the exact cause of the fire which destroyed the school Thursday morning.

Lincoln fall play Friday, Saturday

by Connie Stock
LHS Fall Play Director

Carolers roaming the halls, a minstrel singing ballads, musicians playing Baroque tunes, dancers floating through the forest, acrobats flying across the stage, a juggler testing his skills, and a strange old peddler selling "Ye Olde Fuzzo" to the audience. What is going on in Lincoln high school, anyway?

It's time for the fall play, and this year the audience will be transported to an age of chivalry, romance and adventure as the drama department presents its production of "Robin Hood" by Don Nigro on Friday, November 15, and Saturday, November 16, at 7 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium.

There are probably dusty copies of "The Merry Adventures of Robin Hood" by Howard Pyle packed away in the boxes of many of our childhood memories, bringing to mind the characters of Friar Tuck and Little John or the evil Sheriff of Nottingham or the beautiful Maid Marian. At the center of these memories, however, is the heroic character of Robin Hood, robbing from the rich and giving to the poor.

In this age of high tech heroes with computerized brains, bodies and weapons, it is once again a little-larger-than-life hero who is captivating our attention. Robin Hood, with his concern for the poor and oppressed, his chivalrous ideals, his great physical skills, and his defiance of injustice is everything a hero should be, in any age.

The legendary outlaw Robin Hood, played by Jayson Olsan, probably lived sometime in the 12th century, banished to Sherwood Forest for killing one of the king's deer on a bet, and then killing one of the royal foresters in self-defense. It was while living in the forest that Robin became a hero of the local people as he tried to right the wrongs done to them.

It was also here that he collected his band of Merry Men who romped from one adventure to another: Little John-Jeff Issendorf, Will Scarlet-David Walseth, Friar Tuck-Jason Hoffard, Will Stutely-Ryan Browning, Davy O'Doncaster-Ryan Dupree, and the minstrel, Alan A'Dale-Kari Krankkala.

Principal characters in the Lincoln high school fall play are Maid Marian and Robin Hood, portrayed by Melanie Krepp and Jayson Olson. Directed by Connie Stock, the play will be presented Friday and Saturday at 7 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium. Tickets will be available at the door.

Of course, no hero would be complete without a fair maiden, who in this case is the rather stubborn and independent Maid Marian played by Melanie Krepp. Raised as royalty by her father, Sir Stephen (Lars Dyrud), she has a lot to learn about the realities of poverty and the privileges of the rich which are brought to her attention by a visit to her father's estate.

Here she meet Gweeny, played by Danae Dekkers, Old Gummy Granny, played by Beth Natvik, and Flint the Beggar, played by Steve Heinze. Maid Marian's Lady-In-Waiting, Lady Quigley, played by Erica Alberg, does not have quite as hard a time adjusting to life with the Merry Men of Sherwood Forest, however, and her antics with Friar

Lincoln visited by North Central team

Approximately 30 teachers and administrators from throughout Minnesota will arrive in Thief River Falls Sunday evening, November 17, to begin a three-day on-site audit at Lincoln high school as part of the North Central Association accreditation process.

The accreditation process is being coordinated locally by Whitey Olson, Lincoln high school counselor, and Paivi Young, German language instructor as co-chairmen. Joining them on the steering committee are Tam Hunt, Bill Fagarty, Jim Kotz, Elaine Grovum, Ed Krystosek and Roger Riviera.

Lincoln has been a member of the North Central association since 1911, according to Terry Saine, Lincoln high school principal.

North Central Association of Colleges and schools, founded in 1895, is a voluntary, non-profit, non-governmental association of elementary, secondary and post-secondary educational institutions.

Originally established to promote closer relations between colleges and secondary schools in the North Central region, the association presently concerns itself with the broader task of improving the quality of education in the region through programs of accreditation and evaluation for member schools.

According to Olson and Young, the NCA accreditation process consists of three phases within a seven-year time limit. Self-evaluation of the school by the local staff is the first phase and was completed in 1990-91.

Second phase is the on-site visitation which is to take place next week by the team of visiting educators. Final phase will be implementation of the recommendations made by the visiting team following the on-site audit.

During the 1990-91 school year Lincoln high school staff participated in a one-day inservice preparing for the on-site validation audit. In addition, faculty members have worked in committees to self-evaluate existing programs. Julie Williams, associate state director for North Central, visited Lincoln last year and gave additional information to LHS staff on the NCA process. Dr. Jon Bathke, principal at Windom area high school who heads the visitation team, also visit-

Newfolden school fire ruled accidental

Inspectors investigating the fire which destroyed Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden early Thursday morning have determined that the blaze resulted from accidental circumstances.

Many photos from the Newfolden school are published on pages 9, 10, 11 and 12 in today's issue of The Times.

Dale Volstad, deputy state fire marshal, said it is the consensus opinion of investigators that the fire began in the teachers' lounge area in the central portion of the school, quite likely from a coffee maker.

Volstad and Dick Brolsma, another deputy state fire marshal, were assisted in their investigation by Jeff Washinger, an investigator for Sigma, the School District 441 insurance carrier. The teachers' lounge was located next to the school library which contained a large volume of combustibles.

On Saturday morning Ordean Anderson of New Prague, a consulting electrical engineer, was on the scene to attempt to determine the exact cause of the fire. He agreed with the findings of Volstad and others as to the area of origin but had not confirmed the specific cause.

"What is probably most important is that there is absolutely no evidence that the cause of the fire is anything other than accidental," Volstad said. "At this point we believe it is quite likely that the coffee maker is the cause, based on our initial investigation, but we could end up being shown wrong."

Volstad said he had recovered remains of the coffee maker and that physical evidence pointed to the teachers' lounge as the area of origin. He said that structural steel tends to bend toward the heat source, that more combustibles are gone in the area where a fire starts and that more evidence of heat is shown on walls of the building.

The lounge area was last used about 10 to 10:30 p.m. on Wednesday, November 6, according to information gathered in the investigation. Given the nature of construction of the building and materials used, investigators did not question the ability of fire to spread to both ends of the building where it was first noticed about 3:20 a.m. Thursday, November 7.

School officials have been busily involved the past several days preparing for conducting high school classes in a number of temporary locations in the community. Classes will begin Thursday, November 14, in the Newfolden community center, school bus garage, New Hope church, Bethlehem Lutheran church and the Evangelical Free church.

A meeting of students in seventh through 12th grades and their parents will be held at 7:30 p.m. tonight (Tuesday) in the elementary school gymnasium. Information on plans for classes will be presented and questions answered.

Students are also asked to report to the elementary school gymnasium on Thursday morning at 8:30 a.m. for a general information session prior to the start of classes. It is planned to have a morning general assembly at the gym each day.

The district has received offers from a number of school districts to provide textbooks and a number of books were picked up from the

This is the area of the Marshall County Central high school where the fire which destroyed the building was believed to have started. Deputy state fire marshal Dale Volstad said his investigation indicated the fire began in the teachers' lounge in a central area of the school, quite likely from a coffee maker. Volstad said that metal superstructure in a building frequently points to the origin of a fire due to collapse of the roof over that area. He emphasized that his investigation and that of others found nothing to indicate the fire was caused by anything other than accidental causes.

Careers class to hold breakfast cafe

The Exploring Careers class at Franklin middle school will hold a breakfast restaurant this year, November 19-22 at the Home Economics room at the school. The goal of the class is to help students explore the vast areas of employment. With an awareness of careers and exploration in various career areas, students are better equipped to understand the world of work. They learn how to apply for a job, how to get along with co-workers and employers and to gain success and achievement in their careers. They receive "paychecks" each week and have checking accounts, savings accounts, pay bills and learn to shop wisely.

At the breakfast restaurant, some of the foods to be served will be muffins, French toast, breakfast pie, polka dot oven pancakes, omelets and breakfast pizza. Everyone is welcome.

Marzella Jorde, 69

Thief River Falls — Marzella Jorde, 69, died November 8 at Dakota hospital in Fargo, ND.

Funeral services were held November 12 at the Trinity Lutheran church in Thief River Falls with Rev. D. Josh Nelson officiating. Special music was provided by Jan Peterson, soloist, and Dorothy Larson, organist. Casketbearers were Howard Goethe, Larry Paulson, Jim Rondorf, Phillip Rondorf, Roger Rondorf, Ron Rondorf and Wally Rondorf. Interment was in the Greenwood cemetery. The Green Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Marzella Harriet Rondorf was born July 6, 1922 in Rocksbury township, Pennington county, the daughter of William and Marie (Anton) Rondorf. She attended Riverside school and grew up in Rocksbury township. On Oct. 18, 1941 she was united in marriage to Clifford T. Jorde at Grand Forks, ND. They made their home on a farm in Excel township, Marshall county. She worked at Olson's Delicatessen and at the Rex cafe in Thief River Falls. Her husband died on June 14, 1990. She had been a 4-H leader, a member of the West Steiner Homemakers group and was a very active member of Trinity Lutheran church.

She is survived by three daughters: Ellen Jorde of Thief River Falls, Linda Magner of Grand Forks, ND, and Sharon St. Germain of Grand Forks, ND; one son, Richard of Thief River Falls; ten grandchildren; ten great-grandchildren; six sisters, Mrs. Herb (Blanch) Goethe of Goodridge, Mrs. Ron (Delores) Gulley of Forest Grove, OR, Mrs. Marvin (Ardellis) Hempel of Portland, OR, Mrs. Martin (Beverly) Baker of Wright City, OK, Mrs. Charles (Sylvia) Wilcoxson of Glenwood, IA, and Mrs. Allen (Mildred) Paulson of Thief River Falls, and six brothers: LaVerne, Eugene, Alvin, Leonard and William, all of Thief River Falls, and Rally of Minneapolis.

She was preceded in death by her husband, her parents, and one son-in-law, Don St. Germain.

Elizabeth Brateng, 84

Grygla — Elizabeth Brateng, 84, died November 5 at the Northwest Medical center in Thief River Falls.

Funeral services were held November 9 at the St. Petri Lutheran church in Grygla with Rev. Dan Faugstad officiating. Special music was provided by Ruth Brateng, soloist, and Tami Sparby, organist. A trumpet solo was performed by Liza Hoaas. Casketbearers were Michael Brateng, Brian Brateng, David Brateng, Don Landsrud, John Nordby and Paul Nordby. Interment was in the church cemetery. The Green Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Elizabeth Nielsen was born Sept. 17, 1907 in Denmark, the daughter of Jeppe and Anna Kratuna (Sanbek) Nielsen. She immigrated to the United States in March 1914 and the family settled in Marcus, IA, where she attended school and grew up. On July 25, 1925 she was united in marriage to John Brateng at Marcus, IA. The couple lived in Iowa, North Dakota and then settled in Grygla. In 1968 they moved to St. Hilaire. Her husband died on Aug. 26, 1971. She moved back to Grygla in 1977. She was a cook for several years in the Valley Home in Thief River Falls.

She is survived by four daughters: Mrs. Ernest (Joyce) Landsrud of Grygla, Mrs. Rex (Beverly) Burris of Spokane, WA, Mrs. Orvis (Shirley) Nordby of Grygla and Mrs. Tim (Yvonne) Hoaas of St. Hilaire; four sons: Vernon of Grygla, Gordon of Modesto, CA, Lyle of Tacoma, WA and Wendal of New Hope; 24 grandchildren; 25 great-grandchildren; one sister, Anne Hansen of Paulina, IA; and three sisters-in-law: Mildred Nielsen and Marie Nielsen, both of Marcus, IA, and Beulah Nielson of Iowa.

She was preceded in death by her husband; two granddaughters: Sharon Brateng and Susan Anderson and ten brothers and sisters.

Dear Readers
An American Flag to drape the casket of a qualified deceased veteran may be supplied on application to the VA or to most local post offices. After the funeral service, the flag is given to the next of kin, close friend, or associate of the deceased veteran. The VA may also issue a flag for a veteran missing in action and later presumed dead.
Sincerely,
Belmont Funeral Home
Larry Belmont

Strandquist

F. Myrtle Vagle

A great number of friends and relatives gathered at St. Edwards church in Strandquist to pay their respects to one of their oldest and loved citizens, Mrs. Gertrude Hahn. She was 102 years old and leaves many fond memories in this community.

The Strandquist Senior Citizens met on Thursday, Nov. 7th with 24 registered. The guests were Lil Germundson, Elsie Lolrooth, Blanche Lofstrom, Melvin Kittlesen, Alyce E. Anderson and Marion Pedersen all from Karlstad, Adele Daltran from Bellevue, WA, and LaVel Thun. The afternoon was spent visiting with the guests. After the Pledge of Allegiance was said and Table Grace prayed, lunch was served by the hostess, Mary Renstrom. Marion Pederson won the door prize.

The Strandquist Legion Auxiliary will meet on Thursday, Nov. 14th, at 6:30 p.m. at Irene's Cafe. All members are urged to attend this meeting.

Frank and Judy Kleinvachter had cake and ice cream at Jerome Berggren's on Sunday evening to celebrate the second birthday for Salina Berggren, daughter of Buddy and Cindy Berggren of Tower.

Visitors at Marlin Nelson's home this past week have been Merlyn, David, Dion, and Cris Nelson, Don Larson, Ione Syverson, Loyal and Shelly Lolrooth, and Brent Donaldson.

Most of the local folks have been having the annual friends and family members visiting them this past week and expect more this next week also. Hunting has always been a time when we can try out our abilities to get our game. Due to the weather a lot of hunting has been done in the motels and restaurants and wherever they may be staying, but it has been a good year as by Sunday evening over 60 deer had already been registered at the new convenience store in Strandquist. Mary and Donna Ronstrom had as their guests Dave and Cindy Bristedonu, and Randy and Priscilla Deahays all from South St. Paul. They got their game and returned home on Monday. Philip and Yvonne Boen's guests were Brent and Carla Boen and Dave Anderson from Robbinsdale, Corey Boen from Moorhead, and Paul Proulx of Crookston. Chester, Angie and Craig Boen spent the weekend at Grace Boen's. Earl and Ebba Sihlberg's hunters were Robert and Thomas Shanley, Terry Vollor and friend, Jim, all from South St. Paul who came to hunt with the Donarski boys. Claire and Angie Shanley stayed with Donavan and Kelly Donarski.

Peter E. and Pearl Thompson had Isaac and Betsy Thompson over for potato dumplings for supper to celebrate Isaac and Betsy's anniversary.

Vance, Kelly and Amanda Lolrooth and Luke Simonson from the Cities visited Frank and Judy Kleinvachter on Friday.

LaVonne and Brian Johnson visited Peter and Pearl Thompson on Sunday. Pearl visited David and Phaela Thompson in the afternoon.

Brent Donaldson and niece Tara Nelson spent the weekend with Connie and Tim Storeby and girls in Stephen. Cory Nelson spent the weekend with Pete and Shelly Lolrooth.

Julius and Toni Kleinvachter visited Frank and Judy Kleinvachter a week ago.

Tracy Tunheim from South St. Paul spent the week at Earl and Ebba Sihlberg's and returned home on Monday.

Visitors at Elsie Lolrooth's home this past week have been Elphie Adlis, Isaac and Betsy Thompson, Pearl Thompson, Hazel Andersen, Myrtle Vagle, and Elsie's granddaughter, Melanie Lolrooth.

Four from TRF get training

Four Thief River Falls area residents recently completed the leadership development program sponsored by the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund.

Charlotte Fayette, Arlene Novak, Lana Sandahl and Tim Wang were among a group of 17 Northwest Minnesotans who attended the NWMIF's latest leadership development program held at the Vacationaire Resort in Park Rapids.

The week long session is conducted by Personnel Decisions, Inc., a nationally recognized management and training firm that worked with the Initiative Fund to develop the program. It offers participants new ways to identify and fulfill leadership roles in their home communities. The program is designed to reflect Northwest Minnesota's rural lifestyle and economy.

During the program, participants learn to understand and increase the effectiveness of their leadership strengths. Activities include instruction, visual resources, self-assessment, interactive groups and simulated leadership situations. Scheduled discussions include: Community Leadership, Difficult People, Peer Feedback, Problem solving, Managing Change, and The Balancing Act.

The program tuition, meals and lodging are all paid for by the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund. "Quality leadership training that is available right in our area is a high priority of the NWMIF," says Executive Director Ruth Edevold. "Strong local leadership is necessary to create a high quality of life and economic vitality for Northwestern Minnesota. The Initiative Fund sponsors several leadership sessions each year for emerging and current leaders in the region. We want to assist people in developing their skills to become even more active and capable leaders in their communities."

The next Leadership workshop sponsored by the Initiative Fund will be held January 20-24, 1992. For an application call Cindy Kuhrke at 759-2057 before December 15.

IRS encourages proper numbers

Internal Revenue Service encourages parents to get ready for the upcoming tax filing season early by obtaining taxpayer identification numbers (TIN's) from their daycare providers and making sure their dependents have social security numbers.

Anyone claiming the credit for child and dependent care expenses must include on their return the name, address, and TIN of each care provider. If the provider is a non-profit charitable, religious, or educational organization, only the name and address are required.

A TIN is a social security number if the provider is an individual. It's an employer identification number if the provider is a partnership or corporation. The same requirement applies to a person who receives benefits through their employer's dependent care assistance program.

Form W-10 can be used to request this information from the provider. To get a free copy of this form, call the IRS toll-free at 1-800-TAX-FORM (829-3676).

In addition, anyone claiming a dependent age one or over on their 1991 return must enter that person's social security number. For low and moderate income families taking the Earned Income Credit, a similar rule applies to qualifying children ages one and over. For help getting a number, call the Social Security Administration toll-free at 1-800-772-1213.

Joint reception for Catholic Daughters held recently

The Catholic Daughters of America, St. Cecelia court of Red Lake Falls and Our Lady of the Snows court of Thief River Falls held a joint reception of new members recently at St. Joseph's Catholic church in Red Lake Falls. The event began with a mass in honor of Our Lady of the Rosary celebrated by Rev. Gary LaMoine.

The theme for the evening was "Being Women of Courage." Several hymns were sung highlighting the group's motto of "Unity and Charity."

Florence Walker, regent for Red Lake Falls, was the commentator and received the following into membership: Monica Novak of Plummer, Pat Krystosek of Thief River Falls, Rita Hagl of Red Lake Falls and Esther Cota of Dorothy. Thief River Falls membership included Vivian Trudeau and Donna Kertz of Thief River Falls.

District Deputy Florence Yutrzenka introduced and welcomed the new members.

Color guards were Jeanne Plante, Phyliss Schmitz and Jean Schindler. Theresa Schmitz and Genevieve Knott of Red Lake Falls were new member guides. Members from Red Lake Falls were Regent Pat Hoefer and Financial Secretory Jeanne Altepeter and guest Sarah Altepeter.

City council meets Tuesday at auditorium

Thief River Falls city council will meet Tuesday (tonight) at 7:30 p.m. with several items on the agenda for discussion and action.

A rate increase for garbage collection from $10 to $11 per month in the regular rate and from $5 to $6 for senior citizens and low income families is being recommended to become effective January 1, 1992.

Hangar rent increase for Hangars A, B and C at the regional airport by $5 per-month effective January 1 will also be proposed. Bids will be called for on a street sweeper for the street department with bids to be opened Dec. 5, 1991.

Several other items relating to the state's share of ditching at the airport and Soo Line payment of special assessment on Atlantic avenue are also on the agenda.

Franklin hosts conferences

Parent-teacher conferences at Franklin middle school will be held Thursday and Friday, November 14 and 15, according to Dr. Milton Hoff, principal.

Franklin will be open for parent conferences from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. November 14 and 8 a.m. to 12 noon November 15. Faculty will take meal breaks from 11 a.m. to noon and 4 to 5 p.m. on Thursday, November 14.

Parents are urged to visit the school and confer with teachers during these one and one-half days of conferences.

THE TIMES' WEDDING POLICY

The Times' policy on wedding write ups is as follows:

- If the wedding took place within one month from date of receipt at The Times office, a detailed write up will be published from information provided, along with a picture if submitted.
- If the wedding took place from one to three months before receipt at The Times office, there will be brief write-up, including names of participants but no description of decor, gowns, flowers, etc.
- For a wedding that took place from three to six months before submission to The Times, we will run a brief social announcement or a picture with a short caption stating names of the bride and groom, names and addresses of parents, date and place of the wedding, and where the couple is residing.
- There will be no publication of weddings after six months have elapsed.
- Every effort will be made to publish the wedding write up within two issues of receipt.
- Forms are available free of charge at The Times office to help in organizing information about the wedding for publication. Nearly all information can be filled in on the forms prior to the wedding. To request forms by mail, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to The Times, P.O. Box 100, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.
- Photographs may be picked up at The Times office after the wedding write up has been published. Photographs will only be returned by mail if accompanied by a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Education Week events planned

Parent-teacher conferences Thursday and Friday of this week at Thief River Falls public schools will serve as a kick-off for American Education Week to be observed November 17-23.

Conferences have been scheduled for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday for parents of children in kindergarten through grade two and Thursday and Friday for grades three through five in the elementary schools, grades six through eight at Franklin middle school and grades nine through 12 at Lincoln high school.

Conferences are scheduled at the elementary schools. Separate announcements are included in this issue of The Times for Franklin middle school and Lincoln high school conference schedules.

Major Education Week event next week will be a breakfast for educators Thursday, November 21, at the American Legion club rooms beginning at 7 a.m. Sponsors will be American Legion Post 117 and the Thief River Falls chamber of commerce with participation by the Legion auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Thief River Falls Education association.

Theme for American Education Week this year is "Schools and Communities, Partners for a Strong America."

"Since 1921 the American Legion, its auxiliary and other professional groups have promoted, with good cause, the idea of visitation to our schools," notes Joe Forberg, Commander of Post 117 of the American Legion in Thief River Falls.

"Post 117 encourages all parents to exercise their rights and responsibilities by visiting the school of their choice. This year's theme should remind each of us that we have a duty and responsibility to see that our children are prepared to take up the role of citizens and leaders in the years to come."

Placemats stating the Thief River Falls school district's mission, beliefs and goals will be distributed to restaurants in Thief River Falls for use during Education Week. Elementary school students are decorating grocery bags which will be used at Hugo's, Ken's Hartz and Northland Foods and creating artwork displays to be shown at Hardee's, Pizza Hut, Danny's and McDonald's.

Franklin middle school art display will be placed at the Bull Pen in downtown Thief River Falls.

Appearances by educators on KTRF radio's "Coffeetime" program are scheduled during the week.

On Wednesday, November 20, parents at Mark Twain elementary school are especially invited to visit the classrooms throughout the day. On Thursday, November 21, parents are invited to visit classrooms at Northrop elementary school.

Mayor Bob Carlson has proclaimed Education Week in Thief River Falls, noting that schools represent a major investment in the community, that teachers are an important part of the community's leadership and that schools represent the best possible avenue of improving the quality of life in our country.

"Involved citizenry provides a most important facet in the community schools," the proclamation states, "and there is a need for better communication and a more cooperative relationship between professional educators and the community."

The mayor urged all citizens to reaffirm their commitment to improving and supporting education at all levels and translate that commitment into action by visiting the local schools.

Saxophonist in concert at Musicale

Paul Brodie

Concert saxophonist Paul Brodie of Toronto, Ontario, Canada will be featured performer at the 1991 Autumn Musicale band festival Monday, November 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the Northland Community college fine arts auditorium in Thief River Falls.

Since 1960 Brodie has performed over 2,500 concerts in Canada, the United States, Mexico, France, England, India, Singapore, Hong Kong, the Philippines, Israel and Australia. He is considered to be the most recorded concert saxophonist in the history of the instrument with 32 albums recorded for six different record companies.

Having appeared as a soloist with most of the leading orchestras in Canada, he has often been featured on the Canadian Broadcasting company's AM and FM radio and television.

Brodie is the author of "A Student's Guide to the Saxophone" and three books of saxophone solos and founded the World Saxophone Congress in 1969.

The Toronto Star music critic says of Brodie that "Canada's King of the concert saxophone has an almost magical rapport with listeners young and old. His technique is fabulous."

John Wallberg student Rotarian for November

John Wallberg

John Wallberg, 17, son of John G. and Marilyn Wallberg of Thief River Falls and a senior at Lincoln high school, is serving as student Rotarian with the Thief River Falls Rotary club for November.

Student Rotarians attend the Monday noon meetings of the Rotary club and report on activities taking place at Lincoln high school.

Wallberg has participated in football, basketball and track for the past four years and has been in the Math club as a freshman, junior and senior. He also became a member of the Captain's club this year, earned an academic letter as a junior and carries a 4.0 grade point average.

John's hobbies and interests include horseback riding, scuba diving and playing the piano. He participated in the First Baptist church youth camp and has two brothers, Mark and Scott Wallberg and one sister, Missy Gudal.

Following graduation from Lincoln he plans to attend college and major in engineering.

Bagley hosts exchange night

Residents of the area have been invited to participate in a free "Cultural Exchange Night" to be conducted at 7 p.m. Monday, November 18, in the Bagley high school little theatre.

A display will be open before and after the evening's program which will feature either foreign exchange students or immigrants from Costa Rica, Sweden, Indonesia, Norway, Denmark, Finland and Hungary. Refreshments will be served.

Persons interested in displaying folk art, musical instruments or costume items from the highlighted countries are invited to bring them at 6:30 p.m. or leave them at the Bagley school superintendent's office in advance. For more information call 694-3270.

Speaking Of . . .

by Sharon LaCoursiere

. . . Did You Get Your Deer, Honey?

Nearly my whole family went deer hunting last weekend. Lots of people did. I didn't. I stayed home and cleaned and cooked. I feel that I had more fun than my family did, but I'm sure they would disagree with me. Anyway, when they came home, I was very careful not to say, "Did you get your deer, Honey?" I know better.

I just can't understand how anyone can enjoy deer hunting.

It takes so long for them to pack their clothing to get ready to go hunting. They pack clothes for warm weather and (lots of) clothes for cold weather, like long underwear, several pairs of wool socks, flannel shirts, wool shirts, wool pants, snowmobiling pants, heavy jackets, light jackets, and layer upon layer of bright orange shirts, jackets, vests, caps, mittens, hoods, socks, and, sometimes, even orange toilet tissue.

Naturally, deer hunting almost always takes place when it is cold. I would hate running around in the woods in bitter cold weather, but the hunters thrive on it. They actually want it to be cold. They want snow on the ground so they can track the deer they shoot, provided they shoot one. If it isn't cold, they gripe and moan, and pack more light clothing on top of all the warm clothing, which they keep packed too, just in case it should get good and cold while they are out there running around.

Deer hunters get ready to go hunting for months before the season opens. They make stacks of what they are going to take along, and check the stacks often to make sure they are including everything they need. Every so often they run over and deposit something else on the pile, kind of like squirrels hiding nuts, or maybe just plain nuts, I think.

Hunters fuss with their rifles a lot, cleaning them, polishing them lovingly, peering, squinty-eyed, down the barrel and through the sights. They sigh a lot while they do this, no doubt envisioning a big buck in those sights. Frankly, I think some hunters spend more time with their guns than with their families for a couple of months before deer hunting season. If you ask me, if some of them gave their wives the attention they give their rifles, they might be pleasantly surprised at what would happen.

Hunters always "check out the sights" on their rifles. This sight-checking takes up many hours in the early morning and after work for many weeks before deer hunting season, and hunters use several boxes of rifle shells doing this. Some of them go so far as to make cute bulls-eyes out of cardboard, too. Wouldn't you think they could get the sights right? Oh no. You will hear nearly every deer hunter claiming his rifle sights are "off" right up to the time he heads out to hunt. I think this is just a little handy thing to have for an excuse when the hunter doesn't get his deer, don't you?

Hunters eat well, ask any grocery store manager. Most hunters go shopping for themselves before going out hunting, even if they never set foot in a grocery store before or after that time. Hunters buy things they would never, in a million years, eat at home, and they buy plenty of it, because they know they will be "working up a good appetite" chasing those deer around the woods.

If you've ever been in the grocery line behind a hunter, you know what I mean. The magic number for deer hunters seems to be three. The cashier rings up item after item, the receipt getting longer and longer, at least three feet long, as Mr. Hunter just stands there with a smile on his face. He smiles some more as the amount shows up in three figures, and he writes out the check, smiling all the while. It takes three carry-out boys to wheel the carts, but Mr. Hunter just keeps right on smiling as he follows them out the door to his pickup.

Hunters never come home in the same condition they left. In fact, if they weren't dressed in the same clothes as they were when they went out the door, the person who stayed home might not even recognize them.

Hunters come home looking like they haven't had a decent night's sleep since they left, and they probably haven't. They also look like bums. They have not shaved, or bathed since they left, and you can tell. The first place they head is to the bathroom, but not to bathe.

The second place they head is to the kitchen because they are starving. How they can be so hungry with all the food they took along, I'll never know, but they are. One good thing, hunters will eat anything when they get home, so they will clean out all the leftovers in the refrigerator and not even notice what they are eating.

Next thing the hunter does is bathe for a long time, at least two hours. This really makes everyone in the house happy.

While all of this eating and spending time in the bathroom is going on, the hunter acts one of two ways, depending on whether or not he got his deer. Most of us who stay at home know very well that we don't say a word until we have this figured out, and, especially, we don't say the words, "Did you get your deer, Honey?"

If our hunter got his deer he is very happy, jabbering nonstop about what a good time he had and just exactly where and how, how many times, and under what circumstances, in bloody detail, how he shot his deer. We don't even have to say, "Did you get your deer, Honey?" He tells us right away.

However, if the hunter did not get his deer he will say nothing, but, instead, glower like a grouch around the house, a sour expression on his face with nary a word said about the "joy of the hunt" or what a good time he had. Then those of us who stayed at home must be very careful not to say those dreaded words, "Did you get your deer, Honey?"

Ethel Sanders Artist of Month

by Cathy Mueller
President, Northern Prairie Artists Association

Ethel Sanders' home is decorated with many paintings she has done over the years. She likes to paint "memories," places that are or were real, including memories of her home and the surrounding areas when she was growing up. She has also done many commissioned paintings of homesteads and farm places for friends.

Ethel will be showing some of her paintings at the Northern Prairie Art Gallery on Saturday, November 16, from 1 to 5 p.m. She would enjoy having people stop by to view and to visit. The gallery is located at the Country Class Arts store on Riverside avenue in Thief River Falls.

Ethel doesn't know a time when she wasn't interested in art. When she was in grade school she remembers seeing a set of paper Campbell Soup Kid Dolls. Since there wasn't any other way to get a set of them, she drew and colored cardboard to make them for herself, with a whole wardrobe of outfits to dress them in. When she was in high school, she drew the pictures that were used in the yearbook. Besides pencil, she also used pen and ink.

After graduation she did a drawing sample for the Minneapolis School of Art, which was accepted. With the encouragement and help from her sister Myrtle, she moved to Minneapolis and started school. She first worked with charcoal, doing life drawings of the human figure. Her teacher emphasized that if you could draw the human figure you could draw anything.

Next she learned composition, design, history of art and other subject areas, the use of watercolors, oils, pastels and the whole range of mediums that were available. She won many first prize awards, the first for a torso without head, arms, or legs. She doesn't have them to show because the instructor would keep the best work for promotion of the school or student display.

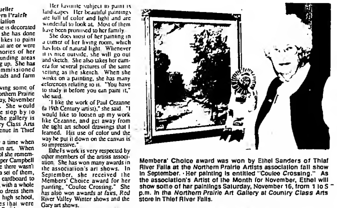
Her favorite subject to paint is landscapes. Her beautiful paintings are full of color and light and are wonderful to look at. Most of them have been promised to her family.

She does most of her painting in a corner of her living room, which has lots of natural light. Whenever it is nice outside, she will go out and sketch. She also takes her camera for several pictures of the same setting as the sketch. When she works on a painting, she has many references relating to it. "You have to study it before you can paint it," she said.

"I like the work of Paul Cezanne (a 19th Century artist)," she said. "I would like to loosen up my work like Cezanne, and get away from the tight art school drawings that I learned. His use of color and the way he put it down on the canvas is so impressive."

Ethel's work is very respected by other members of the artists association. She has won many awards in the association's art shows. In September, she received the Members' Choice award for her painting, "Coulee Crossing." She has also won awards at fairs, Red River Valley Winter shows and the Gary art shows.

Ethel is currently planning a painting of a friend's new home. "I want to capture the coziness of the house set in the trees," she said. "It has a very inviting door that I want to emphasize, that I want to put down on canvas." Ethel works mainly with oil paints.



Members' Choice award was won by Ethel Sanders of Thief River Falls at the Northern Prairie Artists association fall show in September. Her painting is entitled "Coulee Crossing." As the association's Artist of the Month for November, Ethel will show some of her paintings Saturday, November 16, from 1 to 5 p.m. in the Northern Prairie Art Gallery at Country Class Arts store in Thief River Falls.

Advice from Ethel for beginning artists? She suggests that they get a good supply list and begin by using only three colors—a good red, blue and yellow—plus white and black. A good learning experience, she said, is to paint an entire picture using only one color, plus black and white.

"And practice drawing," she said. "Take anything in your house and draw it, and practice perspective."

TRF calendar parking to start Friday

Calendar parking ordinance in the city of Thief River Falls takes effect Friday, November 15, reminds Thief River Falls Police Chief Ken Froschheiser.

From 6 p.m. until 9 a.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays parking will be prohibited on avenues (which run north and south). Parking on streets (which run east and west) will be prohibited during the same period on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

The first ticket issued for violation of the calendar parking ordinance will be a warning ticket, but subsequent violations will be subject to $5 fines.

Chief Froschheiser asked cooperation of the public in observing the calendar parking ordinance which is intended to assist city crews in doing a quicker and more complete job of removing snow.

Flu shot good idea

Approach-of-winter also means the approach of flu season, and for the elderly or people with chronic illness, the flu can be dangerous. This danger can be substantially reduced or even eliminated.

Just as Minnesotans prepare for colder weather in other ways—like putting up storm windows and putting on warm clothes—people at risk should have a flu shot as part of their winter survival kit.

Flu, or influenza, is a contagious respiratory disease caused by a virus. Anyone can get the flu, which usually strikes in cold weather months. For people at high risk—those 65 and older and the chronically ill—flu can be life threatening. Half a million Americans have died as a result of influenza over the last 20 years, according to the American Lung association.

Because the flu can be easily prevented, people at risk should discuss appropriate preventive measures with their doctor or other health care professional. Since the influenza virus typically changes yearly, high-risk persons should be vaccinated each fall.

Pearl Harbor medal offered to survivors

Military veterans and certain contract civilians who served on Hawaii during the 1941 attack on Pearl Harbor are eligible to receive a congressional medal commemorating the 50th anniversary of the event, the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) has announced.

Members of the armed forces who were in Hawaii on December 7, 1941, and civilian employees of the War Department or Navy Department who were wounded in the attack, or survivors of those who were killed are eligible to receive the Pearl Harbor Commemorative Medal. Eligible veterans or their survivors should call the toll-free number established by the Defense Department for additional information and forms, 1-800-545-4052.

Copies of the application forms also are available from VA Regional Offices.

Those not eligible for the medal include Navy personnel who were on ships stationed at Pearl Harbor but were at sea during the attack. Personnel on board ships that were patrolling just outside the harbor entrance are authorized to receive the medal.

IMPRESSIONS

BY BETH JOHNSON

Recently I have been amazed at the intensity of the human spirit. Many times we tend to find the negative in people or in mankind and after finding that negative, we give it credance by focusing on it. But, when the human spirit is allowed to flourish it can be indomitable.

On October 28, our family, and many hundreds of other people from this region, witnessed the marvel of two humans who have overcome immense difficulties. October 28 was the evening that we were privileged to hear Itzhak Perlman in concert at the Chester Fritz in Grand Forks.

For those of you who may be wondering, Itzhak Perlman is the premier violinist in the world. To be so honored with his presence and his talent in our small corner of that world was a treat we decided could not be missed. What a delight his concert was for us to hear. The music was a joy to listen to. The time flew by as he honored us with his talent.

But, it was not the supreme talent that impressed me the most. What impressed me was that this man could not walk on stage carrying his own violin. Another prson carried it for him, as Mr. Perlman entered the stage with crutches in each hand.

Mr. Perlman had contracted polio as a young child. His parents gave him a violin to pass the time. With this opportunity he surpassed the difficulties of the disease and has become the world renown violinist we heard playing a couple of weeks ago. His spirit invaded the music and through it, it also touched our lives. His music left us wishing for more, and more he did give us in an amazing selection of encore music. His talent left us with gaping mouths and smiling spirits as we listened in complete awe. As he manually swung his legs to get them in position to stand after each number, and, as he stood with the aid of crutches, we were left admiring an awe-inspiring spirit. A spirit we would do well to emulate when the headaches of life seem overwhelming.

But, Itzhak Perlman was not the only person on that program that night. His accompanist was Samuel Sanders. Mr. Sanders was the person who also carried in Mr. Perlman's violin. If I had not read the accompanying program for the evening, I would not have been aware of the intensity of Mr. Sanders' spirit.

Mr. Sanders had undergone three cardiac surgeries – in 1947, 1965, and 1980. Then, in October 1990, Mr. Sanders had had a heart transplant. Yet, one year later, in October of 1991, there he was honoring us with his superb talent as he accompanied Itzhak Perlman.

How inflagable the human spirit is!!! We ought to allow ourselves to be bouyed up when the problems of life seem to overwhelm us. Too often we give in to the health or emotional or financial or circumstantial problems which we face instead of allowing our spirits to thrive and even excel in spite of life's difficulties.

I noticed a small news item in the paper this week. Dr. Robert Schuller has returned to his pulpit, a mere six weeks after undergoing brain surgery. He's quoted as feeling terrific. What a spirit of determination he shows. Instead of focusing his life on life's negatives, he too has overcome a difficulty in his life.

Closer to home, last week the Marshall County Central high school burned. Immediately we hear of plans to continue school for the children of that district. The human spirit is meeting a difficulty of life, yet is remaining undefeated.

Itzhak Perlman, Samuel Sanders, Robert Schuller, Marshall County Central school children and personnel, all teach us that adversity does not have to limit us. In fact, adversity can create opportunities for excellence. Don't allow yourself to be overwhelmed with life's negatives. Allow your courageous human spirit to shine even through the problems of your life. You may be surprised by what you will find yourself accomplishing when you do not allow yourself to be overcome by adversity. Let your spirit shine in this world to lighten the darkness of the world.

Rondorf gives review of his sub's activity

Navy Commander Neil E. Rondorf, formerly of Thief River Falls, recently reviewed activities of the submarine he commands for families and friends of the crew.

"We had a busy summer since our return from Desert Storm last spring," he wrote. "We spent a good portion of June and July conducting underway operations in support of the next carrier battle group in pre-deployment training. Having just returned we were able to really challenge the air wings and surface ships in anti-submarine warfare.

"The submarine spent several weeks in late July and August in the dry dock in Norfolk, VA. We accomplished a lot of needed maintenance and completed an extremely complex engineering job almost flawlessly. It was a real pleasure watching the crew work so professionally and take such pride in the submarine."

Commander Rondorf said the submarine arrived in Portsmouth Naval Shipyard August 30 to commence a year-long period of repairs and maintenance "to ensure a long and safe future at sea."

Retail and service marketing program here November 21

"Retail and Service Business Marketing Program" is the title of a workshop planned for Thursday, November 21, from 8 a.m. to 12 noon at the Thief River Falls technical college.

"This seminar presents a proven marketing system for retail and service businesses to improve management strategy, selling and advertising," states Jan Hoff, director of the Small Business Development Center at the technical college.

"It will provide clear-cut, workable marketing strategies that can be used to build business and the bottom line."

Instructor of the seminar will be Dorrell Solberg of DDS Sales Training in Sioux Falls, SD, who has over 25 years of experience in advertising, sales management and general management in small to medium size markets. He has presented workshops and training sessions for many national companies, conferences and conventions that have been well attended and enthusiastically received.

Cost of attending the workshop is $55 per business for up to five participants from that business. Pre-registration is requested by November 15. To register, make checks payable to the TRFTC SBDC and mail to: Small Business Development Center, Thief River Falls Technical College, 1301 Highway 1 East, Thief River Falls MN 56701. For more information call 681-5424 or 1-800-222-2884.

Sponsors of the workshop are the TRFTC Small Business Development Center, School District 564 Community Education department, Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls and KTRF/KSNR radio.

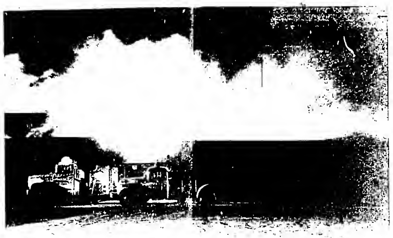
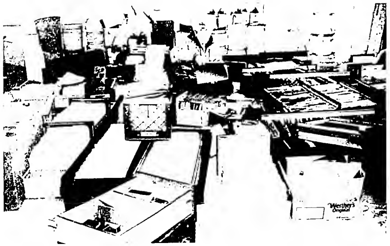
Marshall County Central high school at Newfolden was destroyed by fire which swept through the building Thursday, Nov. 7

Only the frames remained of these stackable chairs which had been in use at Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden.

A literal hotline phone was this unit at Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden. The phone and phone book lying by it were located near the office area of the school which was struck by a disastrous fire Thursday morning.

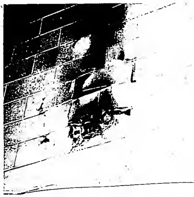


Fire breaking through the roof of Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden during the early morning hours Thursday, November 7, outlined the top of the building and back-lighted the Newfolden fire trucks parked at the scene.



Surrounded by drawers and boxes of files recovered from Marshall County Central high school, bookkeeper Mona Olson looks through the files temporarily housed in the Newfolden fire department building. Olson said that virtually all of the old files stored in the school's vault were in fair to good condition and that a surprising amount of material from standard files and desk drawers could also be considered in good shape although the files and desks were not fireproof.

Few library books remained in the library at Marshall County Central school following Thursday's fire. The library was located next to the teachers' lounge where the fire was believed to have started, probably from a faulty coffee maker. A few scattered pages were all that could be found in the library area Saturday morning.



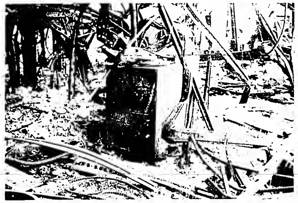
Gymnasium wall at Marshall County Central school suffered damage from steel beams which fell against it during the fire Thursday morning. In addition to damage to the concrete walls, the wooden floor of the gymnasium was buckled into waves by water used to fight the fire.

A large backhoe from Davidsen Construction company of Holt was put to use Friday at Marshall County Central school in Newfolden to clear away part of the building which was in danger of collapse and presented a safety hazard.

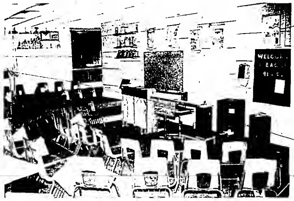
Central office area of Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden was a blackened shambles after fire destroyed the building Thursday morning, November 7. Clerical workers in the office were able to salvage a number of items from desks and a vault.

Student desks stood in charred rows after fire destroyed Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden. The fire was noticed about 3:20 a.m. Thursday, November 7.

Student book lockers at Marshall County Central high school at Newfolden show the effects of the intense heat created by the fire which destroyed the school Thursday.



A lone filing cabinet stands amidst the twisted metal which remained after fire destroyed Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden Thursday morning.



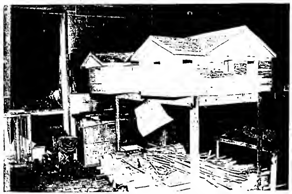
Music room at Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden was one of the areas least affected by the fire which raced through the school Thursday morning. There was some smoke and water damage but most of the band instruments were saved.

Light of dawn Thursday morning found fireman still battling the fire which struck the Marshall County Central school. The fire was noticed about 3:20 a.m. Newfolden fire trucks remain in the photo above as assisting departments had begun to withdraw.

MARSHALL COUNTY
CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL

Shortly after this Times' photo was taken Thursday morning at Marshall County Central high school at Newfolden, these firemen decided there were safer places to be than on the roof and came back down to fight the fire from ground level.

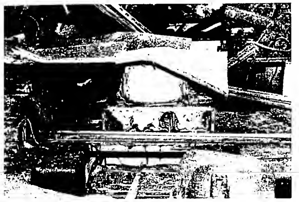
Composite pictures of Marshall County Central high school graduates which were on display in the hallways at Marshall County Central high school were damaged by the fire which destroyed the school Thursday morning. Glass had broken on the photo in the center, perhaps exposing the pictures to greater damage than those under glass in the frames at either side. Center photo is of the Class of 1965.



Although fire extensively damaged the wall and windows in the background, most wood items at Marshall County Central high school's shop were in good shape following Thursday morning's fire which destroyed most of the school.

Flaming ceiling tile panels continued to burn after falling to the floor in the entryway of Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden Thursday morning. In the early morning hours Thursday, November 7, firemen watched as flaming ceiling panels fall in the entryway to Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden.

Thief River Falls fire department responded to a call for assistance from Newfolden firemen early Thursday morning to battle the blaze which destroyed Marshall County Central high school. The crew concentrated its efforts on the east end of the building.



Capped by a section of fallen ceiling tile, a computer in the computer room first put into use this fall at Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden is just a melted glob of plastic. Most computers in this room were in similar condition.

Supt. Gene Busch (right) of School District 441 in Newfolden talks to fireman early Thursday morning outside Marshall County Central high school which was in flames at the time.

Plummer

Bunny DuChamp returned home last Thursday after spending two weeks at the home of her son Lenny and Mike DuChamp in Bremerton, WA, and other relatives in that area. She was accompanied by her daughter, Cathy of Thief River Falls who visited a week there. While there they were able to visit with who had come to visit there, also. One day Lenny and Bunny took the ferry to Seattle and visited Reaume and Alyce Ste. Marie, former residents of Plummer.

Friday afternoon visitors of Bunny DuChamp after her return were her sister Gertie Haugen of Goodridge and her niece Dorothy Dryseth of Greenwald, MN.

Bunny DuChamp brought belated birthday greetings to Rose [illegible] at the Erling Olson home in Thief River Falls on Monday afternoon.

Regional arts council grants total $1,752

Northwest Regional Development Commission was awarded funds totaling $1,752.50 to regional arts organizations for small capital expenditures and equipment purchases at the commission's meeting on October 22.

Funding from the McKnight Foundation's arts funding plan in the amount of $259.50 was awarded to the Community Performing Arts Council of East Grand Forks for the purchase of six wireless intercom systems. The Crookston Community Theater was also awarded $1,493.00 to purchase six microphones and two speakers.

Funding provided by the Minnesota State Legislature in the amount of $530 will support a 'small arts' project. The Thief River Falls Community Arts Council was awarded $380 for the production of "The Owl and the Pussycat" on December 6 and 7.

Approximately $1,350 remains available of the NWRDC/McKnight arts funds for capital expenditures and equipment. The Northwest Regional Arts Council is accepting applications from arts organizations classified under section 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code for the McKnight funds until Dec. 2, 1991.

Upcoming deadlines for small arts grants applications are Dec. 20, 1991, and Jan. 20, 1992. Organizations may apply for up to $500 in small arts grants for projects which do not exceed $1,000 in total costs.

December 2, 1991 is the next deadline for arts grant applications for production assistance and sponsorship projects starting after Feb. 1, 1992. Matching grants of up to $3,500 are available for organizations creating, performing, or exhibiting arts; or, to host arts activities by contracting for the services of another organization.

Application guidelines, forms and instructions for the arts grant programs are available from Linda Nelson, Arts Council Director, NWRDC, 525 Brooks Avenue South, Thief River Falls, MN 56701, phone (218) 681-2637 or 1-800-537-0601.

"Robin Hood" is LHS fall play

Tuck offer much entertainment.

Exactly what evil and injustice does Robin Hood fight against? It is embodied in the character of Prince John (Mitch Scramstad) as he plots, fumes and fusses, trying to trap Robin Hood. These scenes are full of comic relief with the help of the old court jester, Yorick (Keith Baune), the new court jester, Grok (Heather Thornton), her translator Brekka (Kelly Gould), the rather inept servant Sally (Andrea Campbell), Prince John's skeptical Lady Bronwen (Stephanie Vigen), and his 107-year-old mother, Queen Eleanor (Rachael Marshall).

Adding to all this confusion is the confused Sheriff of Nottingham, played by Rodney Joppru, and his attendants, Constable Watt, played by Jeremy Hulteen, and Redcap and Cruikshank, played by Nathan Egge and Jason Campbell, assisted by Josh Beich and Josh Conway.

There is not only romance and injustice lurking in Sherwood Forest, however-there is also dark and foreboding mystery. In a visit to the Blue Boar Inn, Ellen (Samantha Olson) and Jenny (Linda Peoples) discuss this evil, cold thing with the rather cowardly owner of the inn, Eadom, played by Justen Lee; the bewitching, fortune-telling Crazy Betty, played by Alanna Altepeter, and the incoherent Cootie, played by Keith Baune.

A knock at the door reveals the Dark Monk, played by Dan Lavalier. Is it really Death knocking at the door looking for Robin Hood, or is he hiding some other identity? Robin's fate will not be decided until the last scene when he takes refuge with the Prioress (Mandy Miller) and Sister Felicity (Jolene Gonsorowski). Who exactly can he trust?

All is not quite so grim and mysterious, however. Come to the fair and meet the singing Maids of Tuxford: Angelique Goulet, Toni Chiodo, Kari Walseth, Rachael Marshall, Marie Lubitz and Laura Toren; the dancers and townspeople: Toni Chiodo, Becky Gaffaney, Kari Walseth, Marie Lubitz, Angie Hasnedl, Yoshika Ryu, Angie DeLap, Sally Hagen, Jenny Saustad, Maren Dyrud, Kara LeMoine and Jaimie Martel; the acrobats: Arctic Lites Gymnastics Team; the Juggler, Nathan Egge; and the musicians, Diane Dekkers, Jolene Gonsorowski and Maren Dyrud.

Support personnel for the production include Student Director-Andrea Campbell, State Manager-Guy Drevlow, Lighting Advisor and crew-Everett Marshall and Sarah Bataldcn, Sets and Prop's-Art Heinze and Carl Peterson, Costumes-Diane Marshall; Choreographer-Michelle Duffy, and Director-Connie Stock.

Join us on November 15 and 16, at 7 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium for an evening of riotous entertainment complete with period costumes, humor, sword play, adventure, romance, chilvary, music and dancing, and the heroic fight of good against evil with "Robin Hood." Tickets will be available at the door; students-$2; adults-$3.

Who is the dark, cold thing that roams through the forest? Is it Robin Hood's time to die? These questions strike fear into the hearts of these characters at the Blue Boar Inn in this scene from Lincoln high school's fall play "Robin Hood." The play will be presented Friday and Saturday at 7 p.m. in the school auditorium. Left to right in the photo are Dan Lavalier as the mysterious Dark Monk, Alanna Altepeter as Crazy Betty, Keith Baune as Coolie, Linda Peoples as Jenny and Samantha Olsen as Ellen.

ed with Lincoln staff and administration last year.

The NCA team will be welcomed at the Best Western in Thief River Falls Sunday evening. During a Monday evening banquet for the visitors, Paivi Young will welcome the guests and Solne will present the 'State of LHS" report.

Maryel Anderson, who chairs the board of education, will give a welcome from the board and Dr. Robert Duncan, superintendent of schools, will present the 'State of District 564' report. Entertainment will be provided by the Lincoln high school Swingsations jazz choir under the direction of Darcy Reese.

The visitation will conclude at 3:10 p.m. Wednesday, November 20, when Dr. Bathke chairs an exit conference for faculty, principals, superintendent, school board and PER committee.

Blood pressure clinic in TRF

Blood pressure and foot care clinic will be conducted by Inter-County Nursing service from 10 to 11:30 a.m. at the Heritage Community center in Thief River Falls Thursday, November 21.

Nurses will soak feet and trim nails only. For foot care appointment call the Inter-County Nursing Service office at 681-5950. Public participation is welcome.

Members of the court add comic relief to the Lincoln fall play "Robin Hood," but their bumbling puts Robin Hood's life in danger. The play will be presented Friday and Saturday, November 15 and 16, in the Lincoln high school auditorium under the direction of Connie Stock. Watching the antics of Yorick the jester, payed by Keith Bauna, are (left to right) Mitch Scramstad as Prince John, Heather Themian as Grok, Josh Conway as Soldier, Nathan Egge as Gill Redcap, Rachael Marshall as Queen Eleanor, Stephanie Vigen as Bronwen, Josh Balch as Soldier, Jeremy Hultaen as Constable Watt and Rodney Joppru as the Sheriff of Nottingham. Tickets will be available at the door.

THANK YOU

Swimmers do well in Section 8 meet

Thief River Falls girls won two races, set a pair of school records and established a meet record during the 1991 Section 8 high school swimming and diving championships held Friday and Saturday at Hyslop Sports Center on the University of North Dakota campus in Grand Forks.

The Prowlers had first place finishes in the 50 freestyle by junior Amy Adams and in the 200 freestyle relay, where Adams, freshman Theresa Giauque, senior Linnea Dimich and sophomore Lisa Ulrich turned in a Section 8 record 1:45.65 effort.

Those four Thief River Falls girls also came up with a second place finish in the 400 freestyle relay, while Adams and Giauque added state meet-qualifying second place efforts in the 100 butterfly and 200 freestyle, respectively.

Top two finishers in each of the swimming events, plus the top five divers earned state meet spots.

"Things went really well for us," said Thief River Falls coach Ryan Lokken," who was elated with the Prowlers' third place showing that elevated them ahead of teams like Melrose, Fergus Falls and Bemidji.

Brainerd won the title with 345.5 points, followed by Alexandria 332 and Moorhead 311.

Thief River Falls had a shot at third behind those three predicted leaders pointed out Lokken before the meet, and the Prowlers met their goal with 230 points, moving up one spot from 1990.

"We're really happy with fourth place," said Lokken. "We wanted to move up and we did. It gets pretty hard to move up very much near the top because the points are so bunched up. The times were extremely fast. We felt we had the potential for seven state meet qualifiers, and we made five – that's fantastic.

Thief River Falls state meet qualifiers will leave Thursday morning for the state meet that will be held Friday and Saturday at the University of Minnesota Aquatic Center in Minneapolis.

State meet diving prelims start at 10 a.m. Friday, with swimming prelims starting at 3 that afternoon. Swimming and diving finals will be held Saturday starting at 1:30 p.m.

Best Thief River Falls state meet bets will be in the two relay races, according to Lokken. "We're shooting for a top-16 finish in both relays," he said. "That'l be tough, but it a goal they can shoot for."

Grygla-Goodridge, Win-E-Mac, Warren, Mahnomen, Detroit Lakes...

Area football teams head to Metrodome

Grygla-Goodridge, Win-E-Mac, Warren, Mahnomen and Detroit Lakes will represent northwestern Minnesota beginning this week when, for the first time ever, the entire Minnesota State High School League (MSHSL) state football playoff package will be played at the Metrodome in Minneapolis.

Section 8 champion Detroit Lakes (10-1) takes on Section 4 winner Hutchinson (9-2) at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Class A.

In Nine-Man play Friday, Section 6 champion Win-E-Mac (9-1) plays Section 5 winner Cromwell (9-1) at 2 p.m., followed by Section 8 champion Grygla-Goodridge (9-1) vs. Section 7 winner AlBrook (9-0) at 4:30.

A 6 p.m. Class C match-up Saturday will feature Section 8 champion Warren (9-1) vs. Section 6 winner Mahnomen (11-0).

The MSHSL began sponsoring the post-season football playoffs in 1972. Since 1982 the finals in all five classes – AA, A, B, C, Nine-Man – have been part of a day-long Prep Bowl championship affair at the Metrodome. Because of the ever-increasing chance of poor weather interfering with the late-season playoff match-ups, the MSHSL had announced earlier that the Metrodome schedule would be expanded to include all the semifinal games in addition to the Prep Bowl finals.

That still left sectional finals and first round state quarterfinals to be played outside. However, the early-winter weather that hit Minnesota at Halloween time found officials scrambling to make use of the Metrodome for a number of sectional finals, and prompted MSHSL officials to move the state quarterfinal games indoors as well.

The busy Metrodome schedule will include six quarterfinal games Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and the final two on Saturday.

Semifinals will be played Nov. 22-23 and the Prep Bowl will be held Friday, Nov. 29.

In Saturday, Nov. 23 semifinals, Grygla-Goodridge or AlBrook will meet Win-E-Mac or Cromwell at 9:30 a.m.; Warren or Mahnomen will take on Cook County (Grand Marais) or Browerville at 12 noon; and Detroit Lakes or Hutchinson plays Rocori or Proctor at 5.

Costs of sectional games played at the Metrodome will be paid by the respective football sections, while the lease arrangement for use of the Metrodome for the state quarterfinals, semifinals and finals will be handled by the MSHSL.

Mahnomen and Class B winner BOLD (Bird Island-Olivia-Lake Lillian) are the only 1990 champions returning to the 1991 state playoff field. Other 1990 winners were Anoka, Class AA; Fridley, Class A; and Hills-Beaver Creek, Nine-Man.

Hills-Beaver Creek beat Section 8 champion Argyle 28-21 in the 1990 Prep Bowl Nine-Man finals.

Mahnomen is making its 12th state playoff appearance, with the Indians coming up with one title and three runner-up finishes in Class B, followed by a 1989 second place effort and a 1990 championship in Class C.

Warren is making its first state playoff appearance, while Grygla-Goodridge, Win-E-Mac and Detroit Lakes are all making their second state playoff appearance. The Blue Devils and Patriots were both in the 1989 field, and the Lakers were there a year ago.

State cross country meet results...

Davis, Helgenset turn in personal-best runs

Personal-best performances highlighted the 1991 state cross country meet efforts by Thief River Falls' Joel Davis and Leah Helgenset Saturday at the Arrowhead Golf Course in Alexandria.

Davis placed 21st in a field of 127 Class AA boys. Helgenset was 42nd in a field of 131 Class AA girls.

Jason Boon of Cottage Grove led the Class AA boys with a 15:51 clocking over a 5,000-meter course. Davis ran a 16:23.

It was the second straight state meet for Davis, who was 53rd a year ago.

Helgenset, an eighth grader, turned in an 11:59 over 3,200 meters in her first state meet appearance. Carrie Tolleson of Dawson-Boyd-Lac Qui Parle paced the Class AA girls with a 10:48.

"Both of our kids ran tremendous races," reported Thief River Falls coach Lynn Dyer. "They both had a real good time."

Team-wise the Minneapolis South boys and Minnetonka girls won Class AA titles, while the St. Paul Academy and Summit School boys and Hawley-Ulen-Hitterdal girls claimed Class A crowns.

Josh Brown of St. Cloud Cathedral led the Class A boys with a 15:41 and Missy Peterson of Sartell was the top runner among the Class A girls with an 11:09.9.

The meet was originally scheduled to be held Nov. 2 at the Les Bolstad University of Minnesota Golf Course in suburban Falcon Heights, but was delayed a week and was then moved to Alexandria because of the heavy snowfall earlier this month in the Twin Cities area.

Workers had cleared a path through the snow at the Alexandria race site and temperatures in the 40-degree range greeted the runners Saturday.

"It ended up being a beautiful day for running – almost perfect weather," mentioned Dyer.

Sub-Section 4 volleyball at Northland

Roseau win title

It would have been hard to fault the Marshall County Central players if their concentration waned a bit as they took on Roseau in the Section 8A Sub Section 4 high school volleyball tournament semifinals Friday night in the Northland Community College gym.

Instead of being focused on volleyball, the Marshall County Central players, coaches and fans couldn't help but think about the Thursday morning fire that destroyed their Newfolden school.

The Nordics were scheduled to host the tournament semifinals and finals Thursday and Friday, but the event was set back a day and switched to the Thief River Falls site.

Pre-tournament favorite Roseau swept Marshall County Central 15-4, 15-3, 15-4.

"It was one of our tougher matches of the year in a lot of ways," acknowledged Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson. "Our hearts were there, but our minds weren't. There were a lot of tears. They were still trying to get over it," he said, referring to the emotional trauma of losing the school.

Even under normal terms, the Nordics figured to be the underway against the highly-regarded Rams, who beat Marshall County Central twice during the course of the regular season.

"They (Rams) were extremely sharp," pointed out Jorgenson. "It seemed like everything they tried turned out right for them."

Roseau followed the semifinal victory over Marshall County Central with a 15-10, 12-15, 15-9, 16-14 Saturday night championship match win over Stephen.

The Tigers reached the finals by beating Warroad 6-15, 15-6, 11-15, 15-8, 15-9 in Friday's semifinal doubleheader opener.

Marshall County Central came back to beat Warroad in Saturday's third place match 15-12, 11-15, 16-14, 4-15 and 15-12 – overcoming an 8-4 deficit in Game 5 to finish the year at 15-11 overall.

"It was a marathon match," said Jorgenson. "I suppose a lot of people will say it wasn't real good volleyball, or it wasn't very exciting, but we're happy with the win. It's a new trophy for a new school...hopefully."

Elsewhere, No. 3-seeded Climax came from behind to beat top-seeded Valley North 10-15, 15-8, 15-12, 15-6 to win the Section 8A Sub-Section 3 title Saturday afternoon at the University of Minnesota-Crookston. East Grand Forks Sacred Heart was a 15-8, 15-5, 15-6, 14-16, 15-3 third place match winner over Crookston.

Semifinals were played Friday at UMC when Valley North outlasted Crookston 16-14, 18-16, 15-10 and Climax defeated Sacred Heart 15-6, 15-13, 15-7.

State tournament-qualifying Section 8A matches will be played Friday and Saturday at UMC. Friday semifinals include Roseau vs. Cass Lake at 6:30 p.m. and Climax vs. Win-E-Mac or Fosston at 8. Saturday finals include the third place match at 6:30 p.m. and championship match at 8.

Rec Skating registration is scheduled Nov. 18-19

Registration for the Thief River Falls Rec Skating season – Session 2 – will be held from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. Nov. 18-19 at the Old Arena.

The registration will involve those who participated in the Rec Skating Clinic – Session 1 – along with skaters who choose to skip the clinic portion of the program.

Month-long Rec Skating Clinic, featuring ice time each Monday and Tuesday at the Old Arena, began Oct. 28 and will be completed with testing Nov. 18-19. Clinic skaters may register for the season following their testing.

User fees collected by the Rec Skating program will be forwarded to the city to pay for arena use. City resident fees will be $5 for Tots, $10 for Basic Test and $25 for Junior Advanced. Non-resident fees will be $10 for Tots, $15 for Basic Test and $30 for Junior Advanced. A family cap is $50 for residents and $60 for non-residents. When user fees are paid, skaters will receive a punch card that can be used during the public skating sessions at the arenas.

Additional Rec Skating fees include $10 for Tots, $12 for Basic Test and $50 for Junior Advanced.

"I have really tried to keep our rates as low as possible without reducing lesson quality," said Rec Skating Program Director Ila Anderson.

Rec Skating Session 2 will run Dec. 2, 9 and 16, followed by a two-week holiday break, before resuming Jan. 6, 13, 26, 27 and Feb. 3. Final test sessions will be held Feb. 10.

Lessons will be offered on a one-time-per-week basis. The 30-minute lessons will be presented Mondays from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. at the Old Arena, Tuesdays from 3:30-4:30 p.m. at the Sports Arena and Thursdays from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. at the Sports Arena. Tots 1 and 2, plus Basic 1-4, are offered any of the three days. Basic 5 and 6 are offered only one time per week because of the few skaters involved in those levels.

Ice Show portion of the Rec Skating organization – Session 3 – will be open to all skaters in the program. Registration will be held Jan. 7 to give organizers time to put the skaters into groups according to skating ability and size. Show practices will be the week of Feb. 17-24 and on March 2, 9, 16. The Ice Show, "Around the World and Across the USA," will be presented March 21 and 22.

Skaters are reminded that lessons will not be presented during the Thanksgiving and Christmas-New Year's holidays, but individuals should check the arena schedules for Rec Skating lesson practice times. Schedules are available at the arenas each Thursday afternoon; skaters should check each week for any schedule changes.

Private lessons are available locally through several instructors, including Kathy Bjorkstrand, 681-1435; Lynnae Broten, 681-6606; Kim Sunsdahl, 681-7639; Lisa Semanko, 681-7467; Heidi Tangquist, 681-4073; and Jeremy Anderson, 681-2056. Parents are invited to contact the instructors to set up times for the private lessons. The lessons are generally 15 to 30 minutes in length, and instructors' fees vary.

MCCC football, volleyball titles are announced

Northeast Division champion Hibbing beat Northwest Division winner Brainerd 19-10 Saturday in the 1991 Minnesota Community College Conference state football playoff finals at Selke Field in St. Cloud.

Hibbing, 12-0 and ranked 11th in the nation, reached the title game with a 37-14 semifinal win over Rochester. Brainerd, 5-5, upset defending champion Normandale 15-14 in the semifinals.

The Cardinals defeated the Raiders 28-0 in a regular season match-up earlier this fall.

Meanwhile, the MCCC state volleyball tournament was being completed Saturday in Grand Rapids, where Rochester downed North Hennepin 15-11, 15-7, 10-15, 15-10 in the finals; Hibbing stopped Bethany Lutheran 15-12, 15-12, 15-3 in the third place match; and Fergus Falls defeated Brainerd 15-13, 13-15, 15-10, 15-10 in a consolation final featuring a pair of Northwest Division teams.

Hunters reminded that RIM lands are not public property

Land identified by a sign as being enrolled in the Reinvest in Minnesota (RIM) Reserve Program is not public property, Dave Behm, coordinator of the program, recently reminded hunters.

"RIM Reserve land is still private property," Behm said. "Anyone who wants to hunt on private property should obtain the landowner's permission."

The RIM Reserve Program is a land retirement program that pays landowners to withdraw certain marginal lands from agricultural production. Under the program, landowners enroll their land in either long-term or permanent easements; however, the landowner still pays taxes on the enrolled land and it is not state property.

This 15-acre corn field was planted as a food plot for wildlife with seed corn provided through the Thief River Falls Chapter of the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association, with the help of Pheasants Forever. Andy and Chad Bjorgaard of Viking show the height of the corn which produced four ears per stalk. Money for the seed distribution came from the Hides for Habitat program which the local Minnesota Deer Hunters Association Chapter is conducting again this year. Hunters are encouraged to donate the hides from their deer to the group so that additional food plots can be planted in the future.

Hides for Habitat...

Deer hides benefit food plot program

As a result of money available to the Thief River Falls Chapter of the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association through the Hides for Habitat program, 250 bags of seed corn weighing 50 pounds each were made available to individuals last spring for planting of winter food plots for wildlife.

Seed corn was provided by Northrup King & Co. and arranged for through the assistance of the Pheasants Forever organization. Much of the corn grew to nearly 10 feet in height and produced four ears per stalk.

"We ask that deer hunters in northwestern Minnesota remember the Hides for Habitat program again this year and donate their deer hides to the project," stated Roger Jablinske, president of the Thief River Falls Chapter of the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association.

The local chapter contracts for sale of hides, which usually results in obtaining a higher price for each hide than would be obtained by selling them individually.

"With additional funds available, we hope to acquire more seed corn next year which can be used for planting food plots that benefit deer and other wildlife in our area of the state," Jablinske said.

Hunters may leave their deer hides at Erl's Market or Hubert's Service in Thief River Falls, Cenex stations in Goodridge, St. Hilaire and Alvarado, Johnson Oil Co. in Newfolden, Dave's Service in Red Lake Falls, Coast-to-Coast in Warren, Oklee Co-Op Elevator in Oklee or the Plummer Locker Plant in Plummer.

Additional information on donating hides may be received by contacting Conrad Gonsorowski at Hubert's Service at 681-2277.

State park calendar photo contest now sponsored by DNR

Photographers have an opportunity to get their work featured in the 1993 Minnesota state parks calendar. Photos taken in any of Minnesota's 65 state parks may be entered in a contest designed to generate photographs for the calendar. Last year more than 7,500 calendars were distributed.

Although the entry deadline isn't until Jan. 17, 1992, photographers should be at work now because photographs are sought from all seasons.

Both amateur and professional photographers may submit entries in the contest, sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Division of the Department of Natural Resources (DNR). Entry forms and contest guidelines are available at state parks. They may also be obtained by calling toll free in Minnesota at 1-800-652-9747 (ask for the DNR). The TDD phone number is 612-296-5484.

The yearly calendar displays the beauty of Minnesota's state parks, and also provides dates of state parks special events and other dates of interest.

Joe Niznik, project specialist for the DNR Parks and Recreation Division, said there is particular interest in photos from less frequently visited state parks and photos from the "off-seasons."

HATS OFF TO Jeff Mumm and Glen Chiodo and all the other varsity football coaches and to all the varsity football players. We are proud of you!

THANK YOU to the managers, the cheerleaders, the Prowler mascot, and the fans for your support and enthusiasm during the year, to the sports reporters from the local radio stations and the Times for the great coverage this year, and to the Prowler Pep Band for your support at all the home games and most of all at the semi final game in Fergus Falls. The school song, played after the game was over and our kids got in their last huddle on the field, filled our hearts with pride and a little sadness as we realized this was the very last high school football game to be played by our sons.

THANK YOU to everyone that had anything to do with building the strong character and sense of good sportsmanship that we see in our boys.

GOOD LUCK to the coaches and players next season, you're the best! THE SENIOR FOOTBALL PARENTS:

Poaching activity is on the rise

Big-game wildlife crime in northern Minnesota has increased dramatically in recent weeks, according to the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources Division of Enforcement.

"We made 18 gross misdemeanor arrests for deer shining and poaching violations Oct. 20-26," said Capt. Byron "Butch" Dyrland, Enforcement Supervisor of the DNR Northwest Region at Bemidji. "Most years, that would be close to the average number of arrests for an entire fall season."

The arrests were made in Otter Tail, Traverse, Lake of the Woods, Roseau, Clearwater and Hubbard counties. These cases were added to more than 50 other poaching arrests made since mid-September in the DNR's three northern regions.

The 34 officers in Dyrland's regional command have stepped up their poaching patrol activities in response to the increase in reported poaching incidents.

For many poachers, the beginning of the end comes from 6,000 feet in the air. Pilots in DNR aircraft can patrol 100 square miles at a time – day or night. Deer shining and other suspicious activities are immediately reported to fellow officers on the ground. Within minutes, conservation officers or sheriff's deputies can reach any location in the patrol area. "Even if a suspect flees the scene, we can usually track them from the air and still make an arrest," said Dyrland.

Conservation officers are still using deer decoys to apprehend poachers, too. "In our region, several local chapters of the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association, and other sportsmen's clubs, have purchased decoys and video cameras for their Area Conservation Officer," said Dyrland. "Thanks to these concerned sportsmen and women, we now have about twice the number of decoys in the field that we had two years ago."

According to Dyrland, the combination of decoys and video tape has been very effective at catching habitual poachers and in discouraging road hunting, trespassing on private land, and poaching in game refuges. "A couple minutes of video tape can save hours in the courtroom," said Dyrland. "Judges like it."

Big-game violations are expensive. Most are classified as gross misdemeanors, with fines up to $3,000, from 90-days up to one-year in jail, and suspension of all hunting privileges for up to three years. In addition, guns, bows, spotlights, motor vehicles and other equipment used in the commission of a crime are seized at the time of arrest and can be confiscated and sold at public auction upon conviction. "Most of the time, guns and equipment are never returned," said Dyrland. "And, in our experience, motor vehicles are confiscated in better than half the cases."

Flagrant violations, market hunting and organized poaching rings often result in multiple gross-misdemeanor counts. In addition to heavy fines, jail terms and the loss of guns, vehicles and hunting privileges, fish-and-game criminals in Minnesota will soon begin paying restitution values for what they steal.

"Minnesota's new restitution law will require a $500 payment for each deer taken in a poaching case," said Dyrland. "That's in addition to any fines or other penalties imposed by the court. The law sets specified values for most fish and wildlife, including game and nongame animals, and threatened and endangered species."

"Most judges, legislators, hunters and the non-hunting public have hardened their attitudes in recent years toward fish and game poachers," said Dyrland. "They now see it for what it is – stealing a valuable resource from legitimate, license-buying sportsmen and law-abiding taxpayers. Nowadays, it almost never involves the head of a poor household trying to put a free meal on the table."

Another effective weapon in the fight against poaching is the private, non-profit Turn In Poachers (TIP) organization. Citizen calls to the 24-hour, toll-free statewide TIP hot line (1-800-652-9093) have lead to the arrest of more than 3,300 poachers in the last ten years – and callers have collected more than $200,000 in rewards. TIP currently averages more than 100 calls per week.

TIP callers can remain anonymous and collect cash rewards upon the arrest of a suspect. Rewards range up to $100 for minor, small-game and fish violations; up to $250 for big-game violations; and up to $1,000 or more for flagrant or commercial violations. "About three out of five TIP callers refuse the reward," said Dyrland. "They're either genuinely concerned about the resource, or else they're just fed up with a neighbor or relative who's made a habit of breaking the law."

Hunters aid in deer population control

Minnesota deer hunters will have an unprecedented opportunity to take antlerless deer this fall, and in the process they can help the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) manage the state's deer population, according to Ed Boggess, DNR Wildlife Resource manage.

"The deer season framework with the antlerless permit and bonus deer systems gives us tremendous flexibility to control deer populations, but we need the continued assistance of the state's 500,000 deer hunters to make it work," said Boggess.

A total of 193,980 antlerless permits were sent to hunters Oct. 25, a 40 percent increase over 1990. A record 297,512 applications were received for those permits.

"The primary method of managing deer numbers is through the use of antlerless permits and bonus licenses that allow hunters to harvest does and fawns," Boggess said. "With a record number of antlerless permits and expanded bonus deer opportunities, more hunters than ever will have an opportunity to take antlerless deer, and many will also have the opportunity to take two deer in one season, Boggess explained.

"Although deer populations in most of the primary agricultural areas of southern and western Minnesota have been stabilized with increased permits in the past few years," said Boggess, "deer populations and complaints of damage have increased in transitional areas of central Minnesota. Substantial increases in permits in those areas this fall should serve to bring deer populations closer in line with goal levels."

Hunters can benefit from the state's high deer population by taking advantage of a number of new hunting opportunities this year. These include:

■ A record number of antlerless permits for firearms hunters this year.

■ Expanded opportunities for bow hunters to take a second "bonus" antlerless deer in portions of the Twin Cities metro area and in designated antlerless permit areas where bonus licenses were also anticipated for firearms hunters.

■ An experimental sub-permit area bonus hunt established in a 43-square mile apple orchard region of antlerless permit area 346 that allows bonus antlerless licenses during what is normally a bucks-only hunting period during the Zone 3A season.

■ An opportunity for permittees to take a second bonus deer by shotgun during three weekends after the close of the regular firearms season in Fort Snelling State Park and the Minnesota River Valley National Wildlife Refuge.

■ A total of 24 special hunts for archery, muzzleloader and regular firearms, most of which also allow bonus deer to be taken. These hunts are designed to address deer problems associated with refuge-type situations.

Boggess said these provisions were primarily designed to address high deer populations and the resulting problems. He offered suggestions to hunters and landowners that will help reduce future deer damage problems and assist the DNR in achieving its deer population goals.

"First, hunters should not be hesitant to take does or fawns," Boggess said. "The DNR has calculated that number of permits that can be offered in a given antlerless permit area. The use of these permits in the area will not adversely affect the herd.

"Second, it is important that landowners concerned about potential deer damage problems encourage hunters to hunt on their lands," Boggess said. "Of course, landowners have the right to control access to their lands, but in damage situations they also share the responsibility of providing adequate deer population control.

Snow fall prompts change in burning permit regulations

Minnesota Pollution Control Agency open burning rules and regulations have recently changed, it was announced by Minnesota Department of Natural Resources Division of Forestry officials in Warroad.

The MPCA will no longer require permits for open burning of vegetable matter except in areas of poor air quality. These areas include the Twin Cities metropolitan area and some parts of St. Louis County.

Prior to the regulation change in mid-October, the MPCA required permits statewide on a year-around basis for open burning of vegetable matter. The DNR Division of Forestry assisted the MPCA by providing locations where the public could obtain burning permits that would serve as MPCA permits.

Because of the MPCA regulation change, the DNR Division of Forestry will no longer require permits for open burning when the ground is snow covered. However, the Division of Forestry will continue to require a permit for open burning when the ground is not snow covered. This requirement has not changed.

Snow cover must be general, not patchy, over the wildfire protection area before the permit requirement is lifted. The snow cover must also occur late enough in the season so that it can be expected to remain on the ground and not melt. The permit system will go back into effect in the spring when patches of bare ground begin to show up.
